MEANING OF TERMS

USED IN CLASSIFYING ANNOTATING CASES.

THE different expressions used to describe the effect of the annotating cases have the following meanings, and the classification of the annotating cases has been done strictly in accordance with these meanings. The annotating cases are listed chronologically except such as are classiffed as " Referred to " or " Mentioned." These come at the end and are arranged inter se in chronological order. The terms used in classifying the annotating cases are as follows :—

" APPLIED " (Apld.).—This expression is used to denote the fact that the principle of law enunciated in the annotated case has been applied to a new set of facts and circumstances in the annotating case.

" APPROVED " (Apprvd.).—This expression is used to denote the fact that the annotated case has been considered to be good law in the annotating case where the latter is in a higher court than the former.

" CONSIDERED " (Consd.).—This expression is used where the remarks in the annotating case are devoid of adverse criticism and merely denote the giving of more or less careful consideration to the annotated case.

" DISTINGUISHED " (Distd.).—This expression is used where the earlier case is not necessarily doubted, but where some essential difference (either on the facts or in law) between it and the annotated case is pointed out.

" DOUBTED " (Dbtd.).—This expression is used where the court in the annotating case, without definitely going to the length of saying that the annotated case is wrong, adduces reasons which seem to show that it is not accurate.

" EXPLAINED " (Expld.).—This expression is used where the earlier case is not necessarily doubted, but the decision arrived at is justified or accounted for by calling attention to some point of fact or of law which is usually, but not necessarily, one not obvious on the face of the report.

" EXTENDED " (Extd.).—Compare " APPLIED," supra.

" FOLLOWED " (Folld.).—This expression is used to denote that the same principles of law are applied in the two cases. It does not necessarily imply that the facts are substantially identical in the two cases.

" NOT FOLLOWED " (N.F.).—Compare " FOLLOWED," supra, to which it is the adverse.

" OVERRULED " (Overd.).—This expression is used where the annotating case is on substantially identical facts with the annotated case and in a higher court and the rule in the latter case is held to be wrong.

" REFERRED " (Refd.).—This expression is used only where the annotating case deals with the point of the Digest paragraph and is without comment of any definite character on the case annotated, and where there is no delicate shade of approval or disapproval which would justify the use of any of the foregoing words.

" MENTIONED " (Mentd.).—This expression is used only where none of the foregoing terms apply. In other words, it is used only where the case annotated is cited on a point having nothing to do with the point in the Digest paragraph.

Part I.—Bankruptcy Jurisdiction.

SECT. 1.—OBJECTS AND CREATION OF BANKRUPTCY LAWS.

1. Protection of creditors.]—The principle of bkpt. laws, as it is to be found in 34 & 35 Hen. 8, c. 4, is to prevent persons craftily obtaining into their hands great substance of other men's goods, & at their own wills & pleasures consuming the substance obtained by credit of other men, & it is always to be remembered that it is the protection of persons who have so given credit which is the professed object of bkpt. laws (LORD ELLENBOROUGH, C.J.).—SUTTON v. WEELEY (1806), 7 East, 442 ; 3 Smith, K. B. 445 ; 103 E. R. 171.

2. ——.]—The conditions imposed by 1869 Act, s. 126, are conditions for the benefit of the creditors. The creditor may waive them, debtor cannot.—BRESLAUER v. BROWN (1878), 3 App. Cas. 672 ; 47 L. J. Q. B. 729 ; 39 L. T. 67 ; 26 W. R. 536, H. L.

3. —— Mode of recovering debt.]— Taking out a commission of bkpcy. is a well-known mode of recovering a debt (BAYLEY, J.).—GUTHRIE v. FISK (1824), 3 B. & C. 178 ; 5 Dow. & Ry. K. B. 24 ; 107 E. R. 700.

Annotations :—Refd. Re Hall, Ex p. Hall (1838), 8 L. J. Bcy. 5 ; Williams v. Harding (1866), L. R. 1 H. L. 9, H. D. 446 ; Re Nance, Ex p. Ashmead, [1893] 1 Q. B. 590, C. A.

4. —— Equitable distribution of assets—Release of debtor.]—The bkpcy. law is a special law, having for its object the distribution of an insolvent's assets equitably amongst his creditors & persons to whom he is under liability, &, upon this cessio bonorum, to release him under certain conditions from future liability in respect of his debts & obligations (JAMES, L.J.).—Re LEVY, Ex p. WALTON (1881), 17 Ch. D. 746 ; 50 L. J. Ch. 657 ; 45 L. T. 1 ; 30 W. R. 395, C. A.

5. Relief of debtor.]—The object of 1869 Act, s. 7, was to compel a man to commit an act of bkpcy., if he could not pay debts for which an action could be maintained at common law, & for which a man was then liable.—Re FOSTER, Ex p. FOSTER (1883), 22 Ch. D. 797 ; 52 L. J. Ch. 577 ; 48 L. T. 497 ; 31 W. R. 774, C. A.

6. —— From committal order.]—Semble : it was the intention of the legislature, by 1883 Act, to enable debtor, in a proper case, to relieve himself from the pressure of a committal order by obtaining an adjudication in bkpcy. against himself.—Re HANCOCK, Ex p. HILLEARYS, [1904] 1 K. B. 585 ; 73 L. J. K. B. 245 ; 90 L. T. 389 ; 52 W. R. 547 ; 48 Sol. Jo. 260 ; 11 Mans. 1, C. A.

7. Discharge of debtor—Distribution of property—Protection of trustee.]——The purpose of 1869 Act, s. 23, & indeed the purpose of the whole stat. is (1) to clear & discharge bkpt. in cases where it is proper that he should be discharged from liability ; (2) to facilitate as early as possible the distribution of the property which is to be divided among the creditors & the winding up of the bkpcy. ; & (3) to protect

PART I. SECT. 1.

4 i. Protection of creditors—Equitable distribution of assets.] — The object of the legislature in creating the Insolvent Ct. is to administer the estates of insolvents, & the Ct. of Ch. will not, unless in a very exceptional case, interfere with the jurisdiction thus created.—MCNEIL v. RELIANCE MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO. 8. Consequences to debtor—Bankruptcy regarded as crime.]—Bkpcy. ever was & yet is considered as a crime. It was anciently punished with corporal punishment; the body, lands & goods are at this day subject to the comrs. (ABNEY, J.).—TRIBE v. WEBBER (1744), Willes, 464; 125 E. R. 1270.

9. —— ——.]—An act of bkpcy. in the eye of the law is considered as a crime (MANSFIELD, C.J.).—HOOPER v. SMITH (1763), 1 Wm. Bl. 441; 96 E. R. 252.

10. —— ——.]—Bkpcy. is considered as a crime, & bkpt. in the old laws is called an offender: but it is a principle of natural justice, & of our law, that actus non facit reum nisi mens sit rea (LORD KENYON, C.J.).—FOWLER v. PADGET (1798), 7 Term Rep. 509; 101 E. R. 1103.

11. —— ——.]—In earlier times bkpcy. was a crime, & in dealing with our law to commit the crime it was necessary to commit an act of bkpcy. (LORD HALSBURY, C.).—CLOUGH v. SAMUEL, [1905] A. C. 442; 74 L. J. K. B. 918; 93 L. T. 491; 54 W. R. 114; 21 T. L. R. 702; 12 Mans. 347, H. L.

12. —— Quasi-penal—Forms to be followed.]—Bkpcy. proceedings are of a peculiar character. They involve quasi-penal consequences to debtor, & it is essential that all those forms, the object of which is to prevent injustice, should be strictly followed (BOWEN, L.J.).—Re HOWES, Ex p. HUGHES, [1892] 2 Q. B. 628; 62 L. J. Q. B. 88; 67 L. T. 213; 40 W. R. 647; 36 Sol. Jo. 629; 4 R. 4, C. A.

13. —— —— Words of statutes must be strictly construed.]—Words, having a proper professional meaning, when they are found in a sect. of an Act of Parliament which is defining acts of bkpcy., should be construed as strictly as if they occurred in a sect. which was defining a misdemeanour, because the commission of an act of bpkcy. entails disabilities on the person who commits it (BOWEN, L.J.).—Re CHINERY, Ex p. CHINERY (1884), 12 Q. 14. —— Not quasi-criminal.]—Now that a debtor may petition against himself, bkpcy. proceedings can no longer be considered as of a quasi-criminal nature (VAUGHAN WILLIAMS, L.J.).—Re X. Y., Ex p. HAES, [1902] 1 K. B. 98; 71 L. J. K. B. 102; 85 L. T. 564; 9 Mans. 5; sub nom. Re DEBTOR, Ex p. PETITIONING CREDITORS, 50 W. R. 182, C. A.

15. —— Disqualifications.]—Proceedings in bkpcy. are not actions, but what petitioning creditor seeks by his petition is in the highest degree penal in its consequences. It amounts to loss of civil status carrying with it grave disqualifications (FLETCHER MOULTON, L.J.).—Re A DEBTOR (No. 7 of 1910), [1910] 2 K. B. 59; 79 L. J. K. B. 1065; 102 L. T. 691; 26 T. L. As to effect of proof, see Part VIII., s. 13, post.

17. Bankruptcy created by statute—1883 Act practically a code.]—The above Act does not incorporate the former Acts or leave them standing. By the Act the whole previous legislation was swept away; the whole thing was made a tabula rasa, & now the whole of bkpcy. jurisdiction is contained in the above Act (BRETT, M.R.).—Re BARNETT, Ex p. REYNOLDS (1885), 15 Q. B. D. 169; 54 L. J. Q. B. 354; 53 L. T. 448; 33 W. R. 715; 1 T. L. R. 433; 2 Morr. 147, C. A.

See, further, Part XIX., post.

53. —— —— Payment to trustee of money in hands of solicitor & forming part of bankrupt's estate.]—Held: the registrar had jurisdiction under 1883 Act to hear an application by the trustee in a bkpcy. under 1869 Act, that a solr. should pay over to such trustee certain money alleged to be in his hands & to belong to bkpt.'s estate.—Re JONES (1884), 1 Morr. 17.

Annotation:—Refd. Re Home, Ex p. Edwards (1865), 2 Morr. 203, C. A.

54. —— —— Issues of importance.]—The fact that a bkpt.'s application for his discharge raises issues of great importance is a good & sufficient reason for transferring the hearing of such application from the registrar to the judge sitting in bkpcy.

The fact that the registrar has been concerned in the making of the order for the prosecution of bkpt. for offences committed under Debtors Act 1869 (c. 62), does not prevent the registrar from determining bkpt.'s application for his discharge on its merits, & does not constitute a sufficient reason for transferring the hearing of such an application to the judge.—Re HOOLEY, Ex p. DEBTOR (1899), 80 L. T. 495; 6 Mans. 176.

55. —— —— Transfer of proceedings.]—On Feb. 4, 1886, a receiving order was made against one partner in the High Ct.; & on Feb. 6 the other partner presented a petition in a county ct. On an application by the partner, against whom a receiving order had been made in the High Ct., for an order to transfer the proceedings in the county ct. against the other partner to the High Ct.:—Held: assuming the application to be properly made to the High Ct. & not to the county ct., the application was one which ought to have been made to the registrar & not to the judge in ct.—Re NICHOLSON, Ex p. NICHOLSON (1886), 3 Morr. 46.

56. —— Delegation of powers of judge—Charging orders under Solicitors Act, 1860 (c. 127).]—The judge of the High Ct. in Bkpcy. has power as a judge of the High Ct., though not under his bkpcy. jurisdiction, to make charging orders under s. 28 of the above Act; & inasmuch as it is a power to be exercised in chambers, he can delegate that power to the registrar in bkpcy.—Re WOOD, Ex p. FANSHAWE, [1897] 1 Q. SECT. 3.—WHAT PERSONS ARE SUBJECT TO BANKRUPTCY LAWS.

SUB-SECT. 1.—TRADERS.

Note.—By 1861 Act non-traders were made liable to become bankrupts, but this did not, generally speaking, apply to a married woman. Under the present law a married woman unless trading or carrying on business, whether separately or apart from her husband or not, is not subject to the bkpcy. law; see 1914 Act, s. 125, & sect. 3, sub-sect. 6, post.

64. What is trading—Proof—Trader debtor's summons — Security.]—Upon a trader debtor's summons, in which a creditor seeks to obtain security for a debt alleged to be due, the ct. will require it to be proved that debtor is a trader, inasmuch as the ct. has not jurisdiction to require a person not a trader to give such security.—ANON. (1851), 18 L. T. O. S. 35.

65. —— Quantum of dealing or amount of profit immaterial.] — Held : the question of trading did not depend upon the quantum of dealing or upon the amount of profit, but it was enough if an individual were ready to sell what he had bought upon open applications in the apparent course of trade as usually carried on.—HUNTINGTOWER'S (LORD) CASE, Re TOLLEMACHE, Ex p. FORD (1843), 1 L. T. O. S. 83, Ct. of R.

66. Place of trading—Person trading in India—Drawing bills on England.]—A person residing in India & trading there, & in the course of that trading drawing bills upon England for the value of other bills sent thither, upon which he got a profit by the exchange, & in the course of that sort of dealing contracting debts in England, is a trader, & a commission of bkpt. may issue upon an act of bkpcy. committed by him in England after he had quitted India.—INGLISS v. GRANT (1794), 5 Term Rep. 530; 101 E. R. 298.

67. —— Person buying but not selling in England.]—A person living in the Isle of Man, coming from time to time to England, & buying goods which are afterwards sold in the Isle of Man, is a trader, against whom a commission of bkpt. may issue in England, although he in fact never sold any goods in England.—ALLEN v. CANNON (1821), 4 B. & Ald. 418; 106 E. R. 990.

68. —— Person trading in colony—Colonial bankruptcy — Not trading in England.]—A. carried on trade in a colony & there became insolvent. His estate was distributed according to the laws of the colony, but he never obtained a legal discharge (similar to a certificate in England). He afterwards came to reside in England but carried on no trade or business here :—Held : he was not a trader.—Re WOLLASTON, Ex p. FRITH (1852), Fonbl. 233.

69. "Being a trader."]—There is no distinction between the words "being a trader" used in 1869 Act, s. 6 (3), & the same words used in s. 6 (6). The words in s. 6 (3) mean being a trader at the time when the act of bkpcy. is committed.—Re STEVENS, Ex p. M'GEORGE (1882), 20 Ch. D. 697; 51 L. J. Ch. 909; 47 L. T. 213; 30 W. R. 817, C. A.

PART I. SECT. 3, SUB-SECT. 1.

64 i. What is trading.]—The business of the insolvent had reference only to canal property, of which he had been the owner. It was stated he had bought & sold all sorts of things, & had bought oats, wood, & iron, but there were no assets of that kind, & no books of account, books of business, or cash book, his books having reference wholly to the canal property :—Held : the evidence did not establish that debtor bought or sold in the course of any trade or business or got his livelihood by buying & selling.—CREIGHTON v. CHITTICK (1882), 7 S. C. R. 348; 2 C. L. T. 248.—CAN.

64 ii. —— Proof—What affidavits necessary.]—BAGWELL v. HAMILTON (1864), 10 U. C. L. J. 305.—CAN.

64 iii. —— —— Debtor described in affidavit as merchant—Not sufficient.]—Re CREEN (1879), 15 U. C. L. J. N. S. 35.—CAN.

64 iv. —— ——.]—1875 Act, s. 144, does not make a deed of assignment evidence of insolvent having been a trader.—CREIGHTON v. CHITTICK (1881), 2 R. & G. 90; 1 C. L. T. 568; affd. on appeal to S. C., 7 S. C. R. 348; 2 C. L. T. 248.—CAN.

64 v. —— ——.]—Issues will be directed to try whether a person, against whom a commission of bkpcy. issued, was a trader within the bkpt. laws.—Re WARREN (1805), 2 Sch. & Lef. 427.—IR.

64 vi. —— —— County court judgment.]—In a case of compulsory liquidation, the judgment of the county ct. judge adjudicating the party insolvent, is primâ facie evidence of his being a trader.—MCGUIRK v. MCLEOD (1874), 15 N. B. R. (Pug.) 323.—CAN.

66 i. Place of trading—Person trading outside jurisdiction—Residence within jurisdiction after ceasing to trade.]—The Irish Ct. of Bkpcy. has jurisdiction only over traders who reside & trade in Ireland, or who, residing there, trade with England; & one who, residing & trading in England, then & there contracted trade debts, cannot be adjudicated a bkpt. in Ireland in respect to those debts, though he may for some years have resided in Ireland & contracted debts there.—Re DAY (1862) 7 Ir. Jur. 309. —IR.

70. Who is a trader—Person who has ceased to trade.]—A party, to become bkpt., must be a trader at the time of petitioning creditor's debt, but if that was contracted while he was a trader, & he leave off trade, he may still become a bkpt.—DOE d. BARRAUD v. LAWRENCE (1825), 2 C. & P. 134.

71. ——— ———.]—A commission of bkpcy. describing bkpts. as "bankers, being traders according to 6 Geo. 4, c. 16":—Held: good, although they had ceased to be bankers before that Act came into operation, it being considered that the word "bankers" was descriptive of the persons only, & that the description, "traders" according to the provisions, etc., was sufficient, without specifying any particular trade.—BERNASCONI v. FAREBROTHER (1830), 10 B. & C. 549; L. & Welsb. 213; 5 Man. & Ry. K. B. 364; 8 L. J. O. S. K. B. 203; 109 E. R. 555.

See 1913 Act, s. 12 (1) & (2), corresponding to 1914 Act, s. 125.

73. ——— ———.]—Debtor, an auctioneer & valuer, by deed assigned his business, goodwill & premises to a purchaser, & covenanted not to carry on business within certain limits, & afterwards on the same day departed from his dwelling-house:—Held: on the execution of the deed of assignment, debtor had ceased to be a trader.—Re REYNOLDS, Ex p. REYNOLDS (1882), 52 L. J. Ch. 431; 47 L. T. 448; 31 W. R. 323.

74. ——— ——— Temporary discontinuance.]—To support a commission of bkpt. it is necessary that petitioning creditor's debts should be contracted before bkpt. ceases to be a trader, but if the debt be contracted whilst he is in trade, & a bond given for it afterwards, it is sufficient.—DAWE v. HOLDSWORTH (1791), Peake, 64.

Annotations:—Folld. Re Mostyn, Ex p. Griffiths (1853), 3 De G. M. & G. 174, L. JJ. Mentd. Peters v. Anderson (1814), 5 Taunt. 596; Devaynes v. Noble, Clayton's Case (1816), 1 Mer. 572; Mills v. Fowkes (1839), 5 Bing. N. C. 455.

75. ——— ——— Intention.]—Whether bkpt. has ceased to be a trader depends on whether or not in point of intention he has ceased to be a trader.—Re BRYANT, Ex p. PATERSON (1813), 1 Rose, 402.

Annotations:—Refd. Adams v. Malkin (1814), 3 Camp 534; Re Dufaur, Ex p. Dufaur (1852), 2 De G. M. & G. 246, L. J.; Re Taylor, Ex p. Salaman (1882), 21 Ch. D. 394, C. A.

76. ——— ——— ———.]—The mere quitting of a trade will not exempt a debtor from the bkpcy. laws, unless it were done with the object of abandoning it & completely detaching himself from the character of a trader.—Ex p. CUNDY (1816), 2 Rose, 357.

Annotation:—Refd. Re Taylor, Ex p. Salaman (1882), 21 Ch. D. 394, C. A.

77. ——— ——— ——— Onus of proof on petitioning creditor.]—It is a question of intention, to be decided on the evidence, whether debtor has permanently ceased to trade, or has only temporarily discontinued his trade with the intention of resuming it. In the latter case he is still a trader within the bkpcy. laws.

If a petitioning creditor alleges that debtor has committed an act of bkpcy. which can be committed only by a trader, the onus is on him to prove that debtor was a trader at the time when the act was committed.—Re TAYLOR, Ex p. SALAMAN (1882), 21 Ch. D. 394; 47 L. T. 495; 31 W. R. 282, C. A.

81. ——— ——— Obtaining orders on commission.]—If one procure orders for goods, having no stock, but buying them from those who have, he making out bills to his customers in his own name, & being himself debited by the person he buys of, this is a trading within the bkpcy. laws, but if he procure orders for another, & is by that other person paid a commission, the other person sending the goods to the customers, this was not a trading within the bkpcy. laws, antecedent to 6 Geo. 4, c. 16.—DOE d. BARRAUD v. LAWRENCE (1825), 2 C. & P. 134.

82. ——— ——— ——— .]—A commission agent is a trader.—Re LAVER (1846), 8 L. T. O. S. 236.

83. ——— ——— ———.]—Qu.: whether one who obtains orders for the sale of goods on commission, the goods being furnished, & accounts rendered to the customers by the principal, is a person who, within 11 & 12 Vict. c. 106, s. 65, uses the trade of merchandise "by way of commission," or "as agent or factor for others" seeks his livelihood by buying & selling.—HERNAMANN v. BARBER (1854), 70 i. Who is a trader.]—Deft. was a trader within 7 Vict. c. 10, but first became so after the expiration of that Act, & became insolvent before 19 & 20 Vict. c. 93:—Held: he was within the latter Act.—BOULTON v. NOURSE (1858), 15 U. C. R. 555.—CAN.

70 ii. ——— How put in issue.]—Plea that pltf. was not assignee as alleged held to put in issue the question whether assignor was a trader who could assign under Insolvent Act.—CREIGHTON v. CHITTICK (1881), 2 R. & G. 90; 1 C. L. T. 568; 7 S. C. R. 348; 2 C. L. T. 248.—CAN.

70 iii. ———Person who has ceased to trade.]—Goods were supplied by F. to M., trader carrying on business in Ireland. M. sold his business, & left to reside in Scotland, entrusting the collection of his book debts to his solr. R. F. obtained an order for substitution of service on R. of a writ of summons in an action to recover the debt, & subsequently obtained judgment for the debt & costs against M. F. then issued a debtor's summons & obtained an order from the Ct. of Bkpcy. for leave to substitute service of the summons on R., which was done, & M., not having complied with debtor's summons, was adjudicated a bkpt.:—Held: as M. was neither carrying on trade nor resident in Ireland, there was no jurisdiction to order substituted service of debtor's summons, & the adjudication should be annulled.—Re MURRAY, [1916] 2 I. R. 554.—IR.

70 iv. ——— ——— After 1869 Act—Effect of 1871 Act.]—T. A. & J. A. made application for a discharge in insolvency under the Dominion Insolvent Act, 1869. The principal objection taken to the discharge was that the Act applied to traders only, whereas the insolvents admitted that at the time of its passage they had ceased to be traders. Before judgment the Act of 1871 was passed, amending the Act of 1869, so as to include parties who having been traders at the time of the passage of the latter Act had since ceased to trade:—Held: the insolvents come within the latter Act & were entitled to the discharge.—Re ARCHIBALD & ARCHIBALD (1871), 8 N. S. R. 303.—CAN.

70 v. ——— ——— Partners.]—There is no provision in 1892 Act, s. 51, for presenting a petition against partners who have ceased to carry on business.—Re QUINLAN & FOSTER (1907), 26 N. Z. L. R. 513.—N.Z.

124. —— —— —— ——.]—A person who buys pigs or other stock with a view to a resale of them, as ancillary to the profitable occupation of his farm, & in the interval fed them wholly or principally on the produce of his farm, does not thereby become a trader.

A farmer bought rye-grass seed, mixed it with seed of his own growth, & sold the mixture. He bought pigs, put them on his farm, fed them on the stubbles & resold them, some after a week, some after long periods :—Held : neither of these was an act of trading.—PATTEN v. BROWNE (1817), 7 Taunt. 409 ; 129 E. R. 163.

125. —— —— —— ——.]—A farmer & grazier had frequently, before Sept., 1825, when 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, came into operation, & in some few instances after, purchased cattle with a view to resale, & not for the purpose of his farm :—Held : the acts of buying before Sept., 1825, were evidence to explain the quality of the subsequent acts.—WORTH v. BUDD (1831), 2 B. & Ad. 172 ; 9 L. 133. —— —— Growing & selling market garden produce.]—H. was the lessee of a farm of one hundred & thirty-eight acres of arable & meadow land, at a rent of £316 0*s.* 8*d.* The lease was subject to the usual covenants for cultivation, etc. Upon twenty acres of the land H. had cultivated green peas, & on ten acres new potatoes. The produce of these acres had been sent to market & disposed of through various salesmen. It was proved that peas & potatoes were, according to the custom of the county, used as clearing crops, & it was alleged that these thirty acres had been so cultivated by H. These acres had also been cultivated by means of the plough, instead of the spade, which was ordinarily used in market gardens. H. was in his neighbourhood generally known as a farmer, was so assessed to the income tax, & so described on his carts :—Held : H. was not a market gardener, nor a trader within 1842 Act, s. 10.—Re HAMMOND, Ex p. HAMMOND (1844), De G. 93 ; 14 L. 193 i. Foreign creditor.]—By the law of Saskatchewan, a transfer made in fraud of creditors is void as against creditors, & all creditors, no matter where resident, are entitled to the benefit of that law.—MINOT GROCERY CO. v. DURICK (1913), 23 W. L. R. 270; 3 W. W. R. 904; 10 D. L. R. 126.—CAN.

193 ii. —— Proof of debt—Brings him within jurisdiction.]—A foreigner lodged a claim in a Scotch sequestration, & the trustee, without using arrestment jurisdictionis fundandæ causâ, brought an action against the foreigner for reducing an alleged preference obtained by him over the other creditors:—Held: the action was not incompetent in respect of want of jurisdiction.—ORD v. BARTON (1847), 19 Sc. Jur. 223.—SCOT.

jurisdiction of the ct. as to the administration of the estate, as though he were residing within it.—Re MORTON, Ex p. ROBERTSON (1875), L. R. 20 Eq. 733 ; 44 L. J. Bcy. 99 ; 32 L. T. 697 ; 23 W. R. 906.

194. Bankrupt not compelled to indorse foreign bills.]—A. obtained money from B. on the security of goods consigned to B.'s home in America, & shortly after become bkpt. B.'s agent in America, ignorant of the advances made, & of the bkpcy., remitted bills for the proceeds of the goods to A., who delivered them to a person, to get them accepted, who handed them over to B. A petition praying that A., or the assignees, might be directed to indorse them, was dismissed with costs, on the ground of jurisdiction.—Re PALMER, Ex p. HALL (1810), 1 Rose, 13.

204. —— For purpose of litigation.] — A domiciled Frenchman came to England for the purposes of an action which he had commenced in the English cts. He took five furnished rooms on the third & fourth floors of a house in London. He occupied the rooms exclusively for three months from Mar. to June, living in them with his wife & two servants. During the three months he paid frequent visits to France, & at the end of the three months returned there. In Sept. of the same year a bkpcy. petition was presented against him in the London Bkpcy. Ct. :—Held : he had had a dwelling-house in England "within a year before the date of the presentation of the petition," within 1883 Act, s. 6 (1) (d), & the petition was properly presented against him.—Re HECQUARD, Ex p. HECQUARD (1889), 24 Q. 207. Business in Paris—Branch in England—Prior bankruptcy in France—Members of firm resident in England—Locus standi of syndic in foreign bankruptcy.]—A firm, having its head offices in Paris, had a branch establishment in England. The firm was declared bkpt. in Paris under the law of France, & a syndic was appointed to administer the estate. Subsequently a bkpcy. petition was presented against them in England, & an order was made appointing an interim receiver. The syndic applied to the ct. to discharge this order & to stay all further proceedings under the petition. There was no evidence as to the domicil of the members of the firm, but two of them resided in England, where the firm had large assets. The registrar refused the application :—Held : (1) the jurisdiction of the ct. being undoubted, & there being assets within the jurisdiction, the receiving order was rightly made; (2) the fact that a prior bkpcy. had been commenced in a foreign country, not shown to be the country of domicil of debtors, was no ground for staying the proceedings in this country. Qu. : whether the syndic had any locus standi to make the application. — Re ARTOLA HERMANOS, Ex. p. ANDRÉ CHÂLE (1890), 24 Q. SUB-SECT. 3.—PERSONS ORDINARILY RESIDING OR HAVING DWELLING-HOUSE OR PLACE OF BUSINESS WITHIN JURISDICTION.

208. Ordinary residence—What amounts to—Residence in hotel for eighteen months.]—Where a debtor, who neither was domiciled in nor had a dwelling-house or place of business in England, had for eighteen months previous to the presentation of a bkpcy. petition against him a room at an hotel in London which he paid for continuously during that time, & was treated as an ordinary resident there :—Held : the debtor had "ordinarily resided in England" within 1883 Act, s. 6 (1) (d); & the creditor was entitled to present

206 i. Temporarily within jurisdiction—Debt contracted abroad—Both parties foreigners.] — Where a debt was contracted abroad by one foreigner to another, & debtor came to Ireland & was arrested by such creditor :—Held : (1) the Comrs. of the Insolvent Ct. had jurisdiction to discharge such debtor upon his petition in the usual way; (2) the fact that debtor had foreign property, which possibly might not be capable of a valid transfer in Ireland, did not deprive the Insolvent Ct. of jurisdiction.—R. v. INSOLVENT COURT COMRS. (1823), 2 Fox & S. Ir. 14.—IR.

206 ii. —— —— ——.]—Both pltf. & deft., inhabitants of a foreign country, came together into Canada to remain only a few hours. During their stay there pltf. arrested deft. :—Held : the arrest was regular. — RAYNOR v. HAMILTON (1838), 1 Ont. Dig. 184.—CAN.

n. Foreign tenant of heritable subjects—Leaving jurisdiction.]—Scots cts. have jurisdiction to award sequestration in the case of a foreign tenant of heritable subjects leaving Scotland animo non revertendi, if debtor has a good title to possess heritage as lessee & also beneficial possession, natural or civil, of the subjects.—Re WEINSCHEL (RACHEL) (1916), 2 S. L. T. 91, 205.—SCOT.

o. Can claim statutory exemptions.] —Where an alien made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors of all his property not exempt by law, an order for payment of the costs of certain proceedings by the creditors out of a fund representing the value of his exemptions, was reversed.—Re DEMAUREZ, 21 C. p. Effect of No. 6 of 1843 (Cape), s. 4.]—The above sect. was not intended to extend or alter the ordinary principles as to the extent to which the Colonial Cts. will exercise jurisdiction over the persons & property of foreigners.—MICHAELIS v. PRETORIUS (1896), 13 S. C. 266.—S. AF.

PART I. SECT. 3, SUB-SECT. 3.

208 i. Ordinary residence — What amounts to.]— There is nothing to show that the residence contemplated by Insolvency Act, s. 5, must necessarily be a permanent residence, the object of that sect. being to extend the benefit of the Act to those who could be said to be bonâ fide residents for the time being within the jurisdiction of the ct. at the time they filed their petition.—Re DE MOMET (1894), I. L. R. 21 Calc. 634.—IND.

208 ii. —— ——.]—It is not necessary for petitioner applying to be declared an insolvent to have resided for a long time at a place within the jurisdiction of the ct. Even temporary residence for a time & for a particular purpose is enough to give the ct. jurisdiction to deal with an application for insolvency. —ABDUL REZAK v. BASIRUDDIN AHMED (1911), 17 C. W. N. 405.—IND.

208 iii. —— ——.]—Petitioner came down from Cawnpore, where he had resided for some time, to Calcutta, to file his petition. He stated that he intended to settle in Calcutta on obtaining his discharge :—Held : his being in Calcutta in such circumstances did not constitute residence. — Re TIETKINS (1868), 1 B. L. R. A. C. 84.—IND.

208 iv. —— —— Occupation for business purposes.]—The word "reside" in Insolvency Act, s. 5, when applicable to the insolvency of traders, includes an occupation for the purpose of trading, whether or not accompanied by sleeping or dwelling.—Re HOWARD BROTHERS (1873), 11 B. L. R. 254.—IND.

208 v. —— —— Temporary residence in hired house.]—A.'s zamindari & dwelling-house in the district of D. having been sold, he came to Calcutta in May, 1880, leaving his family with his relations, & filed his petition in the ct. for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors in July. He remained in a hired house at Calcutta till Sept., when the ct. rose for the vacation, & returned just before the end of the vacation, having in the interval gone to the district of D. to raise funds to carry on his insolvency proceedings. He had no residence outside the jurisdiction of the High Ct. :—Held : he had no residence within the jurisdiction of the High Ct. within Insolvency Act, s. 5.—Re RAM PAUL SINGH (1881), 8 C. L. R. 14.—IND.

208 vi. —— —— "British subject" resident within jurisdiction of High Court of Madras.]—The insolvent was born in England of English parents, & was the widow of a surgeon & resided at Salem for some time before, & at the time of, the presentation of her petition to the ct. :—Held : Insolvent Debtors Act, s. 5, was as applicable to a "British subject" (in the sense in which that appellation was used in the charter of the late Supreme Ct.) resident within the jurisdiction of the High Ct. of Madras as to an inhabitant within the local limits of the town of Madras.—Re RICKS (1866), 3 Mad. 151.—IND.

208 vii. —— —— Residence & business exclusively in Ireland—Irish 1857 Act, s. 31.]— A trader, having for several years resided & traded in England, took premises in Ireland in Nov., 1860, closed his place of business in England, removed his family to Ireland, &, pursuant to advertisements published in the Irish newspapers, thenceforward carried on his trade in Ireland only. Five-sixths of the amount of his debts were contracted in England. Having been adjudged a bkpt. in Ireland :—Held : he was residing & trading exclusively in Ireland within the above sect.—Re SANDERSON (1861), 7 Ir. Jur. 48.—IR.

208 viii. —— —— Residence for more than forty days — For purpose of bankruptcy proceedings.] — An Englishman, being insolvent, came to Scotland & had his exclusive residence there for more than forty days. He was not a trader in any country, & had no estate in Scotland, & all his creditors, with one exception, resided out of Scotland. The avowed object of his resia bkpcy. petition against him.—Re NORRIS, Ex p. REYNOLDS (1888), 4 T. L. R. 452 ; 5 Morr. 111, C. A.

Annotation :—Follđ. Re Bright (1901), 18 T. L. R. 37, C. A.

209. ——— ——— Occasional visits to lodging-house —Twenty weeks in England in fifteen months.]—Debtor resided, when in London, in a lodging-house, having a bedroom only, on divers dates between Sept., 1891, & Jan. 1893, for periods of a few days at a time & occasionally for upwards of a week, the whole residence in London being not more than twenty weeks & during the rest of the period debtor resided in Scotland or abroad :—Held : he was not "ordinarily resident" in England within 1883 Act, s. 6 (1) (d).—Re ERSKINE, Ex p. ERSKINE (1893), 10 T. L. R. 32 ; 38 Sol. Jo. 144, C. A.

210. ——— ——— Greater part of four years in London.]—Where debtor had so much business in England that he came over & remained in England during the greater part of four years in succession :—Held : London, where he habitually stayed, was his place of "ordinary residence" within 1883 Act, s. 6 (1) (d).—Re BRIGHT (1901), 18 T. L. R. 37, C. A.

211. Debtor's domicil—Onus of proof on creditor.]—The onus is on petitioning creditor to prove debtor's domicil, though he may adduce such primâ facie evidence as will throw the burden of disproving the domicil on debtor.—Re MITCHELL, Ex p. CUNNINGHAM (1884), 13 Q. B. D. 418 ; 53 L. J. Ch. 1067 ; 51 L. T. 447 ; 33 W. R. 22 ; 1 Morr. 137, C. A.

212. ——— ———.]—The onus is on petitioning creditor to prove that debtor's domicil is English, as required by 1883 Act, s. 6 (1) (d), & that his residence has been such as to give the High Ct. jurisdiction under s. 95. But, if there is no reason to suppose that debtor will dispute that his domicil is English, or that the petition is presented in the right ct., petitioning creditor need not in the first instance adduce evidence of either of those facts.—Re BARNE, Ex p. BARNE (1886), 16 Q. B. D. 522 ; 54 L. T. 662 ; 3 Morr. 33, C. A.

213. ——— ——— Domicil of origin—Domicil of choice.]—In a case where the domicil of debtor is disputed the onus of proof of the domicil is on the creditor presenting the petition.

The father of bkpt. was formerly the Sovereign of the Punjaub, but in 1849, by a treaty made for him with the English Govt., when he was ten years of age, he renounced his sovereignty & subsequently resided in England until 1886, when he left this country taking with him his wife & bkpt. with the avowed intention of returning to India, &, on being prevented from so doing, had since resided on the continent. Bkpt. at that time had not attained his majority, & while still a minor he returned to England with his father's consent & lived with his mother at his father's expense up to & after his majority when he entered the English army as an officer, his regiment being stationed in Canada. A petition presented against bkpt. having been dismissed by the registrar on the ground that bkpt. was not domiciled in England as required by 1883 Act, s. 6 :—Held : (1) the father of bkpt., although he had resided in England, had never abandoned his domicil of origin in the Punjaub, & even if he had, the English domicil was renounced during the minority of bkpt., who thereupon followed the domicil of his father wherever that might be ; (2) there was not sufficient evidence to show that bkpt. after he attained his majority intended to take a domicil of choice in this country ; (3) in the circumstances the registrar was right in dismissing dence in Scotland was to have his estate sequestrated there. The validity of the sequestration having been challenged for want of jurisdiction in the Scotch Ct. :—Held : at the date of presenting the petition, bkpt. was subject to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Cts. of Scotland within 19 & 20 Vict. c. 79, s. 13.—JOEL v. GILL (1859), 31 Sc. Jur. 511 ; 21 Dunl. (Ct. of Sess.) 929.—SCOT.

208 ix. ——— ——— Absence on military service.]—A Scot resided in a house in Scotland, life-rented by the wife, for some years before 1914. Shortly after the outbreak of the European war he was absent on military duty, but when on leave returned to the house, & had, during the year preceding the presentation of a petition for the sequestration of his estates, done so once or twice :—Held : debtor had "within a year before the date of the presentation of the petition resided or had a dwelling-place or place of business in Scotland" as required by 1913 (Scotland) Act, s. 11.—GARDNER v. MACARTHUR (1918), 56 Sc. L. R. 20.—SCOT.

208 x. ——— Arrest as absent debtor.]—A warrant cannot issue against a person as an absent debtor under R. S. (c. 125), unless he has been a resident in the province.—Ex p. KETTLE (1861), 5 All. 81.—CAN.

211 i. Debtor's domicil — Jurisdiction of Scottish Courts — No residence in Scotland.]—A creditor presented a petition for sequestration of the estates of a debtor, who was domiciled, & possessed heritage in Scotland, & who had been an accountant in Glasgow, but who at the date of the petition had neither residence nor place of business in Scotland :—Held : the Lord Ordinary must proceed with the case.—CROIL, PETITIONER (1863), 1 Macph. (Ct. of Sess.) 509.—SCOT.

211 ii. ——— ——— ———.]—Circumstances in which a debtor having a domicil of succession in Scotland, but not resident there, was held not subject to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Cts. of Scotland in sense of 1856 (Scotland) Act, s. 13.—STRICKLAND, PETITIONER (1911), 1 S. L. T. 212.—SCOT.

211 iii. ——— Change of domicil—Effect on after-acquired property.]—As soon as a debtor ceases to be domiciled in the country of adjudication, the law of that country ceases to have any application to his after-acquired property situated elsewhere.—Re EADES' ESTATE, [1917] 2 W. W. R. 65 ; 33 D. L. R. 335.—CAN.

211 iv. ——— ——— ———.]—Bkpt., who had been sequestrated in Scotland, went to England & was there made bkpt. The Scotch trustee petitioned the ct. to find that bkpt.'s acquirenda, subsequent to the date of the Scotch sequestration, were vested in him :—Held : the adjudication in the English bkpcy. barred the ct. from pronouncing the finding craved.—MEIN (BROWN'S TRUSTEES) v. TURNER & ANDREW (1855), 27 Sc. Jur. 185.—SCOT.

q. Place of business—Business within jurisdiction—Residence outside jurisdiction.]—Where debtor was a resident of the State of Maine but did business in New Brunswick, & went away for the purpose of defrauding his creditors :—Held : he might be proceeded against under Absconding Debtors Act.—R. v. STEADMAN (1868), 1 Han. 369.—CAN

A married woman who owned & managed a private hotel sold it to a co., formed to acquire it, in consideration of shares therein, & became managing director thereof. She subsequently acquired or became interested in two other hotels which were transferred to companies in which she obtained large holdings of shares & of which she became managing director. She then promoted another co. to acquire a site & build a fourth hotel. She was nominally vendor to this co., & a large proportion of the share capital was to be allotted to her in consideration of her services in the formation of the co., of which she was also to be the managing director. This co. was not a success, & the hotel was never built. In connection with its promotion she incurred a debt, in respect of which judgment was obtained & a bkpcy. notice issued against her by the judgment creditors:—Held: she was "carrying on business" within s. 12 of the above Act, & was liable to bkpcy. proceedings thereunder.—Re CLARK, Ex p. POPE & OWLES, [1914] 3 K. SUB-SECT. 7.—MISCELLANEOUS.

275. Agent—No jurisdiction to make delivery order.]—The ct. has no jurisdiction under 1883 Act, s. 27 (5), to make an order for the delivery of the goods in the possession of a person as agent for another. Qu.: whether such order could be made if the principal were made resp. to the application.—Re DAVIS, Ex p. GOODMAN (1898), 15 T. L. R. 40; 5 Mans. 329.

276. Ambassador's entourage—British subject—Exempt.]—A British subject, accredited to Great Britain by a foreign Govt., as a member of its embassy (apart from an express condition to the contrary), is exempt from the local jurisdiction of his own country.—MACARTNEY v. GARBUTT (1890), 24 Q. B. D. 368; 62 L. T. 656; 54 J. P. 437; 38 W. R. 559; 6 T. L. R. 214.

Annotation:—Distd. Re Cloete, Ex p. Cloete (1891), 65 L. T. 102, C. A.

277. —— —— Appointment obtained to protect him against creditors—Not exempt.]—Debtor, a British subject, had carried on business in London. He was appointed by the Persian Ambassador an honorary attaché of the embassy, & his name was sent in to the Foreign Office as a member of the ambassador's suite. His appointment had in no way been recognised by the British Govt. A judgment was obtained against him, by consent, & a petition in bkpcy. was presented against him founded upon that judgment debt, & debtor claimed immunity from all civil process as a member of the Embassy:—Held: debtor was not entitled to the privilege claimed, his appointment having been obtained for the purpose of protecting him against his creditors.—Re CLOETE, Ex p. CLOETE (1891), 65 L. T. 102; 55 J. P. 758; 7 T. L. R. 565; 8 Morr. 195, C. A.

See, further, CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

278. Clergyman—Not exempt.]—A commission of bkpcy. was taken out against the petitioner, who insisted that, as he was a clergyman, he was not liable to become bkpt. within the intent of any of bkpt. stats. LORD HARDWICKE, C., refused to supersede the commission.—Ex p. MEYMOT (1747), 1 Atk. 196; 26 E. R. 127.

See, further, ECCLESIASTICAL LAW.

279. Convict.]—A convict is liable after his conviction, as much as before, to be made a bkpt.; & where a convict has been served with a debtor's summons in prison he can be made a bkpt. upon a petition alleging & proving that he has for three weeks after service of the summons neglected to pay the debt. The power of the Crown to intervene & appoint an administrator is for the benefit of the convict & his family, but does not affect the ordinary rights of the convict's creditors.—Re HARRIS, Ex p. GRAVES (1881), 19 Ch. D. 1; 51 L. J. Ch. 1; 45 L. T. 397; 46 J. P. 70; 30 W. R. 51; 15 Cox, C. C. 118, C. A.

287. Executor—Selling testator's stock.]—An exor. selling off the stock of his testator, though it consists of wines, & he buys some others to mix with & fine them, will not make him a bkpt.; otherwise if he buys wines entire & sells them entire to his customers.—Ex p. NUTT (1743), 1 Atk. 102; 26 E. R. 67.

288. —— Carrying on testator's business.]—An exor., who carries on a business for the benefit of testator's children, may be made a bkpt.—VINER v. CADELL (1800), 3 Esp. 88.

Annotation:—Mentd. Caffrey v. Darby (1801), 6 Ves. 488.

289. —— ——.]—An exor. & trustee for the payment of debts, & afterwards to pay over the residue, who, with the consent of the residuary legatee, permits the partnership trade of testator to be continued, & receives a share of the profits for the purposes of the trust, is a trader within the bkpcy. laws.—LONGUET v. HOCKLEY (1836), Donnelly, 3; 5 L. J. Ex. Eq. 21; 47 E. R. 187.

290. —— ——.]—Exors., carried on their testator's business under the powers of his will in the same firm name in which he had carried it on. Subsequently a receiving order was made against them in the firm name on a bkpcy. petition by a creditor who had recovered judgment against them in the K. B. Div. in the firm name on two dishonoured bills of exchange accepted in the firm name:—Held: (1) the exors. were not partners; (2) they could not be adjudicated bkpt. as such. Semble: they could be proceeded against as joint debtors.—Re FISHER & SONS, [1912] 2 K. B. 491; 81 L. J. K. B. 1246; 106 L. T. 814; 55 Sol. Jo. 553; 19 Mans. 332.

See, further, EXECUTORS & ADMINISTRATORS.

291. —— Member of Parliament—Not exempt.]—Held: a member of parliament might become bkpt. under 1849 Act, s. 72.—Re MOSTYN, Ex p. GRIFFITHS (1853), 3 De G. M. & G. 174; 22 L. J. Bcy. 50; 1 W. R. 236; 43 E. R. 69, L. JJ.

See, further, PARLIAMENT.

292. Non-trader.]—A partner, not a trader, was indebted to the partnership & also to some of the partners separately. By deeds executed by debtor after 1861 Act had received the Royal assent, but supposed to have been executed before it came into operation, he covenanted to pay to trustees for the other partners a sum fixed upon as principal, & to pay interest thereon, & he gave a mtge. as security. A debtor's summons was issued for the money covenanted to be paid:—Held: (1) the debt was not contracted within s. 118 until the execution of the deed of covenant; (2) the time defined by the words "passing of 1861 Act" in same sect. was the time when the Act received the Royal assent, & not the time when it came into operation, & the non-trader might be adjudicated bkpt. on a debtor's summons issued for payment of the debt so contracted.—Re DALZELL, Ex p. RASHLEIGH (1875), 2 Ch. D. 9; 45 L. J. Bcy. 29; 34 L. T. 193; 24 W. R. 495, C. A.

Annotation:—Consd. R. v. Smith, R. v. Weston, [1910] 1 K. B. 17, C. C. A.

293. Peer of Parliament—Not exempt.]—A peer of Parliament is capable of being adjudicated a bkpt. under 1861 Act, & no privilege exists exempting a member of Parliament from liability to be made a bkpt. The privilege which such persons have at common law of freedom from arrest is not affected by Bkpcy. Acts.—NEWCASTLE (DUKE) v. MORRIS (1870), L. R. 4 H. L. 661; 40 L. J. Bcy. 4; 23 L. T. 569; 35 J. P. 548; 19 W. R. 26, H. L.

See, further, PARLIAMENT.

294. Shareholder in joint-stock bank—Debt due from bank—No judgment against public officer.]—A creditor of a joint-stock banking co. may sue out a fiat against any individual member of the co., without proceeding in the first instance against the public officer of the co. under Country Bankers Act, 1826 (c. 46).—Re WOOD, Ex p. WOOD (1840), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 92; 9 L. J. Bcy. 20; 4 Jur. 251, Ct. of R.

Annotation:—Overd. Davison v. Farmer (1851), 6 Exch. 242. We overrule Ex p. Wood; but that decision took place before the nature of the liability of joint stock companies had been fully understood (PARKE, B.).

295. —— —— ——.]—A shareholder in a joint-stock banking copartnership established under the above Act, cannot be proceeded against in bkpcy. upon a debt due from the copartnership, where no judgment has been obtained against the public officer of the copartnership, although the business has been relinquished, 287 i. Executor or administrator.]—Insolvent Act, 1865, s. 27, does not enable the creditors of a deceased person to put his exors. or administrators into insolvency in their representative character.—Re SHARPE (1869), 20 C. P. 82.—CAN.

a. Person in custody under civil judgment.]—Prisoner, an apprentice, charged in execution on a judgment for criminal conversation with his master's wife:—Held: not within Insolvent Act, but under the exemption of debtors for fraudulent debts.—Re STRANGE (1801), Rowe, 677.—IR

& an order has been obtained to wind up the affairs of the co. under the 11 & 12 Vict. c. 45, prior to the proceedings in bkpcy. The rule is the same, although there be not any public officer of the co.

A fiat in bkpcy. issued against pltf. dated July 20, 1849, upon a debt due from a banking copartnership, of which pltf. was a member, to G., petitioning creditor, no proceedings having been taken against the public officer of the co. A warrant of seizure was issued to F., the messenger of the Ct. of Bkpcy., dated July 30, 1849. The creditors' assignee was appointed on Aug. 21. 12 & 13 Vict. c. 106 came into operation on Oct. 11, &. Oct. 18 pltf.'s goods were seized, & sold by the messenger under the warrant :—Held : the fiat was invalid.—DAVISON v. FARMER & GRACE (1851), 6 Exch. 242 ; 20 L. J. Ex. 177 ; 15 J. 297 i. Bankruptcy Court—Court of Equity—Jurisdiction limited by Irish 1857 Act.]—Although the Bkpcy. Ct. is a ct. of law & equity, it cannot exercise its equitable jurisdiction, even in favour of creditors, in any way that would not be warranted by the above Act.—Re CRAIG (1869), I. R. 4 Eq. 158.—IR.

b. Debtor with double domicil.]—Where there is a double domicil, with a double set of creditors, the bkpcy. should proceed in the ct. in which bkpcy. proceedings are first commenced.—HOWSE, SONS & CO.'S TRUSTEE v. HOWSE, SONS & CO.'S TRUSTEES, JOCELYNE v. SHEARER & HINE (1884), 3 S. C. 14.—S. AF.

c. To punish criminal offences of bankrupt in trade.]—The Insolvency Ct. has no power to punish criminally for fraudulent practices in trade. That is left to the action of creditors through the channel of the criminal law.—Re JANSSEN v. REUSS (1864), Cor. 13.—IND.

d. To decide question of title to copyright.]—A mere question of title between an author & a bkpt. publisher, as to which is owner of a portion of a copyright, cannot be decided in the bkpcy. matter.—Re CURRY (1848), 12 I. Eq. R. 382.—IR.

e. To decide questions necessary to making complete distribution—Setting aside lease.]—Held : although the lessee refused to appear & submit to its jurisdiction, the Ct. of Bkpcy. had power to set aside a lease, & to grant an injunction restraining the lessee from prosecuting an action of trespass against the messenger—it being expedient & necessary for the ct. to decide the questions involved, for the purpose of doing complete justice, & making a complete distribution of property, in the matter of the lessor's bkpcy.—Re DOMVILE (1874), 8 I. L. T. 196 ; affd. (1875), I. R. 9 Eq. 456.—IR.

f. Under Irish 1857 Act.]—Held : Irish 1857 Act, s. 31, although it gave the ct. exclusive jurisdiction in certain cases, was not the sect. that gave the Bkpcy. Ct. its general jurisdiction.—Re HAZLETON, [1915] 2 I. R. 425 ; 49 I. L. T. 29.—IR.

g. Power to discharge—Person in prison under Chancery attachment.]—Although the Ct. of Bkpcy. has jurisdiction to discharge a person in prison under an attachment out of Ch to enforce payment of a sum of money, yet it declined, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, to exercise that jurisdiction where it had been charged in Ch., & there by default confessed, that the money had been obtained by fraud.—Re WALKER (1873), I. R. 7 Eq. 178.—IR.

h. To lend bankrupt's books—To assist foreign court.]—Bkpt.'s books may be lent by the ct. to a foreign Govt. for the purposes of a criminal prosecution.—Re STEWART, Ex p. BURNETT (1899), 33 I. L. T. 48.—IR.

paid by the assignees into the Bank of England in the name of the Accountant in Bkpcy. to an account called "The account of unsatisfied creditors of testator, W. deceased." Same petitioners then petitioned the Ct. of Review that it might be referred to the registrar to take an account of what was due to petitioners respectively & to apportion & divide the £2,081 16*s.* 6*d.* among them, or that the accountant in bkpcy. might be directed to pay the sum to J. as the personal representative of W., upon his giving security duly to administer & divide same amongst the creditors of testator:—Held: there was no jurisdiction in bkpcy. to order the funds of testator to be divided amongst his creditors, but a bill must be filed in the Ct. of Ch. for that purpose. Form of order.—Re KNIGHT, Ex p. WILLIAMS (1838), 3 Deac. 378; Mont. & Ch. 91, Ct. of R.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 130.

304. To order inquiry into circumstances of mortgage—Before London commissioners.]—The Ct. of Review has jurisdiction to direct an inquiry into the circumstances of a mtge., to be taken before one of the London comrs., not as being one of the officers of the ct., but as being part of his duty as comr., to take such references.—Re RIDGE, Ex p. ROLFE (1837), 3 Mont. & A. 305; 2 Deac. 421; 6 L. 311. —— To make interpleader order — All powers of superior courts of common law.]—Goods seized by a sheriff under a writ of fi. fa., issued by the London Ct. of Bkpcy., were claimed adversely:—Held: (1) that ct. has jurisdiction on the application of the sheriff, to make an interpleader order; (2) 1869 Act, s. 65, conferred on the London Ct. of Bkpcy., for the purpose of the Act, all the jurisdiction formerly possessed by the superior cts. of common law.—Re BUCK, Ex p. MIDDLESEX (1879), 10 Ch. 312. —— Trustee having higher title than bankrupt — Fraudulent preference.] — Where a trustee in bkpcy. claims only the same right as bkpt. himself would have had, the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought not to assume jurisdiction, but ought to leave the matter to be dealt with by the ordinary tribunals. But where, by the operations of the law of bkpcy. the trustee has a higher & better title than bkpt. (where, for instance, a transaction is impeached as a fraudulent preference or an act of bkpcy.), the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought to decide the matter itself.—Re YATES, Ex p. BROWN (1879), 11 Ch. 313. —— —— Discretion.] — Although as a general rule, cases in which the trustee in bkpcy. is asserting a claim to property by a higher title than that of bkpt. himself ought to be tried in the Ct. of Bkpcy., yet the rule is not an inflexible one, & the ct. has a judicial discretion to be exercised with regard to all the circumstances of the case.—Re LEAROYD, WILTON & CO., Ex p. ARMITAGE (1881), 17 Ch. 314. Under Debtors Act, 1869 (c. 62)—To imprison debtor.]—The provisions of s. 9 of Debtors Act, 1869, were only intended to preserve to the Ct. of Bkpcy. the special powers of imprisonment conferred upon it by such sects. as ss. 19, 70, & 93 of 1869 Act, & not to preserve any powers of imprisonment for debt which have been taken away from other cts. by Debtors Act, 1869.—Re CHAPMAN & SHAW, Ex p. HOOSON (1872), 8 Ch. 315. Under 1883 Act.]—The Bkpcy. Ct. has authority to issue a judgment summons on a judgment of the High Ct. when debtor does not reside within its jurisdiction. The judge in bkpcy. is now a judge of the High Ct., & the jurisdiction is the jurisdiction of the High Ct., & extends over the whole of England, & the jurisdiction given by 1883 Act, s. 103 (4), is not an exclusive but a concurrent jurisdiction.—Re STONE, Ex p. NICHOLSON, Re PHILBY, Ex p. NICHOLSON (1884), 1 Morr. 177.

316. —— Trustee having higher title than bankrupt—Discretion.]—There is no absolute rule that a question relating to the estate of bkpt. ought to be determined by the Ct. of Bkpcy., & not by the High Ct., whenever the trustee in the bkpcy. is, by virtue of the bkpcy. law, claiming by a higher title than that of bkpt. himself. It is a matter of judicial discretion in each case how the question shall best be tried. In such a matter the Ct. of Appeal ought not readily to overrule the discretion of the bkpcy. judge.—Re BARNETT, Ex p. REYNOLDS (1885), 15 Q. B. D. 169; 54 L. J. Q. B. 354; 53 L. T. 448; 33 W. 323. —— —— Simultaneous receiving orders.]—In Feb., 1885, a petition was presented against debtor in the London Bkpcy. Ct., but the hearing of such petition was subsequently adjourned from time to time with the consent of petitioning creditor, & on Jan. 5, 1886, a receiving order was made in the High Ct. at eleven-thirty o'clock. On the same day at one o'clock, a receiving order was also made against debtor in the Swansea County Ct. at the instance of another creditor. On an appeal by the creditor presenting the petition in London to set aside such order of the county ct.:—Held: as it appeared clear that the legitimate business of debtor was carried on in Swansea, which was primâ facie the place where his business transactions ought to be investigated, & as petitioning creditor in London had for his own purposes delayed for several months to proceed with his petition, the proper course for the ct. to pursue was not to interfere with the order of the county ct., & to let an application be made to the London Ct. to stay the proceedings there.—Re STRICK, Ex p. MARTIN (1886), 3 Morr. 78, D. 327. Proceedings in wrong court—Mistake—Transfer to proper court.]—A petition for liquidation was by mistake presented by a debtor to the wrong ct. A receiver was appointed, & all proceedings were carried on with perfect regularity till just before the second meeting of creditors, when the error was discovered. At the second meeting a resolution was passed transferring the proceedings to the proper ct. 329. —— Inadvertence.]—If a bkpcy. petition is by inadvertence presented in a wrong bkpcy. ct., the ct. to which it is presented has jurisdiction to make a receiving order. If, however, the petition is wilfully presented in a wrong ct., that is a ground for dismissing it.

The Divisional Ct. made a receiving order, which it held that the county ct. ought to have made, & to which debtor had raised no other objection than want of jurisdiction, giving leave to debtor to apply afterwards to the Divisional Ct. to discharge the order on any ground arising since the hearing in the county ct.—Re BRIGHTMORE, Ex p. MAY (1884), 14 Q. 331. —— Adjudication—Not void but irregular.]—A bkpcy. petition in the form required by the bkpcy. rules containing, among other necessary allegations, a statement that debtor did not reside or carry on business in the London district, was presented to the county ct. of the district in which debtor resided, accompanied by the usual affidavit of verification required by the rules. Debtor did not appear on the hearing, & the county ct. adjudicated him a bkpt. in the usual form. Debtor did, in point of fact, carry on business within the London district under an assumed name:—Held: the adjudication was not void, notwithstanding that bkpt. did in fact carry on business in London, but merely irregular, & could only be questioned by proceedings in the way of application or appeal to the Ct. of Bkpcy. itself.—

326 i. —— Debtor departing from district.]—Q. & F., who carried on business as contractors in the Wellington District in copartnership, left the district. Certain creditors, having obtained separate judgments against Q. & F. for a debt, made some inquiries in the district to which Q. & F. had gone as to their whereabouts, &, not being able to find them, presented a petition to the Supreme Ct. in Wellington:—Held: the petition had not been presented in the right district.—Re QUINLAN & FOSTER (1907), 26 N. 343. —— —— ——.]—Trustees in bkpcy. sought to set aside a deed by which P. H. agreed to sell to J. H. his brother, certain property for £5,000, on the ground of prior acts of bkpcy. & fraudulent preference. At the hearing of the motion, objection was taken to the registrar of the county ct. trying the case on the ground of its importance. The registrar overruled the objection :—Held : he was wrong in insisting on his jurisdiction, & the proper tribunal was a branch of the High Ct. & a jury of twelve, & the objection must prevail.—Re HONYWOOD, Ex p. GUEDALLA, [1883] W. 344. —— —— 1883 Act, s. 102.]—A. was tenant under a lease to H., who was also his mtgee. In May, 1885, certain transactions were entered into between H. & A. with a view to assisting A., who was then in money difficulties. A. became bkpt., & a motion was made in the county ct. by his trustee in bkpcy. to have these transactions declared fraudulent & void as against the trustee. The amount at stake was £13,700. On the hearing objection was taken that the county ct. had no jurisdiction as the amount at stake was very large, & a question of character was involved. The county ct. judge having decided that he had jurisdiction :—Held : (1) assuming the county ct. judge had jurisdiction, yet he ought not to exercise it unless there were special circumstances showing him he ought to do so : (2) here there were no such special circumstances.—Re BESWICK, Ex p. HAZLEHURST (1888), 58 L. 348. —— —— Money demand against stranger.]—A trader opened with a railway co. a credit account for freight, by which it was agreed that the co. should have a general lien for all moneys due by him to them on any account on all goods belonging to him in their hands. He afterwards filed a liquidation petition, under which a receiver of his property & manager of his business was appointed. In order to carry on the business the receiver bought some goods, which he paid for with his own money, & sent them to the co. consigned to the trader. The co. claimed the benefit of the agreement, & refused to deliver the goods until they were paid the amount which the trader owed them for freight due at the time of the filing of the petition. The receiver in order to obtain the goods paid the co. £50 under protest, & then applied to the Ct. of Bkpcy. to order the co. to repay him the £50, & an order was made accordingly :—Held : that the Ct. of Bkpcy. had no jurisdiction to make the order.—Re BUSHELL, Ex p. GREAT WESTERN RY. Certain stable fittings were by the contract to be supplied for £95, & to be procured from M. & Co. Subsequently, that amount was by the architects' direction increased to £137. Neither of those sums had been paid by bkpt. to M. & Co., who, on the bkpcy. occurring, applied to the building owner & received from him £95, upon their giving him an indemnity. The trustee in bkpcy. then applied to the building owner for the whole £137, & refused to accept the balance, after deducting the £95 handed to M. & Co., which the building owner was ready to pay. The architects also refused to give their certificate for any sum other than the balance between the £95 & the £137. The wheat was accordingly delivered to them on the following day. This sale was unknown to bkpt., who on June 8 sent out by post notices of suspension, which were delivered to the manager at Southampton & to applts. on the following morning :—Held : under 1883 Act, s. 102, it was competent for the county ct. acting in bkpcy. to adjudicate upon a claim by bkpt.'s trustee for the return of the wheat by applts. or payment of its value, for it must be taken to be "a claim arising out of the bkpcy."—Re HAWKE, Ex p. SCOTT (1885), 16 Q. The trustee was released & the official receiver became trustee, & subsequently U., in the name of the official receiver as trustee, applied to the county ct. for a declaration that the property left by debtor on the farm belonged to him as assignee of the trustee. The county ct. judge having refused to exercise his jurisdiction, & dismissed the motion : —Held : the decision was correct, as it was not necessary either for the purpose of doing complete justice or of making a complete distribution of the property for him to decide the question, the application being made for the benefit of one creditor alone, & not for the creditors generally.—Re ARNOLD, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1891), 66 L. 353. —— —— Except as regards property of stranger seized by messenger.]—The power of the Ct. of Bkpcy. to order restitution of goods of strangers, seized by the messenger, is not derived from any general jurisdiction in questions of tort, but arises incidentally out of its general superintendence & control in matters of bkpcy., by virtue of which it exercises a summary jurisdiction over all the parties to proceedings in bkpcy., interposing its authority even upon the application of strangers, where the inadequacy of the ordinary legal remedies requires an extraordinary intervention.—Re HEATH, Ex p. HEATH (1832), Mont. & B. 169 ; 2 L. warehouseman, who had affected to pledge goods in his custody to a bank to secure advances to himself, became bkpt. The true owner applied in the county ct. under the bkpcy. to have the goods delivered up to him. The trustee at first made some claim to the goods, but abandoned it at the hearing, insisting only on his right to be paid rent & warehouse charges. Thereupon the bank objected that the ct. had no jurisdiction; but this objection was overruled, & a decision on the merits given against him:—Held: the ct. had no jurisdiction, & the original order must be discharged.—Re SLEE, Ex p. NORTH WESTERN BANK (1872), 41 L. 362. —— To secure costs of composition deed.]—On May 5, 1871, L. filed a petition for liquidation by arrangement. On May 9, B. was appointed receiver, & took possession of debtor's goods. On June 9, the creditors passed resolutions appointing B. trustee, & accepting a composition for which promissory notes were to be given & handed to B. for distribution among the creditors. On July 27, B. having a lien on the goods for his costs, L. gave him a memorandum by which, in consideration of B.'s satisfying a distress for rent, & giving time for payment of the costs, he agreed to give B. a charge on the goods for the cost, & to execute any deed required for giving effect to that charge. B. delivered his bill of costs, & in Aug. L. gave him a bill of sale of the goods for the amount, upon which the goods were delivered to L. L. afterwards applied to the Ct. of Bkpcy. for taxation of B.'s charges & an account of the moneys received by him, & to have the bill of sale set aside as obtained by pressure:—Held: the Ct. of Bkpcy. had no jurisdiction to set aside the bill of sale, & no relief could be given on the application. Semble: there would have been jurisdiction to settle the amount of B.'s charges if it had not been settled between the parties, that being a matter incident to the composition.—Re LYONS, Ex p. LYONS (1872), 7 Ch. 363. —— With intent to defeat creditors—More than twelve months before adjudication.]—The trustee in a bkpcy. applied to a county ct. to set aside as fraudulent a mtge. which bkpt. had executed. The ct. directed the trial of certain issues by a jury, & the jury found that the deed was executed by bkpt. without consideration, & with intent to defeat & delay his creditors. The county ct. then declared the deed to be void, & ordered it to be delivered up to be cancelled. The mtgee. applied for a new trial, but the application was refused. He appealed to the Chief Judge from the order which declared the deed void, but did not appeal from the refusal of a new trial. On the hearing of the appeal, the objection was taken that the case was not one in which the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought to exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction under s. 72:—Semble: the ct. had jurisdiction.—Re HARRISON, Ex p. BUTTERS (1880), 14 Ch. 364. —— Entry by mortgagee—Claim to set aside mortgage after.]—H., having borrowed £120 from P., for the repayment of which sum & interest T. was surety, an agreement was entered into in Sept., 1875, between H. & T., that H. should execute a mtge. of certain premises to P., to secure the repayment of the loan & interest. The agreement contained a proviso that if T. should at any time be called upon & compelled to pay the £120 & interest, or if H. should become bkpt. or file a petition for liquidation, it should be lawful for T. immediately to enter upon the premises so agreed to be mtged. T. having been served with a writ, jointly with H., to pay the £120 & interest, paid the money in Aug., 1876, & immediately entered upon the premises agreed to be mtged., which were in the occupation of H., & upon which H. had expended considerable sums. In Sept., 1876, H. filed a liquidation petition, & in June, 1882, the trustee in the liquidation sought to have the agreement set aside as fraudulent & void, & that T. might be ordered to withdraw from possession upon payment into ct. by the trustee of £125 in respect of the debt & interest:—Held: the provision for re-entry upon the bkpcy. of H., not having come into operation, the Ct. of Bkpcy. had no jurisdiction to decide the matter.—Re HOLT, Ex p. HUTCHINSON (1882), 47 L. The mtgees., being unable to obtain payment of the mtge.-debt, put up the reversion for sale, subject to the rights of the trustee & of the creditors under the bkpcy. The trustee thereupon obtained from the judge of the county ct. having jurisdiction in the bkpcy. a perpetual injunction restraining the mtgees. from proceeding with such sale:—Held: the county ct. judge had no jurisdiction to grant such an injunction.—Re EVELYN, Ex p. GENERAL PUBLIC WORKS & ASSETS CO., LTD., [1894] 2 Q. 367. —— Mortgagee by demise—Disclaimer by trustee—Application by landlord for vesting order.]—Where a lessee is adjudicated bkpt. in a county ct., & his trustee disclaims the lease, an application by the landlord for an order putting mtgees. by demise to their election to take a vesting order of the lease cum onere, or be excluded from all interest, is an application to enforce a claim arising out of the bkpcy., which could not have been enforced by action in the High Ct. prior to 1883 Act, & by virtue of s. 102 (1), the county ct. has jurisdiction, without any consent of the parties, to decide all questions of law or fact arising on the application, including the question whether the lease is subsisting, or whether it was merged by a temporary coalescence of the freehold & leasehold estates in the lessee.—LEA v. THURSBY, [1904] 2 Ch. 57 ; 73 L. J. Ch. 518 ; 90 L. T. 667 ; 20 T. L. R. 470 ; 11 Mans. 151.

368. Questions between principal & agent.]—Goods were sold & delivered on credit to C. & Co., who became bkpts. before the time for payment arrived, & the goods passed into the possession of the trustee in the bkpcy. Afterwards the vendors commenced an action against S. & Co., for the price of the goods, alleging that C. & Co. had been authorised by S. & Co. to order them either on the joint account of C. & Co. & S. & Co., or on account of S. & Co. as undisclosed principals. S. & Co. then, under R.S.C. 1875, Ord. 16, r. 18, served notice upon the trustee of the action, & that they claimed to be indemnified by him as trustee against all liability. Upon the application of the trustee one of the registrars sitting as Chief Judge granted an injunction restraining S. & Co. from taking further proceedings, under Ord. 16 ; but upon appeal the order for an injunction was discharged, on the ground that the Ct. of Bkpcy. could not, as between pltfs. & S. & Co., try the question of the latter's liability.—Re COLLIE, Ex p. SMITH (1876), 2 Ch. 369. —— Money demand against stranger.]—The Ct. of Bkpcy., even if it possesses jurisdiction under 1869 Act, s. 72, to enforce a simple money demand by the trustee of a bkpt.'s property against a third party (as to which qu.), ought not to exercise the jurisdiction, but ought to leave the demand to be enforced by the trustee in an action in the ordinary way.

Commission agents accepted bills drawn upon them by their principals for part of the value of goods consigned to the agents for sale. After the principals had filed a liquidation petition the agents sold the goods in order to reimburse themselves the amount of one of the bills which they had paid, & to provide funds to meet the others which were soon to become due. Before the latter bills were paid the agents filed a liquidation petition. They had spent all the proceeds of the sale. Their creditors agreed to accept a composition, which was paid to the holders of the bills, some of whom claimed to prove in the liquidation of the principals. The principal's trustee applied to a county ct. in bkpcy. for an order that the agents should pay to him the balance of the proceeds of sale, after deducting the amount of the bill which they had paid in full, & the composition which they had paid in respect of the others :—Held : the trustee's demand against the agents was a mere demand for a debt due to the principal's estate, & the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought not to assume jurisdiction to try it.—Re POLLARD, Ex p. DICKIN (1878), 8 Ch. 370. —— ——.]—A liquidating debtor had consigned goods to commission merchants for sale, & they had made advances to him. They alleged that a balance was due to them from his estate, & the trustee in the liquidation alleged that a balance was due from them to the estate. They had not, however, tendered any proof or made any formal claim against the estate :—Held : inasmuch as, if the trustee was right, there was a mere money demand by him against a stranger to the liquidation, the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought not, on the application of the trustee, to order accounts to be taken of the dealings between debtor & the commission merchants, but the trustee ought to proceed by action in the High Ct.—Re WOOD, Ex p. MUSGRAVE (1878), 10 Ch. 372. Auctioneer declining to pay proceeds of sale to trustee.]—After the filing of a liquidation petition the holder of a registered bill of sale executed by debtor instructed an auctioneer to take possession of the chattels comprised in it. The auctioneer took possession & advertised the goods for sale on behalf of the bill of sale holder. The sale was stopped by injunction, & the auctioneer remained in possession of the goods on behalf of the receiver under the petition. On the appointment of a trustee the auctioneer held possession for him, & ultimately by his directions advertised the goods for sale, the advertisements & the catalogues of the goods being headed "In liquidation. By order of the trustee." The goods were sold, & the proceeds of sale were received by the auctioneer. The bill of sale holder gave him notice not to pay them to the trustee, & he declined to pay them over. The trustee applied to the Ct. of Bkpcy. for an order for payment to him, serving notice of his motion on the auctioneer only. On the hearing of this motion an order was made by consent, that the money should be paid into ct. & the hearing adjourned, notice being meanwhile given to the bill of sale holder. Notice was served on him, but not a four days' notice as required by 1870 Rules, r. 50, & he did not appear on the adjourned hearing. He had meanwhile commenced an action against the auctioneer for the proceeds of sale :—Held : the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought to exercise its jurisdiction under 1869 Act, s. 72, & the money must be paid out to the trustee, on the ground that the auctioneer had, with full knowledge of the adverse claim, deliberately elected to sell the goods for the trustee, & was therefore estopped from denying his title.—Re SADLER, Ex p. DAVIES (1881), 19 Ch. 373. Execution creditor — Injunction — After annulment of bankruptcy.]—A trader was adjudicated bkpt. on the petition of a creditor who was, under an execution, in possession of chattels belonging to the trader. Under orders of the ct., the bkpcy. was afterwards annulled, & the property of debtor was assigned by him to the same person who was trustee in the bkpcy., on trust to secure payment of a composition which the majority of the creditors had agreed to accept. The execution creditor then threatened to proceed with his execution :—Held : (1) as the assignment had been made and the composition had been accepted with the approval of the ct., the ct. retained jurisdiction over the execution creditor, though the bkpcy. had been annulled; (2) the creditor ought to be restrained from proceeding with the execution.—Re CHIDLEY, Re LENNARD (1875), 1 Ch. D. 177; 45 L. J. Bcy. 49; 33 L. T. 553; 24 W. R. 182, C. A.

374. —— Who has taken proceedings at law.]—A judgment creditor levied against his debtor, & the sheriff took possession of debtor's goods, but before the sale took place debtor filed a petition for liquidation, & a receiver was appointed, who obtained an injunction restraining the sale on giving the usual undertaking to abide by any order as to damages. The liquidation proceedings became abortive, & a petition for adjudication was presented, under which debtor was adjudicated bkpt., & the sheriff gave up the goods to the trustee. The execution creditor then brought an action against the sheriff for damages sustained by his parting with the goods. The action was determined in the sheriff's favour, on the ground that debtor was a trader, & had committed an act of bkpcy. by suffering the execution. Afterwards, the execution creditor made an application in bkpcy. for damages under the undertaking given by the receiver, in which he relied on the same point as in the action, namely, that debtor was not a trader:—Held: as the creditor had elected to take his remedy at law against the sheriff, the Ct. of Bkpcy. could not entertain the question.—Re BREMNER, Ex p. HARPER (1875), 10 Ch. 375. Landlord—Recovery of distress levied before bankruptcy.]—On Dec. 3, 1878, a brewing co., in pursuance of a power contained in an agreement for letting, entered upon the premises of their tenant & levied a distress. On Dec. 7 the tenant committed an act of bkpcy. by filing a declaration of insolvency, upon which he was subsequently adjudicated a bkpt. Upon the application of the trustee in the bkpcy., the county ct. judge directed the brewing co. to pay to the trustee the amount so levied by them, & damages for the distress, as being excessive:—Held: the Ct. of Bkpcy. had no jurisdiction to make the order.—Re CLIFFE, Ex p. EATOUGH & CO., LTD. 376. Solicitor—Claiming lien—Jurisdiction to order delivery.]—A solr., claiming to have a lien on a deed of bkpt. for professional business done for him, was summoned to attend before the comr. acting in the prosecution of the fiat, to be examined touching the estate of bkpt., & to produce the deed. The solr. produced the deed, when the comr., being of opinion that he had no lien, ordered him to deliver up the deed to the solr. of the fiat, &, on his declining to do so, unless his lien was first discharged, directed an officer of the ct. to seize the deed:—Held: the comr. in making such an order exceeded his jurisdiction.—Re WRIGHT, Ex p. LLEWELLYN (1844), 8 Jur. 816, Ct. of R.

377. —— —— —— Or to commit on refusal.]—Before bkpcy., bkpts. deposited with petitioner, a solr., books of account, to enable him to arrange with their creditors, & by their direction the books were left with an accountant, that he might prepare statements of their affairs. Terms were agreed, but bkpts. were unable to comply with them, upon which petitioner refused to act further as their solr., & adjudication in bkpcy. then took place. The bills of petitioner remained unpaid, & he refused to deliver up the books. The district ct. by its orders directed him to do so, & on his omitting to comply committed him to prison. Petitioner appealed against such order, denying the jurisdiction of the Bkpcy. Ct., & insisting upon his lien:—Qu.: whether such a jurisdiction as the commissioner claimed to exercise really existed.—Re LEAH, Ex p. JABET (1860), 2 L. T. 72: 6 Jur. N. S. 387, C. A.

378. —— —— Priority over mortgagee by deposit.]—Bkpt. deposited with A. the title-deeds of premises which he had previously mortgaged to R. & Co. After the bkpcy. it was agreed between R. & Co., A. & the assignees, that the assignees should sell the premises & apply the proceeds in payment of R. & Co. & A. Upon the petition of bkpt.'s solr. claiming a lien by deposit of the title-deeds of the premises prior to A.:—Held: the ct. had no jurisdiction in the matter.—Re DOWNING, Ex p. ALLISON (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 210.

379. —— Retaining money.]—On an application for an order that N., formerly debtor's solr., might be ordered to pay to the trustee in the liquidation a sum of £3,342, shown by N.'s account to be wrongfully withheld by him from the trustee, it was objected on behalf of N. that, it being a mere money demand by the trustees, not arising out of the liquidation, the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought not to exercise the jurisdiction given to it by the above sect., but ought to leave the matter to be dealt with by the High Ct. in an action:—Held: the Ct. of Bkpcy. had clearly jurisdiction under 1869 Act, s. 72, & in the circumstances of the case the registrar had exercised his judicial discretion rightly in deciding to deal with the matter himself.—Re MANSEL, Ex p. THE TRUSTEE (1888), 4 T. The ct. having directed the trial of certain issues by a jury, declared the deed to be void, & ordered it to be delivered up to be cancelled. The mtgee. applied for a new trial, but the application was refused. He appealed to the chief judge from the order which declared the deed void, but did not appeal from the refusal of a new trial. On the hearing of the appeal, the objection was taken that the case was not one in which the Ct. of Bkpcy. ought to exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction under 1869 Act, s. 72:—Held: the objection was raised too late after the mtgee. had taken his chance of a decision in his favour on the merits in the county ct.—Re HARRISON, Ex p. BUTTERS (1880), 14 Ch. 386. Waiver—What amounts to.]—A creditor, resting upon a common law lien, without proving under the commission, previous to Bkpcy. Ct. Act, 1831 (c. 56), appeared as a resp., in opposition to a petition before the Vice-Chancellor, who ordered that the matter should be referred to the comrs., to ascertain the rights of the several parties, & that the creditor should have his costs. The creditor attended the inquiry before the comrs, but did not draw up the order of the Vice-Chancellor:—Held: (1) this was not enough to bring him within the jurisdiction of the ct.; (2) filing an affidavit was not a waiver of any objection to the jurisdiction.—Re MILLS, Ex p. REID (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 250, Ct. of R.

390. —— —— Power to make receiving order—Bankruptcy proceedings in foreign country—Not country of debtor's domicil.] — The jurisdiction of the ct. to make a receiving order against a debtor under 1883 Act, is not taken away by reason of prior bkpcy. proceedings pending in a foreign country, at least where it is not the country of debtor's domicil.

The mere fact that prior bkpcy. proceedings, under which a representative of debtor's estate has been appointed, are pending in a foreign country, not being the country of debtor's domicil, is no ground for staying proceedings in bkpcy. in England. Qu. : whether the representative of the estate of a debtor under a prior bkpcy. in a foreign country has a locus standi to oppose the making of a receiving order in England under the 1883 Act.—Re ARTOLA HERMANOS, Ex p. ANDRÉ CHÂLE (1890), 24 Q. 391. —— Execution against bankrupt—Sequestration in Scotland.]—Deft. was arrested on a ca. sa. upon a judgment obtained against him in the Ct. of Common Pleas, & was discharged by order of a judge, on the ground that he had at the time of the arrest obtained his protection from process under a Scottish sequestration. Upon a motion to rescind that order, & for leave to issue another ca. sa. :—Held : it was not competent to such an action ought not to be entertained.

This ct. has jurisdiction to award sequestration for all the purposes it may effect, notwithstanding the fact that a liquidation process had been begun in another country for the same purpose, if this ct. saw fit to use its discretion in granting the sequestration (LORD YOUNG).—GIBSON v. MUNRO (1894), 2 S. Under this authority they petitioned the ct., which was, by the law of bkpcy., in force there, in itself an act of bkpcy., & they also assigned the property of the firm to a trustee, which was also an act of bkpcy. by that law. About the same time a partner of the firm resident in London was adjudicated bkpt. there, & a joint adjudication passed in Hong Kong against all the partners, the latter being subsequent in date to the former :—Held : it was not competent to the partner in London to dispute the validity of the joint adjudication. Semble : a separate adjudication in England against the English resident partner of a Hong Kong firm is no ground for refusing in Hong Kong a joint adjudication against all the partners, though one is not resident in the colony.—LYALL v. JARDINE (1870), L. A judgment creditor in the province issued an execution, under which property belonging to the firm there was seized & sold by the sheriff, who refused to pay the proceeds to the trustee. On an application to the ct. for an order to the sheriff to pay the proceeds of the execution to the trustee:—Held: (1) even if the English Act applied to the province, the ct. had no jurisdiction as a Bkpcy. or Insolvent Ct.; (2) no sufficient application had been made to the ct. by the English Bkpcy. 425. "Of his creditors generally"—Deed excluding certain creditors.]—Debtor assigned by deed all his effects to trustees upon trust for all his creditors, parties to the assignment, who should assent thereto within three months from its date. The execution of the assignment by debtor & the trustees was attested by a solr., as required by 1849 Act, s. 68, & notice of it was given in the London Gazette & otherwise, as required by that sect. :—Held : the assignment was within the above sect., & was valid.—HARRIS v. PETTIT (1862), 31 L. 426. ——— Assignment by partner—No provision for joint creditors.]—A. & N., being in partnership, executed assignments of all their joint estate to mtgees., & afterwards A. assigned all his separate estate & effects whatsoever, specifying them in detail, & " all other the estate & effects of " A., to a trustee upon trust to divide the proceeds arising from the sale thereof amongst such of his separate creditors as should within one month become parties to & execute the deed. The deed was not registered under Bills of Sale Act, 1854 (c. 36). Upon the day following the date of the last-mentioned deed a petition for adjudication of bkpcy. was filed against A. & N., under which they were subsequently declared bkpts., the acts of bkpcy. relied upon having been committed two or three days before the date of the last deed :—Held : the last-mentioned deed was an act of bkpcy., & a preference of separate creditors over the general body of creditors.—Re ALLIBON, NOYES & Co., Ex p. MCLEAN (1871), 24 L. 427. ——— ———.]—In Dec., 1899, S., a publican, owed about £3000 to trade creditors ; his trade premises were mtged. to W. & Co., his lessors, & he was insolvent. It was agreed that S. should surrender his lease, that W. & Co. should release the mtge. & should take over the stock-in-trade, being the whole of S.'s assets, for £2800. This sum was the total amount of a list of his debts furnished by S. & stated to be a complete list, & a cheque for £2800 was handed by W. & Co. to S., who, according to the arrangement, immediately indorsed & delivered it to resps., who proceeded to pay all the debts set out in the list furnished by S. This list did not in fact contain all the creditors. The arrangement was entered into honestly & without any fraudulent motive :—Held : (1) the transfer by S. was an act of bkpcy. as necessarily tending to defeat the creditors omitted from the list, & as substituting for the administration of the estate in bkpcy. a different mode of administration ; (2) 1883 Act, s. 49, did not protect the transaction. —Re SHARP, Ex p. GUNDRY & JOHNSTON (1900), 83 L. Sect. 2.—What is an act of bankruptcy: Sub-sects. 1 & 2, A.]

—Re A DISPUTED ADJUDICATION (1861), 3 L. T. 634.

A conveyance for the benefit of a class may be an act of bankruptcy as a fraudulent conveyance under 1914 Act, s. 1 (1) (b), or as a fraudulent preference under s. 1 (1) (c) of that Act.

430. Proof of act of bankruptcy—Admissibility of—Unregistered deed of assignment.]—An unregistered deed of assignment of all debtor's property to trustees for the benefit of creditors is receivable in evidence for the purpose of establishing an act of bkpcy., notwithstanding 1861 Act, s. 194.—Re MEW & THORNE (1861), 5 L. T. 435.

431. —— —— —— Deed unstamped.]—An assignment of the principal part of the assignor's property for the benefit of creditors may be given in evidence as an act of bkpcy., although not registered under 1861 Act & unstamped.—Re WENSLEY, Ex p. WENSLEY (1862), 1 De G. PART II. SECT. 2, SUB-SECT. 2.—A.

440 i. What conveyances, gifts, deliveries or transfers—Agreement amounting to equitable charge.]—A debtor, indebted to a firm of auctioneers, on being pressed for payment, placed his business in their hands for sale, at the same time giving them an order to pay out of the proceeds the sum of £178 14*s.*, the balance due to a creditor on an agreement to mtge. the business, to retain the amount of their own debt, & to pay the balance to debtor. He also verbally instructed the auctioneers to pay an amount due to another creditor. On the sale of the business by the auctioneers the proceeds were applied in paying the amounts under debtor's order, & after deducting commission on the sale they paid the balance to debtor :—Held : the direction to pay the amount due under the agreement to mtge. was not an act of bkpcy.—Re WALTON, OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE IN BANKRUPTCY v. MCKAY BROTHERS (1909), 28 N. 454. —— —— Bill of sale given to protect sister.]—A. carried on very extensive coal & iron works at several different places in the county of Stafford. His dishonoured acceptances exceeded £4000. A list of debts due from A. amounted to £12,000 exclusive of bills running, & £26,000 owing to his bankers at Stourbridge. A. went to London without leaving funds to satisfy the creditors who called during his absence. A. had entered into a bond to G. for £42,500. A. went to M., an attorney at Birmingham, & directed him to prepare a warrant of attorney to confess judgment for £6,000 to his brothers T. & J. & to prepare a bill of sale of his furniture for securing £700 to his sister to whom he was indebted in £550 :—Held : the act moved from bkpt. not by any pressure upon him, & there were circumstances of fraud sufficient to constitute the bill of sale

456. —— Delivery for safe custody.]—The delivery of goods to a person for mere safe custody, & to prevent their being seized by a creditor, is not an act of bkpcy., although the person to whom they are delivered is a creditor.

A "delivery" must give some right of property in the goods to the person to whom they are delivered.—COTTON v. JAMES (1829), Dan. & Ll. 262; 1 Mood. & M. 273; 7 L. J. O. S. K. B. 125.

457. —— Delivery to person to whom no debt due.]—A fraudulent delivery of goods by a trader will be of itself an act of bkpcy. A delivery of goods to one, to whom no debt was due, would be such a fraudulent delivery.—SCOTT v. THOMAS (1834), 6 C. & P. 611.

458. —— Drawing cheques on eve of bankruptcy—To particular creditors.]—S. having made up his mind to suspend payment, drew three cheques on his bankers in favour of three creditors for immediate payment & ordered them to pay no more. There was no pressure exercised by the three creditors:—Held: S. in issuing the cheques had committed an act of bkpcy. capable of supporting a fiat.—Re HUNT, Ex p. SIMPSON (1844), De G. 9; 14 L. J. Bcy. 1; 4 L. T. O. S. 143; 8 Jur. 1150, Ct. of R.

459. —— —— To defeat creditor suing.]—Debtor, on the eve of bkpcy., drew out his balance at his bankers & sent it to K., who was employed by him as accountant. His object in sending the money to K. was to prevent its being attached by a creditor, who had issued a writ against him. K. refused to accept it unless debtor consented to his paying himself out of it. After some discussion, debtor agreed to this, & K. appropriated part of the sum entrusted to him, in satisfaction of his own debt. The evidence did not establish that there had been any previous pressure for payment:—Held: the act of debtor in drawing out the balance from the bankers for the purpose of defeating the creditor who was suing him was in itself an act of bkpcy.—Re LIEBERT, Ex p. HALLIDAY (1873), 8 Ch. App. 283; 28 L. T. 324; 21 W. R. 348, L. JJ.

460. —— Conveyance to protect property from demands of other creditors.]—A., a trader, being in difficulties, & having five executions against him, all his goods were conveyed to deft. by bill of sale from the sheriff, with an understanding that they should remain on A.'s premises to enable him to repurchase them. The jury having found that the object of the transaction was, not merely to relieve A. from a forced sale of his goods, but also to protect them from the demands of other creditors:—Held: the transaction was an act of bkpcy.—GRAHAM v. FURBER (1854), 14 C. 461. —— Assignment by continuing partner—In trust to pay joint creditors—Then debt due to deceased partner's estate — Resulting trust to debtor.]—A. & B. carried on partnership; A. died, & a considerable sum was due from the partnership to his estate. B. continued the trade, with the assent of the exors., but at the end of six months they insisted on payment, or that the business should be wound up, whereupon B. assigned to them his share in all the partnership assets, upon trust to pay the joint creditors, & then the debt due to A's. estate, & the residue to B. Upon B.'s subsequent bkpcy.:—Held: the assignment was not an act of bkpcy.—PAYNE v. HORNBY (1858), 25 Beav. 280; 53 E. R. 643.

463. —— Delivery to warehouseman.]—Eight days before his bkpcy., bkpt. caused his household furniture & stock-in-trade to be removed from his premises to the warehouse of deft., who advanced money on the security of the goods without any knowledge of the state of the trader's affairs:—Held: neither the removal of the goods nor the delivery of them to deft. was, in the absence of anything showing an intention to transfer the property to him, a "fraudulent delivery or transfer," so as to constitute an act of bkpcy. within 1849 Act.—ISITT v. BEESTON (1869), L. R. 4 Exch. 159; 38 L. J. Ex. 89; 20 L. T. 371; 17 W. R. 620.

464. —— Conveyance under pressure — No fraud or intention to prefer.]—R., a trader, under pressure assigned all his property to pltf., a creditor, without fraud & without intention to prefer. R. was at the time insolvent, & was a few days afterwards adjudged a bkpt. on his own petition:—Held: as the assignment could not be avoided as an act of bkpcy., it was not fraudulent & voidable by the assignees without fraud in fact.—JONES v. HARBER (1870), L. R. 6 Q. B. 77; 40 L. J. Q. B. 59; 23 L. T. 606; 19 W. R. 248.

465. —— Bill of sale of all effects—Except stock-in-trade & book debts.]—D., a trader, executed a bill of sale of all his furniture & other effects mentioned in the schedule, which did not include by description D.'s stock-in-trade or his book debts. D. subsequently filed a liquidation petition. The bill of sale was duly registered, & possession was taken of the property by the mtgee. three days before the petition was filed:—Held: the bill of sale was good as against the trustee, as it was not proved that the whole of debtor's property was included in the bill of sale.—Re DUNGATE, Ex p. CHESTER (1874), 1 Ch. D. 293, n.

466. —— Authority to sell security.]—Deft. received from M., a member of a trading firm, a bill of lading for brandy, for the purpose of landing & warehousing it, which he did, entering the brandy (at M.'s request) in his own name & paying charges amounting to £47. Afterwards & whilst he still had the bill of lading in his possession, an acceptance, which had been given by the firm to deft. falling due, & the firm not being able to meet it, deft. consented to take an acceptance at seven days for a balance of account, including the £47, upon receiving M.'s authority to sell the brandy if the bill were not met. The acceptance not being met, deft. sold the brandy. The transaction was bonâ fide, but the brandy formed in fact the whole property of the firm:—Held: although the transaction under which deft. obtained power to sell the brandy might be a "conveyance, gift, delivery, or transfer" within 1869 Act. s. 6 (2), it was not "fraudulent" within the Act.—PHILPS v. HORNSTEDT (1875), 1 Ex. 472 iii. —— —— Exception of book debts.]—Where an assignment of a trader's property must result in the stoppage of his business, & prevent him from paying other creditors, such assignment is an act of bkpcy. Excepting from the assignment of a trader's chattels all the book debts due to him, but still leaving him in possession of the chattels assigned, is not such an exception as to prevent the assignment from being an act of bkpcy.; all the property purporting to be assigned by such a bill of sale passes to the assignees.—Re LILBURNE (1865), 12 L. 472 iv. —— Stock-in-trade—On creation of partnership.]—H., on entering into partnership with B., assigned to B. all his stock-in-trade in consideration of B. accepting a bill drawn by H. upon B. in favour of his (H.'s) bankers, & handed them in part payment of his (H.'s) overdraft with them. H. had at the time other debts & also other assets. The partnership (H., B. & Co.) having been formed, B. assumed control of H.'s stock-in-trade assigned to him, effected sales, & applied the proceeds towards meeting the acceptance given to the bank. Subsequently H.'s old stock-in-trade was assigned to the firm, & an acceptance of the firm, falling due on the same date & for the same amount as that given by B. to the bank, was substituted for this latter with the bank:—Held: the assignment of stock-in-trade to B. not being of the whole of H.'s property, or of the whole with only a colourable & trifling reservation, did not amount to an act of bkpcy.—Re HARPER, BLACK & CO., Mac. 944.—N.Z.

(a) In General.

480. General rule—Transfer or payment in contemplation of bankruptcy.]—A transfer of goods or payment of money in contemplation of bkpcy. is by 6 Geo. 4 (c. 16) an act of bkpcy. because such transactions are direct frauds upon the creditors of bkpt.—FOX v. CHESTER (BISHOP) (1829), 3 Bli. N. S. 123 ; 1 Dow & Cl. 416 ; 6 Bing. 1 ; 4 E. R. 1287, H. L.

481. —— ——.]—Under 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, a transfer of goods in satisfaction of a bonâ fide debt, made voluntarily, & in contemplation of bkpcy., is an act of bkpcy., & not protected by s. 81, though made more than two months before a commission issues.—BEVAN v. NUNN (1832), 9 Bing. 107 ; 2 Moo. & S. 132 ; 1 L. J. C. P. 175 ; 131 E. R. 555.

482. —— ——.]—The delivery of goods by a trader to one, to whom a debt was due, would be fraudulent, if the transfer of the goods was made voluntarily & in contemplation of bkpcy.—SCOTT v. THOMAS (1834), 6 C. & P. 611.

483. —— —— "Contemplation of bankruptcy."]—A., carried on very extensive coal & iron works at several different places in the county of Stafford. His dishonoured acceptances exceeded £4,000. A list of debts due from A. amounted to £12,000 exclusive of bill running, & £26,000 owing to his bankers at Stourbridge. A. went to London without leaving funds to satisfy the creditors who called during his absence. A. had entered into a bond to G. for £42,500. A. went to M., an attorney at Birmingham, & directed him to prepare a warrant of attorney to confess judgment for £6,000 to his brothers T. & J. & to prepare a bill of sale of his furniture for securing £700 to his sister to whom he was indebted in £550 :—Held : the act moved from bkpt., not by any pressure upon him, & there were circumstances of fraud sufficient to constitute the bill of sale an act of bkpcy.

By contemplation of bkpcy. is not meant the expectation of a commission issuing immediately, but that the party knew himself to be in such a state that he must be supposed to have anticipated that bkpcy. would in all human probability follow. —GIBBINS v. PHILLIPPS (1827), 7 B. & C. 529 ; 2 Man. & Ry. 485. —— Property conveyed largely in excess of amount secured.]—Debtor conveyed all his property, worth about £3000, except shares worth £60, to a creditor to secure a debt of £900 :—Held : (1) the conveyance might be an act of bkpcy. as a fraudulent grant ; (2) the conveyance being of property worth three times the amount of the debt which it was given to secure, did not prevent the deed being an act of bkpcy., for, though the grantee would be a trustee as to the amount beyond his own debt, the property could not be taken in execution, & as the common law remedies of the other creditors against their debtor's property would thus be barred, they might consequently be defeated or delayed.—SMITH v. CANNAN (1853), 2 E. & B. 35; 22 L. J. Q. B. 290; 17 Jur. 911; 1 W. R. 338; 118 E. R. 682; sub nom. CANNAN v. SMITH, 1 C. L. R. 179; 21 L. T. O. S. 231, Ex. Ch.

The value of the property mtged. was between £300 & £400. The value of A.'s assets at the time was about £1200, & his debts altogether amounted to £4000. 512. —— —— Assignment of good will, trade fixtures & implements—Exception of small life policies & heavily mortgaged leases.]—R., a retail trader, assigned to a trade creditor, in consideration of a past debt of £174 6*s.* 6*d.* & a money payment of £2 13*s.* 6*d.* the goodwill of his business, which was of very small value, together with the trade fixtures, three horses & cart & van, & also his household furniture. At the date of the assignment R. was the owner, in addition to the property comprised in the assignment, of two life policies which produced £46 6*s.* 3*d.*, & of three leases which were very heavily mtged., two of which the trustee disclaimed:—Held: as the property consisted chiefly in the implements of his trade, the assignment which rendered him incapable of carrying on his trade was in substance an assignment of all his property & void as against his trustee as an act of bkpcy.—Re RAYMENT, Ex p. TRUSTEE (1899), 80 L. 513. Sufficiency of consideration—Security for bond to trustees of son's marriage settlement.]—On July 1, 1831, M. being indebted on bond to the trustees of his son's marriage settlement, assigned, at his son's request, a house & furniture to the trustees, as a security for the bond debt. At the time of the assignment M. was in some pecuniary difficulties arising from the failure of stock transactions & other speculations on which he had been engaged. On Jan. 2, 1832, he stopped payment, & on the 26th a fiat issued, on a debt incurred in 1830, under which he was found a bkpt.:—Held: in the circumstances the assignment was not an act of bkpcy.—BANNATYNE v. LEADER (1841), 10 Sim. 350; 10 L. 514. —— Release of trader's property from charge.]—A trader, being pressed by two creditors, one of whom had a bill of sale on part of his property, & the other creditor an execution on the residue of his goods, applied to deft. to assist him, & in consideration of deft. agreeing to pay off the two creditors, assigned to deft, by a bill of sale, all his estate & effects. Deft. paid off the creditors:—Held: the assignment was not an act of bkpcy., as it was not an assignment in consideration of a past debt only, but an assignment in consideration of the assignee releasing the trader's property from a charge already laid upon it.—WHITMORE v. CLARIDGE (1863), 3 New Rep. 210; 33 L. The jury having found the transaction bonâ fide:—Held: as the creditors at large could have interfered & taken the proceeds of the execution under 24 & 25 Vict. c. 134, s. 73, there was not sufficient equivalent for the assignment to the execution creditor, which was void & an act of bkpcy.—WOODHOUSE v. MURRAY (1868), L. 517. —— New bill of sale granted in substitution for defective one—Sufficient consideration for defective bill.]—Debtor applied for a loan, & agreed to execute a bill of sale of all his personal estate & effects for securing the repayment thereof with interest. The money having been advanced, he executed an instrument, believed to be a good & valid bill of sale. It was afterwards ascertained that the supposed security was invalid, & he thereupon executed a formal bill of sale:—Held: inasmuch as debtor had executed the bill of sale merely as a substitute for another instrument given for good consideration, he had not thereby committed an act of bkpcy.—ANON., Re A DISPUTED ADJUDICATION (1860), 3 L. 518. —— Previous agreement to renew bill of sale.]—An advance of £55 was made to a trader, on the security of bills of sale of all the goods & effects of the trader, which were valued at £600. It was agreed that the bills should be from time to time renewed, so as to render registration unnecessary. The bills were renewed three times. The trader became bkpt.:—Held: the last bills of sale were invalid, as constituting an act of bkpcy.—Re SPARKE, Ex p. COHEN (1871), 7 Ch. App. 20; 41 L. J. Bcy. 17; 25 L. T. 473; 20 W. 520. —— Fresh advance—Agreement to give new bill of sale.]—A trader gave to one of his creditors a bill of sale of all his property to secure an existing debt & a fresh advance. It was verbally agreed that the bill of sale should not be registered, but that the grantor should give a new bill of sale in substitution for the first when required to do so by the grantee. More than two months before the grantor filed his petition, the grantee put a man in possession of the property, but the grantor's name remained on the premises as the ostensible occupier of them :—Held : there having been a sufficient fresh advance when the first bill of sale was given, the substituted bill of sale was good as against the trustee.—Re JACKSON, Ex p. HALL (1877), 4 Ch. 521. —— Giving time by taking bills of exchange of debtor.]—Deft. received from M., a member of a trading firm, a bill of lading for brandy, for the purpose of landing & warehousing it, which he did, entering the brandy, at M.'s request, in his own name & paying charges amounting to £47. Afterwards & whilst he still had the bill of lading in his possession, an acceptance, which had been given by the firm to deft. falling due, & the firm not being able to meet it, deft. consented to take an acceptance at seven days for a balance of account, including the £47, upon receiving M.'s authority to sell the brandy if the bill were not met. This acceptance not being met, deft. sold the brandy. The transaction was bonâ fide, but the brandy formed in fact the whole property of the firm :—Held : the transaction was not "fraudulent" within 1869 Act, because deft.'s consent to give seven days' time to pay the debts due, taking his acceptance at seven days, was an equivalent for the power of sale given to deft.—PHILPS v. HORNSTEDT (1875), 1 Ex. 522. —— Forbearance to levy execution.]—A judgment debtor gave a written undertaking, in the event of the judgment creditor not levying execution for his judgment debt, to execute on demand a bill of sale of substantially the whole of his property. The creditor forbore to levy execution. Ultimately a bill of sale was executed to secure the judgment debt & subsequent advances, no fresh advance being made on the execution of the bill of sale, the deed purporting to be made in pursuance of the undertaking :—Held : the bill of sale was an act of bkpcy., & the forbearance to levy execution was not a sufficient equivalent for it.—Re BAUM, Ex p. COOPER (1878), 10 Ch. 523. —— Forbearance to seize goods under bill of sale.]—The forbearance of the grantee under a bill of sale of the whole of the grantor's property, given for value, to seize the property comprised in it is not, as against the trustee in bkpcy. of the grantor, good consideration for the giving of a new bill of sale in lieu of the first, but the new bill of sale given in such circumstances without any fresh advance to the grantor is an act of bkpcy.—Re CROSS, Ex p. PAYNE (1879), 11 Ch. 530. —— Promise not exigible until creditor "lost confidence."]—Shortly before a trader filed his petition he executed a bill of sale of substantially the whole of his property, to secure the repayment of an advance which had been made to him two months previously. At the time when the advance was made, the borrower agreed to give a bill of sale to secure it ; but the agreement was that the bill of sale was not to be signed until the lender "lost confidence" in the borrower :—Held : this amounted to an agreement to postpone the giving of the bill of sale until the grantor should be on the verge of bkpcy.—Re TUNSTALL, Ex p. BURTON (1879), 13 Ch. 531. —— Promise fulfilled on occasion of further advance.]—A bill of sale founded upon a verbal promise to give security in respect of a guarantee for bkpt.'s benefit made three years previously, & executed voluntarily by bkpt. upon the occasion of a subsequent additional guarantee, is not an act of bkpcy., nor a fraudulent preference within 1849 Act, although bkpt. was at the time confessedly in insolvent circumstances. The principle upon which the ct. proceeds in determining such a question is, whether or not bkpt. has received an immediate benefit as a consideration for the bill of sale.—Re KINDRED, Ex p. KINDRED (1857), 29 L. 532. —— Creditor having equitable charge—Promise to assign legal estate.]—Two traders obtained advances in various sums, &, on the last advance, they signed an agreement that they would, on demand, assign the lease of their premises & their business, stock-in-trade, & book debts to the creditors, with a proviso that if they should repay the sums advanced the agreement should be void, but if they should fail to do so a valuation should be made, & the balance, if any, should be paid to debtors. At the same time the lease was deposited with the same creditors as a security for the due performance of the agreement. Debtors became embarrassed, & the creditors demanded the execution of an assignment in pursuance of the agreement, which was accordingly executed, & the balance of the valuation of the property was paid to debtors. The assignment included substantially the whole of debtors' property, & the creditors took possession of it forthwith :—Held : the agreement became a binding security on demand being made, & constituted a good equitable security, & the assignment was only necessary to pass the legal estate, & was not an act of bkpcy.—Re COOK, Ex p. IZARD (1874), 9 Ch. 533. —— What must be shown—Onus of proof.]—When an assignment comprising the whole of the grantor's property is given on the eve of his bkpcy. to secure a pre-existing debt, & it is attempted to support it by an agreement alleged to have been made at the time when the money was advanced, it is for the ct. to judge from all the surrounding circumstances whether the agreement was a bonâ fide one, or whether the giving of the bill of sale was purposely postponed in order to protect the grantor's credit. The fact that the agreement was to give the bill of sale "if or when required" by the creditor does not of itself necessarily invalidate it. The ct. will require a very clear explanation of the delay in the execution of the bill of sale, & the onus is on the person who sets up the prior agreement to prove, not only its existence, but its bona fides.—Re BARKER, Ex p. KILNER (1879), 13 Ch. 534. —— Evidence of bona fides.]—A trader, who owed his brother £800, applied to him for a further advance, which the brother declined to make without security. Ultimately it was agreed in writing that the brother should advance £150, & that on his doing so debtor should give him a bill of sale of his plant, furniture, & book debts, which comprised substantially his whole property. The brother advanced £50 in Aug., £50 in Sept., & £50 on Oct. 6. On the last-named day, being the expiration of the time allowed by another large creditor, who was known to the brother to be pressing for payment of his debt, debtor gave the brother the bill of sale, which was expressed to be to secure the amount due & any future advances. In the course of Oct. the brother advanced £100 more :—Held : the giving the bill of sale was not an act of bkpcy., as it was given in pursuance of an agreement by which a substantial further advance was obtained, & the circumstances negatived the conclusion that the giving it was purposely postponed till debtor's circumstances were desperate.—Re KING, Ex p. KING (1876), 2 Ch. 550. —— —— Advance to enable debtor to pay wages.]—In Aug. S., a shipbuilder, whose account current with his bankers was overdrawn, offered to give them security upon a ship which he was building. The bankers declined to accept the security then, but said that circumstances might arise to make it desirable that they should have it, & he promised to give it them when they wished it. On Sept. 28 the offer was renewed, but the bankers urged him to sell the ship, & so prevent the necessity of their taking the security. On Oct. 7 S. had an interview with them at the bank, & they told him that they would accept the security, & that he was to lodge the builder's certificate of the ship with their manager. The next day he signed the certificate, & gave it to the bank manager. The certificate described the ship & her engines, & stated that she had been built for the bank manager. At this time she was not launched, but was in an unfinished state in the builder's yard. The engines were not on board, but were lying unfinished in the yard of the firm who were making them for the shipbuilder. On Oct. 9 the shipbuilder had another interview with the bankers, when they told him they could advance him no more money, & did not see how he could go on, to which he assented, but they agreed to advance him £770 to pay his workmen's weekly wages, on the security of an assignment of a debt owing to him from another person, & told him that they could go no further, & that he had better consult his solr. as to his position. On Oct. 10 the manager endeavoured to get himself registered as the owner of the ship, but, as she was not launched, that could not be done, but he placed a man in possession of her, & fixed a notice upon her that she was his property. On Oct. 10 S. paid his workmen & then discharged them, & closed his place of business. On Oct. 12 he filed a liquidation petition :—Held : both the securities given to the bankers were valid as against the trustee in the liquidation, there not being in the transactions anything amounting to either a fraudulent preference or an act of bkpcy.—Re SOFTLEY, Ex p. HODGKIN (1875), L. 551. —— Debtor enabled to carry on business—How far amount of advance to be considered.]—Where debtor on the eve of bkpcy. assigns all his property to a creditor to secure a past debt as well as a fresh advance, the smallness of the fresh advance although not necessarily making the assignment an act of bkpcy., is strong evidence that the advance was made, not to enable debtor to continue his trade, but to secure the past debt.

A trader applied to a creditor who had previously advanced him £600, for a further advance of £100, which was accordingly made on debtor giving a conditional promise that if he did not repay the £100 within ten days, he would make an assignment of all his property to the creditor to secure both the past & fresh advance. Default was made in payment, & the assignment was executed. Shortly afterwards debtor became bkpt., & the property was sold for about £700 :—Held : having regard to the conditional nature of the promise & the smallness of the fresh advance, the assignment was an act of bkpcy. & void against the creditors. —Re ASH, Ex p. FISHER (1872), 7 Ch. 546 i. Sufficiency of consideration—Fair equivalent.]—Held : it was not, under Debtors & Creditors Act, 1876, a fraudulent preference for a debtor to give a security over substantially the whole of his property in the bonâ fide expectation of obtaining assistance from his creditor to enable him to carry on his business, but the giving of such security was an act of bkpcy. unless there were given a present fair equivalent or an agreement, afterwards performed, to make bonâ fide & not merely colourable advances to enable debtor to carry on business.—WHITTAKER v. DENNISTON, 1 N. Only one day was allowed for redemption, & the mtgee. assumed possession immediately :—Held : the execution of the deed constituted an act of bkpcy. by the mtgor., under Irish 1872 Act, s. 21 (2), the payment made by the mtgee. as surety for the past debt not being equivalent to a present advance.—Re UPPINGTON, Ex p. LAMKIN (1876), 10 I. 553. —— —— ——.]—The question whether a further advance to a trader will sustain an assignment to secure it & a previous debt is not simply a question of amount, but a question whether the advance was made to enable the trader to continue business, or merely to enable the creditor to obtain a security.

A firm of traders, one of the partners in which was an infant, in consideration of one of their creditors paying out an execution for about £100, executed an assignment to him of their whole joint & separate property to secure the repayment of the £100, & an existing debt of about £200, on demand. The business was carried on for about three weeks by the firm when the bill of sale holder took possession, & the firm then went into liquidation :—Held : the payment of the execution creditor was not a present advance such as to sustain the assignment.—Re VANE, Ex p. GREENER (1877), 46 L. 555. —— —— ——.]—When a bill of sale of the whole of a trader's property is executed as security for an existing debt & a fresh advance, the true test whether the execution of the deed is an act of bkpcy., is, was the fresh advance made by the lender with the intention of enabling the borrower to continue his business, & had he reasonable grounds for believing that the advance would enable the borrower to do so. If these questions can be answered in the affirmative, the execution of the deed is not an act of bkpcy. The ct. ought not to look at the uncommunicated intention of the borrower, nor at the actual result of the loan. The greatness or smallness of the fresh advance is not alone to be taken as the true test.—Re CHAPMAN, Ex p. JOHNSON (1884), 26 Ch. D. 338; 53 L. J. Ch. 762; 50 L. T. 214; 32 W. R. 693, C. A.

He also gave, by way of collateral security for the promissory note & for any future advances, a letter of lien over his stock-in-trade, etc., & undertook at the time to execute, whenever called upon to do so, an assignment of his business. This undertaking was never carried out. Two years & three months from the date of the loan the insolvent had addressed a letter to the bank enclosing a cheque for R.600, & requesting that it should be placed to the credit of the loan account :—Held : the assignment contemplated by the letter of hypothecation amounted to an act of insolvency within Insolvent Debtors Act, s. 9.—Re SUMMERS, I. 559. —— Exception of book debts—& lease of shop.]—A trader assigned all her stock-in-trade, fixtures, chattels & effects, in or about her place of business, to secure an antecedent debt. The bill of sale included goods subsequently acquired for the purposes of the business, & was expressed to be in consideration of further future advances, but contained no agreement for making such advances. The lease of the shop & the book debts were not included in the bill of sale. Upon the trader's bkpcy. shortly afterwards the excepted property realised about the same amount as that included in the bill of sale :—Held : the lease & book debts formed a substantial exception, & the bill of sale was not void as an act of bkpcy.—Re PRICE, Ex p. BOLLAND (1872), 41 L. 560. —— Excepted property equal to debt secured—Deed not executed in contemplation of bankruptcy.]—A., a soap & alkali manufacturer, being indebted to a banking co., assigned to them, to secure past & future advances, his leasehold property, with all the stock-in-trade, utensils, & effects thereon, & also a policy of insurance, as a security for money advanced or to be advanced. The deed contained a power of sale, & a proviso that the trader should remain in possession until default. The assignment did not include another part of A.'s property equal in amount to the debt covered by the security. In an action by A.'s assignees, to recover part of the property assigned, the jury found that the deed was not executed in contemplation of bkpcy. :—Held : it was a valid deed, & did not amount to an act of bkpcy.—CARR v. BURDISS (1834), 1 Cr. 561. —— About two-thirds of entire property—Remainder insufficient to pay unsecured debts.]—A lace manufacturer being pressed by a creditor, assigned to him by bill of sale four lace machines to secure the then balance of £465, & any future balance that might arise. The value of the machines was about two-thirds of his entire property, & the remaining assets were insufficient to meet his unsecured debts :—Held : the transfer of the machines was not an act of bkpcy., & it was good as against creditors.—HARRIS v. WANKLEN (1856), 5 W. 562. Sufficiency of consideration—Stipulation that no advances made until existing debt reduced.]—Traders having overdrawn their account at the bank, & being hopelessly insolvent, gave to the bankers a bill of sale comprising their whole property to secure the existing debt & future advances, with a stipulation that no further advances were to be made until the debt was reduced to nearly half its original amount :—Held : the bill of sale was an act of bkpcy.—LACON v. LIFFEN (1863), 32 L. 563. —— Further goods to be supplied—Goods not delivered.]—A trader, by a bill of sale dated Apr. 24, 1860, reciting that he was indebted to M. in the sum of £98 for goods already delivered, & that he was desirous of obtaining a further supply to the extent of £82, which M. had declined to furnish without security, assigned to M. all his household furniture, stock-in-trade, & effects for securing the £180 & any further advances which M. might make to him, with a proviso for redemption on payment, & a power to M. to seize & sell if the money should not be paid on demand. No further advance beyond the £98 either in money or goods was made by M. At the time of the execution of the deed, the trader was indebted to several other creditors in sums sufficient to constitute good petitioning creditors' debts :—Held : the execution of the deed was an act of bkpcy.—TOPPING v. KEYSELL (1864), 16 C. 564. —— Promise to make advances—Covenant in mortgage not necessary.]—An assignment of substantially the whole of a mtgor.'s property to secure a previously existing debt & further advances is not an act of bkpcy., if there is a contemporaneous parol agreement on the part of the mtgee. to make further advances to a sufficient amount, & such advances are afterwards in fact made, even though the deed contains no covenant or obligation on the part of the mtgee. to make any further advances.—Re WINSTANLEY, Ex p. SHEEN (1876), 1 Ch. 565. —— Necessity for agreement to make advances—Deed stamped to cover such advances.]—In order that the execution of a bill of sale of substantially the whole of the grantor's property as security for a pre-existing debt & further advances may not be an act of bkpcy., it is necessary that there should be an agreement binding the grantee to make further advances. It is not sufficient that further advances should have been in the contemplation of the parties, the deed being stamped so as to cover them, & further advances having been actually made after the execution of the deed.—Re PARKER, Ex p. DANN (1881), 17 Ch. 564 i. Sufficiency of consideration—Promise to make advances—Covenant in mortgage not necessary.]—A firm executed an assignment, by mtge., of their factory & mill premises & all fixed & movable machinery, then or thereafter to be used on those premises, in order to secure an antecedent debt of nearly £2,000 & further advances, on an account current between the trading firm & the mtgees. The mtgees. did not covenant by the mtge. deed to make any further advances. The accounts showed that more than the sum due at the date of the mtge. had been paid by the firm to the mtgees. on foot of balances subsequent to that date, that there were still sums, amounting in the whole to more than £4,000, due on the security of the mtge., & that these sums were due for advances subsequent to the date of the deed :—Held : the mtge. was not an act of bkpcy.—Re DAWSON TATE & Co. (1868), 16 W. R. 424.—IR.

566. —— —— Whether to enable debtor to carry on business.]—In order that a deed, assigning the whole of a debtor's property as security for an existing debt, may not be fraudulent & an act of bkpcy., on the ground that the assignee agreed to make further advances to the assignor, it is not necessary that the agreement should be technically binding; a bonâ fide promise is sufficient. The question in all such cases is whether the arrangement was made bonâ fide with the view of enabling debtor to continue his business, or whether it was a mere scheme to obtain payment of the existing debt.—Re BERRY, Ex p. WILKINSON (1883), 22 Ch. D. 788; 52 L. J. Ch. 657; 48 L. T. 495; 31 W. R. 649, C. A.

567. —— Release of debt by creditor—Secret agreement to pay other debts.]—A trader in embarrassed circumstances assigned substantially the whole of his property to a single creditor, in consideration, as expressed in the deed, of the release by that creditor of a debt then owing to him by debtor. In fact, the real consideration was the release by the assignee of that debt, & a secret verbal agreement between him & the assignor that he should undertake the payment of the assignor's debts, either the whole of his debts, or, at any rate, his trade debts. The assignee paid out some executions for the assignor, &, shortly after the execution of the deed, he paid an arrear of rent which the assignor owed to his landlord. The business was, after the execution of the deed, carried on by the assignor in his own name, just as it was before, there being nothing to show that he was not the real, as well as the apparent, owner of it, though he was in fact acting under the directions of the assignee:—Held: the deed was void as against the trustee as an act of bkpcy., its necessary effect being to defeat & delay the assignor's creditors in enforcing their ordinary remedies for the recovery of their debts, & there being no means by which they could compel the fulfilment by the assignee of his agreement to pay their debts.—Re SINCLAIR, Ex p. CHAPLIN (1884), 26 Ch. 568. —— Main object further advances.]—A mtgor., who conveys all his property with the main object of securing further advances, does not thereby commit an act of bkpcy., even though the mtge. also secures a past debt due from the mtgor. to the mtgee.—THE THAMES (1890), 63 L. T. 353; 6 Asp. M. L. C. 536.

569. 570. ——In consideration of existing suretyship —& present advance—Debtor remaining in possession of property assigned.]—C. assigned all his estate & effects to H., in consideration of H. having previously become surety for him for £100, & also for a present advance of £55. The deed contained a proviso, permitting C. to retain possession of the property until default by him in paying the £100 when due, & the £55 when required. No default was made up to the time of the bkpcy. of C., & the property was in the possession of C. at the time of the bkpcy. & was sold by the assignees by consent of H., he submitting his right to same to the judgment of the ct.:—Held: the assignment was an act of bkpcy. & the proceeds of sale passed to the assignees of H.—Re COLLINS, Ex p. HARVEY (1854), 1 Bankr. & Ins. 571. —— In consideration of guarantee of composition—One creditor not assenting.]—Traders assigned all their property, in consideration of the assignee guaranteeing the payment of 10*s.* in the pound on the assignor's debts. 572. —— —— Assignment made after default.]—By the terms of a composition deed debtor's creditors were to receive a composition, secured by bills of exchange drawn by debtor on a third party as surety. The bills having been dishonoured, debtor assigned all his effects to the surety, in pursuance of a bonâ fide promise to give security:—Held: the assignment was an act of bkpcy., not being for such an equivalent as to make it not necessarily delay his creditors.—LEAKE v. YOUNG (1856), 5 E. & B. 955; 25 L. 573. —— Present & future—Advance small as compared to security—Transaction bonâ fide.]—A trader, by bill of sale, conveyed all his stock, & all the stock that should during the continuance of the security become his, as a security for money to be advanced. Part of the money was used to pay existing debts:—Held: (1) the transaction must be viewed as if the bill of sale had been drawn as it was intended to be, entirely as a security for fresh advances; (2) the effect of pledging the whole of the trader's property for such advances was not necessarily to delay his creditors, as the advances, even if bearing a small proportion to the value of the property pledged, might be of more advantage to the trader & his creditors than the property itself; (3) the bill of sale being in fact bonâ fide, was not, in point of law, fraudulent, nor an act of bkpcy.—BITTLESTONE v. COOKE (1856), 6 E. & B. 296; 25 L. 575. —— Proceeds applied in paying existing debts—Lender's knowledge of debtor's intention.] —An assignment by a trader of all his property, as security for an advance of money which he afterwards applies in payment of existing debts, is not necessarily fraudulent within Bkpcy. Acts. In order to make such an assignment fraudulent the lender must be aware that the borrower's object was to defeat or delay his creditors. Such an assignment cannot be an act of bkpcy. unless it is also void as being fraudulent.—Re COLEMERE (1865), 1 Ch. App. 128; 35 L. J. Bcy. 8; 13 L. T. 621; 12 Jur. N. S. 38; 14 W. R. 318, L. C.

576. —— Exorbitant terms given.]—An assignment of a person's whole property for a bonâ fide present advance is not an act of bkpcy., though exorbitant interest is charged & stringent conditions imposed.—HARRISON v. COHEN (1875), 32 L. T. 717.

577. —— To raise funds to pay pressing creditors—Assignee being surety for such debts—Assignment used to get rid of suretyship.] —Where C., being in difficulties, in consideration of a sum of £900, gave a bill of sale over all his property to his brother W. to enable him to pay off two pressing creditors, for the payment of whose debts W. was surety, & W. immediately afterwards borrowed from the two creditors the exact sum so paid to them, whereby W. was thus relieved from his liability as surety :—Held : the bill of sale, being for value for the purpose of paying debts, could not be impeached as an act of bkpcy., the ct. not inferring fraud from mere suspicion.—Re MORRIS, Ex p. JAY (1882), 45 L. 578. —— —— Relief enabling debtor to continue business.]—A trader being indebted in £200 agreed with deft. that on deft. paying the debt he would assign by bill of sale all his effects to deft. to secure the £200. A deed of assignment was executed, some months after. The goods were subsequently sold, & the £200 paid to deft. :—Held : the deed was not an act of bkpcy., as the payment of the debt operated as an advance to the trader, & enabled him to carry on his business. —HUTTON v. CRUTTWELL (1852), 1 E. & B. 15; 22 L. Afterwards the co. took out execution upon a judgment confessed by A., & the sheriff seized the goods, & A. became a bkpt. :—Held : (1) A. had not such a possession of the goods as would enable his assignees to take them within 21 Jac. 1, c. 19, s. 11, for the best delivery was given that the nature of the goods would admit of, they being before on the co.'s premises; (2) the bill of sale was no act of bkpcy. in A.—MANTON v. MOORE (1796), 7 Term Rep. 67; 101 E. 590. —— Transactions in ordinary course of business.]—On June 6, 1871, G., a dealer in oil, borrowed £400 of N., his brother-in-law, the money to be repaid in a month. The money not having been repaid when due, N. pressed for it, & ultimately placed the matter in the hands of his solrs., who gave G. till the end of July to pay. On Aug. 1 G. asked N. for further time, & N. said he must have a speedy settlement or he should take proceedings. G. said he would do what he could during the week. On Aug. 5 he went to N., & said he had no money, but that he had some oil, & that if N. could induce a firm of B. & Co., in which he had formerly been a partner, to buy it, he should be paid out of the proceeds. N. went to B. & explained the circumstances to him, & ultimately B. consented to treat with G. G. then went to B., &, in the result, a contract was entered into by B. on behalf of his firm to buy fourteen casks of oil from G. At this time G. had, —A trader being in difficulties transferred his assets to a co. in the bonâ fide hope of thereby benefiting his creditors. His assets were estimated at £2,000 & his debts at £1,000. The consideration for the transfer was an undertaking by the co. to pay his debts & the allotment of ninety-four shares & debentures of the nominal value of £1,000. The debentures could not be enforced until interest was two months overdue, i.e. eight months from their issue or until execution was put in against the co. :—Held : the transfer did not necessarily tend to defeat or delay creditors, was not a fraudulent conveyance within 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (b), & should not be set aside as void against the trustee in bkpcy.—Re HARRIS, Ex p. TRUSTEE (1906), 54 W. 600. —— Arrangement approved by majority of creditors.]—Two debtors trading in partnership, whose liabilities amounted to £20,000 & who were unable to meet their engagements as they fell due, assigned their business as a going concern with the approval of the majority of their creditors to a private co. for £5,000 in fully paid up shares & £20,000 in debentures. By the articles of assocn. of the co. the two debtors were made permanent directors of the co. at fixed salaries & did not vacate office if they became bkpt. The debentures were a floating charge in common form for five years, but became immediately enforceable if the usual events happened. The majority of the creditors accepted debentures as security for their debts. Within three months debtors became bkpt., & the trustee in bkpcy. claimed that the assignment to the co. was void as against him under stat. 13 Eliz. c. 5, & also as an act of bkpcy. under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (b) :—Held : (1) the assignment was not void under the above stat. of Elizabeth ; (2) the assignment was an act of bkpcy. because it naturally tended to defeat & delay any creditors who wished to enforce their ordinary rights against debtors' estate.—Re DAVID & ADLARD, Ex p. WHINNEY, [1914] 2 K. 601. Cash & negotiable bills excepted from transfer—Debtor managing director—Company not taking over liabilities.]—Bkpt., who had been in partnership & traded as G. & Co., after the dissolution continued to trade alone in the same name & incurred large liabilities to trade creditors. On Sept. 19, 1917, a private co. was registered as G. & Co., the signatories to the memo. of association being bkpt. & another. By an agreement dated Sept. 20, 1917, bkpt. sold to the co. all the assets of G. except cash & negotiable bills. The agreement had not been stamped or filed with the registrar of joint stock cos. The capital of the co. was £15,000. By the articles of association the regulations contained in clause 77 of Table A. were not to apply. In Dec., 1917, bkpt. was appointed managing director of the co. at a salary of £1,000 a year for five years from Sept. 20, 1917. The total subscribed capital was £65. The co. did not take over the liabilities of the business which were the liabilities in the bkpcy. Within three months debtor became bkpt. :—Held : the agreement of Sept. 20, 1917, was fraudulent & void as against the trustee in bkpcy. as an act of bkpcy. under 1914 Act, s. 1 (1) (b).—Re GUNSBOURG, Ex p. TRUSTEE (1919), 88 L. Sect. 2.—What is an act of bankruptcy: Sub-sect. 4.

592. Sale below market value — Whether fraudulent question for jury.]—A sale by a trader of his goods at prices considerably below their market value, is not of itself a fraudulent transfer within 1849 Act, s. 67. To render the transaction fraudulent within that Act, the seller must have intended by such sale to defeat or delay his creditors, & the purchaser must have had reason to know that such was the object of the seller.

A trader from time to time, during several months sold his goods to deft. at prices from £40 to £50 per cent. less than he paid for them, & afterwards became bkpt.:—Held: it was properly left to the jury to say whether the dealings between deft. & bkpt. were real sales by bkpt. to deft., each endeavouring to make the best bargain he could for himself, & if so such sales were not an act of bkpcy. as fraudulent transfers.—LEE v. HART (1856), 11 Exch. 880; 25 L. 599. —— Company undertaking to pay debts —Transaction bonâ fide for benefit of creditors.]

609. —— —— At instant of departure.]—Departure from the realm, & the consequential delay of a creditor, is not an act of bkpcy. without proof or necessary inference, of an intention to delay at the instant of departure.—Re PARR, Ex p. OSBORNE (1813), 2 Ves. & B. 177; 1 Rose, 387; 35 E. R. 286.

610. When intent to defeat or delay presumed—Obvious that departure will cause delay.]—If the necessary consequence of a trader's departing the realm is that his creditors must be delayed, he thereby commits an act of bkpcy., since a man is to be considered as foreseeing & meaning to bring about the necessary consequences of his own acts. —RAMSBOTTOM v. LEWIS (1808), 1 Camp. 279.

611. —— ——.]—In determining the intent with which a particular act is done it must be assumed that a man knows the natural & necessary consequences of his act, & where debtor knows that the natural & necessary consequence of his going abroad is to defeat & delay his creditors, he must be held to have done so with that intent, & will be adjudicated a bkpt. accordingly.—Re FINNEY, Ex p. GOATER (1874), 30 L. T. 620; 22 W. R. 935, L. JJ.

612. —— In case of foreigner returning to his own country.]—Although in a case of a domiciled Englishman the fact of his departure to avoid a debtor's summons would be a strong presumption that he intended to defeat or delay his creditors, yet the same presumption does not apply to a foreigner returning to his own country.—Re CRISPIN, Ex p. CRISPIN (1873), 8 Ch. App. 374; 42 L. J. Bcy. 65; 28 L. T. 483; 37 J. P. 391; 21 W. R. 491, L. C. & L. J.

613. —— ——.]—There is no presumption in the case of a foreigner about to leave England after a temporary stay here, as there might be in the case of a domiciled Englishman going abroad, that he is going away with the intention of defeating his creditors.—Re GUTIERREZ, Ex p. GUTIERREZ (1879), 11 Ch. D. 298; 40 L. T. 355; 27 W. R. 497, C. A.

614. —— Debtor absenting himself for three years—Though pursuing ordinary business—Onus of proof.] —Where debtor absents himself from England for three years, & thereby delays his creditors, the intent to delay will be presumed (& the departure be a valid act of bkpcy.), although he may be pursuing his regular course of business, & it will rest upon the party wishing to supersede to negative the intent to delay.—Re WOOD, Ex p. RHODES (1841), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 41; 5 Jur. 580.

615. Admissibility of evidence — Departure & absence continuous acts—Letters from debtor.]—A trader, who had failed to keep an appointment with S. respecting some accounts, on the same morning left England for France, leaving a letter for S. in which, after alluding to his sudden departure, he stated that he should be back in ten days, & in the meantime would make proposals. On the following day he wrote another letter to S. from Calais, stating that the account current between them could be speedily settled, & a month afterwards he wrote a letter from Paris stating that he was under the necessity of remaining in France:—Held: the departing the realm & absence abroad being a continuous act, the letters were admissible in evidence.—RAWSON v. HAIGH (1824), 2 Bing. 99; 9 Moore, C. P. 217; 2 L. J. O. S. C. P. 130; 130 E. R. 242.

616. Sufficiency of evidence—Departure abroad for proper purposes.]—A commission of bkpcy. on residence abroad, where the departure from the realm was for a fair & proper purpose, & not with a view of defrauding creditors, the trade

PART II. SECT. 2, SUB-SECT. 4.

608 i. What must be established—Intent to delay.]—Where the act of bkpcy. relied on is that debtor has departed out of Ireland with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, it is necessary to establish such actual intent. The ct. is not bound to presume such intent merely from the fact that creditors are thereby defeated or delayed.—Re RADCLIFFE, [1916] 2 I. R. 534.—IR.

610 i. When intent to defeat or delay presumed.]—An intention to defraud creditors may be inferred from a purpose to leave Manitoba without showing any consideration for creditors or any desire to pay off the indebtedness, at all events where it does not appear that the intended departure was with the expectation of the more quickly paying off debts.—GREEN v. HAMMOND (1885), 3 Man. L. R. 97.—CAN.

615 i. Admissibility of evidence—Statements of debtor's solicitor.]—H. incurred a debt to B. for board & lodging, & left B.'s hotel without communicating with him. Subsequently S., a solr., called on B.'s solr. & stated that debtor had left for England & would send out money to pay the debt, & afterwards acted as his solr. in the bkpcy. proceedings:—Held: S.'s statement was evidence against H. as being made by his solr. duly authorised, & H. had left the state with intent to defeat & delay his creditors.—Re HILL, Ex p. BURCHMORE (1906), 6 S. R. N. S. W. 162.—AUS.

616 i. Sufficiency of evidence—Departure abroad for proper purposes.]—Although it is an act of insolvency for debtor to depart out of Victoria with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, yet if he determines to go upon a trip to England for a legitimate trade purpose, & before he goes learns that his creditors will probably prevent his going if they know that he is going, & accordingly in his communications with them fails in that candour & open dealing which the indulgence shown to him by them might have entitled them to expect, & goes to England with the intention of returning after his business is completed, he does not make a departure out of Victoria with intent to defeat or delay his creditors within Insolvency Act, 1890 (No. 1102), s. 37 (iii.).—Re CABENA (1895), 21 V. L. R. 290.—AUS.

616 ii. —— Departure with cash to avoid attachment thereof.]—A., a debtor in Bombay, submitted a statement showing that he had a sum of R.11,000 in cash in his hands. Two of his creditors having served him with a summons in an action of debt, A. left Bombay for Bellary taking the sum of R.11,000 with him, in order (as he admitted) to prevent the two creditors from attaching it:—Held: A. had left the jurisdiction of the ct. with intent to defeat & delay his creditors within Indian Insolvency Act, s. 9.—Re ARANVAYAL SABHAPATHY, Ex p. KARAMALLI JOOSUB (1897), I. L. R. 21 Bom. 297.—IND.

616 iii. —— Statements & conduct of debtor's wife—Debtor's return.]—The wife of debtor was heard to swear in other proceedings that her husband had gone to America on account of the pressure of a creditor, & subsequently she endeavoured to effect a settlement of the debt:—Held: although debtor subsequently returned, the act of bkpcy. was complete.—Re KELLEHER, Ex p. KILLARNEY UNION GUARDIANS (1896), 31 I. L. T. 57.—IR.

continued by a partner, & petitioning creditor's debt subsequent, superseded.—Ex p. MUTRIE (1800), 5 Ves. 576; 31 E. R. 746.

617. —— —— Coupled with fear of arrest.]—A trader having business both in England & in Spain, has a right to go to the latter country to look after his concerns, & though his creditors are thereby delayed, it is no act of bkpcy. But if he likewise goes abroad from the fear of arrest, though it concur with the justifiable motive, that of looking after his foreign business, it is an act of bkpcy.—WARNER v. BARBER (1816), Holt, N. P. 175.

618. —— —— & immediate return.]—A petition for adjudication in bkpcy. against two partners, A. & B., alleged, as the act of bkpcy., that they had absented themselves with intent to defeat or delay their creditors. The petition was directed, under 1870 Rules, r. 65, to be heard forthwith. B. had gone only to take his wife & children to Paris, & returned immediately. He appeared when the petition was heard, admitted insolvency, but opposed the adjudication, stating that he wished to present a petition for liquidation & he tendered evidence; but the registrar, on learning that it only related to the circumstances of his going abroad disregarded it as immaterial, & adjudged the partners bkpts.:—Held: the order could not be sustained, for the above rule only applied where debtor was keeping out of the way so that the ordinary course of proceedings could not be taken, & if he appeared, he was entitled to insist on the proceedings being conducted in the ordinary course.—Re BRELAZ, Ex p. LOPEZ (1871), 6 Ch. App. 894; 25 L. T. 403; 19 W. R. 1106, L. JJ.

619. —— Departure to avoid arrest.]—If a trader, whose house of trade is in Ireland comes to England on business & again quits this country to avoid an arrest by a creditor, it is such a departing the realm as to constitute an act of bkpcy.—WILLIAMS v. NUNN (1809), 1 Taunt. 270; 127 E. R. 837.

620. —— Pressure of debts not conclusive.]—Pressure of debts, though strong, is not conclusive evidence of intention to delay a creditor by departure from the realm.—Re PARR, Ex p. OSBORNE (1813), 1 Rose, 387; 2 Ves. & B. 177; 35 E. R. 286.

621. —— Departure to avoid debtor's summons.]—In the case of a domiciled Englishman, the fact of his leaving England after service of a writ, & so escaping a debtor's summons, would afford a strong presumption that he intended to defeat & delay his creditors.—Re CRISPIN, Ex p. CRISPIN (1873), 8 Ch. App. 374; 42 L. J. Bcy. 65; 28 L. T. 483; 37 J. P. 391; 21 W. R. 491, L. C. & L. J.

C. 102, H. L.

622. —— Failure to leave funds in England—Honest intention compatible with trade.]—A trader who leaves England & proceeds to Ireland (where he also carries on trade), with an honest intention, compatible with trade, does not thereby commit an act of bkpcy., although he never returns, & although he leaves no funds in England for the payment of his debts.—WINDHAM v. PATERSON (1815), 1 Stark. 144; 2 Rose, 466.

Annotation:—Mentd. Re Notley, Ex p. Notley (1833), 3 L. J. Bcy. 1.

623. —— —— Some intention on departure of returning.]—A trader, being in debt to several persons, left England in June, 1831, for America with some intention of returning, but did not actually return, nor did he make provision for the payment of all his debts:—Held: the continued absence of bkpt., in the circumstances, amounted to an act of bkpcy.—Re KIRKMAN, Ex p. KIRKMAN (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 450; 3 L. J. Bcy. 81.

624. —— —— Leaving clerk empowered to carry on business.]—If a trader goes abroad, leaving a general power of attorney with his clerk to transact all his business for him, but provides no means of paying bills of exchange which fall due in his absence, he commits an act of bkpcy.—Re BRYANT, Ex p. KILNER (1837), 3 Mont. & A. 722; 2 Deac. 324.

625. —— —— Constantly stating intention to return.]—A trader going abroad for a legitimate purpose remained abroad, & made no provision for payment of his debts, nor sent money for that purpose. In his letters he constantly stated his intention to come home in a month or six weeks, but fixed no definite time:—Held: a remaining abroad with intent to delay his creditors, & an act of bkpcy.—Re COHN, Ex p. COHN (1860), 2 L. T. 90.

626. —— Remaining abroad with intent to delay.]—An English trader having gone abroad, & remained there with the intent to defeat or delay his creditor:—Held: under 1849 Act, s. 67, guilty of a continuing act of bkpcy.—BUNNY v. HART (1857), 11 Moo. P. C. C. 189; 14 E. R. 667, P. C.

627. —— ——.]—A trader's remaining abroad, with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, is, under 1849 Act, s. 67, a continuing act of bkpcy., whether his going abroad was or was not an act of bkpcy.

A trader went abroad with intent to delay his creditors, so that his departure was an act of bkpcy., & remained abroad with the same intent. A petition for adjudication was filed more than twelve months after his leaving England:—Held: as he had, within twelve months before the filing of the petition, been remaining abroad, with intent to delay his creditors, the adjudication was not invalidated by s. 88.—Re BUNNY, Ex p. BUNNY (1857), 1 De G. & J. 309; 26 L. J. Bcy. 83; 29 L. T. O. S. 318; 3 Jur. N. S. 1141; 5 W. R. 838; 44 E. R. 743, L. JJ.

628. —— Letter from trader abroad.]—A letter from a trader, who has gone abroad in the course of his trade, connected with circumstances here, may be sufficient evidence of an act of bkpcy.—Re DOYLE, Ex p. HAGUE (1810), 1 Rose, 150.

629. —— Letters explaining sudden departure postponing settlement—Eventually stating intention to reside abroad.]—A trader, who had failed to keep an appointment with S. respecting some accounts, on the same morning left England for France, leaving a letter for S. in which, after alluding to his sudden departure, he stated that he should be back in ten days, & in the meantime would make proposals. On the following day he wrote another letter to S. from Calais, stating that the account current between them could be speedily settled, & a month afterwards he wrote a letter from Paris stating that he was under the necessity of remaining in France:—Held: the departing the realm & absence abroad being a continuous act, these letters were sufficient to establish an act of bkpcy., by showing the intent with which such trader departed.—RAWSON v. HAIGH (1824), 2 Bing. 99; 9 Moore, C. P. 217; 2 L. J. O. S. C. P. 130; 130 E. R. 242.

Sect. 2.—What is an act of bankruptcy: Subsects. 4 & 5.]

630. —— Announcement of intention never to return.]—If a trader leave the realm for the purposes of trade, but whilst he is absent, announce his intention never to revisit England, he commits an act of bkpcy. by absenting himself.—WINDHAM, ETC. (ASSIGNEES OF FLETCHER) v. PATERSON (1815), 2 Rose, 466; 1 Stark. 144.

Annotation:—Distd. Re Notley, Ex p. Notley (1833), 3 L. J. Bcy. 1.

631. —— Issuing circular during absence that he was in financial difficulties.]—Debtor, having obtained an advance from his bankers, went abroad for business purposes. Six months later his solrs. issued a circular calling a meeting of his creditors, & informing them that he was in financial difficulties. The creditors met & requested debtor to realise his assets abroad. He neglected to reply to their communications, & his solrs. refused to accept service of a writ. His London office was closed:—Held: there was sufficient evidence of intention of remaining out of England to defeat & delay creditors.—Re CAMPBELL, Ex p. CAMPBELL (1887), 4 Morr. 198, D. C.

632. —— Remaining at permanent residence abroad—Conversation with creditor.]—A domiciled Englishman went with his family, to reside in France where he took a house. He was not then being pressed by any creditors in England. For a period of fourteen months he was in England, carrying on the business of a newspaper which he had purchased, & he then had a furnished lodging in London. During that period he retained his house in France, & his wife & family lived in it. During the same period he contracted a debt to a solr. in London. At the end of the fourteen months he discontinued the business, & went back to his residence in France. Subsequently with his family, he occupied for nine months a furnished house in England, his house in France being let furnished; at the end of the nine months he returned to that house. He then continued to reside there, paying occasional visits to England. During one of these visits he accidentally met the solr., who asked him why he had not paid his debt & he answered that his newspaper speculation had left him with a number of claims, & he thought if he kept abroad he should be able to settle them more easily. The solr. presented a bkpcy. petition against debtor, alleging as an act of bkpcy. that he had remained out of England with intent to defeat or delay his creditors:—Held: as debtor was remaining out of England at his own permanent residence abroad, no intent to defeat or delay his creditors could be imputed to him from that circumstance alone, & the conversation with petitioning creditor was not sufficient to prove such an intent.—Re TRENCH, Ex p. BRANDON (1884), 25 Ch. D. 500; 53 L. J. Ch. 576; 50 L. T. 41; sub nom. Re FRENCH, Ex p. BRANDON, 32 W. R. 601, C. A.

633. —— Secret departure from foreign port—Return to debtor's own estate abroad.]—L., whose domicil of origin was English, resided in the Argentine Republic, where he had considerable property. In 1885 on his petition a decree nisi was made dissolving L.'s marriage with M. & an order was made for alimony, but the ct. refused to make the decree absolute until provision had been made for the child of the marriage, costs being given to M. L. was in England about this time & was about to return to the Argentine Republic by a vessel sailing from Southampton, but he did not arrive at Southampton & eventually returned secretly on board a different vessel, in which he shipped at Lisbon. A bkpcy. petition having been presented against L. on the ground that he had left England with intent to defeat & delay his creditors, & that he had stayed away with the same object, & the registrar having made a receiving order:—Held: the mere returning to reside abroad could not be considered to prove an intention to defeat & delay creditors, but the registrar was justified on the evidence in deciding that debtor departed in order to defeat & delay the enforcement of the proceedings against him by the particular creditor, & the order must be upheld.—Re LANGWORTHY, Ex p. LANGWORTHY (1887), 3 T. L. R. 544, C. A.

SUB-SECT. 5.—DEPARTING FROM DWELLING-HOUSE WITH INTENT TO DEFEAT OR DELAY CREDITORS.

634. What must be established—Departure to avoid payment of just debt.]—Absconding to avoid an attachment upon an award for non-delivery of goods pursuant to the award, is not an act of bkpcy., but it must be a departing from the dwelling-house to avoid the payment of a just debt, & not the delivery of goods, for that is a duty only.—LINGOOD v. EADE (1747), 1 Atk. 196; 26 E. R. 127.

Annotation:—Apld. Fowler v. Padget (1798), 7 Term Rep. 509.

635. —— Intent to delay—Not that creditor was actually delayed.]—In order to constitute an act of bkpcy. by a trader in departing from his dwelling-house, it is not alone sufficient that a creditor should be thereby delayed, but the departure must also have been with that intent.—FOWLER v. PADGET (1798), 7 Term Rep. 509; 101 E. 634i. What must be established—Trading.]—Where the act of bkpcy. relied on is that debtor, being a trader, has departed from his dwelling-house, it must be shown that debtor was a trader at the time of the alleged acts.—Re RADCLIFFE, [1916] 2 I. R. 534.—IR.

departed from his dwelling-house in itself announces nothing. He may have gone to bury his wife or his mother, or to a meet of fox hounds. But that which the law holds, & rightly holds, to be the important fact is, that he has departed "with intent to defeat or delay his creditors." If he does it with that intent, it is an act of bkpcy. (BACON, C.J.).—Re SKELTON, Ex p. COATES (1877), 5 Ch. D. 979; 36 L. T. 806; affd. 5 Ch. D. 981, C. A.

639. —— Creditor delayed.]—In order to constitute an act of bkpcy. by departing from a dwelling-house, the creditor must be delayed.—BARNARD v. VAUGHAN (1799), 8 Term Rep. 149; 101 E. R. 1315.

Annotation:—Refd. Robertson v. Liddell (1808), 9 East, 487.

641. —— Debtor absconding—Not that creditor called.]—That a creditor should have called is not required for the act of bkpcy. by absconding.—WYDOWN'S CASE (1807), 14 Ves. 80; 33 E. R. 451.

642. —— Debtor absconding to avoid arrest—Not that writs actually issued.]—Where the act of bkpcy. is the absconding to avoid being arrested, general proof of debtor's so absconding is sufficient, without showing any writs to have actually issued.—WILSON v. NORMAN (1795), 1 Esp. 333.

643. —— Debtor alive & in some other place.]—Where a petitioning creditor alleges as an act of bkpcy. against his debtor that he has absented himself from his dwelling-house with intent to defeat & delay his creditors, the onus is upon the creditor to show that debtor is alive & in some other place; & in a case in which the evidence went to show that debtor was dead at the time when the alleged act of bkpcy. was committed, the Ct. of Appeal, on the application of his exors., annulled the adjudication which had been made against him.—Re STANGER, Ex p. GEISEL (1882), 22 Ch. 645. Existence of intent to delay question for jury.]—Whether a departing the dwelling-house be accompanied with an intent to delay a creditor is a question of fact for a jury to decide upon all the circumstances.—WILLIAMS v. NUNN (1809), 1 Taunt. 270; 127 E. R. 837.

646. —— Debtor leaving message for creditor.]—A trader left a message at his house for a creditor who had in his absence called for a debt, that he could spare no money & would not pay him that day, & would go out of the way & stay till dinner time:—Held: it was for the jury to consider whether he absented himself to delay a creditor.—VINCENT v. PRATER (1812), 4 Taunt. 603; 2 Rose, 275; 128 E. R. 467.

647. —— Change of residence by debtor.]—It is a question for the jury whether a trader's change of residence is a departing from his dwelling-house with intent to delay creditors.—YOUNG v. WRIGHT (1816), 6 Taunt. 540; 2 Marsh. 233; 128 E. R. 1145.

648. —— Object of debtor departing & remaining away uncertain.]—Where a trader whose goods are under seizure quits his home, it is for the jury to say whether he departs with the bonâ fide intention to endeavour to procure the means of removing the execution, or whether, having gone for that purpose, he stays away for the purpose of avoiding his creditors.—BATCHELOR v. VYSE (1834), 4 Moo. & S. 552.

Annotation:—Mentd. Aldred v. Constable (1844), 6 Q. B. 370.

649. Admissibility of evidence—Letters written during absence—Asking for time on bills of exchange.]—A trader, in embarrassed circumstances, absented himself from his house from Feb. 16 till Mar. 9. Upon an issue, whether he had committed an act of bkpcy. on or before Mar. 5, two letters written by him on Jan. 16, preceding, asking for time on two bills of exchange payable by him in Feb., were received in evidence to show the motive of his absence.—SMITH v. CRAMER (1835), 1 Bing. N. C. 585; 1 Hodg. 124; 1 Scott, 541; 4 L. J. C. P. 190; 131 E. R. 1242.

650. —— —— Stating that absence to avoid writs—Declaration & act of bankruptcy need not be contemporaneous.]—A letter written by a trader during his absence from home, stating that he was absent to avoid writs, is admissible evidence of an act of bkpcy., without proof that any such writs were out, or that he was under any pressure from creditors. In order to make the declaration admissible evidence of an act of bkpcy., it is not essential that the declaration & act of bkpcy. should be contemporaneous.—ROUCH v. GREAT WESTERN RY. CO. (1841), 1 Q. B. 51; 2 Ry. & Can. Cas. 505; 4 Per. & Dav. 686; 10 L. J. Q. B. 89; 5 Jur. 821; 113 E. R. 1049.

651. ——To explain conduct—Declaration subsequent to act of bankruptcy.]—P. sent a letter from his dwelling-house to his place of business, stating that he was unable to meet his engagements, & desiring that he might be denied to any creditor who might call. Immediately after dispatching this letter, he left home, & remained absent during the whole of that & the following day. A witness proved that P. called on the day in question at a house & expressed an apprehension of being sent to the Fleet, & stated that he was in no hurry to get home, & would not go very early, as he had creditors who would lay hold of him, & that he did not leave till after dark. The jury were told that if they believed the statements made by the witness, P. on that occasion committed an act of bkpcy.; they said they believed the witness, but they did not think he spoke with bona fides:—Held: P. had committed an act of bkpcy., & evidence of his conduct & conversations on the day subsequent to the date mentioned, was not admissible to explain his conduct on that day.—JOHNSTON v. WOOLF (1835), 2 Scott, 372.

652. Sufficiency of evidence—Departure to avoid writ—Admission on return of purpose of departure.]—H. rode out of town, & returned in the evening, before which a bailiff had been at his shop to arrest him. The next morning he sent for the bailiff, & told him he went out in order to get

653. —— Departure to get creditor to withdraw execution—Not returning after failure.]—A trader at Bath left her dwelling-house & went to London, for the purpose of persuading a creditor to withdraw his execution, & left word of the place to which she had gone, but failing to procure the withdrawing of the execution, did not return to her dwelling-house :—Held : this was no act of bkpcy.—ALDRIDGE v. IRELAND (1784), 3 Doug. K.B. 397 ; 99 E. R. 715.

654. —— Departure on pretext to get money without making attempt to procure same.]—A trader, who is not denied to his creditors calling for money, who sees them, & pretends to go out to get money, but does not return, nor endeavour to get money, making it only a pretext, commits thereby an act of bkpcy.—BIGG v. SPOONER (1798), 2 Esp. 651.

655. —— Sheriff's officer refused admittance after departure.]—In order to constitute an act of bkpcy., by departing from the dwelling-house, it is not sufficient that a sheriff's officer, who comes to levy a fi. fa. on the trader's effects, is refused admittance after the trader has left his house.—BARNARD v. VAUGHAN (1799), 8 Term Rep. 149 ; 101 E. 656. —— Leaving message that he could spare no money—Departure to avoid annoyance by creditors.]—A trader left a message at his house, for a creditor, who had in his absence called for a debt, that he could spare no money, & would not pay him that day, & would go out of the way & stay till dinner time :—Held : (1) this evidence warranted the conclusion, that he did not absent himself to delay a creditor ; (2) so also where he absented himself from his house, where his creditors were, to avoid irritation & harsh language.—VINCENT v. PRATER (1812), 4 Taunt. 603 ; 2 Rose, 275 ; 128 E. R. 467.

657. —— Departure without arranging for carrying on business—On account of domestic dissensions.]—Where a trader departs from his dwelling-house on account of domestic dissensions, if he makes no arrangements for carrying on his business in his absence, & he foresees that as a necessary consequence his establishment must be broken up, & his creditors must be delayed, which events accordingly happen, he thereby commits an act of bkpcy.—HOLROYD v. WHITEHEAD (1814), 3 Camp. 530.

Annotation :—Expld. Windham v. Paterson (1815), 1 Stark. 144, N. P.

658. —— Statement of debtor on return—That he absented himself to avoid writ.]—The declaration of bkpt. on his return that he had absented himself to avoid a writ against him, is sufficient evidence of an act of bkpcy. without any other proof of the existence of the writ, or of the debt on which it was founded, or of the creditors of bkpt.—NEWMAN v. STRETCH (1829), Mood. & M. 338.

Annotation :—Consd. Rouch v. G. W. Ry. Co. (1841), 1 Q. B. 51.

659. —— Departure with resolution not to return except in certain event.]—A., a trader, departed from his dwelling-house in the ordinary course of business, but with a resolution not to return, unless he received a certain favourable communication from a creditor. The favourable communication arrived, & A. returned to his house in the ordinary course of his business :—Held : this was not a departure with intent to delay creditors, so as to constitute an act of bkpcy.—FISHER v. BOUCHER (1830), 10 B. & C. 705 ; 5 Man. & Ry. K. B. 589 ; 8 L. J. O. S. K. B. 306 ; 109 E. R. 612.

660. —— Departure without leaving address—No arrangement for payment of debts.]—A trader, on an execution being put into his house, shut up his shop & went from home for two days, without leaving any directions, in case of creditors calling for the payment of their debts. A creditor called for this purpose during his absence, & was unable to discover where debtor was to be found :—Held : all these circumstances constituted an act of bkpcy.—Re AUSTEN, Ex p. AUSTEN (1837), 2 Deac. 533 ; 7 L. J. Bcy. 1, Ct. of R.

Annotation :—Folld. Re Downing (1855), 26 L. T. O. S. 187.

661. —— —— After procuring goods on credit.]—A woman, who kept a boarding-house in London, ordered large quantities of goods of different tradesmen without having the means of paying them, & after they were delivered secretly left her house & went to live in lodgings at Reading, where she had previously secured a retreat, leaving no notice where she was to be found :—Held : she must be taken to have departed from her dwelling-house with intent to delay her creditors & thereby to have committed an act of bkpcy.—Re BIRCH, Ex p. BIRCH (1842), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 659.

662. —— —— Without leaving any money—Taking furniture & tools with him.]—Debtor, being considerably indebted, left his house without leaving any money, & taking his tools & the greater part of his furniture, without saying why or where he was going, & leaving directions to that effect :—Held : a departing with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, & an act of bkpcy.—HOBSON v. BROWN (1855), 1 Jur. N. S. 920.

660 i. Sufficiency of evidence—Departure without leaving address.]—G., being liable as acceptor on a bill of exchange, absented himself from his residence on the day it became due, but advertised his intention to remove, & went to another residence. He had no account at the bank where the bill was payable. He had his letters directed to the house of his son-in-law, who told inquirers that he did not know where he was. Many efforts were made, but without success to ascertain where he could be found, in order to serve him with writs or notices or to demand payment, but during this time he had been seen nearly every week, going about the streets in his customary way, & his departure from his former residence was for the purpose of change :—Held : the departure of G. from his residence was not an act of insolvency.—Re GORDON (1871), 10 N. S. W. S. C. R. 321.—AUS.

660 ii. —— ——Shop closed.]—A trader went from home, stating that he intended to call on a creditor, to whom he was largely indebted, with a view of settling his account, but did not do so, & in his absence his shop was shut up & an execution put in. The shop remained shut for three or four days, & no directions were left for creditors who might call for payment of their debts :—Held : an act of bkpcy.—Re DOWNING (1855), 26 L. T. O. S. 187.—IR.

660 iii. —— Departure to sleep at friend's house.] — Debtor, wishing to consult his attorney about signing a declaration of insolvency, appointed to meet a creditor's attorney after seeing his own, but, finding him from home, returned home at nine p.m., &, leaving a note for the creditor's attorney, in case he should call, went out with his wife to sleep at a friend's place :—Held : an act of bkpcy.—Re DONOVAN (1866), 11 Ir. Jur. 18.—IR.

663. —— —— Adoption of assumed name.]—Debtor, previous to a judgment against her, adopted an assumed name, & after the judgment removed, leaving no address, nor giving any to her solr. through whom she was being pressed :—Held : she had committed an act of bkpcy.—Re ALDERSON, Ex p. JACKSON, [1895] 1 Q. B. 183 ; 64 L. J. Q. B. 188 ; 1 Mans. 495 ; 15 R. 12.

664. —— Departure to avoid unpleasantness—Of execution.]—Semble : the mere fact of a trader going away from home, because it was unpleasant to remain in his house when an execution was in it, could not of itself be an act of bkpcy.—Re AUSTEN, Ex p. AUSTEN (1837), 2 Deac. 533; 7 L. Annotation :—Refd. Re Downing (1855), 26 L. T. O. S. 187.

665. —— Departure to file his petition.]—The mere departure of a trader from his dwelling-house, for the purpose of going to the district Ct. of Bkpcy. to make himself a bkpt., is not per se an act of bkpcy.—Re LEWIS, Ex p. GREENSLADE (1860), 2 L. T. 611.

666. —— Placing farm in charge of brother—Failure to keep appointment with creditor—Arranging for sale of stock & effects by auction.]—Debtor, a farmer, pressed by his creditors, arranged to sell his stock & furniture by auction. He left his dwelling-house, & placed his farm in charge of his brother, who informed his bankers, who were creditors, that he would forward debtor's letters. Debtor having failed to keep an appointment with his bankers, they presented a petition, alleging that he had departed from his dwelling-house with intent to defeat or delay his creditors :—Held : there was evidence, on which the ct. could find that he had no intention to defeat or delay his creditors.—Re WOOLSTENHOLME, Ex p. FOSTER & Co. (1887), 4 Morr. 258, D. C.

668. —— Keeping out of way—Mere inability to pay insufficient.]—P. had a running account with B. his banker. On receiving part of the balance due to him, instead of a receipt he gave B. a promissory note, which B. assigned to H. H. sued B. on the note & recovered. No proof was made of bkpcy. at the time of the assignment, only that he could not pay it, but never kept out of the way :—Held : that did not amount to an act of bkpcy.—PAKENHAM v. BLAND (1725), Cas. temp. King, 42 ; 25 E. R. 212, L. C.

669. —— Not that actual delay took place.]—A trader's absenting himself from any place, with intent to delay a creditor, is an act of bkpcy. ; & it is immaterial whether a creditor be actually delayed or not.—HALLEN v. HOMER (1823), 1 C. & P. 108.

670. —— Intent to delay.]—Depositions taken before comrs. of bkpt., stating that a trader promised to meet one of his creditors at the office of his solrs., in order to give him security for a debt, but that he did not attend the appointment, but altogether absented himself, are not of themselves sufficient evidence of the commission of an act of bkpcy. under 49 Geo. 3, c. 121, s. 10, as it was not stated that he absented himself with an intent to delay such creditor.—TUCKER & TOLEMAN v. JONES (1824), 2 Bing. 2 ; 2 L. 673. —— Leaving no one to answer inquiries.]—If a trader absents himself from his usual place of business, without leaving any one to answer inquiries, an intention to delay creditors will be presumed, if it be proved that creditors were actually delayed.—Re PAUL (1857), 28 L. T. O. S. 342.

674. —— Shutting up warehouse & counting-house.]—The shutting-up a warehouse & counting-house is an act by which the ct. will presume that creditors may be delayed ; & such an act is an act of bkpcy., although no creditor appears to have been delayed.—Re POOLE & BRYAN, Ex p. Poole (1860), 3 L. 675. Admissibility of evidence—Communications between debtor & attorney.]—A trader, at the suggestion of his attorney, called a meeting of his creditors, to be held at a given time & place, & on the morning of that day went to the attorney's office, & inquired of him whether he could safely attend the meeting without being arrested for debt. The attorney having advised him to remain at the office, until it was ascertained whether the creditors would engage to give him a safe conduct, the trader remained at the office accordingly, for upwards of two hours, to avoid being arrested by some or one of his creditors, until after the attorney had attended at & returned from the meeting :—Held : what passed between the attorney & the trader was admissible in evidence upon an issue whether the latter had committed an act of bkpcy. on that occasion.—BRAMWELL v. LUCAS (1824), 2 B. & C. 745 ; 4 Dow. & Ry. 679. —— —— Public-house used for business.] —A trader who has a settled home, or counting-house, but takes up a temporary abode at a public-house, in the place to which his business carries him, commits an act of bkpcy. by departing from such public-house with intent to delay his creditors.—HOLROYD v. GWYNNE (1809), 2 Taunt. 176; 1 Rose, 113; 127 E. 681. —— —— —— Place of abode.]—A trader does not commit an act of bkpcy. by absenting himself, unless he absents himself from his place of abode, or place of business.—BERNASCONI v. FAREBROTHER (1830), 10 B. & C. 549; 5 Man. & Ry. 682. —— —— —— To procure evidence — To get pecuniary assistance.] — A trader absented himself for three or four days from his place of business, & in his absence a bill of exchange was presented for payment & was dishonoured; & application was also made for payment of other bills. The trader was adjudicated bkpt., the act of bkpcy. being this absence "with intent to delay his creditors." One of the comrs. in the country annulled the bkpcy., the alleged bkpt. swearing that his absence was occasioned by an attempt of his to get up evidence of perjury against one of his workmen & to obtain pecuniary assistance. Pending this dispute as to the adjudication, the trader signed a declaration of insolvency:—Held: the decision of the comr. must be affirmed, on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to support the adjudication, but in the circumstances, the trader must be refused his costs, as his "declaration of insolvency," whilst applying to annul an adjudication, was inconsistent with an honest desire for the equal distribution of his assets.—Re HORTON, Ex p. BARNEY (1862), 4 De G. F. & J. 503; 32 L. J. Bcy. 41; 7 L. T. 488; 9 Jur. N. S. 286, L. C.

683. —— —— Shop—To get bills discounted—Shopman instructed to deny debtors —No evidence of attempt to raise money.]—Two partners in trade left their shop, stating their purpose to be to get some bills discounted, or to get some means to satisfy demands, & told their shopman, if any creditor called, to make some excuse. On the next day the shopman, without further authority, denied them, although at home, to a creditor, who had called on the preceding day, when they were also denied. No evidence of any attempt to get bills discounted was offered:—Held: the jury had rightly considered their intention in leaving the shop to be to delay creditors.—DEFFLE v. DESANGES (1819), 8 Taunt. 671; 129 E. R. 545.

684. —— —— Any place—To avoid creditor.] —If a trader absents himself from any place to avoid a creditor, it is an act of bkpcy.—CURTEIS v. WILLES (1824), 1 C. & P. 211; 4 Dow. & Ry. K. B. 224; Ry. & M. 58.

685. —— —— Room in which meeting creditor.] —A creditor called upon bkpt., by appointment. Bkpt. left the room, & did not return, & his wife told the creditor that he had gone out:—Held: sufficient evidence to warrant the jury in inferring that bkpt. left the house with intent to avoid a creditor.—CHARRINGTON v. BROWN (1826), 11 Moore, C. P. 341; 4 L. J. O. S. C. P. 141.

Annotation:—Refd. Re A Disputed Adjudication (1850), 15 L. T. O. S. 8.

686. —— —— Place of meeting of creditors —Returning after meeting dissolved.]—A trader, having attended a meeting of his creditors, was desired by them to withdraw until they could come to some resolution on the state of his affairs. He accordingly retired into the outer office, where he was unexpectedly served with a copy of a writ. This induced him to send a clerk into the room where his creditors were for his hat, & then he went away, but returned in an hour. His creditors had dispersed by then:—Held: his thus absenting himself from the place of meeting amounted to a clear act of bkpcy.—Re DEAN, Ex p. DEAN (1841), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 127, Ct. of R.

687. —— —— Stand in market-place—Knowledge that claims likely to be made.]—Bkpt. was a corn-merchant, having a stand in a market-place, at which he was in the habit of attending weekly to transact his business. He did not attend on one occasion, & in the absence of a satisfactory account being given for his non-attendance, & it further appearing that he was aware of certain claims likely to be made on him:—Held: his non-attendance amounted to an act of bkpcy.—JOHNSON v. HUNTINGFIELD (LORD) (1850), 14 L. T. O. S. 444.

688. —— Shutting up business premises—Banking house—By sole resident & managing partner—Whether act of bankruptcy by all partners.]—Where one of three partners in a banking concern, who resided at the place where the banking house was, & was the only partner who transacted the business, the other two residing at a distance from the banking house, shut it up & stopped payment :—Held : this was not evidence of a joint act of bkpcy. by all three.—MILLS v. BENNETT (1814), 2 M. & S. 556 ; 2 Rose, 269 ; 105 E. R. 488.

689. —— —— Shop—With intention not to reopen.]—The locking up of a shop by debtor with the intention not to reopen it :—Held : an act of bkpcy.—Re ANDERSON, Ex p. NICHOLSON (1877), 37 L. T. 40.

690. —— —— —— Leaving no address—Married woman trader joining husband.]—A married woman, who was carrying on a business, left her place of business & shut up her shop, leaving no address, & joined her husband. There were trade debts incurred by her remaining undischarged, & there was some evidence that she was attempting to evade service of legal process :—Held : she was absenting herself with intent to defeat or delay her creditors, & the fact that she had gone to join her husband at his request was not sufficient to negative that conclusion.—Re WORSLEY, [1901] 1 K. B. 309 ; 70 L. J. Q. B. 93 ; 84 L. T. 100 ; 8 Mans. 8, C. A.

691. —— —— Warehouse—Leaving no one to answer inquiries—Departure to sell book debts.]—Debtor had promissory notes falling due. He left his warehouse shut up for three days, while he was trying to sell some book debts. His business required his frequent absence from home, & it was his practice to close his warehouse, which was near his dwelling-house, while away :—Held : in the circumstances, having left no one to answer enquiries, he must be taken to have intended the consequences of his conduct, & he had committed an act of bkpcy.—Re M'KEAND, Ex p. M'KEAND (1889), 5 T. L. R. 564 ; 6 Morr. 240, D. C.

692. —— Breaking appointment with creditor—Instructing friend to deny him.]—A newsvendor, who frequented the Royal Exchange for the purpose of collecting intelligence for a newspaper, appointed a creditor to meet him on the Royal Exchange, & afterwards directed a friend, if the creditor inquired there for him, to say he was not there :—Held : this was an "otherwise absenting himself," which constituted an act of bkpcy. within 1 Jac. 1, c. 15, s. 2.—GILLINGHAM v. LAING (1816), 6 Taunt. 532 ; 128 E. R. 1142 ; sub nom. GIMMINGHAM v. LAING, 2 Marsh. 236.

693. —— —— With intent to delay.]—If debtor breaks an appointment with a creditor, with intent to delay him, it is an absenting himself.—BUTCHER v. WROUGHTON (1829), Mont. & M. 438, n.

694. —— —— At creditor's house.]—Semble : a breach of an appointment by a trader to call at his creditor's house to pay a debt is not an act of bkpcy.—LEES v. MARTON (1832), 1 Mood. & R. 210, N. P.

695. —— ——.]—Mere failure to keep an appointment with a creditor is not an act of bkpcy.—KEY v. SHAW (1832), 8 Bing. 320 ; 1 Moo. & S. 462 ; 131 E. R. 417.

Annotation :—Mentd. Richardson v. Pratt (1885), 52 L. T. 614.

696. —— —— On account of absence to procure funds.]—A country trader promised to attend an appointment to pay his creditor. He, however, went to London to procure funds & wrote to the creditor that that would prevent his keeping the appointment :—Held : he had not committed an act of bkpcy. by absenting, there being no intent to delay.—Re LAVENDER, Ex p. LAVENDER (1834), 4 Deac. & Ch. 484 ; 2 Mont. & A. 11.

697. —— —— To attend creditors' meeting—Appointment made by debtor's solicitor.]—When a trader in insolvent circumstances failed to attend a meeting of creditors, which had been convened by his solr. at the place where he carried on business :—Held : in the circumstances, although he might not have personally promised to attend, & although the solr. attended, yet (judging of intention by overt acts) he had committed the act of bkpcy. of absenting himself with intent to delay & defeat his creditors.—Re BEER, Ex p. BEER (1841), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 390 ; 10 L. J. Bcy. 33 ; 5 Jur. 104.

699. —— —— —— —— Made by continuing partner after dissolution—Notice served on debtor.]—A trader, on a dissolution of partnership, left at the place of business a direction that letters were to be addressed to him at a particular post office at a shop. The continuing partner afterwards instructed a solr. to call a meeting of creditors, & the solr. notified this to the retiring partner, who neither sanctioned the meeting nor attended it :—Held : neither of these omissions constituted an act of bkpcy.—Re HOOPER, Ex p. ADDISON (1849), 3 De G. & Sm. 580 ; 18 L. J. Bcy. 13 ; 13 Jur. 601 ; 64 E. R. 615.

700. —— —— Appointments not at debtor's usual place of business.] — Where debtor, upon applications made to him by creditors for payment of their debts, made appointments with 692 i. Sufficiency of evidence—Breaking appointment with creditor—To take up acceptance.]—A trader appointed to call at his creditor's house on a certain day, to arrange to take up the trader's acceptance, falling due on that day. The trader failed to keep the appointment, or pay any money on account of the bill :—Held : not keeping the appointment was an act of bkpcy.—Re O'NEILL (1859), 9 I. Ch. R. 279. —IR.

697 i. —— —— To attend creditors' meeting—Wife attending for debtor.]—A trader who calls a meeting of his creditors & does not attend, & whose shop is shut on the day of meeting, commits an act of bkpcy., although his wife, who conducts his business, attends for him & offers to give the creditors all the information they could require.—Re WEST (1853), 21 L. T. O. S. 24.—IR.

R. 500.

701. —— —— Not excused by illness in family — Subsequent attendance at Bankruptcy Court.]—A trader in insolvent circumstances, with three executions in his house, who neglects to keep an appointment made at half-past nine a.m. with a creditor for the purpose of signing a declaration of insolvency, on the plea that his so attending would be likely to bring premature labour on his wife, but who nevertheless attends at the Ct. of Bkpcy. at eleven o'clock, thereby commits an act of bkpcy.—Re CHREES, Ex p. CHREES (1858), 31 L. T. O. S. 107.

702. —— —— Appointment conditional—On debtor having succeeded in raising money.]—Neglecting to keep an appointment made with a creditor & bring him the bills of a third party, or cash if he could get it, for the purpose of meeting acceptances of the trader falling due in a few days, is not an act of bkpcy., such appointment being conditional merely upon his obtaining the money or bills, & imposing no legal obligation for the trader, if unsuccessful, to keep it.—Re POOLE & BRYAN, Ex p. POOLE (1860), 3 L. T. 59.

703. —— —— —— —— Debtor remaining at place of business.]—Debtor promised to call at an appointed time on a creditor & pay the debt. Having failed to procure the money he did not call, but he was to be found at his own place of business :—Held : the failure to keep the appointment did not constitute an absenting himself with intent to defeat or delay the creditor, & no act of bkpcy. had been committed.—Re STEPHANY, Ex p. MEYER (1871), 7 Ch. App. 188 ; 41 L. J. Bcy. 33 ; 25 L. T. 733 ; 20 W. R. 173, L. JJ.

Annotation :—Refd. Re Alderson, Ex p. Jackson (1894), 15 R. 495.

704. —— ——No intent to delay—Creditors not thereby delayed.]—If a man absent himself from a creditor, or from a promise to meet a creditor, either at the creditor's or his own house, it may be held to be an act of bkpcy., but where debtor promised to attend at the office of an accountant (acting on behalf of the creditors) after a meeting of creditors, & failed to do so, having been harshly treated by the accountant the day before :—Held : debtor's breach of his promise did not delay his creditors for a moment, nor was intended to delay, & was not an act of bkpcy.—Re A DISPUTED ADJUDICATION, Ex p. DRAYSON (1865), 12 L. T. 28.

705. —— Debtor secreting himself in theatre —On seeing creditor.]—Debtor saw his creditor at a theatre & secreted himself under the stage for the purpose of avoiding him :—Held : this was an "otherwise absenting himself" which constituted an act of bkpcy. within 1 Jac. 1, c. 15, s. 2.—GILLINGHAM v. LAING (1816), 6 Taunt. 532 ; 128 E. SUB-SECT. 7.—BEGINNING TO KEEP HOUSE WITH INTENT TO DEFEAT OR DELAY CREDITORS.

706. What must be established—That person denied was creditor—That creditor was in fact denied.]—Though a man with intent to delay his creditors orders himself to be denied, yet unless he be in fact denied to a creditor, it will be no act of bkpcy., & it is necessary to prove that the person denied was a creditor.—JACKMAR v. NIGHTINGALE (1740), Bull. N. P. 40.

707. —— —— Unless debtor believed him to be such.]—If a trader deny himself to a person, who desires that he may be told that a certain bill of exchange, mentioning the parties to it, is dishonoured, & that he wishes to see him in consequence, such denial is an act of bkpcy., without further proof of the party being a creditor, if the jury believe that bkpt. so considered him.—BLEASBY v. CROSSLEY (1825), 2 C. & P. 213.

708. —— Act of keeping house—Intent to delay insufficient.]—A person, who keeps house & declares that he does so to avoid the consequences of a former arrest, commits an act of bkpcy. The intent to defraud his creditors would not make him a bkpt. without the doing of the act, i.e. keeping house.—DICKINSON v. FOORD (1758), Barnes, 160 ; 94 E. R. 856.

Annotation :—Distd. Re Lavender, Ex p. Lavender (1834), 2 Mont. & A. 11.

709. —— —— Not intent with which act done.]—Debtor who keeps house & denies himself to a creditor, though not with the intention of defeating him, but rather with a view of paying his creditors, commits an act of bkpcy., the intent with which the act was done being immaterial.—RICHARDSON v. PRATT (1885), 52 L. T. 614.

710. —— That there was denial—Act not complete until denial.]—Where a trader gave orders to be denied on May 26, but was not in fact denied till the 28th :—Held : there was no act of bkpcy. till the 28th.—HAWKES v. SANDS (1784), 3 Doug. K. B. 429 ; 99 E. R. 732.

Annotation :—Distd. Belcher v. Gummow (1847), 9 Q. B. 873.

711. —— —— With intent to delay—Keeping house with intent to delay insufficient.]—In order to constitute an act of bkpcy. debtor must be denied to a creditor, with intent to defraud or hinder that creditor ; "keeping house" with that intent is not alone sufficient.—GARRET v. MOULE (1794), 5 Term Rep. 575 ; 101 E. R. 322.

712. —— —— Not essential.]—Denial to a creditor is not essential to an act of bkpcy. by beginning to keep house.—BAYLY v. SCHOFIELD (1813), 1 M. & S. 338 ; 2 Rose, 100 ; 105 E. R. 127.

713. —— —— That debtor secreted himself — Instruction to deny insufficient.]—Debtor, in embarrassed circumstances, gave directions that he should be denied to all persons. There was no proof that any person was in fact denied, nor that he secreted himself. The jury found the denial was with intent to delay his creditors :—Semble : this would not be an act of bkpcy.—HARE v. WARING (1838), 3 M. & W. 362 ;

1 Horn & H. 90; 7 L. J. Ex. 118; 150 E. R. 1184.

Annotation :—Mentd. Alsager v. Close (1842), 10 M. & W. 576.

714. —— Intent to delay—No actual delay.]—A beginning to keep house with intent to delay creditors constitutes an act of bkpcy. although no creditor is actually delayed thereby.—LLOYD v. HEATHCOTE (1820), 2 Brod. & Bing. 388; 5 Moore, C. P. 129; 129 E. R. 1017.

715. —— Authority of third party making denial.]—Where debtor is denied by a third party, there must be evidence that the denial was made with debtor's knowledge & consent.—Re CURTIS, Ex p. CURTIS (1893), 9 T. L. R. 387, D. C.

See, also, cases in sub-sects. 4, 5, & 6, ante.

716. Proper direction to jury.]—A trader having been denied to a creditor who called for money, was after a little time seen peeping over his wife's shoulder. Upon another occasion, seeing a creditor coming, he retired behind a partition at the back of his shop, & his wife coming forward, said he was not at home :—Held : a jury were properly directed to consider whether the trader "had kept his house, had wilfully secluded himself, i.e., had withdrawn himself from a part of the house where he was likely to meet a creditor, to a more retired part."—KEY v. SHAW (1832), 8 Bing. 320; 1 Moo. & S. 462.

Annotations :—Refd. Robinson v. Carrington (1833), 1 Mont. & A. 1; Richardson v. Pratt (1885), 52 L. T. 614.

717. Effect of subsequently going at large.]—Keeping house is no act of bkpcy., if the party go afterwards at large.—ANON. (1583), Cro. Eliz. 13; 78 E. R. 279.

718. Admissibility of evidence—Statement by witness that several persons called—Though unable to say whether or not they were creditors.]—When the act of bkpcy. relied on is a denial to creditors, a witness proving that several persons called, whom the witness believed to be creditors, but could not say whether in fact they were so or not, is evidence to go to the jury.—JAMESON v. EAMER (1795), 1 Esp. 381.

719. —— Admission by debtor that he had been denied.]—A trader being arrested on Aug. 23, obtained his liberty upon undertaking to attend to execute a bail-bond, but broke his word; & on Sept. 8, admitted to the bailiff that he was at home, when the bailiff had called & the trader had been denied to him :—Held : the omission to attend to execute the bail-bond did not amount to an act of bkpcy., & the declaration of the trader on the 8th was not admissible.—SCHOOLING v. LEE (1822), 3 Stark. 149.

720. —— ——.]—Debtor after being denied to a creditor, acknowledged in the course of the same day to a third person, that he had given orders for that purpose, adding "I knew that he wanted money, & I would not let him have any" :—Held : this acknowledgment was evidence against debtor to complete the act of bkpcy.—Re PRESCOTT, Ex p. PRESCOTT (1840), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 199; 4 Jur. 852, Ct. of R.

721. Sufficiency of evidence—Lying in concealment.]—The following were acts of bkpcy. under 21 Jac. 1, c. 19 :—(1) lying in concealment by a surety; (2) incurring trade debts & afterwards giving up business & lying in concealment; (3) trading from time to time & giving up the business, leaving the stock-in-trade in another's hands, & still sharing the profits & losses, & incurring debts & lying in concealment; (4) lying in concealment for one hour or one day to delay or defraud creditors.—HEYLOR v. HALL (1622), Palm. 325; 81 E. R. 1105.

Annotation :—Folld. Bailie v. Grant (1832), 9 Bing. 121.

722. —— Withdrawal to more retired part of house—To avoid personal application for money.]—If a trader withdraws from one part of his house where he had before usually sat, & where there was free access to him, to a more retired part of it, to avoid personal applications for money, by means whereof his creditors are prevented from importuning him, this is a beginning to keep house.—DUDLEY v. VAUGHAN (1808), 1 Camp. 271.

723. —— —— On creditor calling on business.]—A country trader was in the habit of coming up occasionally to London, & staying a day or two at a friend's house, where he wrote his letters, & used to order goods to be sent to him there. On a particular day he told his friend not to inform a creditor that he was in town, because he would be bothering him for his money. Shortly afterwards the creditor called at the house upon business, whereupon bkpt. went into a back warehouse to avoid seeing him :—Held : this was a "beginning to keep house" so as to support a commission of bkpcy.—CURTEIS v. WILLES (1824), 1 C. & P. 211; 4 Dow. & Ry. K. B. 224; Ry. & M. 58.

724. —— Going to office—To avoid public arrest.]—A trader being informed, by the attorney of his petitioning creditors, that he had delivered a warrant to arrest him to a sheriff's officer, who was seeking him for the purpose of executing it, was advised by the same attorney to repair to his office, to avoid the publicity of being arrested in the street, which he did, & remained there a considerable time :—Held : he had not committed an act of bkpcy.—MILLS v. ELTON (1816), 3 Price, 142; 146 E. R. 216.

725. —— Closing doors & shutters of bank—Though banker not domiciled there.]—Closing the doors & shutters of a bank is a "beginning to keep house," although the banker be not domiciled at the bank.—CUMMING v. BAILY (1830), 6 Bing. 363; L. & Welsb. 206; 4 Moo. & P. 36; 8 L. 726. —— Abstaining from going where otherwise he would have gone—Through apprehension of arrest.]—If a trader, through apprehension of being arrested, abstain from going to a place, to which, but for such apprehension, he would have gone, such conduct on his part amounts to an act of bkpcy.—ROBSON v. ROLLS (1833), 9 Bing. 648; 2 Moo. & S. 786; 2 L. J. C. P. 80; 131 E. R. 757.

721 i. Sufficiency of evidence—Posting up false notice of absence from house.]—Debtor endeavoured to conceal his presence in his house by posting a notice on the front of the house to the effect that he was away from home, and by other artifices in order to avoid his creditors :—Held : debtor had committed an act of insolvency, by keeping house with intent to defeat or delay his creditors.—HOLDGATE & SON v. SHURMER (1905), 26 N. L. R. 710.—S. AF.

Before the due date A. absconded, & L., on M.'s going to him, procured himself to be denied :—Held : since there was no debt presently due from L. to M., which M. could demand, this was not such a keeping house as to be an act of bkpcy.—Ex p. LEVI (1733), 2 Eq. 743. —— —— —— Creditor demanding payment—Not demanding to see debtor personally.]—If a trader is denied when at home to a creditor, who merely demands payment of a debt, but does not ask to see him personally, this is not evidence of a beginning to keep house so as to constitute an act of bkpcy.—DUDLEY v. VAUGHAN (1808), 1 Camp. 271.

749. —— —— —— Creditor seeking return of goods sold.] — A trader bought goods to be paid for by bill. A few days after the goods had been delivered the seller called & demanded a return of his goods, & at the same time threatened to have the trader arrested for swindling in taking in the goods when he knew he was in insolvent circumstances. He requested to see the trader, who refused to see him :—Held : not sufficient to raise a presumption of a " beginning to keep house with intent to delay a creditor " so as to constitute an act of bkpcy.—CLEMENTS v. M'KIBBEN (1857), 2 H. & N. 62 ; 157 E. 750. —— —— At what time denial—Eleven o'clock at night.] — A person's denying himself to a creditor, who calls at eleven o'clock at night, is no act of bkpcy., for it cannot be said to be done with an intent to defraud his creditors, which is the ingredient required to make a man a bkpt. —Re HALL, Ex p. HALL (1753), 1 Atk. 201 ; 26 E. 753. —— —— —— After shop shut—Shop shut earlier than usual.] — If a trader, who is in the rules of the King's Bench prison, come to his own shop out of the rules, & is there denied to a clerk of a creditor, it appearing by the evidence that the shop was shut up for the evening, but at an earlier hour than usual, it is proper to be left to the jury to say, whether bkpt. had himself denied, to delay his creditor, or whether it was because the clerk called at an unseasonable hour. If the jury find the former, their verdict establishes an act of bkpcy.—HUGHES v. GILLMAN (1825), 2 C. & P. 32 ; 10 Moore, C. P. 480 ; 3 L. J. O. S. C. P. 199.

754. —— —— At what place—Debtor's lodgings or any place where he is known to be.]—A creditor has a right to call on his debtor for his money at debtor's lodgings, or other place where he knows him to be, though it is not his place of business, & a denial to a creditor there is as much an act of bkpcy. as if it were his place of business.—PARK v. PROSSER (1824), 1 C. & P. 176.

755. —— —— Whether purged — By payment on same day as denial.]—A. was denied in the morning by express order to the holder of a bill which was due :—Held : it was a complete act of bkpcy., though he afterwards paid the bill before five o'clock in the same day, & though, by the custom of merchants in London, the payer of a bill had the whole day on which it became due, till five o'clock, to discharge it in.—COLKETT v. FREEMAN (1787), 2 Term Rep. 59 ; 100 E. 761. Under 1869 Act, s. 6—Whether sale must be by sheriff.]—A creditor seized six horses of a contractor in execution on a judgment. The sheriff did not sell, but it was arranged that debtor should himself sell the horses to the creditor for the debt & sheriff's costs, the creditor letting the horses to debtor under an agreement determinable at will on either side. Debtor was in insolvent circumstances at the time of the transaction, & he filed a petition in liquidation a few days afterwards, but not until after the horses had been taken away by the creditor :—Held : this was a seizure & sale within 1869 Act, s. 6 (5).—Re MORTIMER, Ex p. PEARSON (1873), 8 Ch. 762. —— Not act of bankruptcy until both seizure & sale.]—On Nov. 25, the sheriff seized the goods of a trader under a writ of execution for £191, & on Dec. 16, another seizure was made for a debt of £32. On Dec. 30, debtor filed a liquidation petition. At this time the sheriff was still in possession, but no sale had been made. On Jan. 22, a trustee was appointed :—Held : the creditor for the £32 was entitled to proceed to a sale under his execution.

None of the legal rights of a creditor for £32 are taken away. No act of bkpcy. could be committed by reason of the levy under the first writ until there had been both seizure & sale, & no sale has even yet taken place (BACON, C.J.).—Re PEACOCK, Ex p. LOVERING (1874), L. 767. —— —— Interpleader summons issued but no order made thereon.]—On May 20, 1911, the sheriff seized the goods of a judgment debtor under a writ of fi. fa., & on June 9 (the twentieth day after the seizure) took out an interpleader summons which was heard on June 12, when, the third party claim being admitted, an order was made by consent that the sheriff should sell & pay the amount of the claim & his costs of the execution. The sheriff on the next day sold the goods. The judgment debtor having become bkpt., his trustee in bkpcy. claimed the proceeds of sale from the judgment creditors, on the ground that the judgment debtor had committed an act of bkpcy. by reason of the sheriff having been in possession for twenty-one days:—Held: (1) inasmuch as the sheriff had not been ordered to withdraw, & no interpleader issue had been ordered on the interpleader summons, the proviso to 1890 Act, s. 1, had no application, & the enacting part of the sect. remained unimpaired; (2) the act of bkpcy. was committed & the trustee in bkpcy. was entitled to the proceeds of the sale.—MASON v. BOLTON'S LIBRARY, LTD., [1913] 1 K. SUB-SECT. 9.—FILING DECLARATION OF INABILITY TO PAY DEBTS OR PRESENTING BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

768. Filing petition for liquidation by arrangement.]—A trader entered into a contract to deliver goods at a stated time at a specified price. He performed part of the contract, but before the time or times for the performance of the remainder he petitioned under 1849 Act, s. 211 et seq., but no arrangement being effected, he was adjudicated bkpt. on that petition:—Held: the original petition for arrangement created a valid act of bkpcy. under s. 76.—Re LAWFORD, Ex p. HARRISON (1856), 26 L. PART II. SECT. 2, SUB-SECT 9.

a. What is declaration of insolvency.]—The declaration of insolvency mentioned in Irish 1857 Act, s. 96, means merely that the trader is at the time of making it unable to meet his immediate engagements, & has no reference to the possible or probable state of his assets.—Re SMITH & CO. (1859), 8 I. Ch. R. 374.—IR.

b. ——.]—Debtor, a few days before the falling due of a large bill which he owed, informed the trustees of his marriage settlement that he was in a state of insolvency. Being served with a summons & plaint at their suit, he signed a consent for judgment:—Held: an act of bkpcy.—Re DONOVAN (1865), 11 Ir. Jur. 18.—IR.

c. ——.]—A trader, who accompanies one of the trustees of his marriage settlement to obtain advice touching his affairs, & hears the attorney advise the trustee to issue an execution, thereby commits an act of bkpcy.; & the fact of his signing a declaration of insolvency will not be evidence that such was not his original intention.—Re NOLAN (1860), 6 Ir. Jur. 71.—IR.

d. —— Admission of debt—By one of two partners.]—F., a member of the firm of R. F. and Co., wrote to the sister of C. the other member, admitting the firm's insolvency. A few days after, C., in a letter to pltfs., signed in the firm name, acknowledged the inability of the firm to pay the debt due them for which pltfs. were pressing, or their general liabilities in full, whereupon pltfs. procured the issue of a writ of attachment under Insolvent Act, 1875. A petition by F. to set the proceedings aside was dismissed by the county ct. judge. On appeal it was contended that C. could not bind F. by the acknowledgment of insolvency, & pltfs. could not take any advantage of F.'s letter of which they knew nothing at the time of issuing the writ, & which was not directed to them:—Held: the county ct. judge was justified both in directing the writ to issue, & in dismissing F.'s petition to set it aside. —BANK OF NEW BRUNSWICK v. FLAHERTY (1879), 19 N. B. R. 407.—CAN.

e. Imprisonment of debtor.]—When after service of the summons a trader debtor is arrested, & he is in prison at the time of the return of the summons, the creditor must proceed under 20 & 21 Vict., c. 60, s. 104, the imprisonment being a lawful impediment to the attendance of the trader debtor. —Re A TRADER DEBTOR (1869), 3 I. adjudged bkpts. under s. 223. The adjudication was not founded on the petition of a creditor, nor was pltfs'. petition dismissed:—Held: the filing the petition for arrangement was not an act of bkpcy., that petition never having been actually dismissed, & no petition for an adjudication of bkpcy. having been filed within two months, in pursuance of s. 76.—MONK v. SHARP (1857), 2 H. & N. 540; 27 L. 771. Declaration not to be used unless necessary — Discretion to creditors to use.]—Bkpt., at the suggestion of his creditors, tors, signed a declaration of insolvency, upon the alleged understanding "that it should not be made use of or inserted in the Gazette, unless it afterwards became necessary to do so." It was sought to set aside a fiat in bkpcy., on the ground that no act of bkpcy. had been committed, unless signing the declaration were an act of bkpcy., & that the fiat had been taken out in breach of good faith:—Held: in the absence of evidence of bad faith, the discretion as to its insertion rested with the creditors.—Re ROWE, Ex p. ROWE (1839), Mont. & Ch. 334.

772. Contract not to do any act by which assigned goods might become charged or alienated — Filing declaration of insolvency breach of stipulation.]—There is nothing illegal or contrary to the policy of the bkpcy. laws in a stipulation by the assignor on an assignment of goods, under which they are to remain in his possession, not to do any act by means of which the goods assigned might become charged or alienated, or whereby the assignment might become ineffective, or the assignor might be deprived of them, & it is a breach of such stipulation for the assignor, while the goods are in his possession, to file a declaration of insolvency.—HILL v. COWDERY (1856), 1 H. & N. 360; 25 L. SUB-SECT. 10.—FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH DEBTOR'S SUMMONS OR BANKRUPTCY NOTICE.

A. Issue of Summons or Notice.

(a) In General.

774. How request made — Judgment creditor corporation.]—Where the judgment creditor is a corpn., the request for the issue of a bkpcy. notice can be made in the prescribed form by the solr. of the corpn. on its behalf, without authorisation under seal.—Re PARKES, Ex p. PNEUMATIC TYRE CO. (1896), 3 Mans. 95, D. C.

775. From what court issued—Court within whose jurisdiction debtor resides.]—A debtor's summons for a debt exceeding £50 was issued out of a county ct. within the jurisdiction of which debtor's father lived, the creditors being unable to find out his residence. The summons was served upon debtor in London, debtor having, after the summons was issued, stated that he resided at a house in London, to which the goods in respect of which the debt arose had been sent:—Held: as debtor's summons had been issued out of a ct. within the jurisdiction of which debtor did not reside, neglect to comply with it was not an act of bkpcy.—Re PLUMMER, Ex p. BOYLE (1874), 30 L. T. 2, C. A.

776. —— —— Or carries on business—What constitutes residence or carrying on business.]—Held: debtor, who was employed as a clerk in a bank, the office of which was within the district of the London Bkpcy. Ct., was, within 1870 Rules, r. 17, "carrying on business" within the district of that ct., which had jurisdiction to grant a debtor's summons against him.

Debtor's private residence was in one of the suburbs, outside the district of the London Ct.:—Held: he was also "residing" within the district of the London Ct.—Re BOWIE, Ex p. BREULL (1880), 16 Ch. D. 484; 50 L. J. Ch. 384; 43 L. T. 580; 29 W. R. 299, C. A.

777. Effect of issue of notice—On judgment in detinue—Property in chattel abandoned.]—Pltf., who has obtained a judgment in detinue, is deemed to have abandoned his property in the detained chattel if he issues a bkpcy. notice on his judgment & founds a bkpcy. petition on the non-compliance therewith.—Re A DEBTOR (NO. 9 OF 1907), Ex p. PETITIONING CREDITORS (1907), 97 L. (b) In what Circumstances—Whether Execution has been stayed.

778. Interpleader summons pending.]—On July 8, 1887, judgment was recovered against debtor, & execution was issued, under which the sheriff levied on July 11. On July 13, a third party having claimed the goods, an interpleader summons was issued by the sheriff. On the same day, July 13, a bkpcy. notice under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g), was served by the judgment creditor upon debtor, on which a receiving order was subsequently made against him in the county ct.:—Held: at the time when the bkpcy. notice was issued the creditor was not in a position to issue execution.—Re PHILLIPS, Ex p. PHILLIPS (1888), 5 Morr. 40, D. 780. Interpleader order made—Creditor obtaining leave to withdraw.]—Where goods taken in execution under a judgment are claimed by a third party, & an interpleader order is made, under which the sheriff withdraws from possession, execution on the judgment has been stayed, & the judgment creditor cannot issue a bkpcy. notice before the trial of the interpleader issue, & the fact that the execution creditor has obtained leave to withdraw from the interpleader makes no difference.—Re FORD, Ex p. FORD (1886), 18 Q. 781. —— On payment of sum into court—Execution stayed as regards such sum.]—Judgment was recovered against debtor for £446, & execution was issued under which the sheriff levied, but a third party having claimed the goods, an interpleader order was obtained, whereby on payment of £20 into ct. by claimant, the sheriff was directed to withdraw. A bkpcy. notice having been served on debtor :—Held : there had been no stay except as to £20, & the creditor was entitled to issue a bkpcy. notice.—Re BATES, Ex p. LINDSEY (1887), 57 L. 782. Writ of fieri facias issued—No return at issue of notice.]—A judgment creditor had levied execution by writ of fi. fa., but the sheriff had not made a return to the writ of execution at the time of issue of the bkpcy. notice :—Held : the issue of the bkpcy. notice was bad.—Re COCHRANE (undated), cited Mackenzie & Clarke on Bankruptcy, 7th ed., p. 306.

783. Seizure under writ of fieri facias—Subsequent withdrawal at request of creditor.]—Where the sheriff under a writ of fi. fa. seizes only the goods of a stranger, & then by the instructions of the judgment creditor withdraws from possession without making any return, this does not amount to a stay of execution so as to prevent the judgment creditor from serving a bkpcy. notice.—Re DEBTOR, Ex p. SMITH, [1902] 2 K. 784. Garnishee order nisi.]—A garnishee order nisi obtained by a judgment creditor attaching all debts due to the judgment debtor to answer the judgment is not either payment of the debt or an execution, & does not operate as a stay of execution on the judgment so as to preclude the creditor from issuing a bkpcy. notice.—Re H. 785. Garnishee order absolute.]—A judgment creditor cannot serve a bkpcy. notice in respect of the judgment debt, if such debt has been attached by a garnishee order absolute, although the debt in respect of which the garnishee order was made has been paid by the judgment creditor before serving the bkpcy. notice, the garnishee order operating as a stay of execution upon the judgment until it is discharged by an order of the ct.—Re CONNAN, Ex p. HYDE (1888), 20 Q. 786. —— Nothing paid under order.]—A judgment creditor obtained a garnishee order absolute, whereby it was ordered that the garnishees should pay to the judgment creditor the amount of the judgment debt out of a debt due from them to the judgment debtor. Nothing was in fact paid under the order :—Held : execution on the judgment was not thereby stayed, but a bkpcy. notice might properly issue, notwithstanding the garnishee order.—Re RENISON, Ex p. GREAVES, [1913] 2 K. 807. Judgment against firm—Retired partner not served.]—A partnership consisting of several members was dissolved as to one of them on Dec. 17, & the business was thenceforth continued by the others under the old firm name, & at the old place of business. On Dec. 18 a creditor of the old partnership, who was ignorant of the dissolution, commenced an action against the partners, suing them in the firm name, in respect of a debt contracted before the dissolution. On Dec. 21 the writ was served personally on one of the continuing partners. The retired partner was not served in any way. No appearance was entered to the writ, & on Dec. 29 pltf. signed judgment by default. Execution was issued, but the sheriff found no goods of the partnership upon which to levy. No application was made under R.S.C. 1857 Ord. 42, r. 8, for leave to issue execution against the retired partner. In the following May, the retired partner having had no previous notice of the action, pltf. served him with particulars of demand of the judgment debt, &; he not having paid it, pltf. served him with a debtor's summons founded on the judgment debt. He denied the debt, & applied to the Bkpcy. 837. Dishonoured bill of exchange—Formal proof not necessary.]—When a debtor's summons is sued out upon a dishonoured bill of exchange, it is not necessary to prove the debt with all formalities as at common law. The debt will be sufficiently proved if all the requirements of 1869 Act, & of the rules thereunder, have been properly & distinctly complied with, & it appears that debtor has not been misled by them.—Re DEBTOR'S SUMMONS, Ex p. LOWENTHAL (1874), 29 L. A creditor, who had accepted a bill of exchange for the amount of his judgment debt, which was dishonoured but was outstanding in the hands of a third party, issued a bkpcy. notice upon the judgment under the 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g):—Held: this was not a debt on which a bkpcy. notice could be served.—Re A DEBTOR, Ex p. THE DEBTOR, [1908] 1 K. In the margin of the notice particulars of the amount claimed were given, namely, debt so much, interest at 4 per cent. to date so much. Objection was taken that this notice was bad, as it claimed interest in full without allowing for income tax which could or ought to have been deducted by debtor:—Held: a judgment debt, though by law carrying interest from the date of the judgment, was not a transaction to which the language of the Income Tax Acts relating to "yearly interest of money" applied, & the notice was valid & the receiving order based upon it rightly made.—Re COOPER, [1911] 2 K. n. Fee on warrant of distress included.]—A petition for sequestration showed that resp. owed petitioners £51 14*s.* 4*d.* in respect of orders made by a ct. of petty sessions. The debt due to each petitioner was a sum of less than £50, & the debt due to one of the petitioners was stated as being the sum of £19 12*s.* & "5*s.* fees on warrant of distress." Resp. objected that the inclusion of the "5*s.* fees on warrant of distress," not being a sum recoverable as a debt, vitiated debtor's summons:—Held: the objection was sustainable.—Re WILLIAMS, Ex p. ENGLEFIELD, [1919] V. 843 i. Balance remaining due—Part of judgment debt paid.]—When a judgment has been obtained against a debtor, & he has afterwards paid part of the amount due a subsequent demand upon him for the whole amount of the judgment debt is not a good demand to satisfy the judgment so as to constitute an act of insolvency within Insolvency Act, 1890, s. 37 (viii.).—HAMILTON v. WARNE (1907), 4 C. 846. —— —— Whether agreement giving time waiver of judgment.]—A co. obtained a judgment against debtor, who paid £200 under the judgment. The balance remaining unpaid, the co. instituted bkpcy. proceedings, & thereupon an agreement was arrived at, under which debtor paid a further sum, & agreed to pay the balance with interest, at a specified date. The balance of debt was not paid on the specified date, & further time was given by the co. A further sum was paid on account of the balance of debt & interest, & in consideration thereof the time for payment was further extended. The balance remained unpaid, & a fresh bkpcy. notice for the amount of the balance of debt together with interest at 4 per cent. was issued : —Held : the co. by the agreement had not waived their judgment, but had merely postponed their recourse to it, &, on debtor's default in payment of the balance due, their rights revived & they were entitled to issue a bkpcy. notice for the balance of the judgment debt.—Re VOGEL, Ex p. ANGLO-EASTERN CONTRACT CO. (1913), 109 L. T. 325.

847. —— Part paid into court.]—A bkpcy. notice can only be issued for the amount for which execution can be levied, & payment by debtor into the county ct. of part of a judgment debt, although the payment is repudiated by the creditor, operates as a stay of execution pro tanto, & a bkpcy. notice issued for the full amount of the judgment debt is bad.—Re MILLER, Ex p. FURNITURE & FINE ARTS DEPOSITORIES, LTD., [1912] 3 K. 848. Agreed assignment of securities not completed.]—An action by P. against debtor was referred for trial to an official referee, & at the time the order referring the action was made it was agreed that certain securities should be assigned to P. On June 18, 1891, the official referee ordered judgment to be entered for P. for about £12,000, & on July 31, judgment was signed in pursuance thereof. On July 22 debtor had executed an assignment of the securities, but the deed was never executed by two other parties who were necessary parties as to some of the securities. In Aug. a bkpcy. notice was issued in respect of the whole judgment debt, & a petition in bkpcy. presented, founded upon non-compliance with that notice, & a receiving order was afterwards made. Debtor contended that the bkpcy. notice, upon which the petition was founded, was bad, because it was issued in respect of the whole judgment debt, & the whole or part of the debt would be satisfied by the securities which had been assigned to the creditor before the issue of the notice :—Held : (1) where the assignment of the securities had not been completed, no part of the judgment debt had been satisfied or paid before the issue of the bkpcy. notice, & the notice was good ; (2) the bkpcy. notice would have been bad, if the assignment of the securities had been completed before its issue.—Re RAYMOND, Ex p. RAYMOND (1892), 9 Morr. 108, n., C. 849. Judgment for sum & costs—Notice for sum without costs.]—Where a creditor has obtained final judgment for a certain sum & costs to be taxed, a bkpcy. notice served on debtor is not invalid because it is issued in respect of the sum for which judgment was obtained without mentioning the costs, inasmuch as a separate writ of execution can, under R. S. C., Ord. 42, r. 18, be issued for the recovery of the sum apart from the costs.—Re G. J., Ex p. G. J., [1905] 2 K. B. 678 ; 74 L. J. K. B. 932 ; 93 L. T. 193 ; 12 Mans. 354 ; *sub nom. On application to set the judgment aside, the master ordered the judgment to stand good for £150 & gave leave to defend as to the balance :—Held : the creditor was entitled to issue a bkpcy. notice for the sum of £150 as due under a final judgment for £746, reduced by the master's order to judgment for £150.—Re MOSENTHAL, Ex p. MARX (1910), 54 Sol. 851. Nothing was in fact paid under the order :—Held : the bkpcy. notice might properly be issued for the full amount of the judgment debt, & the judgment creditor was not bound to give credit for the value of the security (if any) afforded by the garnishee order.—Re RENISON, Ex p. GREAVES, [1913] 2 K. B. Form of Summons or Notice.

852. Whether prescribed form essential.]—A debtor's summons was not in the form required by 1849 Act, s. 78, & sched. G. :—Held : the summons was bad, & there was a form in the Act which ought to have been followed.—ANON. (1849), 14 L. T. O. S. 275.

852 i. Whether prescribed form essential.]—In proceeding by a debtor's summons, the form of the summons & the affidavit in support, as prescribed by the rules, should be strictly followed.

The indorsement on the summons stated the amount due to be £10,000 for money had & received by the debtor for the use of the creditor between Oct. 20, 1900, & Oct. 19, 1906, but the affidavit in support omitted to state that an account of the particulars had been given to debtor, & payment had been demanded :—Held : the proceedings were not in compliance with the rules.—Re MOORE, [1907] 2 I. 852 ii. ——.]—The particulars of demand & request for payment which are essential to the validity of a debtor's summons need not be in the prescribed form. It is sufficient compliance if particulars as to the nature of the debt & the amount thereof, coupled with a request for payment, have been given to debtor.—C.'S CASE cited (1908) 42 I. L. at which debtor can pay him, or secure or compound for the debt. The address must be that of a place at which the creditor is to be found during the seven days limited by the notice, whether the address is of the creditor's residence or of his place of business.

If the address stated in the notice is such an one at the date of the service, the occasional absence of the creditor from the place, even for a whole day, will not render the notice inefficient, unless the absence is such as to deprive debtor of a reasonable opportunity of paying or securing or compounding for the debt according to the terms of the notice. Nor would it make any difference that the address was the temporary home of the creditor, who had no permanent home, or that his absence occurred on the last day of the seven. But if the creditor, after the service of the notice, abandons his place of address, so that it ceases to be a place where at reasonable times he, or some authorised agent on his behalf, can be found to receive payment of the debt, or to deal with the question of security or composition, the bkpcy. notice will cease to be efficient.—Re BEAUCHAMP, Ex p. BEAUCHAMP, [1904] 1 K. 870. "In accordance with terms of judgment"—Decree in favour of plaintiff—Notice to pay plaintiff's solicitor.]—In an action instituted in the Probate Division of the High Ct. for the purpose of establishing a will a decree was made in favour of pltf. with costs, & an order was afterwards drawn up by which it was ordered that deft. should within seven days pay to A., the solr., for pltf., the sum of £113 being the amount of pltf.'s costs. A bkpcy. notice was subsequently issued by pltf. against debtor upon which a receiving order was made in the county ct.:—Held: the bkpcy. notice not being issued according to the terms of the judgment did not comply with 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g), & the receiving order must be set aside.—Re ARKELL, Ex p. ARKELL (1889), 61 L. 871. —— Judgment for "H. & others"—Notice by "H. & others (trustee, etc.)."]—The ct. will set aside a bkpcy. notice which varies from the form of the judgment in such a way as to be liable to cause confusion to debtor, or does not clearly inform him who is the creditor whom he is required to pay.

A writ in an action was issued in the names of H. & several other named pltfs. The statement of claim alleged that pltfs. were trustees of a certain hospital. Judgment was signed by pltfs., who were described in the judgment as "H. & others." A bkpcy. notice was issued by pltfs., calling upon defts. to pay the amount due on the judgment to "H. & others (trustees of St. John's Hospital, Northampton), of the Convalescent Home, Weston Favell, in the county of Northampton":—Held: the bkpcy. notice was not in accordance with the terms of the judgment, & ought to be set aside.—Re HOWES, Ex p. HUGHES, [1892] 2 Q. 872. —— Notice requiring payment in terms of collateral agreement.]—An agreement was entered into between the creditor & debtor for the stay of certain litigation between them, on the terms that debtor should pay to the creditor an agreed sum by five instalments & should consent to judgment being signed against him for that sum. There was no provision in the agreement that the whole debt should become payable on default in payment of any of the instalments, & there was no provision for successive executions on the judgment. Default was made in payment of three instalments, & the creditor issued a bkpcy. notice claiming payment of the amount due in respect of the three overdue instalments, after giving credit for an amount attached under a garnishee order nisi, proceedings under which were still pending, the amount so arrived at being described as the debt due under the judgment:—Held: the bkpcy. notice did not require payment in accordance with the terms of the judgment, but in accordance with the terms of the judgment as modified by a collateral agreement, & was bad.

Non-compliance with a bkpcy. notice is not an act of bkpcy. so long as the terms of the judgment on which it is founded are controlled by an outside agreement between the judgment debtor & creditor (STIRLING, L.J.).—Re H. 873. —— Judgment for sum & costs to be taxed—Notice for sum without costs.]—A creditor recovered judgment against his debtor for £1,500 & costs to be taxed. Before the costs were taxed the creditor served on debtor a bkpcy. notice requiring him to pay the £1,500 judgment debt. The notice not having been complied with, the creditor, after the costs had been taxed, presented a bkpcy. petition in which he alleged that debtor was indebted to him in the sum of £1,513 3*s.* 8*d.*, the amount due on the final judgment, being as to £1,500 money lent & as to £13 3*s.* 8*d.* the costs of the judgment:—Held: having regard to the fact that under R. S. C. Ord. 42, r. 18, the creditor had a right to issue execution for the £1,500, independently of the costs, the bkpcy. notice was a valid notice, as it required debtor to pay the judgment in accordance with the terms of the judgment.—Re G. 874. —— Judgment in trading capacity—Notice to pay to individuals at their private addresses.]—A bkpcy. notice headed "ex p. P. & S. trading as H. Brick Co." required debtor to pay to P., of etc., & S., of etc. giving their private addresses, £50 odd, the balance due on a final judgment obtained by them against debtor, unless (among other alternatives) he satisfied the ct. that he had a counter-claim, set-off, or cross-demand against "P. & S. trading as H. Brick Co." which equalled or exceeded the sum claimed by them & which could not have been set up in the action. The judgment was obtained by the creditors in their trading capacity:—Held: the notice was calculated to embarrass debtor, inasmuch as it did not follow the terms of the judgment, & ought to be set aside. Semble: where judgment has been obtained for a partnership debt by two persons trading as a firm, a proper form of bkpcy. notice would be "Pay to A. & B. trading as etc. or to either of them" (KENNEDY, L.J.).—Re A JUDGMENT DEBTOR (No. 530 of 1908), [1908] 2 K. C. Service of Summons or Notice.

882. Service out of jurisdiction.] — An Irish creditor had recovered judgment in England against an Irish debtor, whose residence was in Ireland, but who, being Judge Advocate-General, attended at an office in Westminster, & being also a member of Parliament, spent part of his time in London, staying at an hotel. The creditor took out a debtor's summons in England, on an affidavit that debtor was resident at the office. He was at that time at his house in Dublin, & the creditor obtained from the registrar an order to serve the summons in Dublin. Debtor did not comply with it, but gave notice of motion to discharge the order of service, which was refused with costs. The creditor then petitioned for adjudication, & debtor was adjudged bkpt. On appeal from the order of adjudication:—Held: (1) a debtor's summons could not be served out of the jurisdiction; (2) debtor was not estopped from disputing the jurisdiction to order service abroad.—Re O'LOGHLEN, Ex p. O'LOGHLEN (1871), 6 Ch. 885. How served—Whether service of original summons essential.]—The original summons to a trader debtor need not be served on him; it is sufficient if it is shown.—ANON. (1849), 14 L. T. O. S. 109.

886. —— Order to deliver to "some adult inmate."]—An order was made that a bkpcy. notice issued against debtor should be deemed to have been duly served on him by delivery of such notice to "some adult inmate" at debtor's usual residence. The bkpcy. notice was delivered to a servant girl in the employ of debtor at his residence, whose age was thirteen years & five months. A receiving order having been made against debtor upon a petition, which alleged as the act of bkpcy. the non-compliance of debtor with the requirements of the bkpcy. notice:—Held: the case must go back to the county ct. to be reheard, & the receiving order rescinded.—Re EVANCE, Ex p. EVANCE (1893), 10 MORR. 146, D. 887. On whom served—Receiver or manager in partnership winding up.]—Service of a bkpcy. notice on a receiver & manager, appointed by the ct. in an action for the winding-up of a partnership business, is not service on a person having the control or management of the partnership business within 1890 Rules, r. 260.—Re FLOWERS & Co., [1897] 1 Q. 882 i. Service out of jurisdiction.]—A petition was presented against a debtor resident at Perth, West Australia, & described in the petition as "late of Sydney, but at present of Perth." The alleged act of bkpcy. was non-compliance with a bkpcy. notice served on W., debtor's attorney, in New South Wales, under an order granting leave to effect service out of the jurisdiction & substituted service on W. No objection was taken that the ct. had no power to order service of the notice out of the jurisdiction:—Held: there was, from the statutory affidavit verifying the petition & the order granting leave to serve the bkpcy. notice out of the jurisdiction, sufficient evidence of domicil in New South Wales, & the order sequestrating the estate of debtor was rightly made.—Re KERLE, Ex p. SIMPSON (1898), 19 N. 889. —— What court has jurisdiction to order.]—The jurisdiction to make an order for substituted service of a debtor's summons lies with the ct. of the district in which debtor happens to be, & in a case where debtor had absconded from his usual place of abode, within a particular district, & gone no one knew whither :—Held : the county ct. of that district had jurisdiction to make an order for substituted service against debtor under 1870 Rules, r. 61.—Re HOLDSWORTH, Ex p. NORTH KENT BANK (1878), 9 Ch. Service of second notice — Whether fresh particulars must be filed.]—Where a trader-debtor's summons is dismissed for informality, the summoning creditor cannot make use of the particulars of demand already filed, in order to support another summons ; he must file fresh particulars, & serve a fresh notice requiring payment.—ANON. (1867), 15 W. R. 882.

891. —— —— Effect of omission to serve fresh particulars.]—A trader-debtor's summons was issued & duly served with particulars of demand. This summons was dismissed on the ground that debtor was a non-trader, & as such entitled to three weeks' notice instead of seven days. A second debtor's summons was then issued & served without the particulars of demand. The sum claimed on the second summons was different from that claimed on the first, as one item demanded in the particulars served with the first summons had been paid in the interval :—Held : as debtor had been served with the particulars with the first summons, & thus knew the particulars of the claim against him, the omission to serve particulars with the second summons did not render it invalid.—Re JAVAL, Ex p. JAVAL (1876), 34 L. D. Amendment of Summons or Notice.

893. Limits of jurisdiction to amend — Error in amount.]—The power to amend a bkpcy. notice is limited to the amendment of formal defects, & it is a question of degree in all cases what is a formal defect which can be amended at the hearing, & what is a substantial defect which cannot.

On Mar. 23, a bkpcy. notice was issued for £219 3*s.* 3*d.*, the amount of a judgment debt ; prior to that date the debt had been reduced by payments to £200. On Mar. 27 an order was made on a sheriff's interpleader, the effect of which was to stay execution as to a further sum of £45. The bkpcy. notice was served on Mar. 28. At the hearing the registrar amended the notice by substituting £155 for the £219 3*s.* 3*d.*, the amount mentioned in the notice, & ordered the notice as amended to be re-served, & no petition to be presented for seven days :—Held : the mistake in the bkpcy. notice was not merely formal, & the amendment ought not to have been made.—Re MILLER, Ex p. NUGENT (1893), 69 L. A bkpcy. notice in the usual form & following the judgment was then addressed to W. Brothers, & served personally on each of the late partners The judgment creditor presented a petition against one partner alone :—Held : even if the bkpcy. notice was technically defective, yet in the circumstances the defect was one that had not caused debtor any " substantial injustice," & was capable of amendment.—Re WENHAM, Ex p. BATTAMS, [1900] 2 Q. Figures were given in the margin of the notice showing how the sum claimed was arrived at. The amount of the debt was stated, as also the amount of the interest thereon, & certain credits were allowed. There was a mistake in the calculation of the interest, & consequently the notice required payment of £1 5*s.* 6*d.* in excess of what was actually due :—Held : inasmuch as the bkpcy. notice claimed a sum which never was in fact due, the mis-statement of the amount due was a substantial defect, & was not a mere formal defect or irregularity which could be amended

901. On what grounds—Action commenced by debtor.]—The mere fact that a debtor has commenced an action against a creditor, in respect of matters arising out of the same transaction, is no reason why the proceedings of the creditor under a debtor's summons issued against debtor should be stayed.—Re KAIN, Ex p. ELLIS (1871), 6 Ch. 904. On what conditions—Order for debtor to give security for debt—Discretion of court.]—It is within the discretion of the ct. to issue, or, refuse to issue, an order for a trader to enter into a bond for an alleged debt due from him under 1849 Act, s. 79. Semble : the ct. will not direct such bond to be given, where the alleged debt arises out of the result of speculative transactions.—Re WOOD, Ex p. WOOD (1854), 4 De G. 905. —— —— ——.]—An action was brought by an indorsee against the acceptor of a bill of exchange, & deft. obtained leave to defend the action, on the ground that he had accepted the bill as agent, & not as principal. The alleged debtor was then served with a trader-debtor's summons, under 1849 Act, s. 78, & desiring to contest the claim, was ordered by the comr. to give security by bond, with two sureties :—Held : the comr. had exercised a proper discretion with which the ct. would not interfere.—Re RUCK, Ex p. RUCK (1863), 8 L. See, also, cases in Sect. 2, sub-sect. 10, F., post.

901 i. On what grounds—Petition of arrangement filed.]—Filing a petition for arrangement will not stop proceedings under a trader debtor's summons, which was issued before the petition for arrangement was filed. In such cases the trader must, on the return of the summons, say whether he admits or denies the debt.—Re A TRADER DEBTOR SUMMONS (1869), 3 I. L. T. Jo. 102.—IR.

901 ii. —— Suit in Chancery pending.]—M. filed a bill in the Ct. of Ch. against C. for specific performance of an agreement. Subsequently, & during the pendency of that suit, C. issued a debtor's summons against M. in respect of a sum due :—Held : all proceedings on the debtor's summons should be stayed until the determination of the Ch. suit, & alleged debtor should not be required to give security in respect of the alleged debt.—Re M. D. (1875), 9 I. L. T. 63.—IR.

901 iii. —— Protection order.]—After a debtor, who had presented an arrangement petition in Ireland, had obtained a protection order, a creditor issued against him a debtor's summons in England. The arranging debtor having moved to restrain further proceedings under the debtor's summons :—Held: an injunction should not be granted.—Re W. A. R. (1875), 9 I. L. T. 149.—IR.

904 i. On what conditions—Bond with sureties.]—A trader, appearing to a summons issued under 12 & 13 Vict. c. 107, s. 11, & making a deposition that he has a good defence to the "whole demand," need not enter into a bond with two sureties, etc., under s. 13.—Re COMERFORD (1851), 3 Ir. Jur. 309.—IR.

904 ii. —— —— Affidavits.]—Under the trader-debtor sect. of Irish Bkpt. Act the ct. may inquire into all the facts of the case, & not permit the trader to make an affidavit of a good defence on the merits. Under the sect. of the English stat. the ct. must receive the affidavit.

When a trader bonâ fide believes that he has a good defence on the merits, & there may be a question for a jury, the ct. will permit him to make the affidavit, & will not require him to enter into a bond.—Re FIVEY (1860), 13 Ir. Jur. 22.—IR.

a. Removal of admission of debt from file—Filed under misapprehension.]—The Ct. of Bkpcy. has not jurisdiction to take an admission of debt off the file, on the ground that it was filed under a misapprehension of its effect, or in circumstances which, if known to the ct., would have entitled debtor to obtain an extension of time from the ct.—Re HUTCHINGS (1859), 10 I. Ch. R. 108.—IR.

907. —— —— Effect of failure to execute bond.]—An order was made upon a debtor's summons that debtor should, within seven days from service on him, execute a bond with two sureties to be approved by the ct., to pay what might be recovered against him by the summoning creditor in any proceedings taken for the sum mentioned in the summons, & that all proceedings on the summons should be stayed until the ct. in which the proceedings should be taken should have come to a decision thereon. Debtor proposed sureties who were objected to, but the registrar never gave any notice of a time & place for the execution of the bond. The bond was not executed within the seven days:—Held: as the order to give security stayed the proceedings on the summons unconditionally, no act of bkpcy. had been committed by debtor by his not having executed the bond within the seven days. Semble: though the registrar committed a serious default in not giving notice of a time & place for the execution of the bond, such irregularity might have been got over.—Re JOHNSON, Ex p. JOHNSON. 908. —— Whether security for costs will be required.]—Where a debtor's summons is ordered to stand over for an action to be brought, the ct. will not require alleged debtor to give security, where there is as much probability of deft. as of pltf. succeeding in the action.—Re TURNER, Ex p. TURNER (1874), 10 Ch. 909. —— ——.]—A debtor's summons was founded upon a bill of exchange. The summoning creditor had, before the hearing of the summons, commenced an action against debtor upon the bill, which debtor had obtained leave to defend without giving any security. He had then pleaded want of consideration. He also alleged that the holder had notice of the want of consideration:—Held: having regard to these facts, the proceedings upon the summons ought to be stayed pending the trial of the action, without security being required from debtor.—Re LATHAM, Ex p. LATHAM (1876), 4 Ch. D. 105; 35 L. T. 674; sub nom. Re FORSTER, Ex p. LATHAM & FORSTER, 25 W. R. 231.

910. —— ——.]—The discretion which the ct. has, upon staying proceedings on a debtor's summons, to order security to be given by debtor must not be exercised adversely to a solvent debtor where there is a bonâ fide question in course of litigation between him & the creditor, upon the result of which will depend the validity or amount of the debt in question.

A., the vendor of a co. by the articles of agreement guaranteed a dividend of 10 per cent. for five years upon the paid-up capital of the co. for the time being. The business resulted in a loss for the first two years, whereupon A. paid the dividends for that period so guaranteed by him, but refused to pay the guaranteed dividends for the third year, which also resulted in a loss. The co. having gone into liquidation, the liquidator issued a debtor's summons against A. for the unpaid dividend, which A. opposed on the ground that the accounts between him & the co. had not been fully taken, & that it would appear upon taking such accounts that by reason of a set-off & other bonâ fide defences, the co. was indebted to him, not he to the co. There was no suggestion of debtor's insolvency:—Held: in the circumstances, the proceedings should be stayed without security.—Re BROWN, Ex p. BROWN (1878), 26 W. R. 518, C. A.

911. —— ——.]—Where debtor, against whom a debtor's summons has been issued, is solvent, & there is a bonâ fide dispute as to the debt, the ct. will not necessarily order the proceedings to be stayed without security, pending a trial of the validity of the debt. One of the questions which the ct. will consider is, whether the creditor has a probability of success in an action.—Re PINCOFFS, Ex p. JACOBSON (1882), 22 Ch. D. 312; 52 L. J. Ch. 561; 48 L. T. 197; 31 W. R. 554, C. A.

912. —— ——.]—Where the proceedings under a debtor's summons are stayed pending an action to try the validity of an alleged debt, & in the opinion of the ct. there is more than a reasonable probability that alleged debtor has a good defence to the action, the ct. will not require debtor to give security.—Re SMITH BROTHERS, Ex p. SMITH (1883), 48 L. T. 320.

See 1914 Act, s. 5 (5).

913. —— —— Question of debtor's solvency material—Discretion of court.]—A creditor issued a debtor's summons for £442, the alleged balance of an account for goods supplied. The creditor had previously brought an action & had issued another debtor's summons against alleged debtor for the same sum. The action had been by consent dismissed for want of prosecution, & the summons had been also dismissed. Debtor applied to the ct. to dismiss the second summons, & made an affidavit that he was not indebted in the sum claimed. On the hearing of the application, the proceedings in the action & on the first debtor's summons were put in evidence. Debtor was not examined, & no other evidence was adduced on his behalf. The creditor was examined & cross-examined, & stated that he had made many applications during several years to debtor for payment, & had been put off with excuses. The registrar held that debtor must give security for the alleged debt & costs, pending the trial of an action to establish the validity of the claim, & the decision was affirmed by the Chief Judge:—Held: the registrar was right in requiring security, there being ground for suspecting the solvency of debtor.

In determining whether security ought to be given upon an application to dismiss a debtor's summons, regard must be had to the question of debtor's solvency, as well as to the possibility of his establishing his defence, but the requiring of security being a matter of judicial discretion, the Ct. of Appeal will not interfere with the exercise of the primary judge's discretion, unless it can see clearly that the discretion has been improperly exercised.—Re MARSHALL, Ex p. MARSHALL (1877), 5 Ch. D. 873; 37 L. T. 42; 2 W. R. 762, C. A.

914. —— —— No attempt by plaintiff to obtain security for debt.]—When an order is made staying the proceedings on a debtor's summons, the fact that in a pending action by the summoning creditor for the same debt, with a specially indorsed writ, pltf. has not attempted under Rules of Ct., 1875, Ord. 14, rr. 1, 6, to obtain security for the debt is not a conclusive reason for staying the proceedings on the summons without security.—Re SMITH, Ex p. HOSFORD (1877), 6 Ch. 915. Whether necessary—Application to dismiss summons—Stay ordered.]—A debtor's summons having been served on pltf., a trader, an application was made by him to dismiss it, & on Apr. 12 an order was made that a bond with sureties should be executed by pltf., within seven days of service of the order, & an action brought to try the debt; the order also contained a stay of proceedings. The order was served on the 13th, & notice of securities was given on the 18th; but no appointment was made by the registrar, & the bond was never executed:—Held: (1) (KELLY, C.B., & CLEASBY, B.) an application to dismiss the debtor's summons having been made & a stay of proceedings ordered, no act of bkpcy. was committed by pltf. in not paying, securing or compounding for the alleged debt within seven days from the service of the summons; (2) (MARTIN & BRAMWELL, BB.), under 1869 Act, s. 6 (6) an act of bkpcy. was committed at the expiration of the seven days from the service of the summons, pltf. not having paid, secured, or compounded for the debt.—JOHNSON v. EMERSON (1871), L. 916. —— Debtor disputing validity of notice & claiming set-off.]—On the advance of £400 by a bank to one of their customers a surety executed a charge on certain money & guaranteed repayment of the sum advanced. Other persons also gave separate guarantees to the bank & deposited securities with them in respect of the customer's accounts & overdrafts. The surety having paid to the bank on another transaction the sum of £212 18*s.* 3*d.*, which was admittedly 10*d.* too much, & having paid off the £400 guarantee brought an action, which was dismissed with costs, against the bank to get back the guarantee. The bank issued a bkpcy. notice against him in respect of the costs without giving credit for the overpayment by him to the bank, & after he had given formal notice that he disputed the validity of their notice, an application by him to set it aside was dismissed with costs. A receiving order, from which the surety appealed, having been made against him on a bkpcy. petition founded on the notice:—Held: if there was a set-off equal to the amount claimed on the judgment debt, debtor should set it up & claim such a set-off, but if the set-off was less than the amount of the debt, it was an act of bkpcy. not to comply with the notice, though debtor would be entitled on the hearing of the petition to show that the set-off reduced the debt below the amount necessary to support the petition.—Re DEBTOR (No. 8 of 1919), Ex p. DEBTOR (1919), 88 L. 918. —— Payment by bill of exchange.]—A bill was given by a debtor, upon whom a bkpcy. notice had been served, for the amount of the judgment debt, & was taken by the creditor:—Held: such bill was sufficient satisfaction of the requirements of the bkpcy. notice under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g), so as to prevent such creditor afterwards proceeding to obtain a petition against debtor on the bkpcy. notice.—Re MATTHEW, Ex p. MATTHEW (1884), 12 Q. B. D. 506; 51 L. T. 179; 32 W. R. 813; 1 Morr. 47, C. A.

919. —— Conduct of creditor rendering actual production of money unnecessary.]—Where a creditor has issued a summons to his debtor, & debtor attends & admits part of the debt & tenders the part he admits, the creditor may by his conduct render it unnecessary for debtor actually to produce & show the money in order to comply with 1849 Act, s. 82.—Re FARLEY, Ex p. DANKS (1852), 2 De G. M. & G. 936; 22 L. J. Bcy. 73; 1 W. R. 57; 42 E. R. 1138, C. A.

920. Within what time—On expiration of time limited by 1869 Act, s. 6 (6).]—The non-compliance with a debtor's summons is a completed act of bkpcy., available against debtor for adjudication on the expiration of the time limited by the above sub-sect., & if notice of such non-compliance be given to another creditor before any petition for adjudication has been filed, it will prevent such creditor from availing himself of the protection of s. 94.—Re BUCHAN, Ex p. HANKIN (1875), 10 Ch. 922. Effect of compliance—Giving security to satisfaction of creditor.]—A bkpcy. notice was served by a judgment creditor on debtor. 921 i. Within what time—Before expiry of last moment of last day.]—A debtor summons was served on Jan. 3; the debt was not paid until after noon on Jan. 11. The summoning creditor filed a petition in bkpcy. before noon on Jan. 11, & an adjudication was pronounced, the act of bkpcy. relied on being that the trader had not within seven days from the service of the debtor summons paid, secured, or compounded for the debt:—Held: the act of bkpcy. being complete on the last moment of the seventh day, might be treated as having been committed at any time on the eighth day.—Re SMITH & Co. Debtor filed an affidavit denying the debt, & on Aug. 5 obtained the common order that he should give security within seven days, & that on his so doing proceedings should be stayed till the ct., in which proceedings should be taken for recovery of the debt, had come to a decision. On Aug. 12 an order was made by consent giving him a week's further time to complete the security. He never gave the security, & on Feb. 16, 1871, the creditor filed a petition for adjudication, on the ground of neglect to pay, secure, or compound for the debt:—Held: there was a complete act of bkpcy. at the expiration of three weeks from the service of the summons.—Re WIER, Ex p. WIER (1871), 6 Ch. 928. —— Composition deed—Creditor not bound thereby—Secret advantage given to some creditors.]—Debtor, against whom no proceedings in bkpcy. had been taken, entered into an agreement with his creditors, by which he agreed to pay 10*s.* in the pound within six years to any creditors signing the deed of arrangement, & the creditors covenanted by the deed not to sue debtor, or to enforce any judgment already obtained, & to forgo all their claims on him if the provisions of the deed were carried out. The deed was signed by a creditor, who had previously obtained a final judgment against debtor, & after such creditor had signed three other creditors signed the deed, who, it was subsequently discovered, had received from debtor's brother, with the knowledge of debtor, certain other payments over & above the 10*s.* in the pound secured by the deed:—Held: the order of the registrar refusing to set aside a bkpcy. notice served upon debtor by the creditor who had obtained a final judgment was a right order, such creditor being no longer bound by the deed.—Re MILNER, Ex p. MILNER (1885), 15 Q. 923 i. Effect of failure to comply—Discretion of court.]—Under New South Wales Bkpcy. Acts, 1887—8, an act of bkpcy. may be constituted by non-compliance with a bkpcy. notice under s. 4 (2) of the principal Act. Ample discretion is vested in the judge to grant or refuse a sequestration order founded on the notice, & if granted to discharge or annul it. But no jurisdiction is given by the Acts to annul an act of bkpcy. or declare that it never was committed, & jurisdiction cannot be given by a rule of procedure framed under s. 119.—KING v. HENDERSON, [1898] A. 925 i. Jurisdiction of court—Denial of debt by debtor.]—If a trader being summoned with a view to admit or deny the demand of the summoning creditor, swears that he does not owe the debt, & that he has a good defence as to the whole, he cannot be called upon to enter into a bond to secure any sum that may be recovered from him in an action, & he is discharged from the summons.—Re COMMERFORD (1851), 17 L. T. O. S. 190.—IR.

e. Summons set aside for irregularity after non-compliance—Effect.]—After the lapse of fourteen days from the date of a debtor's summons, an order nisi for sequestration was made on the ground of such summons not having been complied with, but before the order nisi came on to be heard, the debtor's summons was set aside for irregularity:—Held: there were proper materials for making the order nisi at its date, & order made absolute, notwithstanding the subsequent setting aside of the debtor's summons.—Re LAWLER (1878), 4 V. L. R. 8.—AUS.

929. —— Creditor preventing compliance—Obtaining charging order on shares.]—A judgment creditor, who had served a bkpcy. notice on debtor under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g), within the seven days allowed for complying with the notice obtained a charging order on certain shares belonging to debtor:—Held: by so attaching the shares the creditor had not prevented debtor from paying the judgment debt, & debtor was not entitled to have the bkpcy. notice set aside.

In such case the question must be whether the creditor by what he has done has in fact prevented debtor from complying with the notice, & if all that the creditor has done is to make it more difficult, but not to prevent the payment, it is not sufficient.—Re SEDGWICK, Ex p. McMURDO (1888), 60 L. 931. —— To adjourn application to dismiss or set aside—Dispute as to indebtedness—Failure of debtor to give security.]—A creditor took bkpcy. proceedings by way of debtor's summons against A., who filed an affidavit denying the debt & applied to dismiss the summons. The county ct. judge refused such application, & as debtor was not able to give the required security, refused to send the question of indebtedness to be tried by a jury:—Held: the county ct. judge had arrived at a right decision.—Re ROWBOTHAM, Ex p. ROWBOTHAM (1871), 25 L. T. 921.

932. —— —— Action by debtor to set aside judgment—Evidence of reasonable ground for action.]—Debtor, after the service of a bkpcy. notice upon him, commenced an action against his creditor to set aside the judgment on which such notice was founded, & prayed that an account might be taken, & made other claims in the nature of a counterclaim. Debtor delivered the statement of claim in the action, & applied to the ct. to dismiss the bkpcy. notice. The registrar, after reading the statement of claim, adjourned the application sine die, with liberty to apply:—Held: the statement of claim was not evidence, & the registrar, before interfering with the operation of the bkpcy. notice, ought to have been satisfied by evidence that debtor had at any rate some reasonable ground for bringing the action.—Re FOSTER, Ex p. BASAN (1885), 2 Morr. 29, C. 933. —— —— That debtor should have time to make arrangement.]—An application to set aside a bkpcy. notice can only be adjourned on the grounds mentioned in 1883 Act & Rules; & the fact that the granting of time to debtor to allow him to make a proposed arrangement would be fair & right, is insufficient to justify the adjournment of an application to set aside a bkpcy. notice.—Re COLE, Ex p. ATTENBOROUGH, [1898] 1 Q. 936. Appeal from refusal to set aside—What notice required.]—The notice of appeal from a refusal to set aside a bkpcy. notice is a fourteen days' notice. Where such notice was not given, the ct. directed the case to stand over to a certain day until the required time had elapsed, & notice to be given to the creditor that the ct. had appointed such day for the hearing of the appeal.—Re PHILLIPS, Ex p. PHILLIPS (1888), 5 Morr. 187, D. (b) Counterclaim, Set-off, or Cross-demand.

937. Which could have been set up in action—Leave to defend given on conditions.]—A creditor obtained judgment against debtor by default. Debtor obtained leave to defend on payment into ct., which he failed to do. A bkpcy. notice having been issued, & debtor having refused to give security:—Held: he had not an effective set-off against the judgment debt, which he could not have set up in the action, as the fact that unconditional leave to defend the action had not been given was no ground for saying that debtor could not have set up in the action an effective set-off which he alleged appeared in evidence.—Re ISAAC, Ex p. ISAAC (1885), 2 Morr. 258, D. D. & Co., having obtained judgment issued a bkpcy. notice thereon. Upon an application to set aside the notice on the ground that debtor had a cross demand under the above contract which he could not set up in the action:—Held: (1) the ct. had only to be satisfied as to the bonâ fides of the cross demand & was not called upon to decide its validity; (2) debtor was not precluded from claiming under the contract alleged by him in his plea in the action, the question whether the contract was proved having only become collaterally a question in the action.—Re M. 939. Must be mutual & in same right.]—When debtor applies to set aside a bkpcy. notice, on the ground that he has a counterclaim which equals or exceeds the amount of the judgment on which the bkpcy. notice is founded, such counterclaim must be mutual & due in the same right, e.g. in answer to a judgment obtained against him by exors. in their personal capacity debtor cannot set up a claim against their testator's estate.—Re MOLESWORTH (1907), 51 Sol. Jo. 653, C. A.

940. Claim assigned to debtor after service of notice.]—A judgment creditor served a bkpcy. notice upon debtor in respect of the judgment debt. Debtor after the service of the bkpcy. notice obtained an assignment to himself of a debt due from the judgment creditor to a firm of which debtor was a member, which was alleged by debtor to exceed the amount of the judgment debt, & applied to set aside the bkpcy. notice on the ground that he had a counterclaim which exceeded the amount of the judgment debt, & which he could not set up in the action in which the judgment was obtained:—Held: even assuming debtor could, had he so chosen, have obtained the assignment in time to set up the counterclaim in the action, the bkpcy. notice must be set aside, inasmuch as debtor could not as matters stood at the time the action was proceeding have set up the counterclaim.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 37 of 1914), [1914] 3 K. SUB-SECT. 11.—GIVING NOTICE OF SUSPENSION OR INTENDED SUSPENSION OF PAYMENT.

A. In General.

941. Need not be in writing.]—A notice by debtor that he has suspended, or that he is about to suspend payment of his debts, need not, in order that it may constitute an act of bkpcy., be in writing. It is sufficient if a verbal statement to that effect be made by debtor to one of his creditors.—Re WALKER, Ex p. NICKOLL (1884), 13 Q. B. D. 469; 1 Morr. 188, D. C; subsequent proceedings on appeal, 1 Morr. 249, C. A.

942. —— Must be formal—With deliberate intention.]—A notice by debtor that he has suspended, or is about to suspend, payment of his debts may be given orally, but it must be given formally & deliberately, & with the intention of giving notice.—Re FRIEDLANDER, Ex p. OASTLER (1884), 13 Q. B. D. 471; 54 L. J. Q. B. 23; 51 L. T. 309; 33 W. R. 126; 1 Morr. 207, C. A.

943. Must be intention to suspend payment in ordinary course—Whether debtor is trader material.]—To constitute a notice by debtor that he has suspended or is about to suspend payment of his debts, the statement must be a statement of intention to suspend payment in ordinary course. In deciding whether such a statement amounts to a notice, it is material whether debtor is a trader or non-trader.—Re SCOTT, Ex p. SCOTT, [1896] 1 Q. B. 619; 65 L. J. Q. B. 465; 44 W. R. 587; 40 Sol. Jo. 731; 3 Mans. 102, D. C.

944. Effect of words used on mind of creditor immaterial.]—Words, which in themselves do not amount to a notice of intention of suspension of payment of debts, cannot, by reason of their effect on the mind of the person to whom they are addressed, constitute such a notice so as to create an act of bkpcy.—Re PHILLIPS, Ex p. THOMAS (W.) & Co. (1897), 76 L. T. 531; 41 Sol. Jo. 470, D. C.

945. Rule for construing circular calling meeting of creditors.]—Circulars issued by non-traders calling meetings of their creditors should not be construed as notices of intention to suspend payment, unless the terms plainly indicate such an intention.—Re A DEBTOR, Ex p. PETITIONING CREDITORS v. DEBTOR (1912), 106 L. T. 812; 28 T. L. R. 386; sub nom. Re A DEBTOR (No. 4 of 1912, SALFORD), 56 Sol. Jo. 482, D. C.

946. Admissibility in evidence—Of written notice given "without prejudice."]—A written notice by a debtor to a creditor that he is about to suspend payment of his debts is admissible in evidence to prove an act of bkpcy., notwithstanding that the notice is expressed to be "without prejudice."—Re DAINTREY, Ex p. HOLT, [1893] 2 Q. B. 116; 62 L. J. Q. B. 511; 69 L. T. 257; 41 W. R. 590; 9 T. L. R. 452; 37 Sol. Jo. 480; 10 Morr. 158; 5 R. 414, D. C.

947. Statement by third party—Must be authorised.]—M. wrote to the manager of his bank to instruct P., his solr., to call a meeting of his creditors. Subsequently P. told T., a creditor, that M. had given him instructions to call his creditors together, because he could not pay his debts:—Held: the conversation was not notice by M., through his agent, that he had suspended, or was about to suspend, payment, as P. was not authorised by the debtor to give any such oral notice, but only to issue a circular on a future date.—Re MORGAN, Ex p. TURNER (1895), 73 L. Annotation:—Mentd. Re Boocock, Ex p. Walker (1916), 114 L. T. 903, D. C.

948. Effect of moratorium.]—Debtor gave notice of suspension of payment, at a time when a moratorium proclamation was in force, extending the time for payment of debts:—Held: there was nothing in the proclamation to prevent debtor from committing an act of bkpcy. by giving notice of suspension of payment.—Re SAHLER (1914), 84 L. B. Sufficiency of Statements, etc.

949. Offer of composition.]—Debtor having called his creditors together, made to them an offer of a certain amount in the pound:—Held: this did not amount to a declaration of intention to suspend payment, & did not constitute an act of bkpcy.—Re WALSH, Ex p. THE TRUSTEE (1885), 52 L. c. —— ——.]—Where the sheriff attached under a writ of execution certain mining shares, but did not sell such shares & stated in his return that, owing to the depression of the market, it was unadvisable to sell, & that the marketable value of some of the shares was far less than the judgment debt & the remainder had no marketable value whatever, & that no other goods had been pointed out by debtor or found to satisfy the urgency of the writ:—Held : an act of insolvency had been committed.—ALDERSON v. KERR (1884), 1 Buch. A. C. 355.—S. AF.

d. —— ——.]—To constitute a due pointing out of disposable property under Law 13 of 1895, s. 8 (b), debtor must indicate the nature & exact situation of the property with sufficient particularity to enable the messenger to attach & sell it. Merely stating that one has property in this or that district is insufficient.—DE WAARD v. ANDREW & THIENHAUS, LTD. (1907), T. S. 727.—S. AF.

e. —— —— "Disposable property."]—Under Law 13 of 1895, s. 8 (b), "disposable property" includes land freely disposable & not mortgaged to a third person.—DE WAARD v. ANDREW & THIENHAUS, LTD. (1907), T. S. 727.—S. AF.

f. —— —— Pointing out for execution land in another's name.]—Resp., upon beng called to satisfy a judgment debt, told the sheriff's officer that he had land which he could levy upon. This land was not in resp.'s name, & the sheriff's officer made a return that resp. had no real or personal estate of which he could cause to be made the money required by the writ or any part thereof:—Held : the return was false & the act of insolvency had not been established.—Re RYLAH, Ex p. COLONIAL BANK OF AUSTRALASIA, LTD. PART II. SECT. 4.

l. Issue directed to try whether act of bankruptcy committed.]—A. married B., a watchmaker, who died in 1823, leaving A. all his property to the amount of £7,000. She continued to carry on the trade till 1826, when C. purchased the stock for £4,000, & passed his bond with warrant to a trustee for the separate use of petitioner, & in the same month C. married A. In 1830 C. died indebted to petitioning creditor in £100 & upwards, for goods sold. The bill of parcels was directed to C. & the account settled by his acceptances. Another person claimed to be C.'s wife. The question being whether A. was a trader in copartnership with C. & liable to a commission of bkpcy., for petitioning creditor's demand, as a joint debt:—Held : an issue should be directed to inquire whether A. committed an act of bkpcy.—Ex p. JOHNSON (1830), 3 Ir. 1013. —— ——.]—On the dissolution of a firm of stockbrokers by the death of one of the partners, the partnership assets, including a debt to the late firm in respect of certain Stock Exchange transactions, were assigned by the surviving partners to L. for the purpose of winding up the partnership, & notice of the assignment was served on debtor. L. then recovered judgment for the amount of the debt. Subsequently an action was commenced in the Ch. Div. for the winding up of the partnership, & in that action a receiver was appointed of the partnership assets. The receiver took an assignment of the judgment debt from L., & obtained leave to issue execution. He then served a bkpcy. notice on debtor, & on the failure of debtor to comply with the notice a bkpcy. petition was presented against him by the receiver, the surviving partners, & the personal representatives of the deceased partner :—Held : inasmuch as the receiver had obtained an assignment of the judgment debt, he was a creditor entitled to present a bkpcy. petition.—Re MACOUN, [1904] 2 K. 1048. Debt contracted to pay bet—Loan by way of guarantee for gambling purposes.]—In 1903, L. lent debtor £1,000 for the purpose of betting on horse races, any profits resulting from the betting to be equally divided. In the same year L. guaranteed an overdraft to the extent of £1,000 at debtor's bank. There were no profits on the betting, & all the money having been lost, L. in 1903, guaranteed a further overdraft of £500 in order to enable debtor to pay bets to that amount which he had lost. In 1906, L. paid £1,633 to the bank under his guarantees & recovered judgment in default of defence against debtor for £3,000. Debtor having failed to comply with a bkpcy. notice L. presented a bkpcy. petition against him:—Held: (1) as to the guarantee for £500, the debt arising out of the loan for the purpose of enabling debtor to pay a bet which he had lost, not being for an illegal consideration, could be proved for in bkpcy., & the money was not paid by L. C. Must be Due at date of Act of Bankruptcy.

(a) In General.

1050. General rule.]—To support a commission of bkpcy., it is necessary that there should have been a good petitioning creditor's debt subsisting when the act of bkpcy. was committed, & it is not sufficient that petitioning creditor's debt accrued before the suing out of the commission.—Moss v. SMITH (1808), 1 Camp. 489.

1051. ——.]—It has always been the settled rule that the debt of petitioning creditor must be a debt which existed at the time of the act of bkpcy. The law was so settled, not on the ground of any express words in any of Bkpcy. Acts, but because it would be manifestly unjust, that a person who commits an act of bkpcy., & who happens to have no creditors, or pays his creditors in full, should be liable to be made a bkpt. on account of that act by some person to whom he afterwards became indebted (MELLISH, L.J.).—Re HAYWARD, Ex p. HAYWARD (1871), 6 Ch. 1054. Goods delivered to have work done thereon —No demand until after bankruptcy.]—An action of assumpsit, which is a demand founded on implied contract, is sufficient to make a man a debtor within the bkpcy. laws.

A. delivered to B., who afterwards became a bkpt., a quantity of saltpetre to be refined. No demand was made till after the bkpcy.:—Held: this was not a debt within bkpcy. laws, because no debt accrued before the bkpcy.—ANON. (1773), Lofft. 341; 98 E. R. 683.

1055. Money payable on notice—No notice before act of bankruptcy.]—A debt for money lent on mtge., conditioned for payment after six months' notice, such notice not to expire before a certain day, is a good petitioning creditor's debt to support a commission sued out before that day.—HILL v. HARRIS (1830), Mood. & M. 448, N. 1056. ——.]—Under an agreement made in Jan., 1900, between M., a stockbroker, & T., with a view to T.'s ultimately becoming a member of the Stock Exchange & entering into partnership with M., T. paid £2000 into M.'s banking account, subject to a condition that if T. should not, on or before Sept. 29, 1900, become a member of the Stock Exchange, or if, having become a member, he should not be at liberty to enter a partnership within that period by reason of his recommenders withholding their consent, then & in either of those cases T. should have the option of determining the agreement by notice, whereupon the £2,000 should be repaid by M. On June 28, M. was hammered on the Stock Exchange, & thereupon T., without having given any notice purporting to determine the agreement, presented a bkpcy. petition against M., alleging that M. was indebted to him "in the sum of £2,000 lent by him to M. pursuant to the agreement":—Held: the alleged debt of £2,000 was not "a liquidated sum, payable either immediately or at some certain future time," within 1883 Act, s. 6 (1) (b), & was not sufficient to support the petition, & T.'s only remedy was in damages for breach of the agreement.—Re MILLER, [1901] 1 K. Deft. tendered to pltf. the amount due on the judgment for £32, which pltf. refused to accept. Upon the application of deft., the judge at chambers made an order staying all proceedings on the judgment for £32, upon payment of that amount. When that order was made deft. had committed an available act of bkpcy., which was known to pltf. & brought to the notice of the judge:—Held: if the judge had power to make such an order, he had not properly exercised his discretion, & the order ought not to have been made.—BROOK v. EMERSON (1906), 95 L. 1073. —— By third party—Purchase of petitioner's debt by bill of sale holder.]—In order to secure an advance by F. to P., the liquidating debtor, a bill of sale of part of P.'s property was on Mar. 30, 1876, executed by P. to F. on the agreement that the deed should not be registered for six (& afterwards for nine) months, if P. would execute a new bill of sale when called upon to do so. Accordingly, at intervals of about twenty-one days, the bill of sale was renewed fourteen times, the fifteenth & last deed being executed on Jan. 11, 1877. The first & last only of the series were stamped, & the last only was registered. Each deed recited a loan at the date of the deed of the amount purported to be thereby secured, but in fact there was only one loan, increased on two occasions by further advances. On Sept. 26, 1876, debtor had committed an act of bkpcy. by neglecting to satisfy a summons served by B., a creditor, & on Dec. 6 B. served on debtor a petition for adjudication in bkpcy., under which a receiver was appointed on Dec. 9. The petition for liquidation was filed on Jan. 18, 1877, & on Feb. 5, F., the bill of sale holder, purchased & took an assignment of the debt of B.:—Held: the purchase by the bill of sale holder of the summoning creditor's debt, though it might purge the act of bkpcy. as between debtor & creditor, could not abrogate the proceedings in bkpcy., so as to defeat the rights of the other creditors.—Re PELLEW, Ex p. FURBER (1877), 6 Ch. Debtor appealed against the receiving order, on the ground that by reason of the tender there was no good petitioning creditor's debt by which it could be supported:—Held: at the time when the tender was made an act of bkpcy. having been committed by debtor, of which the creditor had knowledge, he was fully justified in refusing to accept payment, & the receiving order was rightly made.—Re LOWE, Ex p. LOWE (1890), 62 L. At the adjourned hearing debtor tendered the amount of petitioner's debt only & costs, which were refused by petitioning creditor. The interest on the first bill was paid, & the bill was renewed. The deed contained a covenant by the creditors not to sue L. until default should be made in payment of the bills & notes, or some of them, & upon payment of the bills & notes at maturity to grant a release. W., one of L.'s creditors, executed the deed, & received the bills & notes. On its maturity the first was dishonoured. W. immediately commenced an action against L. for his whole debt, in which he ultimately obtained judgment. L. was declared a bkpt. on W.'s petition:—Held: the bills were only conditional payment, & W. had, on the dishonour of the bill, a right to elect to recover his old debt, & had a sufficient petitioning creditor's debt.—LEAKE v. YOUNG (1856), 5 E. & B. 955; 25 L. A creditor, who had accepted a bill of exchange for the amount of his judgment debt, which was dishonoured but was outstanding in the hands of a third party, issued a bkpcy. notice upon the judgment under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g):—Held: this was not a debt on which a bkpcy. notice could be served, & the notice & a receiving order made upon it must be set aside.—Re A DEBTOR, Ex p. THE DEBTOR, [1908] 1 K. Default having been made, that creditor presented a petition:—Held: the effect of the secret bargain was that the release of petitioning creditor's debt was absolute, & the condition void, & the refusal to make a receiving order was right.—Re HARVEY, Ex p. PHILLIPS (1888), 36 W. F. Sums due on Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes.

1100. By holder—Against drawer—Bill drawn before bankruptcy—Indorsed after.]—A bill of exchange drawn by a bkpt. before his bkpcy., but not indorsed to petitioning creditor until after the act of bkpcy., is a good petitioning creditor's debt.—BINGLEY v. MALLINSON (1783), 3 Doug. K. B. 333; 99 E. R. 682.

Annotations:—Refd. Glaister v. Hewer (1798), 7 Term Rep. 498; Cowley v. Dunlop (1798), 7 Term Rep. 565.

1101. —— —— —— Neither due nor dishonoured at time of act of bankruptcy.]—Qu.: whether a bill of exchange is a good petitioning creditor's debt against the drawer, before it becomes due or has been dishonoured.—ROSE v. ROWCROFT (1815), 4 Camp. 245, N. P.

1102. —— —— —— Becoming due after bankruptcy.]—Bills of exchange to the amount of £100 drawn & issued before an act of bkpcy., but becoming due afterwards, are sufficient when due to found a petition for a commission of bkpcy. against him.—BRETT v. LEVETT (1811), 13 East, 213; 1 Rose, 102; 104 E. R. 351.

Annotations:—Refd. Ex p. Douthat (1820), 4 B. & Ald. 67. Mentd. Hill v. Heap (1823), Dow. & Ry. N. P. 57; Smallcombe v. Bruges (1824), 13 Price, 136.

1103. —— —— —— Not accepted at time of act of bankruptcy.]—A. having drawn a bill of exchange for £148 in favour of B., to whom he was previously indebted in that amount, committed an act of bkpcy. before either the bill was due or had been presented for acceptance:—Held: such bill of exchange was a good petitioning creditor's debt, although, subsequently to the commission, the bill had been duly presented & paid by the acceptors.—Ex p. DOUTHAT (1820), 4 B. & Ald. 67; 106 E. R. 863.

1104. —— Against maker — Note indorsed at under value.]—An assignee or indorsee of a bkpt.'s notes at an under value is a creditor for the full sums of the notes, & may sue out a commission as a creditor for such full sums.—Ex p. LEE (1721), 1 P. Wms. 782; 2 Eq. Cas. Abr. 97, pl. 3; 24 E. R. 614, L. C.

1105. —— —— Note made before bankruptcy—Indorsed after.]—A note given before an act of bkpcy., though indorsed after, is a debt upon which the indorsee may take out a commission of bkpcy. against the drawer.—Ex p. THOMAS (1747), 1 Atk. 73, 126; 26 E. R. 82.

1106. —— —— —— ——.]—The indorsee of a note after the act of bkpcy. may be the petitioning creditor.—ANON. (1761), 2 Wils. K. B. 135; 95 E. R. 728.

1107. —— —— —— —— Debt insufficient apart from note.]—The petitioning creditor's debt did not amount to the statutory sum at the time of the act of bkpcy., but was increased to a little more by a promissory note of bkpt. due at that time being PART III. SECT. 1, SUB-SECT. 2.—F.

1104 i. By holder—Against maker—Note not yet due.]—A promissory note not yet due is not a good petitioning creditor's debt.—Re TAYLOR, Ex p. YOUNG BROTHERS (1891), 17 V. L. R. 121.—AUS.

1104 ii. —— —— —— Creditor holder at date of petition.]—Held: a debt in respect of a current promissory note made by debtor, & of which the creditor was the holder at the date of the petition, was a good petitioning creditor's debt.—DAVID v. MALOUF (1908), 5 C. L. R. 749.—AUS.

1104 iii. —— —— Note given for statute-barred debt.]—Where a promissory note was given in respect of a prescribed debt, the indorsee with full knowledge of the circumstances was not entitled to petition.—NICHOLL v. NICHOLL (1916), W. L. D. 22.—S. AF.

1104 iv. —— —— Offer to give up note—Valuation.]—Where a petition for sequestration of a debtor's estate is founded upon the debt due upon & by virtue of his promissory note, no offer need be made to give it up, nor any estimate of its value given.—Re COHEN (1889), 15 V. L. R. 664.—AUS.

Sect. 1.—Creditor's petition: Sub-sect. 2, F. & G.]

indorsed to him before he petitioned for the commission:—Held: the debt was sufficient to support the commission.—GLAISTER v. HEWER (1798), 7 Term Rep. 498; 101 E. R. 1097.

Annotation:—Consd. Brett v. Levett (1811), 13 East, 213.

1108. —— —— Note given as security—For contingent debt.]—Debtor gave his promissory note to petitioning creditor, payable on demand, to secure a contingent debt, which could only become due if debtor's wife predeceased him. Petitioning creditor having sued out a commission on the note, the debt still being a contingent debt:—Held: the promissory note though, in form, a present debt, was a security for a contingent debt, & was not a debt to support a commission.—Re PAGE, Ex p. PAGE (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 100.

Annotation:—Refd. Hope v. Meek (1855), 10 Exch. 829.

1109. —— —— ——Original debt reduced.]—Petitioning creditor was the president of a money club, & the preceding president had, in accordance with the rules of the club, in June, 1851, indorsed to him two promissory notes for £50 each, expressed to be payable on demand, which were part of the property, & securities of the club. The shares of the club were £50 shares, & bkpt., who had been a subscriber for two shares previously to the month of May, became the purchaser of two shares, & had with two sureties executed the notes on his becoming such purchaser. According to the rules of the club he was to pay 10*s.* per month on each share, & interest at £5 per cent. upon the amount, &, by one of the rules, it was provided "that, in case either of the sureties should die before the subscriber's share be paid up, such subscriber should have immediate notice, in writing, from the president & stewards, to provide a fresh surety, to the satisfaction of the committee, within a reasonable time as the necessity of the case might require, &, in case of neglect, the committee should have power to recover the whole amount of such subscriber's share or shares then unpaid by an action at law." Bkpt. had paid all the monthly payments, & the interest due up to the time of his bkpcy., but, in May, 1851, one of the sureties died, & a notice was sent to bkpt. to provide a fresh surety, which he had neglected to do, & at the time of the committing of the act of bkpcy. in Nov., 1851, more than £50 remained unpaid to the clerk. The sum due upon the two promissory notes was relied on as petitioning creditor's debt:—Held: petitioning creditor's debt was valid.—HOPE v. MEEK (1855), 10 Exch. 829; 25 L. J. Ex. 11; 156 E. R. 676.

Annotations:—Refd. Watson v. Humphrey (1855), 10 Exch. 781. Mentd. Topping v. Keysell (1864), 33 L. J. C. P. 225; Evans v. Hallam (1871), 24 L. T. 939; Lucas v. Dicker (1880), 5 C. P. D. 150.

1110. —— —— Note given for released debt—No consideration.]—A composition had been accepted upon a debt, which had been released by deed. Afterwards a promissory note was given by debtor, for the amount so released:—Semble: such promissory note was not a sufficient petitioning creditor's debt.—Re HALL, Ex p. HALL (1835), 1 Deac. 171; 4 L. J. Bcy. 91, Ct. of R.

1111. —— Against acceptor — Undertaking by partner of petitioning creditor to provide for acceptance.]—One of three partners undertook to provide for two bills of exchange drawn by the three partners, & accepted by a fourth person, when they should become due:—Held: such acceptances would not support a commission of bkpcy. on the petition of the three partners against the acceptor, although the conduct of the partner against his co-partners might have been fraudulent.—RICHMOND v. HEAPY (1816), 1 Stark. 202.

Annotation:—Mentd. Meyer v. Dresser (1864), 33 L. J. C. P. 289.

1112. —— —— Bill blank as to drawer at time of bankruptcy.]—A. purchased coals of B., & agreed to give him a bill of exchange for part of the purchase money payable at two months. Afterwards A. sent to B. a paper, purporting to be a bill accepted by him with a blank left for the name of B. as the drawer. B. kept the paper but did not fill up the blank till after he had sued out a commission against A.:—Held: the bill did not constitute a valid petitioning creditor's debt.—Re FARENDEN, Ex p. FARENDEN (1817), Buck, 34, L. C.

1113. —— —— Unauthorised acceptance in name of firm.]—One of two partners gave an acceptance in the name of the firm for a pre-existing debt of his own, without the authority of the other:—Held: such acceptance was not a good petitioning creditor's debt to support a joint fiat against the two partners.—Re WESCOTT, Ex p. AUSTEN (1840), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 247, Ct. of R.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 149.

1114. —— —— Acceptance forged but acknowledged.]—A party accepted a bill in bkpt.'s name, without his authority:—Held: an acknowledgment by bkpt. to the holder after it became due, that he was responsible for the payment of the bill, did not constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt.

No subsequent acknowledgment of an acceptance, which was a forgery in the first instance, can render the acceptance binding in law (per CUR.).—Re LATHAM, Ex p. EDWARDS (1841), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 241; 10 L. J. Bcy. 62; 5 Jur. 706, Ct. of R.

See, further, AGENCY, Vol. I., p. 397.

1115. —— —— Bill not issued until after act of bankruptcy.]—An acceptance was written on an incomplete bill of exchange, to which no drawer's name was affixed. The acceptor soon afterwards assigned all his property for the benefit of his creditors. Some weeks after this the bill, which had remained in the hands of the acceptor's agent, was completed & indorsed to a bonâ fide holder for value, who, on its being dishonoured, obtained an adjudication in bkpcy. against the acceptor, grounded on the assignment as an act of bkpcy.:—Held: the adjudication must be reversed, as no debt existed on the bill till it was issued, which was after the act of bkpcy.—Re HAYWARD, Ex p. HAYWARD (1871), 6 Ch. App. 546; 40 L. J. Bcy. 49; 24 L. T. 782; 19 W. R. 833, L. JJ.

Annotations:—Mentd. Re Foulds, Ex p. Learoyd (1878), 10 Ch. D. 3, C. A.; Faulks v. Atkins (1893), 10 T. L. R. 178; Re Moore, Bartholomew's Case (1899), 68 L. J. Ch. 302, C. A.

1116. —— Against indorser—No notice of dishonour—Laches of holder.]—A holder of a dishonoured bill of exchange cannot establish a petitioning creditor's debt against an indorser who has had no notice of dishonour, through the laches of the holder.—Re — (1850), Fonbl. 175.

1117. By accommodation acceptor—Against drawer—Cross bills—Petitioning creditor's acceptance not paid.]—If two persons exchange acceptances, & before the bills are mature, one of the acceptors commits an act of bkpcy., there is not such a debt due from him to the other as will sustain a commission, before the other has paid his own acceptance.—SARRATT v. AUSTIN (1811), 4 Taunt. 200; 2 Rose, 112; 128 E. R. 305.

Annotations:—Apld. Re Knowles, Ex p. Solarte (1832), 2 Deac. & Ch. 261, Ct. of R. Consd. Re Dyer & Swayne, Ex p. Solarte (1834), 3 Deac. & Ch. 419. Refd. Hope v. Meek (1855), 10 Exch. 829.

1118. —— —— Bill in hands of third party—Bill paid after act of bankruptcy.]—Petitioning creditor accepted a bill for the accommodation of debtor. The bill, which was in the hands of a third party, became due after debtor had committed an act of bkpcy. Petitioner paid the bill: —Held: petitioner was a mere surety for debtor, & did not become a creditor till he had paid the bill, & as the payment was after the act of bkpcy., it could not create a good petitioning debt.—Re HOLDING, Ex p. HOLDING (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 97.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 4 (1) (b).

1119. —— —— —— Part payment & balance due.]—A petitioning creditor's debt, made up of a sum paid in part discharge of a bill, & the remainder unpaid, & the bill being in the hands of an adverse holder:—Held: bad.—Re HEATH, Ex p. CALDECOTT (1839), Mont. & Ch. 600; 4 Deac. 264; 9 L. J. Bcy. 1; 3 Jur. 1003, Ct. of R.

1120. By drawer—Against acceptor—Bills taken up after commission—In hands of holder for value at time of bankruptcy.]—The drawer of bills of exchange, who takes them up after the commission of an act of bkpcy. by the acceptor, they having been, at the date of the act of bkpcy., in the hands of holders for value, has a good debt upon which to found a petition for adjudication of bkpcy. against the acceptor.—Re BROADRIDGE, Ex p. CYRUS (1869), 5 Ch. App. 176; 21 L. T. 664; 18 W. R. 155, L. J.

1121. By husband of payee—Against maker—Note given to wife dum sola.]—The husband alone may sue out a commission upon a promissory note given to the wife dum sola.—Re SHAW, Ex p. BARBER (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 1.

G. Sums due on Judgments and Orders.

1122. Judgment debt—Debtor discharged from custody—Judgments Act, 1838 (c. 110).]—Held: a judgment debt was a good debt on which to found a petition in bkpcy., although debtor had been taken in execution under a ca. sa. & subsequently & before the date of the petition discharged from custody under the above Act, & the debt duly inserted in the sched.—WATSON v. HUMPHREY (1855), 10 Exch. 781; 24 L. J. Ex. 190; 24 L. T. O. S. 291; 3 W. R. 254; 3 C. L. R. 1048; 156 E. R. 656.

Annotation:—Refd. Re Clagett (1855), 2 Bankr. & Ins. R. 101.

1123. —— Assumed to be due in respect of original debt.]—Where a debt exists in the shape of a judgment, it must be considered to be due in respect of the original debt, for the purpose of supporting the bkpcy.—PYKE v. GUICHARD (1862), 7 L. T. 170.

See, also, Nos. 1012 et seq., 1094 et seq., ante.

1124. —— Extinguished by new contract—Balance due thereunder less than £50.]—A judgment creditor issued a bkpcy. notice, which was withdrawn in consideration of a part payment & an agreement by debtor to pay the balance by instalments. Default having been made in payment of the instalments, the creditor issued a bkpcy. notice for the balance of the judgment debt. The instalments in arrear were under £50:—Held: the agreement extinguished the creditor's right under the judgment & substituted a new contract, &, as less than £50 was due under it at the date of the presentation of the petition, there was no sufficient petitioning creditor's debt.—Re A DEBTOR, Ex p. LONDON & COUNTY DISCOUNT CO., LTD. (1909), 100 L. T. 380; 53 Sol. Jo. 246; 16 Mans. 205.

1125. —— Statute-barred.]—A judgment creditor is not entitled, after the expiration of twelve years without payment of interest or acknowledgment of his right, to obtain an adjudication in bkpcy. against debtor, though within the twelve years

PART III. SECT. 1, SUB-SECT. 2.—G.

1122 i. Judgment debt—Immaterial misstatement in order.]—An order nisi stated petitioning creditor's debt to be upon a judgment in an action at law, "whereby petitioner recovered against debtor the sum of £85," & the execution was issued therein & returned unsatisfied, & that debtor had been called upon to satisfy such judgment:—Held: the debt as stated constituted a good petitioning creditor's debt, & the allegation that debtor had been called upon to satisfy, following, instead of preceding the allegation that the writ had been returned was not material.—Re ALLEN (1879), 5 V. L. R. 25.—AUS.

1122 ii. —— Judgment reducible to one shilling—On return of property.]—A judgment was recovered in a county ct. for £107 6*s.* 8*d.*, to be reduced to a 1*s.* on a certain house being given up:—Held: such judgment did not constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt under Insolvency Act, 1871 (No. 379), s. 37.—Re KELLACKY (1877), 3 V. L. R. 96.—AUS.

1122 iii. —— Amount of consideration under void deed.]—Held: a judgment obtained for the amount of the consideration under an agreement void as contrary to public policy could not be relied upon as a foundation of bkpcy. proceedings.—WILKINSON v. OSBORNE (1915), 21 C. L. R. 89.—AUS.

1122 iv. —— Discharged by credits—Course of dealing between creditor & bankrupt.]—By a course of dealing between a mine owner & lessee, for the working of a coal mine, the proceeds of the sale of coal raised were received & credited to the lessee's account by the mine owner, who made advances for the necessary expenses of carrying on the mine, which were debited to the lessee. On Feb. 29, 1912, the general balance of account between the parties showed a debit of £1,863 against the lessee, & for that sum the mine owner secured judgment with costs on Apr. 20. The parties meantime had continued the same business relations, & the mine owner during Mar. received on behalf of the lessee, for the sale of coal, £2,653, which he placed to the lessee's credit in the books of account kept by him relating to the business, & he made advances in respect of the mine exceeding £2,600, leaving a debit of £2,043 on Mar. 31, which included the amount which had been sued for. In Apr. & May, the same course was followed, notwithstanding the judgment on Apr. 20, & on May 31 the mine owner presented a petition in bkpcy. founded upon the judgment, & a receiving order was made:—Held: the amount of the judgment must be regarded as part of the general account to the end of the account & must be regarded as having been discharged by the credits.—BEDLINGTON v. LANE (1912), 14 W. A. L. R. 134.—AUS.

1122 v. —— Execution unsatisfied.]—Where all disposable property pointed out by a debtor to the sheriff is manifestly insufficient to satisfy a writ, the creditor may apply for sequestration without realising such property.—KENT v. TRANSVAALSCHE BANK (1907), T. S. 765.—S. AF.

1122 vi. —— Debtor alleging solvency.]—If a petitioner's judgment debt is unsatisfied, allegations by debtor that he is in reality in solvent circumstances will be no answer to an application for sequestration of his estate. Qu.: whether another creditor could successfully oppose the application on such a ground.—SCHARFF v. GROBLER (1908), 18 C. T. R. 485.—S. AF.

b. —— Arising out of tort—Judgment creditor must be party instituting proceedings.]—A judgment recovered in tort may be relied upon under Insolvency Act, 1871 (No. 379) s. 37 (viii) as well as a judgment recovered in contract.

The creditor recovering the judgment must be the same person as the party who instituted the proceedings, upon which such judgment was recovered, & a judgment by set-off in favour of deft. will not entitle him to proceed under s. 37 (viii).—Re ALLEN (1879), 5 V. L. R. 25.—AUS.

c. —— —— Committed before Debtors Act, 1872.]—To sustain an adjudication against a non-trader, a judgment debt arising out of a tort is insufficient, if the tort was committed before the passing of the above Act, although the judgment was obtained afterwards.—Re M'W. (1877), I. R. 11 Eq. 508.—IR.

d. —— Assignment at valuation to be agreed—Petition after assignment & before valuation.]—The A. Bank obtained a judgment against resp. which was not satisfied & afterwards it assigned all its debts & assets to the C. Bank, at a valuation to be agreed upon. Before valuation made, the A. Bank petitioned for the sequestration of resp.'s estate:—Held: notwithstanding the assignment it had a sufficient debt in law or in equity to constitute it a good petitioning creditor.—Re DWYER (1879), 5 V. L. R. 198.—AUS.

e. "Money secured by judgment"—I. E. Act.]—When a judgment debtor becomes bkpt., the money due on foot of the judgment is not "money secured by judgment" within the above Act, & when a petition is presented, even by the assignee of bkpt. under the Act, the comrs. will dismiss it.—Re LAWDER (1851), 3 Ir. Jur. 385.—IR.

Sect. 1.—Creditor's petition: Sub-sect. 2, G., H., J., K. & L.]

a suggestion has been entered on the roll under C. L. P. Act (c. 76), 1852, s. 129.—Re TYNTE, Ex p. TYNTE (1880), 15 Ch. D. 125; 42 L. T. 598; 28 W. R. 767.

1126. Order of Court of Equity—Equitable debt only.]—Held: the obligation to pay a sum of money under an order of a Ct. of Equity was merely an equitable debt, notwithstanding Judgments Act, 1838 (c. 110), s. 18, & could not be made the ground of a petition for adjudication in bkpcy.—Re BLENCOWE, Ex p. BLENCOWE (1866), 1 Ch. App. 393; 35 L. J. Bcy. 18; 14 L. T. 389; 12 Jur. N. S. 366; 14 W. R. 623, L. JJ.

1127. Order for damages in divorce suit.]—In a divorce suit co-resp. was ordered to pay into the registry the amount of damages assessed by the jury. The decree was made absolute. Co-resp. being resident abroad, the order for payment could not be enforced against him, & an order was obtained from the Divorce Ct. rescinding so much of the decree as ordered payment into the registry, & ordering the damages to be paid to the husband, he undertaking to pay it into the registry to abide the further order of the ct. The husband then commenced proceedings in bkpcy. against co-resp.:—Held: the damages did not constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt, the husband being merely the receiver of the ct.—Re MUIRHEAD, Ex p. MUIRHEAD (1876), 2 Ch. D. 22; 45 L. J. Bcy. 65; 34 L. T. 303; 24 W. R. 351, C. A.

1128. ——.]—Damages awarded a petitioner in the Divorce Ct., against a co-resp., ordered to be paid into ct., will not support a bkpcy. petition.—Re O'GORMAN, Ex p. BALE, [1899] 2 Q. B. 62; 68 L. J. Q. B. 650; 80 L. T. 501; 47 W. R. 543; 43 Sol. Jo. 480; 6 Mans. 204.

H. Joint Debts.

1129. Debt due to petitioning creditors & others jointly.]—Semble: a commission is defective where the debt on which it is founded is not due to petitioning creditors alone, but to them together with other persons with whom they are in partnership.—Re MOTT, Ex p. HALL (1828), Mont. & M. 39.

See, also, Nos. 1009, 1010, ante.

1130. Separate debt—Insufficient to support joint fiat.]—If a joint fiat issue against partners, & only one be adjudged bkpt. there is no debt on which the fiat can be supported, as the fiat is joint, & a separate debt cannot support it.—Re CLARKE, Ex p. CLARKE (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 544; 1 L. J. Bcy. 97, Ct. of R.

1131. Debt due jointly by two partners—Joint commission against two of three partners.]—Qu.: as to the validity of a joint commission against two of three partners, on a debt jointly due from the two.—Re CHAMBERS, Ex p. CHAMBERS (1835), 2 Mont. & A. 440.

J. Costs.

1132. Taxed costs as in case of non-suit.]—Taxed costs upon a judgment, as in case of a non-suit, under a rule of ct., do not constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt.—Re STEVENSON, Ex p. STEVENSON (1829), Mont. & M. 262.

Annotation:—Folld. Re Miller (1863), 1 New Rep. 310.

1133. In divorce suit.]—The amount due upon an order of the Ct. of Divorce, for payment of costs, is not such a debt as will sustain a petition in bkpcy.—Re MILLER (1863), 1 New Rep. 310; 11 W. R. 374.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 1 (1) (g).

1134. —— Costs of King's proctor.] — The taxed costs of "the Queen's Proctor" intervening in a suit in the Divorce Ct. which was dismissed with costs to be paid to that officer, form a good petition in bkpcy. against the person ordered to pay them.—Re RAYNER, Ex p. RAYNER (1877), 37 L. 1127 i. Order for damages in divorce suit.]—Where, under a decree in a divorce suit, petitioner is absolutely entitled to the half of damages awarded against co-resp., an order that co-resp. do pay the damages awarded to petitioner, on condition that an undertaking be given by petitioner to pay the amount received into ct., creates a good creditor's petitioning debt in bkpcy. proceedings.—THOMSON v. THOMSON (1892), 11 N. Z. L. R. 483.—N.Z.

PART III. SECT. 1, SUB-SECT. 2.—H.

f. Two creditors — Not jointly interested in whole debt.]—C. & her husband sued jointly for damages in respect of a personal injury to C., & consequential loss to her husband. The damages were separately assessed, the amount awarded to C. being £25, & that awarded to her husband being £2 2*s.* 0*d.* The costs were taxed at £24 17*s.* 0*d.* Deft. then committed an act of insolvency, & C. & her husband presented a joint creditors' petition against B., which was dismissed, on the ground that they were not jointly interested in a debt of £50.—Re BOWLER, Ex p. CALDWELL (1895), 6 Q. L. J. 242.—AUS.

g. —— Not partners in trade.]—Held: if a debt of £100 were due to two or more jointly, it was a sufficient petitioning creditor's debt, under 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, s. 115, although such persons were not partners in trade.—TRONSON v. CALLAN (1827), 1 Hud. & B. 113.—IR.

h. Partnership debt—Petition for sequestration of partner's separate estate.]—A creditor may obtain the sequestration of the separate estate of one partner in a firm on a debt due to him by the firm.—Re STEVENSON (1893), 19 V. L. R. 660.—AUS

k. —— ——.]—A man may be made insolvent upon a debt which he & another conjointly owe, & in cases of partnership the creditor is not bound to proceed to make the firm insolvent, although he may do so if he please.—Re DRYSDALE (1866), 3 W. W. & A'B. 30.—AUS.

l. —— Partners ceasing to carry on business.]—Q. & F. carried on business as contractors in copartnership, & in so doing incurred a partnership debt. They afterwards ceased to be partners. The creditors presented a petition asking for adjudication as bkpts. of Q. & F.:—Held: there was no provision in 1892 Act, s. 51, for presenting a petition against partners who had ceased to carry on business.—Re QUINLAN & FOSTER (1907), 26 N. Z. L. R. 513.—N.Z.

PART III. SECT. 1, SUB-SECT. 2.—J.

m. Scale costs.]—A judgment awarding scale costs, which amount to not less than £30, is a good petitioning creditor's debt in bkpcy. Where no authority is given to tax additional costs, not fixed by scale, a petitioning creditor may waive these, & proceed on the costs determined by the scale.—Re PHILLIPS & NUGHERER (1895), 13 N. Z. L. R. 639.—N.Z.

n. Costs of demurrer—Issues untried—Set-off.]—A trader was brought before the ct. upon a trader-debtor summons to compel payment of a debt, composed of costs of a demurrer to one of the defences filed by the trader in an action. The issues were still untried. The ct. dismissed the petition, because upon a general finding deft. might be entitled to have the costs of the demurrer set off against those of the verdict, & because there might be a verdict for deft.—Re A SUMMONED TRADER (1866), 11 Ir. Jur. 240.—IR.

1135. Whether costs can be added to bring debt up to statutory amount—Costs taxed after act of bankruptcy.]—At the date of the act of bkpcy., debtor had appeared to a writ issued by a creditor to recover £49 11*s.* 7*d.* & £3 costs. The costs were, after the act of bkpcy. & judgment signed, taxed at £8 9*s.* 6*d.* :—Held : the amount of the costs could not be added in order to constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt of £50 & over.—Re WHELAN, Ex p. SADLER (1878), 48 L. J. Bcy. 43 ; 39 L. T. 361 ; 27 W. R. 156.

1136. —— Costs of abortive execution.]—The costs of an abortive execution cannot be added to the judgment debt for the purpose of making up the amount of debt required to support a bkpcy. petition.—Re LONG & Co., Ex p. CUDDEFORD (1888), 20 Q. B. D. 316 ; 57 L. J. Q. B. 360 ; 58 L. T. 664 ; 36 W. R. 346 ; 4 T. L. R. 232 ; 5 Morr. 29, C. A.

1137. Set-off—Costs forming part of petitioning creditor's debt.]—There can be no set-off of costs in bkpcy. proceedings between a creditor & his debtor, where the creditor makes costs payable to him part of the debt on which he bases his bkpcy. petition against his debtor, although, if such costs had not been made part of petitioning creditor's debt, a set-off of costs would have been allowed.—Re A DEBTOR, Ex p. PETITIONING CREDITORS, [1907] 2 K. K. Interest.

1138. Whether interest can be added in making up amount of debt—On bill of exchange—Not carrying interest on face thereof.]—If a bill of exchange do not carry interest upon the face of it, a debt made up of the principal sum secured by the bill, & the interest up to the act of bkpcy., though the bill be noted & protested according to 9 Will. 3, c. 17, is not a good petitioning creditor's debt.—Re BURGESS, Ex p. GREENWAY (1818), Buck, 412 ; 2 Moore, C. P. 745 ; 8 Taunt. 660 ; 129 E. R. 541, L. C ; subsequent proceedings (1819), Buck, 418, L. C.

1139. —— —— ——.]—Interest accruing before the act of bkpcy. cannot be added to the principal sum due on a bill of exchange, so as to constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt, unless interest be specially made payable on the face of the bill.—CAMERON v. SMITH (1819), 2 B. & Ald. 305 ; 106 E. L. Solicitor's Bill of Costs.

1142. Bill under taxation.]—A solr. may take out a commission of bkpcy. for his fees, whilst his bill is under taxation by order of ct.—ANON. (1728), Mos. 27 ; 25 E. R. 250, L. C.

1143. Bill not taxed.]—The validity of petitioning creditor's debt was impeached on the ground that it was founded on an attorney's bill, which had never been taxed, & that if it were taxed, the debt would be reduced below the minimum allowed by stat. :—Held : the amount of the debt should be referred to the registrar, who should inquire whether there was a good petitioning creditor's debt at the date of the fiat.

A solr. may take out a fiat on his bill before taxation, but if, upon the taxation of it, the bill is reduced below £100, the fiat will be superseded (SIR GEORGE ROSE).—Re FORD, Ex p. FORD (1838), 3 Deac. 494 ; Mont. & Ch. 97.

1144. —— Time for taxation—At whose instance.]—A commission issued upon a debt due to petitioning creditor as the balance of a solr.'s bill of costs. Petitioning creditor had proved his debt for a dividend without any objection to the charges. Creditors having petitioned to have the bill taxed :—Held : the bill should be taxed.

If at the time of the commission bkpt. was not concluded from the taxation of this bill, then it is fit that it should now be taxed ; & every creditor has an interest in the taxation, more especially, if the validity of the commission is to depend on the amount (LEACH, V.-C.).—Re SYMES, Ex p. PRIDEAUX (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 28.

1145. —— Subsequent taxation to reduce sums below statutory amount refused.]—The ct. will not grant a rule for the taxation of an attorney's bill of costs at the instance of a third party, who makes the application simply for the collateral purpose of reducing the bill so low as to make the attorney a bad petitioning creditor.—CLUTTERBUCK v. COMBES (1833), 5 B. & Ald. 400 ; 2 Nev. & M. 1147. —— Reference to taxation.] — An attorney, not having delivered his bill according to 2 Geo. 2, c. 23, may be petitioning creditor in a commission of bkpcy., but his debt must be afterwards examined.—Ex p. STEELE (1809), 16 Ves. 161 ; 33 E. R. 945, L. C.

1141 i. Whether interest can be added in making up amount of debt—On judgment debt.]—Where a petitioning creditor's debt is founded on a judgment of the Supreme Ct. it is available for purposes of sequestration, when accumulations of interest thereon have raised it above the sum of £50.—Re WILSON (1877), 3 V. L. R. 95.— AUS.

1141 ii. —— ——.]—A debt for less than £40, founded on a judgment, when the interest on it brings it up to £40, is sufficient to ground an adjudication.—Re IRWIN (1873), 8 I. L. T. Jo. 54.—IR.

PART III. SECT. 1, SUB-SECT. 2.—L.

1143 i. Bill not taxed—Law 12 of 1899, s. 13—Transvaal.]—Under the above sect. an attorney practising in the lower cts. is not entitled to payment on his bill of costs before it has been taxed :—Held : an agreement to pay a lump sum for costs in a civil case is therefore invalid & cannot be made the ground of a petition for sequestration.—MARKS & HOLLAND v. PALMER (1915), T. P. D. 246.—S. AF.

1146 i. Bill not delivered—Guarantee to pay.]—A guarantee to pay a bill of costs of another person for over £50 may form a good petitioning creditor's debt, notwithstanding no signed bill has been delivered according to Common Law Procedure Act, 1864.—Re LAWLER (1878), 4 V. L. R. 8.—AUS.

SUB-SECT. 3.—IN RESPECT OF WHAT ACTS OF BANKRUPTCY.

A. In General.

1149. Petition by officer of company—Act of bankruptcy committed after authority made—Special authority insufficient.]—A resolution of an incorporated co., authorising one of its officers "to present a petition in bkpcy. on behalf of the co." against a debtor, "& to carry on & act in the proceedings subsequent thereto" does not authorise the officer to present a petition founded on an act of bkpcy. committed after the date of the resolution.—Re A DEBTOR, Ex p. DEBTOR (No. 30 of 1914), [1915] 1 K. 1151. Act of bankruptcy on same day as petition.]—An act of bkpcy. subsequent to the striking of the docket, but previous to the sealing of the commission, & for that purpose a fraction of a day is admitted, will sustain the commission.—Ex p. DUFRENE (1812), 1 Ves. & B. 51; 1 Rose, 333; 35 E. R. 20, L. C.

1152. Act of bankruptcy complete before order on judgment summons.]—A judgment summons was issued in the county ct. on a final judgment in the High Ct., & on Oct. 17, 1903, a bkpcy. notice was served, which was not complied with. On Nov. 2 an order to pay by instalments was made on the judgment summons. On Nov. 3 a bkpcy. petition was presented by another creditor, founded on the non-compliance with the bkpcy. notice:—Held: petitioning creditor was entitled to a receiving order, debtor having committed an act of bkpcy. before the making of the order on the judgment summons, which any creditor could take advantage of.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 112 of 1903), Ex p. ROCK RED BRICK CO. (1904), 90 L. T. 64; 52 W. R. 302; 48 Sol. Jo. 209.

1153. Act of bankruptcy committed before 1883 Act—Petition under Act.]—A receiving order can be made on a bkpcy. petition presented under the above Act, founded on an act of bkpcy. committed before the Act came into operation, but in respect of which no bkpcy. proceedings had been taken before that date.—Re PRATT, Ex p. PRATT (1884), 12 Q. 1154. Act of bankruptcy committed after ceasing to trade—Debt contracted during trading.]—Held: a party, to become bkpt., must be a trader at the time of petitioning creditor's debt, but, if petitioning creditor's debt accrued during the trading, & the party left off trade, & then committed an act of bkpcy., petitioning creditor might still sue out a commission of bkpcy. against him, notwithstanding he had retired from trade.—DOE d. BARRAUD v. LAWRENCE (1825), 2 C. & P. 134.

1155. ——— Debt contracted before beginning to trade.]—A. contracted a debt, & afterwards became a trader. The debt remained unpaid, & he went out of trade, & then committed an act of bkpcy.:—Held: a commission of bkpcy. could be maintained upon such debt & act of bkpcy.—BAILLIE v. GRANT (1832), 9 Bing. 121; 6 Bli. N. S. 459; 1 Cl. & Fin. 238; 2 Moo. & S. 193; 131 E. R. 561, H. L.

See 1914 Act, s. 4 (1) (a), (b).

1156. Act of bankruptcy committed during trading—Debt contracted before beginning trade.]—A debt contracted before a man enters into trade may be the ground of a petition for a commission of bkpcy.—BUTCHER v. EASTO (1779), 1 Doug. K. B. 295; 99 E. R. 191.

B. Concerted Acts of Bankruptcy.

1158. Creditors privy to act.]—A concerted act of bkpcy. not available, except for creditors not privy to it.—Ex p. BOURNE (1809), 16 Ves. 145; 33 E. R. 939.

1159. ———.]—Where a creditor is privy to the suspension of the payment of the debt till after the expiration of the time limited by Judgments Act, 1838 (c. 110), he cannot petition against debtor, on the ground that he has not paid or secured the debt within that time.—Re BUDD, Ex p. BUDD (1841), 1 Mont. 1161. Assignment for creditors—Creditors instigating execution.]—Two creditors persuaded bkpt. to execute an assignment of his effects to them for the benefit of his creditors, & then issued a fiat against him, setting up this assignment as the act of bkpcy. They then seized his furniture & stock, without taking any proceedings under the fiat. On the application of a bonâ fide creditor, this fiat was ordered to be annulled & a new one issued. —Re MUCKLOW, Ex p. MUCKLOW (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 25.

A., at the instance of his trustees, sued out a commission of bkpcy. against B., the act of bkpcy. relied on being B.'s assignment :—Held : the commission being that of A.'s trustees, who were privies & parties to B.'s deed of assignment, could not be supported.—Re KILNER, Ex p. KILNER (1817), Buck, 104.

1175. —— —— Attendance of agent after execution of deed—Estoppel.]—Petitioning creditors, who had refused to assent to a creditors' deed, were represented at a meeting of creditors held after its execution. 1176. —— —— Acquiescence.]—Bkpt. previous to the fiat having called a meeting of his creditors at Manchester, H. & Co., creditors at Halifax, wrote to G., an attorney at Manchester, to attend the meeting, on their behalf, saying " we will leave our interests in your hands." In pursuance of the resolutions passed at the meeting, which were communicated to H. & Co., a trust deed was prepared by G., & executed by bkpt. & many of the creditors, but not by H. & Co. A dividend was afterwards declared by the trustees, of which H. & Co. were also informed, without making any objections to the arrangement :—Held : they could not afterwards set up this deed, as an act of bkpcy.—Re TEALDI Ex p. TEALDI (1840), 1 Mont. 1179. —— —— Attendance & voting for committee of inspection.]—Debtor, at a time when he was hopelessly insolvent & was about to call a meeting of his creditors, took delivery on credit of goods of considerable value from petitioning creditors. At the meeting petitioning creditors refused to assent to an assignment for the benefit of creditors, unless the goods were returned to them or their value allowed, but, after a resolution for an assignment had been passed, they took part in the nomination of the committee of inspection. On receiving a form of assent to the assignment they telephoned to the accountant, who had charge of debtor's affairs, repeating their demand for a return of the goods or payment of their value under threat of legal proceedings. On the refusal of their demand they commenced an action against debtor for goods sold & delivered & obtained final judgment against him, &, on his failure to comply with a bkpcy. notice issued in respect of that judgment, filed a petition in bkpcy. against him founded on his non-compliance with the bkpcy. notice :—Held : petitioning creditors had not either by any improper conduct or by any assent to the assignment precluded themselves from taking proceedings in bkpcy.—Re SUNDERLAND, [1911] 2 K. 1180. —— —— Advising on assignment.]—A trader executed a deed of assignment of all his estate & effects for the benefit of his creditors which purported to be made under the arrangement

1176 i. —— Creditor assenting or privy to deed—Acquiescence.]—A trader was indebted to a bank on bills drawn by L. & accepted by the trader. The bank handed to L. three of the trader's overdue acceptances, upon which L. issued a debtor's summons. Subsequently L.'s solr., in presence of an officer of the bank, offered to withdraw debtor's summons if the trader executed a trust deed vesting all his estate in trustees for the benefit of all his creditors, which he did without delay. The bank refused to execute the trust deeds &, relying upon it as an act of bkpcy., filed a petition against the trader & obtained an adjudication against him : —Held : the bank, having stood by while the trader was forced or induced to execute the deed, must be taken as having acquiesced in its execution, & assented thereto, & could not take advantage of it as an act of bkpcy.—Re EASDALE, Ex p. PROVINCIAL BANK (1874), 8 I. 1181. —— —— Supplying goods to trustee under deed.]—A creditor may, without executing or expressly assenting to a deed of assignment by his debtor, nevertheless so acquiesce in it tacitly by conduct, e.g. supplying goods to the trustee of the deed, as to estop himself from relying upon a circular convening the meeting to consider the proposed deed as a notice of suspension constituting an act of bkpcy., if the circular is part & parcel of the scheme.—Re WOODROFF, Ex p. WOODROFF (1897), 76 L. 1183. —— —— —— Order by trustee not necessarily notice of deed.]—Debtors called a meeting of creditors at which petitioning creditors were represented. Their representative refused to have anything to do with a deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors. After he left the meeting a deed was executed. On the same day the trustee under the deed sent a small order to petitioning creditors " as trustee of the estate," which was received on the following day. By return post an invoice was sent to the trustee saying that the goods were " ready awaiting remittance." In exchange for the invoice the trustee sent a cheque, & on the same day as the cheque was received petitioning creditors received a specific notice of the execution of the deed, after which they dispatched the goods :—Held : (1) the order did not necessarily convey to petitioning creditors that a deed had been executed ; (2) the transaction was complete, although the goods had not been sent off before the specific notice was received, & petitioning creditors were not estopped from relying on the execution of the deed as an act of bkpcy.—Re CROW, Ex p. COLLIER (1907), 97 L. 1184. —— —— Assent obtained by misrepresentation.]—Where a creditor, who has assented to the execution by debtors of a deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors, presents a petition alleging as the act of bkpcy. the execution of the deed, the ct. will not dismiss the petition, if it appears that the assent was procured by misrepresentation & misstatement.

A statement of affairs was submitted by debtors to their creditors showing assets £1,072 & liabilities £870. Subsequently an accountant reported that, so far as could be ascertained from debtors' books, there would be 20*s.* in the pound for the creditors. Nothing was done by debtors to lead the creditors to suppose that this was not a fair statement of their affairs, & thereupon a resolution was passed agreeing to the execution by debtors of an assignment for benefit of creditors. The assets in fact turned out to be about £550, & the liabilities about £1350. A creditor who had signed the resolution, presented a petition against debtors founded on the execution of the deed of assignment :—Held : as the assent to the execution of the deed had been obtained by misrepresentation & misstatement, the creditor was not precluded from presenting a petition.—Re TANNENBERG & SONS, Ex p. PARRIER (1889), 60 L. 1185. —— Creditor concurring in proposal—Deed differing from that proposed.]—An agreement to assent to a creditors' deed implies that the trust deed shall be for the equal benefit of the creditors. If a clause is secretly introduced into the deed which gives an undue preference to one creditor, a creditor has a perfect right to refuse his assent to the deed, & to take bkpcy. proceedings.—Re BELL, Ex p. HALLOWELL (1838), 3 Deac. 278 ; 3 Mont. & A. 538, Ct. of R.

1189. —— Onus of proof of assent to, acquiescence in, or submission to deed.]—Where a creditor has assented to, acquiesced in, or submitted to a deed of assignment executed by debtor in favour of his creditors, he cannot afterwards rely upon the execution of such deed as an act of bkpcy.

When the objection is taken to a petition presented by a creditor, that such creditor has assented to, acquiesced in, or submitted to a deed of assignment relied upon as the act of bkpcy., the onus is on the person raising the objection to establish such assent, acquiescence, or submission. If the allegation is an acquiescence or submission after the deed is executed, stronger proof will in general be required than where acquiescence before execution is alleged.

In order to support an allegation that the creditor has acquiesced in or submitted to the deed, it is not sufficient to show merely that such creditor had notice of its execution; but it must also be shown that he intentionally took advantage of the deed having been executed.—Re MICHAEL, Ex p. MICHAEL (1891), 8 Morr. 305, D. 1190. The creditors, as a release of their respective debts, covenanted that they would not implead the insolvent or his goods. The deed was executed by two only of the trustees:—Held: the debt of a trustee who had executed the deed was thereby extinguished, & he could not sue out a commission of bkpcy.—SMALL v. MARWOOD (1829), 9 B. & C. 300; 4 Man. & Ry. 1191. —— Petitioning creditor assenting—Costs of petition.]—Where a petitioning creditor assents to a composition deed, although he has not executed it, he cannot avail himself of such deed as an act of bkpcy.; & where an adjudication has been made on such act of bkpcy. the ct. will annul the adjudication, & order petitioning creditor to pay all the costs of the commission.—Re REED (1845), 6 L. 1192. —— Execution of deed demanded by trustee under terms of composition—Deed not in accordance with terms of composition.]—Debtor executed a deed of composition providing for the payment of 15*s.* in the pound by instalments, & for the execution of a deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors in case of default in payment of instalments, & to this deed petitioning creditors assented. Debtor made default, & executed a deed of assignment not in accordance with the terms of the deed of composition. Petitioning creditors dissented from the deed of assignment, & filed a petition, relying upon the execution of the deed of assignment as an act of bkpcy.:—Held: although the deed of assignment was not in accordance with the terms of the deed of composition & did not bind petitioning creditors, nevertheless they could not rely upon it as an act of bkpcy., since its execution had been demanded by the trustee under the composition deed as agent for them, & for the other creditors who assented to that deed.—Re ADAMSON, Ex p. VINEY (1894), 71 L. During his absence debtor made a tender of the whole debt to the managing clerk of petitioning creditor, who refused to receive it:—Held: in these circumstances, petitioning creditor must be held to have concerted the act of bkpcy., & he could not support a fiat against his debtor for non-payment of the money within the twenty-one days.—Re GRATTON Ex p. GRATTON (1841), 2 Mont. 1194. —— Instalment of composition—Neglect to cash cheque or apply for payment.]—Under 1869 Act the creditors of a liquidating debtor duly passed resolutions for a composition payable by instalments at certain definite times, & appointed a trustee. At the time when the first instalment of the composition became due debtor, who had sent cheques to all the creditors, also placed in the hands of the trustee funds sufficient to pay the amount of that instalment to a particular creditor, who neglected to present the cheque or apply to the trustee for the amount:—Held: such creditor was not entitled to institute bkpcy. proceedings against debtor with a view to having him adjudicated a bkpt. upon the ground that he had not in fact received the instalment of his composition upon the day named in the resolutions for payment.—Re SHERRATT, Ex p. ORTELLI (1882), 45 L. 1195. Concerted denial.]—Traders employed an attorney, who was also employed by D., a creditor of their firm, & who afterwards became petitioning creditor. The attorney advised the traders to become bkpts., &, in order to procure an act of bkpcy., he took D. with him to their houses, having first concerted with them, that they should respectively deny themselves when D. called:—Held: although D. was not privy to such denial, yet, inasmuch as the attorney was his agent as well as of the traders, & accompanied him for the purpose of procuring such denials, such denials were fraudulent acts of bkpcy., & could not support a commission by petitioning creditor.—PROSSER v. SMITH (1816), Holt, N. 1196. Execution—Issued at instance of petitioning creditor.]—A judgment creditor, who has seized & sold his debtor's property under an execution, may afterwards set up the execution as an act of bkpcy.

in support of a petition for adjudication.—Re SMITH (1867), 16 L. T. 643.

1197. Fraudulent conveyance—Creditor not signing but appointed trustee.]—A commission of bkpcy. was sued out on a fraudulent deed upon the petition of a creditor, who had not concurred in such deed, & who, together with others who had so concurred, was chosen assignee:—Held: if he had signed the deed he could not, as petitioning creditor, have availed himself of it as an act of bkpcy.

No objection can be urged against the right of [petitioning creditor] to be petitioning creditor, the object of whose petition was that bkpt.'s property might be by the comrs. transferred to assignees for the benefit of the creditors. The goodness of the petition depends on the right of the creditor to petition, & not upon who the assignees may be who are afterwards to be chosen, & in whom the assignment vests the property, notwithstanding any fraud they may have been guilty of, not connected with the assignment (LAWRENCE, J.).—TAPPENDEN v. BURGESS (1803), 4 East, 230; 1 Smith, K. 1202. Within six months—When time begins to run—Time for giving security under debtor's summons extended.]—A creditor, on July 21, 1870, served on a non-trader a debtor's summons for a sum exceeding £50. Debtor filed an affidavit denying the debt, & on Aug. 5 obtained the common order that he should give security within seven days, & that on his so doing proceedings should be stayed till the ct., in which proceedings should be taken for recovery of the debt, had come to a decision. On Aug. 12 an order was made by consent giving him a week's further time to complete the security. He never gave the security, & on Feb. 16, 1871, the creditor filed a petition for adjudication, on the ground of neglect to pay, secure, or compound for the debt:—Held: the petition, not having been filed till more than six months after the expiration of three weeks from the service of the summons, though within six months from the expiration of the extended time for giving security, was too late.—Re WIER, Ex p. WIER (1871), 6 Ch. 1203. Within three months—When time begins to run.]—The act of bkpcy. committed by a debtor by reason of his non-compliance with a bkpcy. notice duly served on him under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (g), is complete at the last moment of the seven days allowed to him by the sect. to comply with the requirements of such notice.

On Nov. 20, 1890, a bkpcy. notice was served upon debtor, & on Dec. 4, a petition in bkpcy. was presented against him. On Jan. 2, 1891, the debt of petitioning creditor was paid & the petition was dismissed, but on Feb. 7, a bkpcy. notice was served upon debtor by another judgment creditor, upon which a petition was presented on Feb. 28, & a receiving order made. On the application of the official receiver it was held by the county ct. judge that the act of bkpcy. committed by the non-compliance of debtor with the bkpcy. notice served on him on Nov. 20, 1890, must be taken to have occurred on Nov. 28, & that the petition filed on Feb. 28, 1891, being within three months from that date, the money paid in settlement of the first petition must be repaid:—Held: the act of bkpcy. committed by the non-compliance with the bkpcy. notice served on Nov. 20, 1890, was complete at the last moment of Nov. 27, & at any time on Nov. 28 a bkpcy. petition might have been presented against debtor founded on that act of bkpcy., & that being so, the petition presented on Feb. 28, 1891, was not within the three months.—Re MAUD, Ex p. TOWNEND (1891), 64 L. 1209. First petition dismissed for lack of proof—Second petition founded on same act of bankruptcy—Another creditor joined—Whether proceedings vexatious.]—A creditor presented a petition against a married woman, which was dismissed by the registrar on the ground that petitioner had failed to prove separate trading. Petitioner afterwards presented a fresh joint petition by himself & another creditor, but founded so far as the first petitioner was concerned on the same debt & the same act of bkpcy., & the registrar, treating the matter as res judicata, in the exercise of his discretion dismissed the second petition as vexatious:—Held: the discretion had been properly exercised.—Re LARARD, Ex p. YEOMANS & HEAP (1896), 3 Mans. 317, C. A creditor, who had proved under the bkpcy., filed a fresh petition for adjudication, in Jan., 1870, in the Ct. of London, for the purpose of impeaching the first bkpcy., under which debtor was a second time adjudicated bkpt.:—Held: the creditor's debt was sufficient to support the petition for adjudication, notwithstanding it had been proved in the former bkpcy.—Re WIELAND, Ex p. WIELAND (1870), 5 Ch. 1214. —— Prosecution dropped on promise to give security — Condonation.]—Prior to the hearing of a bkpcy. petition an arrangement was entered into between petitioning creditor & debtor, by which the petition was dismissed as for want of prosecution in consideration of debtor having promised to give security for the debt. Debtor having failed to give the agreed security, the creditor, by leave of the ct., presented a second petition based upon the same act of bkpcy.:—Held: petitioning creditor was entitled to present the second petition, there having been no condonation of the act of bkpcy.—Re JAGGER, Ex p. LOVE (1874), L. He had previously at short intervals & with the same object presented two other bkpcy. petitions upon which receiving orders had been made, & was an undischarged bkpt. under three bkptcies.:—Held: the presentation of the petition by debtor in such circumstances was an abuse of the process of the ct., & the receiving order founded upon it must be rescinded.—Re BETTS, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1901] 2 K. On debtor failing to pay the creditor obtained, on a judgment summons, an order for payment by instalments. The instalments having fallen into arrear, the creditor obtained a committal order, under pressure of which debtor paid. The instalments having again fallen into arrear, the creditor obtained a second committal order, whereupon debtor, finding himself unable to comply with it, presented a bkpcy. petition, which was followed, upon his own application, by a receiving order & adjudication. The judgment creditor was his only creditor, & he had no assets beyond the personal earnings from his employment. The judgment creditor applied for annulment of the bkpcy. proceedings on the ground that they were an abuse of the process of the ct.:—Held: the proceedings were not, in the circumstances, an abuse of the process of the ct., & would not prejudice the judgment creditor, inasmuch as the personal earnings of the bkpt., beyond what was necessary for the maintenance of himself & his family, could be applied, in the proceedings, towards payment of the judgment debt.—Re HANCOCK, Ex p. HILLEARYS, [1904] 1 K. 1231. Petition by firm—After dissolution—In name of dissolved firm.]—A bkpcy. petition was presented in the following form:—"Re J. H.: Ex p. W. & H. A. We W. & H. A., formerly of, etc.: W. H. A., one of the members of the late firm of W. & H. A., now residing at, etc., & H. S. A., the other member of the firm, now residing at etc. Hereby petition the ct. that a receiving order may be made in respect of the estate of J. H. Signed W. & H. A., by H. S. A., late partner in the firm. Signed by petitioner H. S. A." The petition was founded upon non-compliance with the requirements of a bkpcy. notice in respect of a debt due upon a judgment against debtor, obtained by the firm of W. & H. A., which firm had been dissolved before the date of the petition. Debtor objected to the petition on the ground that it was bad in form, because it purported to be presented on behalf of a firm, & a petition could not be presented in the name of a dissolved firm:—Held: the petition was good in form, inasmuch as it purported, on the face of it, to be presented by two persons in respect of a joint debt.—Re HOBBS, Ex p. HOBBS (1892), 66 L. T. 144; 8 T. L. R. 279, C. A.

B. Name and Description of Debtor.

1232. Creditor's petition—Debtor must be described at length—& occupation given.]—In a petition for adjudication the party against whom the adjudication is sought must be described at length as of etc., adding his occupation.—Re A PETITION FOR ADJUDICATION, Ex p. BENNOCK (1869), 21 L. T. 625.

1233. —— Judgment against debtor in trade name—Petition in real & assumed names.]—Judgment having been obtained against debtor, in an assumed name, under which he had traded, a bkpcy. notice was issued against him under his assumed name:—Held: a petition could be presented in both his real & assumed names.—Re MYLES, Ex. p. MYLES (1891), 7 T. L. R. 633; 8 Morr. 255.

1234. —— Judgment against dissolved firm in firm name—Petition against one partner alone.]—Judgment was recovered against a late partnership firm of "W. Bros.," in an action brought against it after its dissolution, for a debt incurred during the partnership. The writ had been served on each of the late partners, J. W. & T. W. A bkpcy. notice in the usual form, & following the judgment, was then addressed to "W. Bros." & served personally on each of the late partners. The notice not having been complied with, the judgment creditor presented a petition against J. W. alone:—Held: the bkpcy. notice was sufficient to support a receiving order against J. W. alone.—Re WENHAM, Ex p. BATTAMS, [1900] 2 Q. B. 698; 69 L. J. Q. B. 803; 83 L. T. 94; 48 W. R. 627; 44 Sol. Jo. 609; 7 Mans. 309, C. A.

1235. Effect of giving wrong Christian names.]—The ct. refused, on the petition of bkpt., to annul the fiat, on the ground that he was described in it as "John G.", instead of "John Christian G." his right name, when he had been examined before the comr., & never mentioned that he was wrongly named in the fiat.—Re GILLIGAN, Ex p. GILLIGAN (1840), 1 Mont. PART III. SECT. 3, SUB-SECT. 1.—B.

1232 i. Creditor's petition—Insolvency of debtor.]—Where it is sought to sequestrate an estate under Act 38 of 1884, the petition & summons, following the language of the Act, should clearly allege that deft. is insolvent & that it would be for the benefit of creditors that such estate should be sequestrated.—SEDGWICK & Co., LTD. v. NATHAN (1914), C. P. D. 292.—S. AF.

t. —— Against surviving partner.]—A commission of bkpcy. against a surviving partner need not describe him expressly as surviving partner, though petitioning creditor's & other debts be debts of the firm.—Re M'INTYRE, Ex p. MACKEY (1848), 12 I. Eq. R. 318.—IR.

u. —— Partnership firm—Names of partners.]—Applications for the sequestration of a partnership firm should set out the names of the partners inasmuch as a partnership is not a persona in terms of the Insolvency Law.—MOSENTHAL BROTHERS, LTD. v. MAHOMED EBRAHIM & CO. (1915), T. P. D. 621.—S. AF.

a firm, " G. & Co.," must so describe himself in his petition for adjudication against himself, although it does not appear that any debts were contracted by him under such trading.—Re GASHION, Ex p. GASHION (1863), 8 L. T. 522 ; 11 W. R. 810.

1237. —— Occupation—Must be stated eo nomine.] —A cowkeeper describing himself in his petition as a milkman will have his petition dismissed, a cowkeeper being made a trader eo nomine by 1842 Act. —Re BYGRAVE (1849), 14 L. T. O. S. 381.

See, now, 1914 Act, ss. 14, 109.

1238. —— —— Dealer in spruce — Described as commercial traveller.] — If bkpt. wilfully describe himself in his petition for adjudication incorrectly, so that his creditors are misled thereby, as, when being a dealer in spruce, etc., he described himself as a commercial traveller, his petition will be dismissed.—Re LAW (1861), 5 L. T. 464.

1239. —— —— Effect of omitting to give.]—It is no objection to a petition for adjudication that bkpt. has not described himself as of any occupation, the fact being that when the opposing creditor's debt was incurred he was in business as a merchant. —Re HESKETH (1861), 5 L. T. 465.

1241. —— Residence—Effect of omitting to give.] —Held : the omission from debtor's petition of a residence during the six months preceding the date of the petition was fatal.—Re BARBER (1856), 28 L. T. O. S. 147.

1242. —— —— ——.]—If a bkpt. omit, in his petition for adjudication, his occupation & place of residence, where several of his debts were contracted, the ct. will dismiss the petition as calculated to mislead creditors.—Re BOATE, Ex p. CABBAN (1862), 6 L. T. 372.

1243. —— —— —— Business address given.]—A debtor described himself in his liquidation petition by his business address only, omitting all mention of his private residence :—Held : this was a misdescription, & the defect was not a mere formal one, but was a matter of substance.—Re JERNINGHAM, Ex p. JERNINGHAM (1878), 9 Ch. 1244. —— —— Different place from that given in bill of sale.]—A bkpt. in a petition for adjudication described himself as of a different place from that of which he was described in a bill of sale executed by him shortly before his bkpcy. :—Held : the petition must be dismissed.—Re SANDERS (1863), 3 New Rep. 196.

1245. —— Place of business—Effect of omitting to give—Private residence given.]—Where a bkpt. omits his place of business from his petition, notwithstanding that he inserts his private residence, his petition will be dismissed.—Re BAKER (1862), 6 L. T. 837.

1246. —— —— Effect of omitting to give all places of business.]—Where a bkpt. has not described himself in his petition as of all his residences & places of business where his debts were contracted, his petition will be dismissed, as the main object of the description is that all creditors should know who it is that petitions the ct.—Re SAVORY (1862), 7 L. T. 475.

C. Description of Act of Bankruptcy.

1247. Date of act of bankruptcy.]—Where the act of bkpcy. relied on by a petitioning creditor is failure to comply with a bkpcy. notice, the petition must state the date of the act of bkpcy.

A bkpcy. petition stated that debtor had failed to comply with a bkpcy. notice served on him on a day named :—Held : this statement was insufficient, & the petition ought to state that debtor had failed before a day, eight days later than the day on which the bkpcy. notice was stated to have been served, to comply with such notice.—Re DUNHILL, Ex p. DUNHILL, [1894] 2 Q. B. 234 ; 63 L. J. Q. B. 686 ; sub nom. Re DUNHILL, Ex p. WILSON, 1 Mans. 242 ; 10 R. 349, D. C.

1248. That debtor left dwelling-house — With intent to defeat or delay creditors—" Being a trader " omitted.] — A bkpcy. petition was presented against P., in which it was alleged that " he carried on business as a licensed victualler," & " that the act of bkpcy. committed by him was that he has with intent to defeat or delay his creditors departed from his dwelling-house & place of business, or otherwise absented himself." P. was adjudicated bkpt., & appealed from the adjudication on the grounds that the words " being a trader " were omitted from the description of the act of bkpcy. in the petition :—Held : the allegations in the petition that debtor was a licensed victualler, & that he had departed from his dwelling-house with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, were sufficient to describe the act of bkpcy.—Re PALMER, Ex p. PALMER (1881), 45 L. T. 93, C. A.

D. Description of Debt.

1249. Debt on dishonoured bill — Need not be strictly stated.]—Where a debtor's summons is sued out upon a dishonoured bill of exchange it is not necessary to state or to prove the debt with the same strictness as in an action at law ; it is sufficient to state it so that debtor shall not be misled.—Re LOWENTHAL, Ex p. LOWENTHAL (1874), 9 Ch. PART III. SECT. 3, SUB-SECT. 1.—C.

1248 i. That debtor left place of business —" With intent to defeat or delay creditors " omitted—Inserted in affidavit in support.]—A petition alleged that debtors " departed from their place of business & were secreting themselves so as to deprive their creditors of the means of communicating with them." The affidavit in support alleged debtors were " secreting themselves for the purpose of evading their creditors " :—Held : a sufficient statement of intent to defeat or delay creditors. If the act of insolvency is not expressed with sufficient certainty the ct. may look at the affidavit & after reading the petition with the affidavit find that the act of insolvency is charged with sufficient certainty.—GUNNIS & Co. v. MAHOMED AYYUB SAHIB (1913), I. SUB-SECT. 4.—HEARING.

1287. Duty of court—Notice given to dispute debt & act of bankruptcy—Debt not established at law.]—Debtor was served with a debtor's summons for the balance of an account. An application to dismiss the summons was refused with costs, on the ground of a defect in the jurat of his affidavit. A petition having been presented debtor gave notice to dispute the debt & the act of bkpcy. On hearing the petition the registrar ordered debtor within seven days to enter into a bond with two sureties to pay what might be recoverable in an action, & stayed proceedings in bkpcy. till the action had been tried. Seven days having elapsed without the bond being given, a notice was given to proceed in bkpcy., & on the hearing of the motion the registrar, without entering into the merits, adjudged debtor bkpt. :—Held : the order for adjudication was wrong, for the debt not having been established at law, it was the duty of the registrar to investigate the account & decide whether a debt sufficient to support an adjudication was due.—Re HARRIS, Ex p. HARRIS (1875), 10 Ch. debt.]—A petitioning creditor was held responsible for the production of a bill of exchange, upon the direct proof of which petitioning creditor's debt had been established, & ordered to pay the cost of inquiries as to it.

Petitioning creditor is the moving principle which regulates the whole proceedings under the bkpcy., & it is his duty to throw no aspersion or doubt on that commission which originates from himself, for the validity of which he has pledged himself at the issuing, & which, in all its stages, he is bound to be assistant to. I will not suffer a petitioning creditor, thus establishing the commission, to say the bill is in any other hands than his own. Even supposing [petitioning creditor] was not bound himself to have retained the bill, yet still he never could be permitted to say that he was ignorant where the bill was to be found, if he was not himself able to produce it, as the foundation of the commission. Putting it at the lowest he ought to have taken reasonable care that that evidence, if necessary, would be forthcoming (LORD ELDON, C.).—Re KEMP, Ex p. GLOSSOP (1816), 2 Rose, 386.

1296. —— Admission of further evidence.]—A petition having been adjourned, fresh affidavits in reply were filed since the adjournment:—Held: such affidavits ought to be read, in order that the ct. might judge whether a vivâ voce examination would be necessary.—Ex p. BAILEY (1835), 4 L. J. Bcy. 50.

Dismissal of petition.]—See Part IV., Sect. 2, post.

SUB-SECT. 5.—ATTENDANCE OF PARTIES.

1297. Petitioning creditor—Attendance necessary—Unless dispensed with by court.]—According to the established practice the attendance of petitioning creditor is necessary at the hearing of the petition, unless the ct. think fit to dispense with it, notwithstanding that the debt is based on a judgment.—Re PURRETT, Ex p. PURRETT (1895), 73 L. T. 224; 44 W. R. 171; 39 Sol. Jo. 726; 2 Mans. 403; 15 R. 644, D. C.

1298. —— Debtor denying debt & act of bankruptcy—Whether absolute right to insist on attendance.]—Creditors in partnership, residing abroad, issued a debtor's summons against an Englishman. The affidavit in support of the summons was made by their agent in England. Debtor denied the debt & applied to the ct. to dismiss the summons, & he gave notice to the creditors that he required them to attend on the hearing of his application, for the purpose of being examined as to the alleged debt:—Held: debtor had, in the circumstances, no absolute right to require the presence of the summoning creditors on the hearing of his application.—Re IRVING, Ex p. BARRON (1875), 10 Ch. App. 269; 44 L. J. Bcy. 66; 32 L. T. 139; 23 W. R. 432, L. JJ.

1299. —— Discretion of court to dispense with.]—The discretion of the ct. in dispensing with the attendance of petitioning creditor upon the hearing of a bkpcy. petition, will not, without good cause, be interfered with.—Re RAYNER, Ex p. RAYNER (1877), 37 L. T. 38; 25 W. R. 851.

1300. —— Grounds for exercising discretion—Dangerous illness.]—A petitioning creditor was dangerously ill at Bristol, & prayed the comrs. to admit proof of his debts in bkpcy. proceedings in London, on production of the office copy of the affidavit, on which the commission was granted. LORD ELDON, C., made the order asked for on production of a medical affidavit that petitioner would not travel to London without danger.—Ex p. EDWARDS (1803), 8 Ves. 318 ; 32 E. R. 377.

1301. —— —— Risk to health.]—Where petitioning creditor was seventy-seven years of age, resided one hundred & fifty-four miles from the place where the fiat was to be worked & could not go but at the risk of his life :—Held : the ct. would dispense with his personal attendance.—Re WOOD (1832), 1 Mont. 509.

1302. —— —— Distance.]—A distance of eighty miles :—Held : not a cause for non-attendance of petitioning creditors.—Ex p. COX (1832), Mont. 390 ; 1 Deac. & Ch. 205.

1303. ——————.]—Held : when petitioning creditor resided eighty miles from the place of opening the fiat, his personal attendance was dispensed with.—Re POLTON (1834), 3 Deac. & Ch. 688.

1304. —— —— ——.]—Petitioning creditor's attendance was dispensed with, the distance being one hundred & ten miles.—Re FREEMAN (1836), 3 Mont. & A. 33.

1305. ——————.]—Attendance of petitioning creditor dispensed with, the distance being one hundred & thirty miles.—Re GITTON, Ex p. MARSHALL (1837), 3 Mont. & A. 133.

1306. —— —— ——.]—Petitioning creditor residing in Manchester was excused personal attendance at Evesham in Worcestershire.—Re FITZ (1837), 1 Jur. 288.

1307. —— —— —— & inconvenience.]—The fact that the opening of the commission was to take place at a distance of forty-seven miles from petitioning creditor's residence, where he carried on a manufactory, which he could not leave without great inconvenience :—Held : too slight for dispensing with his attendance at the opening of the commission.—Re GLYNN, Ex p. WILLIAMSON (1820), 1 Jac. & W. 240 ; 37 E. R. 366.

Annotation :—Refd. Ex p. COX (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 205.

1308. ——————.]—On the application of petitioning creditor to dispense with his personal attendance at the opening of the fiat, it appeared the fiat might have been executed in London, but that would have caused great expense & inconvenience to the creditors, other than petitioning creditor, as the distance was over two hundred miles :—Held : neither the mere personal inconvenience, nor the distance, standing alone, was sufficient, but the combination of circumstances sufficed to induce the ct. to allow the application.—Re KIRBY, Ex p. ROSS (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 552, Ct. of R.

1309. ——————.]—The attendance of three petitioning creditors dispensed with, on the ground that they were the only partners of their respective firms, who conducted the business, & could not, without great inconvenience, attend at the distance of forty miles.—Re SHANNON (1838), 7 L. J. Bcy. 41

1310 —— Effect of order dispensing with attendance — Debtor wishing to cross-examine — Adjournment.]—Where the attendance of petitioning creditor had been dispensed with, & the party showing cause against it sought to cross-examine him, & where petitioning creditor's debt was founded on a judgment, & petitioning creditor resided in Ireland, the ct. adjourned the hearing to enable him to attend.—Re PHŒNIX LIFE ASSURANCE CO., Ex p. MARTIN (1860), 2 L. T. 196.

1311. —— —— Debtor disputing — Statements in petition must be proved.]—A petitioning creditor, who obtains an order ex p. dispensing with his attendance on the hearing of his petition, is not relieved from the necessity of proving the statements in the petition, if debtor subsequently gives notice of his intention to dispute such statements.—Re DEBTOR (No. 1 of 1916), [1916] H. B. R. 54, D. C.

1312. —— Failure to appear—Petition may be dismissed—With costs.]—If, upon the day appointed for the hearing of a petition for adjudication, neither petitioning creditor, nor his solr., nor any one on his behalf, attends to support the petition, the ct. will, upon the application of alleged debtor, dismiss the petition with costs, pursuant to the discretion vested in the ct. by 1869 Act, s. 8.—Re H. B., Ex p. ANON. (1870), 22 L. T. 179.

1313. —— —— —— Petition not served on debtor.]—The ct. has control over the proceedings & over the petition, & if petitioning creditor does not appear on the hearing, it can dismiss the petition, even if it has not been served on debtor.—Re STOCKLEY, Ex p. DISCOUNT CO. (1893), 37 Sol. Jo. 511 ; 10 Morr. 131 ; 5 R. 353, D. C.

1314. —— —— Without attendance being dispensed with.]—A petitioning creditor in bkpcy. must personally attend the hearing none the less that his debt is a judgment debt, for the ct. may wish to go behind the judgment, or satisfy itself of his bonâ fides. If petitioning creditor fails to attend, or refuses to submit to cross-examination on the demand of debtor without such attendance or cross-examination having been dispensed with by the registrar, the receiving order will be set aside as irregular.—Re PURRETT, Ex p. PURRETT (1895), 73 L. T. 224 ; 44 W. R. 171 ; 39 Sol. Jo. 726 ; 2 Mans. 403 ; 15 R. 644, D. C.

1315. —— —— After notice of intention not to proceed—Right to present second petition.]—Re GENTRY, No. 1215, ante.

1316. —— —— At postponed hearing — Dismissal of petition.]—After a petition has been called on, & the hearing postponed to a future day, by consent of both parties, if petitioner does not then appear to support it, resp. is entitled to have the petition dismissed with costs, without an affidavit that he has been served with the petition.—Re TORIE, Ex p. WARD (1835), 1 Deac. 86.

1317. —— —— At adjourned hearing — Dismissal of appeal through delay.]—Petitioning creditor agreed to grant debtor an adjournment, but the petition was dismissed on account of the non-appearance of petitioning creditor. Notice of appeal having been given, a receiving order was made on debtor's petition. The appeal was by consent adjourned, & was not heard for a year. It was then dismissed on the ground of the delay.—Re GAMLEN, Ex p. WARD & CO. (1887), 4 Morr. 301, D. C.

1318. —— Privilege from arrest.]—A petitioning creditor attending the comrs. for the purpose of watching the progress of the commission, & of proposing himself as an assignee, is protected from arrest eundo, morando, et redeundo.—SELBY v. HILLS (1832), 8 Bing. 166 ; 1 Dowl. 257 ; 1 Moo. & S. 253 ; 1 L. J. C. P. 55 ; 131 E. R. 364.

counsel was on the way to the ct., & would shortly arrive to appear for debtor. The registrar waited ten minutes, & then, no one being present on behalf of debtor, adjudicated him a bkpt. Ten minutes afterwards, debtor, attended by his solr. & counsel, arrived, but the registrar refused to re-open the matter:—Held: there had been undue haste in the proceedings, & the petition must be remitted to the ct. below to be heard on its merits. —Re PHILLIPS, Ex p. PHILLIPS (1874), 44 L. J. Bcy. 11; 31 L. T. 416; 23 W. R. 24.

1320. Person proving act of bankruptcy—Ordered to attend.]—Separate commissions of bkpcy. against partners, were taken out by a joint creditor on the same debt, & on the same day. A joint commission having issued, & petitioning creditor under the separate commissions refusing to disclose the person who proved the act of bkpcy., LORD ELDON, C., ordered that person to attend the comrs. under the joint commission at the peril of costs.—Ex p. GARDNER (1812), 1 Ves. & B. 74; 35 E. R. 29.

1321. —— & trading—Personal attendance dispensed with—Distance.]—Personal attendance of witnesses to prove the trading & act of bkpcy., not required, where the distance exceeds twenty-five miles.—ANON. (1843), 1 L. T. O. S. 338.

SUB-SECT. 6.—WHAT MUST BE PROVED.

1322. Allegations in petition — Though unopposed.]—At the hearing of a bkpcy. petition, even though resp. has given no notice of his intention to show cause against the petition, & does not appear, the allegations contained in the petition must be supported by further evidence than the common affidavit.—Re LINDSAY, Ex p. LINDSAY (1874), L. R. 19 Eq. 52; 44 L. J. Bcy. 5; 31 L. T. 415; 23 W. R. 44.

1323. —— Not included in debtor's notice to dispute.]—Upon the hearing of an opposed petition the affidavit of verification cannot be used in proof of any matters in the petition, & petitioning creditor should go provided with proof of all the essential matters in his petition, for the ct. will usually allow debtor to require proof of all essential matters, whether mentioned in his notice to dispute or not, unless it appear that such objections by debtor are merely dilatory.—Re SANDERS, Ex p. SANDERS (1894), 63 L. J. Q. B. 734; 71 L. T. 236; 42 W. R. 650; 38 Sol. Jo. 632; 1 Mans. 382; 10 R. 443, D. C.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 5 (2).

1324. —— Petitioning creditor's debt—Debtor claiming set-off.]—Debtor gave notice to dispute petitioning creditor's claim, & filed an affidavit admitting the debt but claiming a set-off. At the hearing debtor & his witnesses were present, but, owing to the absence of his solrs., he did not tender any evidence:—Held: petitioning creditor's debt had not been sufficiently proved, in the absence of any further evidence than that contained in the affidavit filed with the petition.—Re ORMSTON, Ex p. DODD (1876), 3 Ch. D. 452; 25 W. R. 185, C. A.

See, now, 1915 Rules, r. 171.

1325. Petition founded on bills of exchange or notes—Indorsed to petitioning creditor—That indorsement before — Commission sued out.]—Where petitioning creditor's debt, set up to support a commission of bkpcy., is a bill of exchange drawn by bkpt. & indorsed to petitioning creditor, evidence must be adduced that it was so indorsed, before the suing out of the commission.—ROSE v. ROWCROFT (1815), 4 Camp. 245, N. P.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 4 (1) (b).

1327. —— One dishonoured & one current—Current bill lost.]—On opening the commission, the debt of A., petitioning creditor, was established on two bills of exchange, one of which was dishonoured & the other undue, & the adjudication took place. The running bill was lost immediately afterwards. The commission being disputed at law by a party, whom A., who had been appointed assignee, sued in trover:—Held: it was sufficient to prove the existence of petitioning creditor's debt, giving secondary evidence of the bill, at the date of the commission, though it was contended that it ought to exist at the commencement of the action, & A., at that time, could not have recovered at law, as the bill might be in the hands of a petition—Before filing schedule.]—The insolvent filed his petition in the Insolvent Ct., & the usual order was passed, vesting all the insolvent's estate & effects in the official assignee from the date of the filing of the petition. Before the insolvent filed his schedule in the Insolvent Ct., he was executed for murder:—Held: 11 & 12 Vict. c. 21, ss. 21, 26, gave the official assignee ample powers for the ascertainment & realisation of an insolvent's estate without the aid of a schedule.—Re KALLEE CHURN KHETTRY, 1 Ind. 1353. —— —— —— ——.]—Where a bkpcy. petition is presented by a creditor founded on the failure of debtor to pay a judgment debt, & an appeal is pending from such judgment, it is a matter of discretion for the registrar whether he will stay the proceedings or not, & the judgment debtor cannot in such case under 1883 Act, s. 7 (4), claim a stay of proceedings as of right.

1328. Petition on cheque given to debtor—Proof of payment.]—A petitioning creditor's debt was created by his giving bkpt. a cheque on petitioning creditor's banker:—Held: (1) to establish the debt the payment of the cheque must be proved; (2) it was not sufficient (especially where bkpt.'s papers came to the hand of petitioning creditor) to show the cheque to have come to his hands again, & that his bankers, the day after the date of the cheque, paid on his account to bkpt.'s bankers a sum corresponding with the amount in the cheque. —BLEASBY v. CROSSLEY (1826), 3 Bing. 430; 11 Moore, C. 1329. Petition founded on non-compliance with debtor's summons—Debt, service of summons & neglect to pay must be proved.]—On the hearing of a bkpcy. petition the act of bkpcy. must be directly proved. Where it is sought to found an adjudication of bkpcy. on a neglect to pay the amount demanded by a debtor's summons, the debt & the service of the summons, & the neglect to pay, must be proved by evidence adduced at the hearing. It is not enough to state in the petition the non-payment of the debt, & make merely the usual affidavit that the statements in the petition are true.—Re ROGERS, Ex p. ROGERS (1880), 15 Ch. 1340. ——— ——— ———.]—In 1889 A., mortgaged property to secure £2,000 & interest. Shortly afterwards a receiving order was made against A., on his own petition. In July, 1890, he made a composition with his creditors under 1883 Act, s. 18, which was approved of by the ct., under which the creditors were to be paid by three instalments extending over a year. The mtgees. neither attended the creditors' meeting nor assented to the scheme of composition. Default was made in payment of the instalments. A. died two months after the expiration of the year, & an action was commenced by a creditor for the administration of his estate, which proved to be insolvent. The mtgees. valued their security at £1,500, & claimed to be admitted as creditors in the action for £500, the balance of their debt. Their proof had been admitted by the trustee under the composition deed:—Held: the Ct. of Bkpcy. had jurisdiction to proceed in the bkpcy. of A., under 1883 Act, ss. 18 (11), 108, notwithstanding his death, & the strict course would be to allow appcts. to take proceedings in that ct., but pltf. having submitted, in order to save delay & expense to abide by the judgment of the ct. on what would be the result of those proceedings, the claim was admitted.—Re HARDY, HARDY v. FARMER, [1896] 1 Ch. 904; 65 L. SUB-SECT. 9.—ADJOURNMENT OF HEARING AND STAY OF PROCEEDINGS.

1344. Discretion of court—Necessity for exercising—Inability to pay due to war.]—Held: the Ct. of Bkpcy. was bound to exercise the "absolute discretion" given to it by Cts. (Emergency Powers) Act, 1914 (c. 78), s. 1 (3), & where on the hearing of a bkpcy. petition a debtor's inability to pay his debts owing to circumstances attributable to the European war was proved, the ct. could in a proper case stay the proceedings on the petition.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 224 of 1916), [1916] H. 1345. ——— Must be judicially exercised.]—A money-lender, who had advanced money to debtor, part of which she had repaid, recovered judgment against her by default for the balance—of principal & interest which he claimed to be due. She paid further sums in reduction of the debt, & he served her with a bkpcy. notice in respect of the balance due under the judgment. The creditor then presented a bkpcy. petition founded upon non-compliance with the notice, the validity of which was not disputed. On the hearing of the petition debtor disputed the debt, & claimed relief under Money-lenders Act, 1900 (c. 51), on the ground that the transactions between petitioning creditor & herself were "harsh & unconscionable." The registrar held that to be established, & he fixed, as the amount properly due to the creditor, a sum considerably in excess of £50. He refused, however, to make a receiving order, but adjourned the petition with leave to the creditor to amend & re-present it in order to give debtor an opportunity of discharging the debt:—Held: the registrar having found there was a good petitioning creditor's debt, namely, a debt exceeding £50, was bound to make a receiving order, & his order adjourning the petition was not a judicial exercise of his discretion, against which there was no appeal.—Re DEBTOR, Ex p. PETITIONING CREDITOR, [1917] 2 K. 1346. ——— In whose favour exercisable—Alien enemy.]—Held: a bkpcy. petition was one of the "remedies of a creditor" within Cts. (Emergency Powers) Act, 1914 (c. 78), s. 1 (7), & the ct. could not exercise the discretion given by s. 1 (3) to stay proceedings under the petition, where debtor was an alien enemy.—Re RADEKE, Ex. p. JACOBS (1915), 84 L. 1347. ———As to subsequent adjournment.]—1915 Rules, r. 178, prohibit any further adjournment of a petition, merely by consent of the parties, after the expiration of one month from the day appointed for the first hearing. It is not to be inferred from that

Where the registrar in the exercise of his discretion refuses to stay the proceedings, the Ct. of Appeal will not interfere with his decision, unless it is clearly of opinion that the discretion was wrongly exercised.—Re FRENCH, Ex p. FRENCH (1889), 24 Q. 1354. —— —— —— ——.]—T. obtained judgment against R. & others for £250 damages, & a stay of execution was granted upon that sum being paid into ct. Defts. having appealed but without success applied for a stay pending an appeal to the House of Lords, but the stay was refused. The costs were taxed & a bkpcy. notice founded upon the judgment debt & costs was served upon R., & a bkpcy. petition was presented against him. Remaining defts. had already filed their own petitions. An appeal to the House of Lords having been entered, the registrar granted an unconditional stay of proceedings on the petition pending the appeal & the Div. Ct. refused to interfere with his discretion. Petitioning creditor appealed by leave :—Held : though the ct. would be slow to interfere with the discretion of the registrar unless it were wrongly exercised, in the circumstances the creditor ought to be permitted to have all his rights against debtor, & if proceedings were stayed it ought to be upon terms that would not inflict injustice upon the creditor, & a stay would only be granted on the terms that debtor within a month paid to the creditor's solr. the taxed costs already incurred, upon the solr.'s undertaking to repay them if the appeal were successful.—Re RUSSELL, Ex p. TEMPERTON (1893), 10 T. He had already (viz. on Apr. 9, 1896) been adjudged an insolvent by the Insolvency Ct. at Madras. Subsequent to the order of adjudication in Bombay, & while it was still in force, the insolvent obtained his personal discharge in the Insolvent Ct. at Madras under s. 49 of the Act :—Held : there being no longer any ground for apprehending that the proceedings in the Madras Ct. would be discontinued, the proceedings in the Ct. at Bombay should be stayed, leaving the Bombay creditors to take such steps in Madras as they might think proper. It would not be just or equitable to allow the proceedings in both cts. to go on concurrently. 1359. Conditions on which granted—Security for costs—Discretion as to amount.]—Debtor, being indebted to M. in the sum of £1,413, gave M. in part payment or satisfaction two promissory notes for £250 each, one of which was payable on June 30, 1883, & the other on July 17 following. The promissory note first payable was dishonoured at maturity. On July 13, M. served debtor with a debtor's summons for the £250 due on the first note, the consideration for which was stated in the debtor's summons to be the part payment of the £1,413. Debtor failed to comply with the debtor's summons, & made no application to have it dismissed, & M. filed a petition in bkpcy. against him for non-compliance with the summons. At the date of the petition the second promissory note was overdue, & the balance of the £1,413 was due. Debtor, on being served with the petition, gave notice of his intention to dispute petitioning creditor's debt & the act of bkpcy. On Aug. 24 the petition was heard, & debtor then objected to the validity of the note, & also contended that adjudication should not be made until the validity of a cross-claim against M. had been determined in an action, which had already been commenced. The registrar ordered debtor to give security for the payment of £1,000, of which £250 was to be paid on Aug. 25, for or towards payment of such sum as might be recovered by M. in any proceedings for the £1,413 & the costs, & that on payment the bkpcy. proceedings should be stayed till the decision in such action, but that in case of default debtor should be adjudicated a bkpt. Debtor, not having paid into ct. even the first instalment, was adjudicated a bkpt. on Aug. 29. On appeal debtor contended that the registrar had no power to order security for a greater amount than the amount of the debt on which the petition was founded:—Held: although as a general rule security should not be required for an amount greater than that of the debt on which the petition was founded, in special circumstances security for a greater amount could be required, & the facts that the debt, on which the petition was founded, was part of an alleged larger debt of £1,413 made up of debts all connected with each other, & that when the petition was presented a larger sum was due than the debt on which the petition was founded, constituted special circumstances which justified the order.—Re EVANS, Ex p. EVANS (1883), 50 L. SUB-SECT. 10.—SUBSTITUTION OF CREDITORS OR DEBT.

1362. Surety substituting debt—"Any other creditor."]—Petitioning creditor issued a fiat on a debt of £700, but the greater part being contracted during bkpt.'s minority & not for necessaries, the debt was reduced below £100, & was insufficient to support the fiat. Petitioning creditor had also accepted bills for the accommodation of bkpt., which having been indorsed by bkpt. to A., were proved by A. under the fiat. Petitioning creditor subsequently paid the bills:—Held: on indemnifying A., & on presenting a petition in the name of A. for that purpose, petitioning creditor was entitled, under 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, ss. 18 & 52, as a surety paying the debt, to substitute the debt so proved on the bills by A. for the original petitioning creditor's debt, so as to support the fiat, notwithstanding the words "any other creditor" in s. 18.—Re ROGERS, Ex p. ROGERS (1835), 4 Deac. & Ch. 623; 2 Mont. & A. 153; 4 L. b. Successive adjournments—Not a ground for dismissal.]—A creditor's petition was adjourned from time to time, & not heard until five months after it was presented:—Held: as the adjournments were not obtained in order to get an unfair advantage over the other creditors, the delay was not, in the circumstances, sufficient to justify a dismissal of the petition.—Re SOMERVILLE (1909), 28 N. d. Right to withdraw—Within what time.]—A creditor is not prevented from interpleading in an action because another creditor who has issued an attachment in insolvency under 1864 Act elects to withdraw such attachment within 5 days from the return day of the writ.—WORTHINGTON v. TAYLOR, 10 C. L. J. 333.—CAN.

e. Agreement to withdraw—Whether extortion.]—A petitioning creditor can, after presenting the petition, agree with debtor to withdraw the petition upon being paid the whole or a part of the debt due, & such agreement does not amount to extortion, unless the creditor agrees to accept a bonus as part of the consideration for withdrawing the petition.—Re SOMERVILLE (1909), 28 N. Z. L. R. 1055.—N.Z.

f. Leave to withdraw — Debtor's petition—Compromise.]—The Insolvent Ct. has no power to allow an insolvent to withdraw his petition of insolvency, on the ground that he has made a compromise with his creditors.—Re PYARICHAND MITTER (1871), 6 B. L. R. 558. —IND.

g. Withdrawal for which no statutory provision—Not equivalent to dismissal by consent.]—A withdrawal of a petition, for which no provision is made in Insolvency Act, cannot be regarded as the legal equivalent to its dismissal by consent.—HAJI SAJAN v. MACLEOD (1907), I. L. R. 32 Bom. 321. —IND.

PART III. SECT. 3, SUB-SECT. 12.

1367 i. Discretion of court—Defect in substance.]—Where a petition is presented, which alleges what is not an act of bkpcy., the ct. has no power to allow an amendment, which in effect substitutes an allegation of an act of bkpcy. The defect is not a formal defect or irregularity within 1892 Act, s. 127.—POLAIN v. SARGOOD BROTHERS (1908), 10 W. A. L. R. 160.—AUS.

1369 i. For what purpose granted—To amend defect in bankruptcy notice—Objection raised too late.]—On the hearing of a bkpcy. petition founded on non-compliance with a bkpcy notice issued by the Comrs. of Taxation, it was objected by debtor that the notice was bad, as it did not purport to be issued by any person or corpn.:—Held: even if that were an informality, it would be ordered to be amended, & in any case the point was taken too late. —Re CARTER SMITH, Ex p. TAXATION COMRS. (1908), 8 S. R. N. S. W. 246.—AUS.

1369 ii. —— To insert new causes of action.]—Leave to amend a petition by inserting new causes of action should not be given at a time when by doing so the ct. would be depriving deft. of the plea of limitation.—GUNNIS & CO. v. MAHOMED AYYUB SAHIB (1913), I. L. R. 37 Mad. 555.—IND.

1369 iii. —— To remedy omission to state creditor secured.]—An omission to state the fact that petitioning creditor is a secured creditor & the value of his security is one that can be cured by amendment.—GUNNIS & CO. v. MAHOMED AYYUB SAHIB (1913), I. L. R. 37 Mad. 555.—IND.

1372. —— —— ——.]—At the hearing of a bkpcy. petition the objection was raised on behalf of debtor that petitioning creditor was a mere trustee for his father, & the registrar, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the petition without leave to amend:—Held: although the registrar was justified in coming to the conclusion he did, yet, as a matter of indulgence, leave to amend the petition by joining the father should be granted, subject to the condition that all costs thrown away by his not being joined should be paid by the father within one month, including the costs of the appeal.—Re ELLIS, Ex p. HINSHELWOOD (1887), 4 Morr. 283, C. A.

1373. —— To join fresh creditors—To bring up debt to statutory amount.]—A bkpcy. petition, founded upon debts which turn out to be in the aggregate insufficient to maintain it, cannot, after the lapse of three months from the date of the act of bkpcy., be amended by the addition of fresh creditors as co-petitioners, whose debts will raise the aggregate petitioning debt to the amount required by 1883 Act, s. 6.—Re MAUND, Ex p. MAUND, [1895] 1 Q. B. 194; 64 L. J. Q. B. 183; 72 L. T. 58; 43 W. R. 207; 11 T. L. R. 126; 39 Sol. Jo. 136; 1 Mans. 514; 15 R. 159, D. C.

1374. —— To correct particulars of debt—Liberty to take out new fiat.]—Petitioning creditor's debt was by mistake sworn to be a joint debt. The fiat had been taken out in the name of two, & had been opened. The ct. refused liberty to amend the fiat, but gave liberty to take out a new fiat.—Re MORRIS, Ex p. RHANDS (1839), Mont. & Ch. 348; 4 Deac. 124, Ct. of R.

1375. —— To correct misdescription of petitioning creditor—Circumstances in which leave granted.]—Petitioning creditor, secretary of an insurance society, petitioned in his capacity as such. He was correctly described as secretary of the society in the affidavit on striking the docket & in the bond, but neither in the petition nor in the commission was he so described:—Held: the petition & commission might be amended, where there was the affidavit to amend by, & the necessity for amendment was created by the act of the officer.—Re SAVERY, Ex p. GUTHRIE (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 245, L. C.

1376. —— —— Circumstances in which leave refused.]—A debt was due from H. to A., B. & C. as exors. of R. The petition stated that bkpt. was indebted to A. only, while the affidavit of debt made by A. stated the debt to be due to himself, B. & C. as such exors. The commission stated that H. had become bkpt. "with intent to defraud & hinder A. & others, his creditors, of their just debts." Bkpt. brought an unsuccessful action impeaching the commission, but having obtained a rule for a new trial, he obtained a verdict, on the ground of the incorrectness of the petition & commission. The error in the commission & petition was known to the solr. who took out the commission, before the first trial. On a petition by A., B. & C. asking (inter alia) that the commission & petition might be amended:—Held: the order asked for must be refused.—Re HORROCKS, Ex p. FORSHAW, LEECE & BANNER (1823), 1 Gl. & J. 368, L. C.

1377. —— To correct misdescription of debtor.]—A trader, against whom a petition for adjudication has been filed, had only been in trade ten weeks:—Held: the form of petition might be altered according to the fact.—ANON. (1850), 14 L. T. O. S. 469.

1378. —— ——.]—An error in the description of debtor in his petition for adjudication, as where he described himself as an "appraiser" only, he being at the same time an "auctioneer & valuer," is a misdescription material to the merits of the case, as tending to mislead creditors, & cannot be amended, but the petition will be dismissed.—Re SAVORY, Ex p. SAVORY (1864), 11 L. T. 460.

1379. —— To correct description of act of bankruptcy.]—A bkpcy. petition against a trader, which alleges as an act of bkpcy. that he has departed from his dwelling-house or otherwise absented himself, must allege that he did so with intent to defeat or delay his creditors, otherwise the petition will be demurrable, & must be dismissed. Such a defect is a matter of substance, not a merely formal defect, & cannot be cured by amendment after adjudication.—Re SKELTON, Ex p. COATES (1877), 5 Ch. D. 979; 37 L. T. 43; 25 W. R. 800, C. A.

1380. —— ——.]—In a petition for adjudication the act of bkpcy alleged was that debtors "have absented themselves from their places of business, debtors' place of business being closed & no one left in charge," but the petition did not go on to allege that debtors had absented themselves "with intent to defeat or delay their creditors." The registrar amended the petition by adding the intent, & same was served again upon debtors & a receiving order made:—Held: as no adjudication had taken place, the omission of the words "with intent to defeat or delay creditors" was a defect which could be remedied by amendment.—Re FIDDIAN, SQUIRE & Co. (1892), 66 L. T. 203; 9 Morr. 95, D. C.

1381. —— To correct particulars as to date of act of bankruptcy.]—A bkpcy. petition presented against debtor alleged as the act of bkpcy. committed by him that debtor within three months before the date of the petition committed the following act of bkpcy., viz. "Noncompliance with a bkpcy. notice issued out of this ct. on May 13, 1890, & duly served upon (debtor) on the 13th day of the month." The petition having been dismissed on the ground that the act of bkpcy. was not sufficiently alleged upon the face of the petition:—Held: the objection was a purely technical one, which the registrar ought to have dealt with by amendment, & the petition 1379 i. —— To correct description of act of bankruptcy.]—On a creditor's petition to adjudicate debtor a bkpt. the ct. gave leave to amend the petition by inserting in lieu of the words "a return of nulla bona" the words "that there were not sufficient goods of the said S." [debtor] "whereon to levy distress," & directed that the petition as amended should be served on debtor:—Held: this was merely a technical amendment by which no injustice could have been caused to debtor, & a fresh affidavit of verification was not necessary.—Re SOMERVILLE (1909), 28 N. Z. L. R. 1055.—N.Z.

1379 ii. —— ——.]—The omission to state the intention to defeat or delay creditors either in the petition or in the affidavit is a substantial defect incurable by amendment.—GUNNIS & Co. v. MAHOMED AYYUB SAHIB (1913), I. L. R. 37 Mad. 555.—IND.

1382. ——.]—A bkpcy. petition is defective, if it does not state the date on which the alleged act of bkpcy. was committed in accordance with 1886 & 1890 Rules, r. 143, but the defect is an informality, of which the ct. may allow amendment under 1883 Act, s. 143 (1).—Re DUNHILL, Ex p. DUNHILL, [1894] 2 Q. B. 234; 63 L. J. Q. B. 686; 1 Mans. 242; 10 R. 349, D. C.

1383. —— To correct defect in attestation.]—A bkpcy. petition not properly attested ought, if possible, to be amended at the hearing.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 3 of 1902), Ex p. PETITIONING CREDITORS v. THE DEBTOR (1902), 86 L. SUB-SECT. 13.—CONSOLIDATION AND TRANSFER.

A. Consolidation.

1384. Partnership — Separate adjudications — Followed by joint adjudication.]—After two separate adjudications of bkpcy. had been made against two partners on their own petitions, a joint adjudication was obtained against both on the petition of a joint creditor:—Held: an order consolidating the separate petitions with the joint petition, was irregular, & must be discharged.—Re POWELL, Ex p. HAINES (1858), 3 De G. & J. 58; 27 L. J. Bcy. 33; 32 L. T. O. S. 201; 4 Jur. N. S. 1256; 6 W. R. 642, C. A.

See, now, 1914 Act, ss. 110, 116.

Annotation:—Refd. Re O'Reardon (1873), 9 Ch. App. 74, L. C. & L. J.

1386. —— —— ——.]—An adjudication of bkpcy. was made upon a petition presented against two partners in trade. A petition had been previously presented by the same creditor against one of the partners separately, & some proceedings had been taken under it, but no adjudication had been made:—Held: (1) there was power to order the proceedings under the separate petition to be consolidated with those under the joint petition; (2) bkpt. had no locus standi to oppose the consolidation.—Re HELLIWELL, Ex p. MACKENZIE (1875), L. R. 20 Eq. 758; 44 L. J. Bcy. 117; 33 L. T. 59.

1387. —— Separate petitions filed in same court.]—Held: 1849 Act, s. 98, applied to a case where the second petition was against all the members of the firm.

Where, under the sect., an order of annexation had been made of a joint to a prior separate petition for adjudication, & assignees had been chosen under the separate adjudication, joint creditors as well as separate creditors voting in the choice, the ct. refused to discharge the annexing order or to annul the separate in favour of the joint adjudication.—Re DALES, Ex p. GREEN (1858), 3 De G. & J. 50; 27 L. J. Bcy. 32; 44 E. R. 1187, L. JJ.

B. Transfer.

1388. Convenience of creditors.] — On an affidavit that the major part of the creditors, & the witnesses to prove the requisites of the bkpcy., as well as one of bkpts., resided in the counties of Durham & Northumberland & that all the effects of bkpts. were also in one or other of those counties:—Held: the fiat might be directed to comrs. at Hexham in Northumberland instead of being directed to a London Comr.—Re HALL, Ex p. BOLAN (1832), 2 Deac. & Ch. 331, Ct. of R.

1389. ——.]—Where thirty-four creditors resided at Bristol, & only twenty-four at Newport, whose debts did not amount to £150, & no proceedings had been taken under the fiat:—Held: the fiat should be directed to comrs. at Bristol, instead of Newport.—Re JOHNSTON (1837), 2 Deac. 290, Ct. of R.

1390. ——.]—Motion by petitioning creditor, who lived at Manchester, to have the fiat sent to Manchester instead of Evesham in Worcestershire, to which latter place it had been directed. The creditors principally lived elsewhere than at Evesham. The motion, as asked, was refused.—Re FITZ (1837), 1 Jur. 288.

1392. ——.]—Where bkpt. resided at Bridge End, the majority of the creditors residing at Bristol, & the nearest list of comrs. was the Cardiff list, which met more than thirty miles from bkpt's. residence, the ct. granted an order to move the fiat to the Bristol comrs., it being more convenient to hold meetings in Bristol.—Re EVANS, Ex p. EVANS (1838), 7 L. 1383 i. —— To correct defect in attestation — Amendment by court.] — The omission to have a petition attested by a solr., who was present at the signing, is an immaterial irregularity, & the mere use of the word "shall" in 1892 Act, s. 31, cannot prevent the ct. causing the omission to be rectified under s. 166 by allowing the solr. to attest the petition.—Re HARRISON (1904), 23 N. In the petition it was stated "that none of your petitioners have any security for their respective debts." An affidavit verifying the petition was severally sworn by the four petitioners, & each petitioner swore that debtor was justly & truly indebted to him in the sum named in the petition:—Held: if the affidavit did not contain a sufficient verification of the statement in the petition that none of the creditors were secured the ct. had power to allow, & ought to allow, an amendment by the filing of a supplemental affidavit.—BURTON v. TAYLOR (1909), 29 N. Z. L.R. 149.—N.Z.

1395. ——.]—The non-existence of creditors at the place to which a country fiat is issued, is not a sufficient reason for its removal.—Re BINKS (1839), Mont. & Ch. 143, Ct. of R.

1396. ——.]—Bkpt. carried on business of a silk throwster at Ilminster, it was alleged that the debts of the creditors who resided in London amounted to £18,000, that all silk bought by bkpt. had been purchased in London, that only one creditor of any consequence resided at Ilminster, & that the fiat would be better executed in London: —Held: the venue should not be changed from Ilminster to London, as it did not appear that any effects to be administered were in London, but on the contrary it must be presumed that they were to be found where bkpt. carried on business.—Ex p. KNOWLES (1839), 4 Deac. 213, Ct. of R.

1397. ——.]—An application to remove a fiat from Norfolk to London, on the ground that the debts amounted to £14,000 & creditors to the amount of £10,000 were anxious for the removal, was refused.—Re SMITH-WRIGHT (1839), Mont. & Ch. 144, Ct. of R.

1398. ——.]—A London creditor applied that a fiat against a Cheltenham bkpt. might be issued to the Ct. of Bkpcy. in London, Cheltenham being one hundred & twenty miles from London, & petitioning creditor, the witnesses to prove the act of bkpcy., & the majority in value of the creditors residing in London:—Held: the application should be granted, bkpt.'s expenses to attend meeting to surrender to be paid by petitioning creditor.—ANON. (1839), Mont. & Ch. 142, Ct. of R.

1399. ——.]—An application that a Birmingham fiat against a trader residing at Birmingham should be issued to London, all the creditors but one being in London & offering to pay bkpt.'s expenses, was refused.

The general rule is, that a fiat must issue to the place where the trader resides, from which there must be an urgent reason to deviate. The excuse in this case does not appear to me to be sufficient, although my inclination is to prefer a London to a country fiat (SIR J. CROSS).—ANON. (1839), Mont. & Ch. 142, Ct. of R.

1400. ——.]—A London fiat will not be issued against a country trader because petitioning creditor resides in London, where £1,300 out of £2,000 creditors also reside, & the proof of the act of bkpcy. is more easy & less expensive in London. —Re JONES, Ex p. RAWLINSON (1839), 3 Deac. 535; Mont. & Ch. 59.

1401. ——.]—A fiat was directed to London, instead of country, comrs., the debts amounting to £1,400, & creditors to the amount of £1,300 residing in London.—Re BAKER (1840), 10 L. J. Bcy. 32; 4 Jur. 1018.

1402. ——.]—Upon proof that the debts of bkpt., a draper at Cheltenham, amounted to £6,930, & that only two creditors to the amount of £1,060 resided at or near Cheltenham, that twenty-two creditors, whose debts amounted to £2,700 resided in London, that one creditor to the amount of £2,628 resided in Bedford, & that the other creditors, thirteen in number, & whose debts amounted to about £700, resided principally in the counties of Nottingham, Warwick, Stafford & Lancaster, & that all the witnesses to support the fiat resided in London:—Held: the fiat should be directed to London.—Re WILD, Ex p. LYCETT (1840), 4 Deac. 272; Mont. & Ch. 642, L. C.

1403. ——.]—Three persons carried on business at L. in Carmarthenshire, two residing there, & managing the business, & the third, a dormant partner, residing in London. All the partnership property was at L. A fiat was sued out by the son of the dormant partner against the firm, & the fiat was transmitted to the Ct. of Bkpcy. in London. On the petition of some of the creditors of the firm, the fiat was removed to Bristol.—Re GRYLLS (1848), 17 L. J. Bcy. 7; 10 L. T. O. S. 422.

1404. ——.]—A comr. of the London Ct. of Bkpcy. made an order for the transfer of a petition for adjudication & all proceedings thereunder from a country district to London. Bkpt. resided & had his property in the country district, but the great majority in value of his creditors lived in London, & elsewhere out of the country district:—Held: the order was properly within 1849 Act, s. 90.—Re SHAW, Ex p. SEWELL (1853), 3 De G. M. & G. 508; 22 L. J. Bcy. 29; 21 L. T. O. S. 27; 17 Jur. 333; 43 E. R. 199, L. JJ.

Annotation:—Refd. Re Private Arrangement, Ex p. Devas (1861), 3 L. T. 866.

1405. ——.]—A trader became bkpt. upon his own petition in London. The great majority of the creditors resided in & about Hull, & no London creditor had proved under the petition. At the instance of the assignees & of the country creditors: —Held: the prosecution of the petition should be transferred to the ct. for the Leeds district.—Re BAKER, Ex p. BAKER'S ASSIGNEES (1858), 32 L. T. O. S. 200.

1406. ——.]—Bkpcy. proceedings had been commenced at London & Brighton. The largest creditors were in London, but the majority resided at Brighton, their debts, however, not being disputed. The trustee resided in London:—Held: the proceedings should be transferred to London. —Re LINTON (1892), 8 T. L. R. 377, C. A.

1407. —— What evidence required.]— The ct. will not order the transfer of proceedings under an adjudication of bkpcy. under 1861 Act, s. 88, except upon evidence of a grave & preponderating majority of the creditors desiring it.

Where the first meeting of the creditors under the bkpcy. had been held, & the choice of assignees adjourned, the ct. would not, in the circumstances, interfere until the choice, when the creditors might have an opportunity of expressing their opinion as to the desirability of the proposed transfer.—Re SYME, Ex p. ROYAL BANK OF LIVERPOOL (1861), 5 L. T. 696.

1408. Inquiries more conveniently pursued.]— The fact of there being inquiries necessary, which cannot be so well pursued in the country as in London, is sufficient to remove the fiat to London, though no case of improper behaviour is established

1409. Examination of bankers' books.]—On an application to change the venue of a fiat from Bristol to London:—Held: as bankers' books required to be examined, & it would be very inconvenient to the estate to have the expense of bringing them & their books to London, the application should be refused.—Re MOSES, Ex p. BRETT (1839), Mont. & Ch. 70, Ct. of R.

1410. Commissioners not available.] — Where there were only two comrs. who could by any probability, & that with some inconvenience, be procured to act at Pontypool, & the debts amounted to £60,000 & only four of the creditors resided in the neighbourhood of Pontypool:—Held: the venue of the fiat should be changed from Pontypool to Bristol.—Re GEACH (1839), 4 Deac. 57; Mont. & Ch. 145, L. C.

1411. Refusal of commissioners to act.]—The venue was changed where the comrs. refuse to act.—Re TODD (1840), 4 Jur. 91, Ct. of R.

1412. Alleged fraudulent deposit of goods in another district.]—The venue of a fiat was changed from Southampton to London, nearly all the creditors residing in London, the act of bkpcy. being committed there, & an alleged fraudulent deposit of goods in London, petitioning creditor & the assignees paying the additional expenses of bkpt.—Re JAMES (1839), 4 Deac. 81; Mont. & Ch. 349; 8 L. J. Bcy. 51, Ct. of R.

1413. Collusion.]—Application to have the venue changed to Bristol. The fiat had been directed to A., a small town twenty miles from Swansea, where bkpt. had carried on business. One-third in number & value of bkpt.'s creditors resided in Bristol, the whole of the debts owing by bkpt. at A. amounted to no more than the sum of £25, & the rest of the creditors were scattered throughout sixteen other places in England, Scotland & Ireland. The application was refused, on the ground that it raised a suspicion in the mind of the ct., that there was some collusion between petitioning creditor & bkpt., & that they wished to work the fiat away from bkpt.'s place of business, & behind the backs of his neighbours. On a further application to the Lord Chancellor, supported by the affidavit of the town agent of the solr. to the fiat, stating that he did not believe that his client would countenance such collusion between petitioning creditor & bkpt. the application was granted.—Re MOOR (1840), 4 Jur. 107.

1414. ——.]—Where an order for a London fiat had been obtained at the instance of petitioning creditor, instead of one directed to the place where bkpt. had carried on his business, & where the greater number of his creditors resided, & it afterwards appeared to the ct., that there was reason to suspect that the venue had been changed to serve some secret purpose of bkpt., & that petitioning creditor was colluding with bkpt. to accomplish such object, the London fiat was annulled, & a country fiat directed to issue.—Re IRVING, Ex p. MILLER (1841), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 237, Ct. of R.

1415. ——.]—The circumstances that the majority of the creditors, & a large proportion of the debtors to the estate, reside within the jurisdiction of a district ct., within which the trading took place, & out of which bkpt. removed shortly before the bkpcy. with a view, it was stated, of having a friendly fiat issued against him in a ct. where his conduct would not be easily investigated, that other bkpcies. with which the one in question was connected, were in course of prosecution in the district ct. & that many of the creditors were unable to afford the expense of a journey to London:—Held: insufficient grounds for transferring the fiat from London to the district ct.—Re GARBETT, Ex p. DOWNES (1847), De G. 390, Ct. of R.

1416. To set aside cognovit to preferred creditor.]—Application to remove the fiat from Shepton Mallet to London, the object of the fiat being to set aside a cognovit to a preferred creditor. Petitioners were the only creditors whose debt was large enough to constitute a good petitioning creditor's debt, & the witnesses to prove the act of bkpcy. resided in London:—Held: as the validity of the cognovit must be ascertained before the country comrs., & proved by persons who most likely resided in bkpt.'s neighbourhood, the application must be refused.—Re MANSFIELD, Ex p. WAINWRIGHT (1839), 4 Deac. 56; Mont. & Ch. 145, Ct. of R.

1417. Debtor absconding from usual residence.]—On the application of petitioning creditor, supported by his affidavit that he had obtained a list of the creditors from bkpt.'s wife, by which it appeared that all of them except one resided in London, that bkpt. was a hawker, & that he & his wife had absconded from their usual residence, & that all the witnesses to prove the requisites to support the fiat also resided in London:—Held: the fiat should be directed to the Ct. of Bkpcy. in London instead of to comrs. in Dorsetshire in the very special circumstances.—Re GRAHAM, Ex p. MARTIN (1839), 4 Deac. 212; Mont. & Ch. 639, Ct. of R.

1418. Intent to elude creditors.]—The ct. will order the transfer of a petition, & the proceedings thereunder, to a district ct., where there are grounds for believing that the proceedings were instituted by bkpt. in the London ct. with an intent to elude his creditors.—Re BARNARD (1863), 1 New Rep. 231.

1419. Application for — How made.] — An application for transfer from London should be made to the bankruptcy judge in chambers.—Re WILLIAMS, Ex p. CHIEF OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1888), 5 Morr. 103.

1420. —— At whose instance—At what stage.]—The ct. will, at the instance of the solr. for the official assignee where no creditors' assignee is chosen, & at the sitting for bkpt. to pass his last examination & apply for his order of discharge, order a transfer of the proceedings from the ct. in London to a country district ct. within the jurisdiction of which bkpt. resided & traded, & where sixty-nine out of seventy-three of his creditors resided, only two creditors being resident in London.—Re TURNER, Ex p. TURNER (1865), 11 L. T. 719.

1421. —— On whom notice must be served.]—Upon an application for transfer of proceedings, notice should be served on bkpt. & the official receiver, notwithstanding that a trustee may have grounds. There must therefore be a separate application with respect to any estate proposed to be so transferred.—Re BANKRUPTCY ACTS OF 1883 & 1892 (1893), 11 N. Z. L. R. 142.—N.Z.

m. Who may appeal against order.]—Where an order transferring proceedings from a local ct. to the Ct. of Bkpcy. is made without evidence sufficient to give jurisdiction, any party interested in the proceedings may appeal at once to the Ct. of Appeal without moving in the Ct. of Bkpcy. to have the order discharged.—Re HILL (1905), 39 I. L. T. 109.—IR.

n. ——.]—Bkpt. is a competent applt. from an order transferring proceedings from a local ct. to the Ct. of Bkpcy. as being a party interested in such proceedings.—Re HILL (1905), 39 I. L. T. 109.—IR.

1422. —— ——.]—Notice of an application to transfer the proceedings in a bkpcy. from a county ct. to the High Ct., or vice versâ, must be served upon the official receiver.—Re JACK (1887), 18 Q. B. D. 682; 35 W. R. 735; 4 Morr. 150.

1423. —— Effect of delay in making.]—The ct. will not, at the instance of creditors, under 1849 Act, s. 90, transfer a petition from the London to a country district, unless the party making the application comes promptly after the adjudication, notwithstanding the majority of the creditors reside in the district to which it is sought to transfer the petition.—Re BAKER, Ex p. JACK (1858), 32 L. T. O. S. 180.

1424. Whether appeal lies—Against refusal of certificate.]—The refusal of the judge of a county ct. to grant a certificate under 1883 Rules, r. 16, that in his opinion the proceedings under a bkpcy. petition would be more advantageously conducted in another ct., is an order from which the appeal lies, if the judge has refused to exercise his discretion in the matter. In such a case the Ct. of Appeal, if it is of opinion that the certificate ought to have been granted, will not refer the matter back to the county ct., but will itself grant the certificate.—Re WALKER, Ex p. SOANES (1884), 13 Q. 1425. Jurisdiction of court — Unsuccessful petition.]—Held: the ct. had no jurisdiction to order a debtor to pay any part of petitioning creditor's costs of an unsuccessful bkpcy. petition.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 1103 of 1909), [1910] 1 K. B. 313; 79 L. J. K. B. 263; 101 L. T. 841; 54 Sol. Jo. 217; 17 Mans. 6, C. A.

See, now, 1915 Rules, r. 187 (1).

1426. —— Petition not served.]—An application was made to the registrar of a county ct. to allow out of bkpt.'s estate the costs of petitioning creditor incidental to a petition filed, of which service could not be effected owing to debtor being in Paris, a receiving order being in the meantime made against debtor on his own petition:—Held: there was no jurisdiction to make an order as sought, the want of service of the petition being fatal.—Re DE BERNICEY (1911), 131 L. T. Jo. 130, D. C.

1427. Discretion of court—Formal objection.]—Where resp. took a formal objection to a petition & it was for that cause ordered to stand over:—Held: the costs of the day were in the discretion of the ct.—Re WILKS & ECROYD, Ex p. THOMPSON (1834), 3 Deac. & Ch. 612; 1 Mont. & A. 324; 3 L. J. Bcy. 47, 97, Ct. of R.

See, now, 1915 Rules, r. 72.

1428. Must be asked for.]—The general rule in bkpcy. is that if petitioner do not pray his costs, he cannot have them.—Re GOODCHILD, Ex p. ATKINSON (1818), Buck, 215.

1429. Of petitioning creditor—Subsequent resolution for liquidation.]—A bkpcy. petition was presented against debtor. Before the hearing he filed a liquidation petition. The hearing of the bkpcy. petition was several times adjourned, to await the result of the proceedings under the liquidation petition. Ultimately a liquidation was resolved upon, & the bkpcy. petition was then dismissed:—Held: petitioning creditor was entitled to be paid in priority, out of the estate, the costs of his petition, including therein the costs of & incident to a debtor's summons on which the petition was founded, & the costs of the adjournments of the hearing.—Re BUNNETT, Ex p. JEAVOUS (1876), 3 Ch. D. 320; 34 L. T. 804; 24 W. R. 851; sub nom. Re BURNETT, Ex p. JEAVONS, 45 L. J. Bcy. 128.

1430. —— Assenting to appropriation of assets otherwise than to his expenses.]—Although the money first received under a fiat is by 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, required to be appropriated in discharge of the expenses incurred by petitioning creditor, yet, where he assents to a different appropriation, he is estopped from afterwards contending that the directions of the Act have not been complied with. —HORNIDGE v. EYLAND (1835), 2 Scott, 357.

1431. Improper petition.]—An attorney was ordered to pay the costs of an improper petition in bkpcy.—Ex p. CUTHBERT (1815), 1 Madd. 78; 56 E. R. 30.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 109 (1).

1432. Expense of rendering witness competent.]—A petitioning creditor is entitled to be repaid out of the estate a sum paid to a creditor to render him a competent witness to support the fiat.—Re TILSON, Ex p. FORTH (1835), 2 Mont. & A. 381, Ct. of R.

1433. Of petitioning creditor who is solicitor.]—In taxing the costs of a petitioning creditor, who acts as his own solr., the analogy of an attorney suing in his own right is to be followed rather than that of a trustee.—Re WEST, Ex p. CHAMBERLAYNE (1850), 4 De G. & Sm. 17; 19 L. J. Bcy. 10; 15 L. T. O. S. 165; 14 Jur. 997; 64 E. R. 715.

1434. Two petitioners — Priority.]—If two creditors present separate petitions the costs of the creditor, upon whose petition the adjudication is founded, will be paid in priority to the costs of 1434 i. Two petitions—Trader's petition filed before creditor's petition—Priority.]—A trader filed a petition to be declared a bkpt. Afterwards a creditor filed another. The creditor got priority, & costs of the petition filed by the trader were not given him. —Re DALY (1861), 13 Ir. Jur. 418.—IR.

1434 ii. —— Trader's petition filed after creditor's petition.]—Where a debtor files a petition to be adjudicated a bkpt. between the filing & hearing of a creditor's petition, he is not entitled to costs, unless he can show that his action was in some way for the benefit of his creditors.—Re GRINDLEY (1891), 11 N. 1434 iii.—— ——.]—Where a creditors' petition is justifiable, & is the reason why debtor is induced to petition, petitioning creditors will be entitled to costs up to the time they had notice of debtor's filing.—Re GRINDLEY (1891), 11 N. Z. L. R. 10.—N.Z.

o. Several petitions.]—The rule in bkpcy., that no costs are given against bkpt. on his petition, will be guarded against abuse after two petitions for the same object, dismissed by a direction in the order dismissing the second petition, that the assignees retain the costs of opposing the application out of the funds in their hands, & that the secretary of bkpts. should receive no further petition on the subject of the petition from petitioner, until such costs have been recouped to the estate of bkpt.—Re BRISCOE, Ex p. BRISCOE (1828), 1 Mol. 420.—IR.

1435. In county court—Solicitor attending as witness.]—A solr. having been summoned as a witness before the registrar of a county ct. in a bkpcy. proceeding, & having received only his travelling expenses, brought an action against the official receiver, by whom he was summoned, for the amount allowed by C. C. R. 1889 appendix to a professional witness :—Held : he was entitled to recover.—CHAMBERLAIN v. STONEHAM (1889), 24 Q. B. D. 113 ; 59 L. J. Q. B. 95 ; 61 L. T. 560 ; 38 W. R. 107 ; 6 T. L. R. 21, D. C.

1436. Of rehearing.]—The assets remaining after payment of the actual expenses incurred in realising any of the assets of debtor, are liable, subject to any order of the ct. to the payment of the taxed costs of petitioning creditor. The "taxed costs of petitioning creditor" mentioned in 1886 Rules, r. 125, include as a rule the costs of a rehearing by the registrar & the Ct. of Appeal.

More than a year elapsed between the date of a receiving order & an application for a rehearing, & in the meantime the trustee incurred considerable costs in tracing & getting in bkpt.'s assets & in successful litigation for that purpose. The assets were insufficient to pay in full the bill of costs of the solrs. properly employed by the trustee in the above matters, & also petitioning creditor's costs of the rehearing in the ct. below & on appeal :—Held : no sufficient reason was shown for varying the order of priorities prescribed by the above rule.—Re BRIGHT, Ex p. WINGFIELD & BLEW, [1903] 1 K. 1438. —— Counsel's fees—Settling petition.]—The ct. will not, on motion, entertain the question of the reasonableness of certain items in a bill of costs. If those items are taxed off by the registrar, in pursuance of the usual practice, the special exceptions should have been mentioned at the hearing. Semble : the fee to counsel for settling a petition, is reasonable, & should be mentioned. —Re GRAY (1835), 4 L. 1444. —— To refuse joint order—Joint petition by debtors neither partners nor joint traders.]—Where debtors, who are neither partners nor joint traders, join in presenting a bkpcy. petition, the ct. has jurisdiction, notwithstanding 1883 Act, s. 8, to refuse to make a joint receiving order.—Re BOND (1888), 21 Q. 1445. —— Where jurisdiction to commit—On judgment summons for alimony—Wife not judgment creditor.]—An order was made in the Divorce Ct. for payment of alimony. The payments having fallen into arrear, a judgment summons was issued by the wife against her husband, & with the consent of the wife & in the absence of the husband, a receiving order was made in lieu of an order for committal :—Held : the wife was not a judgment creditor within 1883 Act, s. 103 (5), & a receiving order could not be made.—Re OTWAY, Ex p. OTWAY (1888), 58 L. SECT. 2.—GROUNDS FOR REFUSAL OF RECEIVING ORDER.

SUB-SECT. 1.—IN GENERAL.

1460. Petition by firm—Trustee in liquidation of partner not a party.]—After one of two partners had filed a liquidation petition & a receiver had been appointed, a judgment was recovered in an action previously commenced in the names of the two partners against O., a debtor of the firm. A bkpcy. notice in the names of the two partners was then served on O.; he failed to comply with it within the seven days limited for the purpose, & a bkpcy. petition was presented against him in the names of the two partners. Before the petition came on to be heard, the creditors of the partner who had filed the liquidation petition had resolved on a liquidation by arrangement, & had appointed a trustee of his property:—Held: though there was a good act of bkpcy., a receiving order could not properly be made against O., unless the trustee in the liquidation was joined as a co-petitioner.—Re OWEN, Ex p. OWEN (1884), 13 Q. 1461. Assignment to trustees for creditors—With assent of large majority of creditors.]—The fact that shortly before the presentation of a bkpcy. petition against debtor he has, with the assent of a large majority of his creditors, executed a deed assigning the whole of his property to trustees appointed by the creditors to be administered by them as in bkpcy., is not, within 1883 Act, s. 7 (3), a "sufficient cause" for refusing to make a receiving order on the petition.—Re DIXON, Ex p. DIXON (1884), 13 Q. 1459 i. Grounds for granting order—What matters necessary to be considered.]—Before passing an order of adjudication under Provincial Insolvency Act (III. of 1907), it is not for a ct. to decide whether the debts stated in the petition for insolvency are real, whether petitioner has not concealed any property of his from his lists of assets or whether he is unable to pay his debts & similar questions. The only things that are necessary to be decided before adjudication, are whether the credior or debtor is entitled to present the petition, whether the required notices have been served & whether debtor has committed the alleged act of insolvency.—JEER v. RENGASAMI (1913), I. L. R. 36 Mad. 402.—IND.

PART IV. SECT. 2, SUB-SECT. 1.

a. Abuse of process of court.]—The ct. has power to refuse to make an order of adjudication not only on non-compliance of matters stated in Provincial Insolvency Act (III. of 1907), s. 14 (1), but also on other grounds, e.g., prevention of abuse of process of the ct., unnecessary harassing of debtor by the creditor.—JEER v. RENGASAMI (1913), I. L. R. 36 Mad. 402.—IND.

b. ——.]—Where a petition is presented by a creditor with the main object of distributing the assets of debtor amongst his creditors, & to get his own debt paid, it is immaterial whether petitioning creditor has any ulterior motive in the proceedings. But when the real intention of the creditor is for some other object, a petition is an abuse of the process of the ct.—Re SMART & WALKER, Ex p. HILL (1894), 20 V. L. R. 97.—AUS.

c. ——.]—It is neither fraud nor an abuse of process to petition for a sequestration order with an indirect motive, i.e., for a purpose other than the equal distribution of testator's assets, e.g., to exclude appt. from a partnership. Secus if such order would in the circumstances be unsuitable, & enable petitioner fraudulently to defeat the rights of others whether legal or equitable.—KING v. HENDERSON, [1898] A. C. 720, P. C.—AUS.

d. ——.]—P., who had a personal grudge against M., bought a debt owing by M. to a third person with a view to making M. insolvent & thereby depriving M., a municipal councillor, of his seat as councillor. After the purchase of the debt, demand for payment having been made & not complied with, P. took proceedings to sequestrate the estate of M. Upon the return of the order nisi it was objected that the proceedings were an abuse of the process of the ct.:—Held: P. was entitled to take such proceedings & that they were not an abuse of the process of the ct.—Re MORISSY, Ex p. PERKINS (1899), 24 V. L. R. 776.—AUS.

e. Assignment to trustees for creditors—With assent of large majority of creditors.]—Debtor executed a deed of assignment to G. in trust for the benefit of his creditors. Petitioner prayed for the adjudication of debtor as a bkpt., as he thought the estate would be better administered by the official assignee than under the deed. He was supported by one other creditor. The deed had been executed by fifty-one creditors, their total claims amounting to upwards of £3,000. Of those claims, it was admitted that two required serious investigation. Debtor had employed an accountant to keep his books, & personal misconduct was not charged, & petitioner admitted that he had had many dealings with debtor, & had found him to be honest. There was in the opinion of the ct., nothing to show that debtor had any fraudulent intention when the debt due to the creditor was incurred, debtor at that time being unaware of his actual position:—Held: as it was for the benefit of the general body of creditors that debtor's estate should be administered under the deed, the petition should be dismissed.—Re KATAVICH, Ex p. BOGLICH (1911), 30 N. Subsequently a bkpcy. petition was presented against them in England, & an order was made appointing an interim receiver. The syndic applied to the ct. to discharge this order & to stay all further proceedings under the petition. There was no evidence as to the domicil of the members of the firm, but two of them resided in England, where the firm had large assets :—Held : the jurisdiction of the ct. being undoubted, & there being assets within the jurisdiction, the receiving order was rightly made.—Re ARTOLA HERMANOS, Ex p. ANDRÉ CHÂLE (1890), 24 Q. Debtor, who had no other property, was at the time negotiating with his creditors for the purpose of securing payment to them of a composition on their debts out of the £1,500 a year :—Held : as an adjudication in bkpcy. would destroy the only asset available for the payment of the creditors, the ct. would refuse to make a receiving order.—Re OTWAY, Ex p. OTWAY, [1895] 1 Q. Mere possibility of proceedings being rendered futile.]—A creditor, who was a mtgee., presented a bkpcy. petition against the incumbent of a benefice, having withdrawn it on a payment by debtor's relatives, presented another petition for the balance, & it was also withdrawn on their making another payment. The creditor then presented another petition for the remaining balance & debtor gave evidence that he believed there would be a surplus. A receiving order was made against debtor:—Held: (1) the circumstances did not show that there was any extortion, & the possibility of the bishop appointing a sequestrator of the benefice did not prove that the bkpcy. proceedings would be futile; (2) the receiving order must be affirmed.—Re HAY (1913), 110 L. S. had in fact commenced business under an assumed name on Feb. 22, 1919, & was not registered under the Act until June 2, 1919. His debt was based on a bill of exchange for three months dated Feb. 26, 1919, & owing in respect of his business. The petition was dated July 28, 1919:—Held: as the contract under which S.'s debt arose was made within fourteen days from the commencement of his business, he was not in default under s. 8 (1) of the Act at the time of making it, & the contract was enforceable & his debt was good.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 5 OF 1919) (1919), 54 L. 1490. —— For withdrawing previous petition.]—In May 1899, petitioner filed a bkpcy. petition against G. in respect of a sum of £112 2*s.* 4*d.*, being the amount of a judgment recovered against debtor in respect of the balance due to petitioner on a promissory note for £154. Prior to the adjourned hearing of petition petitioner agreed with debtor for the dismissal of the petition & the delivery up of the promissory note on the terms that debtor should pay him £50 in cash & should give him a new promissory note for £100 (being the balance of the old debt & costs plus a bonus of £20) payable as to £60 by six consecutive instalments of £10 each, the first to become due on Aug. 1, 1899, & payable as to the balance of £40 on Feb. 1, 1900. The petition was dismissed & the original promissory note given up. In Nov. 1899, petitioner obtained judgment against debtor for the sum of £90, being the balance of the sum of £100 secured by the second promissory note, & placed upon the file a second petition in respect of such judgment debt:—Held: petitioner's conduct in withdrawing his first petition on the above terms amounted to such an abuse of the process of the ct. as disentitled him to a receiving order.—Re G., Ex p. B. 1491. —— —— Creditor must be shown to have abused process.]—At the request of debtor, petitioning creditor withdrew his petition, on debtor paying the costs of the bkpcy. proceedings, & giving him a bill of exchange at two months for £130, in lieu of a judgment debt & costs amounting to £124 16*s.* 8*d.*:—Held: there had been no extortion.

Although the fact that the arrangement is suggested by debtor himself does not prevent it from being extortionate, it must be proved to the satisfaction of the ct., that the creditor has abused the process of the ct. by obtaining a larger sum than he could have obtained, before a receiving order can be refused.—Re BEBRO, [1900] 2 Q. 1492. —— For agreeing to composition—Arrangement abortive—Petition presented jointly with another creditor not party to secret arrangement.]—Debtor called a meeting of his creditors, who agreed to accept a composition. Subsequently a creditor, who had not been present, called on debtor & said that he would not assent to the composition unless given a promissory note for the balance of the debt due to him. Debtor declined to accede to such suggestion. The composition having fallen through, debtor executed a deed of assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The creditor & another creditor, who was in no way connected with the proposed secret arrangement, presented a petition against debtor, the debt of neither of them alone being £50:—Held: there was "sufficient cause" for declining to make a receiving order.—Re SHAW, Ex p. GILL (1901), 83 L. 1493. —— By threats.]—Debtor, who had assigned the whole of his property to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors, called a meeting of his creditors, who agreed to accept an offer by debtor & his relatives to pay 10*s.* in the pound. Subsequently debtor informed them that he could not arrange to carry out the composition of 10*s.*, but that his relatives offered to purchase his estate for a sum sufficient to pay 7*s.* 6*d.* in the pound. The majority of the creditors accepted this, but one creditor wrote demanding an immediate cash payment of 7*s.* 6*d.* in the pound & bills for 2*s.* 6*d.* endorsed by a relative of debtor, & said that if this were not done, he would present a bkpcy. petition. These terms were declined, & a bkpcy. petition was presented:—Held: as petitioning creditor had endeavoured to obtain a secret advantage over the other creditors, with a threat, if debtor did not concede it, to present a bkpcy. petition, there was "sufficient cause" for declining to make a receiving order.—Re A DEBTOR (No. 20 OF 1904), Ex p. THE DEBTOR (1904), 91 L. 1494. Openly insisting on special terms—Before assenting to composition.]—Debtor having executed a deed of assignment to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors, a creditor wrote to the trustee's solr. & debtor that he would not entertain any proposal except payment in full of part of his debt, as to which he had special ground for complaint, but for the rest would be prepared to consider any plan in the interest of debtor which should be acceptable to the other creditors. Pressure on behalf of debtor was brought to bear on the creditor to induce him to assent to the deed, but he persistently declined except on the terms he had mentioned, & his terms being refused he presented a bkpcy. petition against debtor. There was no evidence of any attempt on his part to obtain a preference over the other creditors by any improper means, nor of any intention that the terms he insisted on should not be disclosed to them. The deed contained a clause empowering the trustee by direction of a committee of inspection to pay in full non-assenting creditors:—Held: petitioning creditor had done nothing to disentitle him to a receiving order.—Re BRINDLEY, Ex p. TAYLOR & CO. 1495. —— ——.]—Debtor, hopelessly insolvent & about to call a meeting of his creditors, took delivery on credit of goods of considerable value from petitioning creditors. At the meeting petitioning creditors refused to assent to an assignment for the benefit of creditors, unless the goods were returned to them or their value allowed, but, after a resolution for an assignment had been passed, they took part in the nomination of the committee of inspection. On receiving a form of assent to the assignment they telephoned to the accountant who had charge of debtor's affairs repeating their demand for a return of the goods or payment of their value under a threat of legal proceedings. On refusal, they commenced an action against debtor & obtained final judgment against him, &, on his failure to comply with a bkpcy. notice, filed a petition against him founded on his non-compliance with the bkpcy. notice:—Held: petitioning creditors had not either by any improper conduct or by any assent to the assignment precluded themselves from taking proceedings in bkpcy., & "sufficient cause" had not been shown why a receiving order should not be made.—Re SUNDERLAND, [1911] 2 K. The attorney also purported to make the affidavit which must be made "by debtor" under 1914 (Deeds) Act, s. 5 (1). Petitioning creditor assented in writing to the deed. Debtor began an action in the K. B. Div. against the trustee under the deed, & petitioning creditor shortly afterwards presented a petition in bkpcy. against debtor, & obtained a receiving order:—Held: the deed being void & a nullity by reason of the above sub-sect. (1) petitioning creditor was not estopped by his assent to the deed from petitioning, & he had not by his conduct prevented debtor from paying his debt; (2) the petition was not an abuse of the process of the ct., & the receiving order was rightly made.—Re WILSON, Ex p. JONES (1916), 85 L. A. absconded, & his whereabouts was unknown. B. purchased bonâ fide for £15 C.'s debt of £45, so as to enable him to take proceedings in bkpcy. against A. B. presented a petition, & a receiving order was obtained:—Held: as B.'s purchase of C.'s debt was made perfectly bonâ fide, it was valid & not an abuse of the bkpcy. laws, & the receiving order was well founded.—Re BAKER, Ex p. BAKER (1887), 58 L. 1520. —— ——.]—The registrar in bkpcy. has a general discretion to rescind a receiving order, where he is satisfied on the evidence before him that it ought not to have been made, & that there is money available for the payment of all the debts in full, & it is not a judicial exercise of such discretion for him to hold that he is bound by the opposition of the official receiver to refuse to rescind without holding a public examination of debtor.

Although the opinion of the official receiver is an element which may go a long way to influence the registrar in exercising his discretion, still he must exercise it (LORD STERNDALE, M.R.)—Re A DEBTOR (No. 446 OF 1918) (1919), 64 Sol. Jo. 147, C. A.

Applt. contended that he was aggrieved, because, if the order stood, the bkpcy. being within three months from the date of the execution of the deed, the deed as an act of bkpcy. would be void & his title under it would be defeated:—Held: (1) the question upon which the case depends was whether the deed was properly registered, & if it were not, it would be void, & applt. would not be entitled to intervene, but if it were, then the opposite conclusion would follow; (2) on the facts the deed was properly registered, & applt., as the 1537 vii. —— Private estate of partner sequestrated—Partner abroad & not summoned to show cause.]—Before the private estates of the individual partners of a firm can be compulsorily sequestrated, the individual partners must be summoned to show cause.

The estate of a partnership carrying on business in Cape Colony was voluntarily surrendered on petition of two of the partners. On the petition of a creditor a judge's order was made sequestrating the private estates of the several partners of the firm. One of these partners resided in England : —Held : inasmuch as this partner had not been summoned to show cause why his private estate should not be sequestrated, the order for its sequestration must be set aside.—Re BENJAMIN (1875), Buch. 117.—S. 1581. Power to adjudicate—Delegation—By county court judge to deputy registrar.]—A county ct. judge may delegate to a deputy registrar the power to make an order of adjudication in bkpcy.—Re LINDSAY, Ex p. LINDSAY (1874), L. R. 19 Eq. 52 ; 44 L. J. Bcy. 5 ; 31 L. T. 415 ; 23 W. R. 44.

1582. —— What must be proved.]—The adjudication may be matter of right provided the requisites are proved, i.e., a trading, petitioning creditor's debt, an act of bkpcy., & there be no evidence to invalidate such testimony, but the trading must be such as is within the contemplation of the bkpcy. laws, & if, in opposition to the primâ facie case of petitioning creditor, it appear from the records of the ct., or from other testimony, that the person could not be a trader, as on the ground of infancy, or being an uncertified bkpt. & his effects vested in the assignees under a former commission, the ct. has no authority to adjudicate in such circumstances.—Re CHAMBERS (1837), 3 Mont. & A. 294.

1583. —— Act of bankruptcy not definitely proved.]—The ct. cannot make an order of adjudication without definite proof of an act of bkpcy. ; & an order, made solely on a petition & an affidavit in general terms, that the act of bkpcy. committed by debtor was that being a trader he had made a fraudulent conveyance, gift, delivery, or transfer of his property or of part thereof, is unsustainable.—Re LINDSAY, Ex p. LINDSAY (1874), L. But as a general rule it is convenient that notice should be given to debtor.—Re PONSFORD, Ex p. PONSFORD, [1904] 2 K. B. 704 ; 73 L. J. K. B. 913 ; 91 L. T. 510 ; 53 W. R. 120 ; 48 Sol. The application for adjudication was subsequently made & supported by creditors for £146,000. The registrar declined to adjourn the application & made the order of adjudication:—Held: he had exercised his discretion rightly.—Re SILBER, [1915] H. B. R. 97, C. A.

1592. Power to adjourn application—Where advantageous to creditors.]—The ct. has power for good reason to adjourn an application by the official receiver for an immediate adjudication in bkpcy. against a debtor. 1588 i. —— Discretion of court—Compounding debtor.]—An arranging trader had an overwhelming majority of creditors to sanction the proposal for a composition offered by him. A very large amount of machinery, which was erected by a particular creditor, had been mortgaged, by the trader at the time that such machinery was in process of erection, without any intimation to that creditor:—Held: the ct. would, notwithstanding that majority, adjudicate the trader bkpt., & adjourn the proceedings into open ct., & give the creditor opposing his costs.—Re BECK (1867), 1 I. L. T. Jo. 29.—IR.

1588 ii. —— —— —— Notwithstanding protection order.]—A trader presented an arrangement petition, obtained a protection order, & lodged the money required by the ct.:—Held: a creditor might, nevertheless, obtain an adjudication in bkpcy. upon an act of bkpcy. committed by the trader before filing the arrangement petition.—Re KILMARTON (1866), 18 Ir. Jur. 240. —IR.

b. —— —— Sufficiency of notice.]—Where the main body of creditors were resident without Newfoundland & many had no notice of the proceedings, of which notice had been given in the ordinary way in Newfoundland, the ct. declared petitioner insolvent.—Re ARCHIBALD (1852), 3 Nfld. L. R. 270.—NFLD.

c. —— —— Though act of bankruptcy committed.]—Resp. committed an act of insolvency, & applts. thereupon obtained a provisional order of sequestration against him. On the return day it appeared that the insolvent had a claim against a certain person for work done by him, & that the amount of such claim exceeded the total liabilities by £200:—Held: the rule should be discharged.—BLOXAM v. GREEN (1905), T. S. 333.—S. AF.

d. —— —— Separate estates in bankruptcy of partnership.]—The ct. when finally sequestrating a partnership estate has a discretion as to the private estates of the partners.—MARAIS & ZOUTENDIJK v. STREET (1913), C. P. D. 593.—S. AF.

1592 i. Power to adjourn application—Upon separate petition of member of firm—To enable other members to join.]—The ct. will not adjudicate upon the separate petition of a member of a firm, but will adjourn it in order to give to the other member or members of the firm an opportunity of joining in the petition for adjudication.—Re PELAN (1868), 2 I. L. T. Jo. 637.—IR.

1593 i. Duty to adjudicate—On proof of act of bankruptcy—& petitioning creditor's debt.]—Held: the word "may" in Debtors & Creditors Act, 1876, s. 35, was imperative, & should be read "shall"; & on due proof of the act of bkpcy. & petitioning creditor's debt the ct. was bound to adjudicate debtor bkpt.—Re MACKAY, 2 J. R. N. S. 150—N.Z.

1595 i. At whose instance made—Debtor.]—Where a trader petitions for adjudication against himself & is opposed by a sole creditor, whose demands bkpt.'s assets are insufficient to pay, the adjudication will be ordered if in the opinion of the ct. the proceedings be bonâ fide.—Re MARKS (1867), I. R. 1 Eq. 67.—IR.

man, whose sole income was derived from his salary or wages, payable weekly, & commission on his sales. He had two children dependent upon him. On debtor failing to pay the judgment debt, the creditor obtained, on a judgment summons, an order for payment of the debt by instalments. The instalments having fallen into arrear, the creditor obtained a committal order for the amount of the arrears, under pressure of which order debtor paid the money. The instalments having again fallen into arrear, the creditor obtained a second committal order, whereupon debtor, finding himself unable to comply with it, presented a bkpcy. petition, which was followed, upon his own application, by a receiving order & adjudication. The judgment creditor was his only creditor, & he had no assets beyond the personal earnings from his employment. The judgment creditor then applied for annulment of the bkpcy. proceedings on the ground that they were an abuse of the process of the ct.; but the registrar refused the application:—Held: the proceedings were not, in the circumstances, an abuse of the process of the ct., & in fact would not prejudice the judgment creditor, inasmuch as the personal earnings of bkpt., beyond what was necessary for the maintenance of himself & his family, could be applied, in the proceedings, towards payment of the judgment debt.—Re HANCOCK, Ex p. HILLEARYS, [1904] 1 K. 1596 ii. —— Execution creditor—Indian Insolvency Act (11 & 12 Vict. c. 21), s. 8.]—The only person who can obtain an order adjudicating another person insolvent under the above sect. on the ground of his lying in prison for twenty-one days in execution of a decree, is the creditor in execution of whose decree he has been in prison.—Re AHMED ISMAIL MUNSHI (1902), I. L. R. 26 Bom. 649.—IND.

1596 iii. —— Second execution creditor—After assets seized by first execution creditor—But before sale.]—A creditor obtained judgment against a debtor, sued out execution thereon & attached property. Another creditor subsequently, but before the execution sale, also obtained judgment & sued out execution, but found that no goods remained to satisfy his judgment. He thereupon took proceedings to have debtor's estate sequestrated. The ct. decreed the sequestration of debtor's estate.—VAN DER BYL & Co. v. SMIT (1877), Buch. 16.—S. AF.

e. Against whom made—Joint debtors]—The estate of joint debtors, whether partners or not, may be sequestrated under Insolvency Act, 1871 (No. 379), s. 37. The provisions of s. 41 are to meet cases where the act of insolvency is committed by one partner only.—Re THOMAS & COWIE (1883), 9 V. L. R. 2.—AUS.

1605. Grounds for adjudicating—Composition proceedings tainted with fraud—Creditor purchasing debt to vote in favour of composition resolution.]—Where the passing of a resolution in favour of a composition has been obtained by the vote of a creditor, who has purchased the debt, in respect of which he votes, in order to vote in favour of the composition, such a fraud taints the whole of the proceedings for a composition, & the ct. will make an order of adjudication of bkpcy. against debtor, on the petition of a duly qualified creditor in spite of the pendency of the proceedings for a composition.—Re BURRS & Co., Ex p. FORE ST. 1607. What evidence necessary to support adjudication—Direct evidence.]—When a person, as of a given character, & in certain circumstances is brought within the bkpcy. laws, the adjudication of the comrs. ought to proceed upon direct evidence before them, that the person is of the character & within the circumstances required, & not upon a deposition incorporating the substance of an affidavit, in which (in another ct.) those essentials have been attested.—Ex p. HARCOURT (1815), 2 Rose, 203, L. 1608. Grounds for refusing to adjudicate—Failure

1604 i. Who may give notice of objection—Agent of respondent—Though no definite power to sign notice.]—A notice of objections to an order nisi for sequestration may be lodged by resp.'s usual agent though he be acting under a power of attorney which has ceased to be strictly applicable, & has no definite power to sign such notice.—Re OPPENHEIMER (1872), 3 V. R. 20.—AUS.

1605 i. Grounds for adjudicating—Composition proceedings tainted with fraud.]—A debtor, after advertising his intention to surrender, without notice to his secured creditors, made an offer of composition to his unsecured creditors, & in order to carry it out intimated his intention of realising portion of his assets at a price far below their value. The ct., at the instance of a general mtgee., anticipated the surrender & sequestrated debtor's estate.—HEYMAN, GORDON & Co. v. COHEN (1907), T. S. 1038.—S. AF.

1605 ii. —— —— Evidence of fraud.]—An arranging trader having entered into a composition with his creditors, which he paid, & obtained his certificate, the ct. will not withdraw the certificate, & adjourn the case into bkpcy. Where there is clear evidence of fraud & suppression, the certificate may be set aside, but the application to turn the case into bkpcy. should be made pending the proceedings. The omission from a schedule, afterwards amended in reference thereto, of a doubtful debt paid to a trader after obtaining the certificate, will not per se be deemed evidence of fraud.—Re GRAY (1860), 12 Ir. Jur. 267.—IR.

1605 iii. —— —— Assets omitted from schedule.]—Where, in an affidavit to verify a petition presented to the ct. by an arranging trader, he states that the schedule of assets contains a true & full account of the property he has to be made available for payment of the composition, & creditors, relying on the truth of this, accept the composition offered, & the trader obtains his certificate, the creditors may, long after the certificate is obtained, bring the case by motion before the ct., praying that the certificate may be withdrawn, & the ct., on satisfactory evidence that leasehold property has been omitted, & that the affidavit to support the petition was untrue, will withdraw the certificate, & put the case into bkpcy.—Re ARRANGING TRADER (1864), 16 Ir. Jur. 120.—IR.

1605 iv. —— —— Composition based on invalid settlement—After composition paid.]—An arranging trader, having presented his petition to the ct., filed the usual affidavit of assets, which consisted partly of an interest in a valuable house of business, alleged to have been made the subject of a marriage settlement, the trader having received as a marriage portion £400, charged on his property. The settlement, being submitted to the creditors, was believed to be genuine. A composition of 10*s.* in the pound was agreed to, & actually paid. Afterwards it was discovered that the alleged marriage was void, the trader having had a wife living at that time :—Held : the arrangement proceedings should be set aside, & the case turned into bkpcy., although the composition had been paid.—Re ARRANGING TRADER (1866), 18 Ir. Jur. 336.—IR.

1606 i. —— Failure to pay composition.]—Where debtor failed, through no culpable default of his own, to pay the first instalment provided in a composition deed :—Held : the entire arrangement failed & debtor should be adjudicated bkpt.—Re BIRT, [1906] 2 I. R. 452 ; 40 I. L. T. 178.—IR.

1606 ii. —— ——.]—Where a trader offers a composition to his creditors which he is unable to pay, & then calls a meeting under Bkpcy. & Insolvency Act, s. 351, his inability to pay will be held not to be such a difficulty as is contemplated by that section, & the case will be turned into bkpcy.—Re WELPLY (1870), 4 I. R. Eq. 204.—IR.

1606 iii. —— —— One of three joint compounding debtors.]—Three persons trading in partnership presented a petition for an arrangement, & subsequently made proposals to their creditors for the payment of a composition on foot of their joint liability, & also on foot of their respective separate liabilities. The proposal of one of the partners having failed with regard to his separate liability, an order was made adjudicating the three partners bkpt. :—Held : the order was right.—Re LORÉ (1889), 23 L. R. Ir. 365.—IR.

1607 i. What evidence necessary to support adjudication—Amount of debt.]—It is the duty of petitioning creditor to bring before the ct. at the hearing evidence sufficient to justify the ct. in finding either that the debt was unsecured, or that after a valuation of the security by the ct. as provided by Bkpcy. Act, 1892, s. 37, the balance of the debt due is not less than £30, & unless the ct. can find one of these things, it ought not to make an adjudication.—Re EWING, Ex p. MORGAN (1905), 24 N. Z. L. R. 808.—N.Z.

1607 ii. —— Affidavit as to truth of petition — When burden of proof shifted.]—To support an application for adjudication there should be, in addition to the ordinary affidavit verifying the petition to the best of petitioner's knowledge, information, & belief, an affidavit of the truth of the facts contained in the petition, sworn to by somebody who is able to swear to them of his own knowledge. The burden of proof at the hearing will then lie on debtor.—Re MACKAY, 2 J. R. N. S. 150.—N.Z.

1608 i. Grounds for refusing to adjudicate — Non-compliance with procedure.] — The ct. will not grant to show bankrupt possessed of assets.]—The failing to show that bkpt. was possessed of any property, is not a sufficient reason for refusing to adjudicate.—Re JONES, Ex p. JOHNSTON (1835), 2 Mont. & A. 390; 4 L. J. Bcy. 82, Ct. of R.

1609. —— Debtor executing & registering deed of inspectorship—After issue of debtor's summons before adjudication.]—Where, after the issuing of a judgment debtor's summons, & before adjudication debtor executes & duly registers a deed of inspectorship with his creditors, the ct. will not adjudicate debtor a bkpt. under 1861 Act, s. 83, at the instance of the judgment creditor.—ANON. (1868), 16 W. R. 966.

See, generally, Part XXIII., post.

1610. —— Tender to one of two creditors whose debts together exceed £50.]—A tender of the amount of his debt to one of two creditors, whose debts together amount to more than £50, though each debt is less, does not prevent the adjudication.—Re ANDREW, Ex p. ANDREW (1875), 1 Ch. D. 358; 45 L. J. Bcy. 57; 33 L. T. 556; 24 W. R. 197, C. A.

1611. —— Petition presented malâ fide—To extort money.]—When the ct. sees that a bkpcy. petition has been made use of for an inequitable purpose, e.g., to extort money from debtor, by way of bonus for an adjournment, it will refuse to make an adjudication, even though there is a good petitioning creditor's debt, & an act of bkpcy. has been committed.—Re DAVIS, Ex p. KING (1876), 3 Ch. D. 461; 45 L. J. Bcy. 159; 25 W. R. 239, C. A.

1612. —— —— To bring pressure to bear on debtor.]—When the ct. sees that a bkpcy. petition is presented, not with the bonâ fide view of obtaining either adjudication upon a trader's own petition or protection in arrangement cases, unless the solr. takes out the meeting in the usual way, has it listed, & has attested copies of documents ready.—ANON. (1867), 1 I. L. T. Jo. 648.—IR.

1608 ii. —— Not reckless conduct of debtor.]—Under Provincial Insolvency Act, 1907, transfer of property by debtor with intent to defraud his creditors, or reckless contracting of debts, or giving unfair preference to any of his creditors, or committing any other act of bad faith is a ground for refusing an absolute order of discharge but not ground for refusing to make an order of adjudication.

Petitioner for a declaration of insolvency feigned ignorance about the existence of his account books, & prevaricated about other matters:—Held: his petition could not be dismissed on those grounds, the object of the Legislature being to make it easier to obtain an order of adjudication.—GIRWARDHARI v. JAI NARAIN (1910), I. L. R. 32 All. 645.—IND.

1608 iii. —— To prevent abuse of process of court.]—The ct. has power to refuse to make an order of adjudication on the grounds of prevention of abuse of process of the ct., & unnecessary harassing of a debtor by the creditor.—JEER v. RENGASAMI (1913), I. L. R. 36 Mad. 402.—IND.

1608 iv. —— Collateral motive of petitioning creditor.]—Where the legal requisites of an adjudication are shown to exist, it requires a very strong case to warrant a refusal to adjudicate, on the ground that petitioners are influenced by some collateral motive.—Re BROWN, Ex p. MIDDLETON (1883), 2 N. Z. L. R. 189.—N.Z.

1608 v. —— —— Evidence required.]—The ct. will not decide that the object of petitioning creditor in adjudicating debtor is an indirect one, except upon strong evidence.—Re ELL, Ex p. AUSTIN & HASKINS (1886), 4 N. Z. L. R. 114.—N.Z.

1608 vi. —— Debt purchased for ulterior purpose.]—Where a debt is purchased for the purpose of founding a petition for adjudication upon it, not to recover the debt, but for purposes outside the law of bkpcy., the ct. will not make an adjudication.—Re COOPER, Ex p. COLEMAN & CLARKE (1882), 1 N. Z. L. R. 301.—N.Z.

1608 vii. —— One of two petitioning creditors with indirect object.]—Where two creditors join in a petition in bkpcy., the fact that one creditor has an indirect object in petitioning is no answer to the adjudication, if the other creditor has not.—Re ELL, Ex p. AUSTIN & HASKINS (1886), 4 N. Z. L. R. 114.—N.Z.

1608 ix. —— Petition served on debtor while attending court.]—It is no ground for refusing an adjudication in bkpcy. that the petition has been served upon debtor while attending a sitting of the Supreme Ct. as a suitor.—Re ELL, Ex p. AUSTIN & HASKINS (1886), 4 N. Z. L. R. 114.—N.Z.

1608 x. —— Defective advertisement of sale of debtor's interest in land—Debtor's interest doubtful.]—A discrepancy in the area of the land, or a failure to define the boundaries thereof or debtor's interest therein, in the advertisement of the sale by the sheriff of a debtor's interest in land are matters entitled to consideration in deciding whether an adjudication should be made; & where they were accompanied by an error in debtor's name, & by a doubt as to whether debtor had any interest in the land which was to be determined by an action then pending, the ct. dismissed the petition without prejudice to the creditor's right to file a fresh petition.—Re MEHAFFY, [1919] N. Z. L. R. 113.—N.Z.

1608 xi. —— On separate estate of partner—Unrealised partnership assets.]—Before sequestrating a private estate, the ct. will carefully scan all the circumstances, &, if there is reason for believing that there are assets of the partnership which have not been seized in execution, & which, if realised, would satisfy the creditor's claim, the ct. will stay its hand.—MARAIS & ZOUTENDIJK v. STREET (1913), C. g. Previous adjudication in England—Application for sequestration in Scotland.]—Four trustees carried on business in partnership, having a house of business in London & another in Edinburgh. Two of the partners resided in Scotland & the others in London. The partnership was adjudicated bkpt.:—Held: (1) all the personal property wherever situated vested in the assignees; (2) creditors in Scotland were precluded from attaching property in that country by sequestration, & from administrating it under a sequestration. Semble: the converse applied to a sequestration in Scotland, which precluded English creditors from sustaining a commission against debtor, the subject of an antecedent & operative sequestration.—ROYAL BANK OF SCOTLAND v. CUTHBERT (1813), 1 Rose, 462.—SCOT.

h. Order of adjudication—Form of.]—Upon a general adjudication of bkpcy., it is not necessary that the particular grounds upon which the party has been declared a bkpt. should be set out upon the adjudication.—PALMER v. GATCHELL (1858), 9 I. C. L. R. 238; 4 Ir. Jur. 85.—IR.

j. —— ——.]—In 1879 resp. was adjudicated bkpt. in England & shortly afterwards gave a bond to secure £2,500. In 1900 he succeeded to certain entailed estates. On an application by the assignee of the bond for sequestration of resp.'s estate founded on the bond & on certain other debts of which resp. had tendered payment both before & after the present petition, resp. claimed that a special declaration should be inserted in the award specifying the particular debt on which sequestration was awarded, on the grounds that the main debt founded on by petitioning creditor was incurred prior to Entail (Scotland) Act, 1882, c. 53, by s. 18 of which the trustee in the sequestration could claim to disentail the estate:—Held: sequestration should be awarded in common form upon the petition as presented.—BRABY, PETITIONER (1903), 10 S. L. T. 779.—SCOT.

k. —— Amendment of date—When allowed.]—The solr. of petitioning creditor on one & the same day filed the affidavit necessary for obtaining a commission of bkpcy.; applied for the commission, & paid the necessary fees, but did not state that it was required for that day. It was not issued, nor did it bear date until the following day. The ct. refused to alter the date to the former day, it not appearing that there was any default on the part of the officer of the ct. in not issuing it as of that day.

1613. Effect of death of debtor—After petition presented but before adjudication—Proper procedure.]—Where debtor dies after a bkpcy. petition is presented, but before adjudication, the ct. should, under 1883 Act, s. 108, adjudicate him a bkpt., & the order of adjudication should be gazetted & advertised in the ordinary way.—Re WALKER (1886), 54 L. 1614. —— After composition approved—On failure to pay instalment.]—In July 1890, debtor made a composition with his creditors under 1883 Act, s. 18, & under the composition, which was approved of by the ct., the creditors were to be paid by three instalments extending over a year. Default was made in payment of the instalments, & debtor died two months after the expiration of the year:—Held: the Ct. of Bkpcy. had jurisdiction to proceed in debtor's bkpcy. under 1883 Act, ss. 18 (11), 108, notwithstanding his death.—Re HARDY, HARDY v. FARMER, [1896] 1 Ch. 904; 65 L. 1615. Restraint of proceedings on petition for adjudication—Petition by debtor for liquidation on date appointed for hearing of petition.]—A judgment debtor took no notice of the service on him of a debtor's summons, nor of the filing of a petition for adjudication in bkpcy., until the day appointed for the petition being heard. He then himself filed a petition for liquidation by arrangement, & obtained & served on his creditor an ex p. injunction restraining him from taking further proceedings in bkpcy.:—Held: the creditor's legal right to an adjudication in bkpcy. would not be interfered with, & the order for the injunction must be discharged.—Re WILLIAMS, Ex p. DIMOND (1870), 5 Ch. App. 743; 39 L. J. Bcy. 47; 23 L. T. 292; 18 W. R. 1123, L. JJ.

1616. —— Stay—Sum on petition differing from that in summons.]—Where a debtor's summons was obtained for £517, but on the petition for adjudication only £110 was shown to be due, it was ordered that the adjudication should not be published for a fortnight, & that if during that time the £110 was paid, all proceedings should be stayed, leaving each party to bear his own costs.—Re HARRIS, Ex p. HARRIS (1875), 10 Ch. 1617. Where fiat granted — To be executed in place other than place where bankrupt resided—Undertaking to pay bankrupt's expenses.]—The ct., on granting a fiat, issued against a trader residing in Oxford, to be executed before a comr. in London, made petitioning creditor undertake to pay bkpt.'s travelling expenses.—Re MARGETTS, Ex p. LAWSON (1838), 7 L. J. Bcy. 41.

1618. Evidence of adjudication—Advertisement in London Gazette—Civil & criminal proceedings.]—If a person adjudicated bkpt. take no steps within the prescribed period to annul the adjudication, the London Gazette containing the advertisement of his bkpcy. is conclusive evidence of the bkpcy. in criminal as well as in civil proceedings.—R. v. LEVI (1865), Le. & Ca. 597; 6 New Rep. 131; 34 L. J. M. C. 174; 12 L. T. 502; 29 J. P. 420; 11 Jur. N. S. 450; 13 W. R. 724; 10 Cox, C. C. 110, C. C. R.

1620. —— —— Conclusive against third parties as to commission of act of bankruptcy.]—An adjudication of bkpcy. advertised in the Gazette is, so long as it remains standing, conclusive, not only as between debtor & his assignees, but also against third persons, that the act of bkpcy. on which the adjudication was founded has in fact been committed.—Re FOULDS, Ex p. LEAROYD (1878), 10 Ch. 1622. Appeal from refusal to adjudicate—Service of notice.]—When debtor gives no notice of his intention to show cause against a bkpcy. petition, & the petition is heard in his absence, & the ct. refuses to make an adjudication, if petitioning creditor desires to appeal against the refusal, he must serve notice of the appeal on debtor.—Re WHALLEY, Ex p. WARBURG (1883), 24 Ch. 1618 iii. —— Profert of proceedings in foreign ct.]—Pltf., claiming as assignee of F., alleged by his bill that F., trading in Australia, was duly adjudged an insolvent there; that all his estate, etc., there & in this kingdom thereupon became duly vested in pltf. "in manner as appears by the petition of pltf. to C., Chief Justice; the fiat of C.; the adjudication & vesting order signed by C., & the other orders in the matter, to which pltf. refers," etc. It appeared by the bill that F. was a minor, at the time of the insolvency:—Held: pltf.'s title, as assignee, was sufficiently stated, the profert of the proceedings in the foreign Insolvent Ct. being sufficient proof of the preceding allegations that F. was duly adjudged.—STEPHENS v. M'FARLAND (1845), 8 I. Eq. R. 444.—IR.

SUB-SECT. 1.—IN GENERAL.

1623. Proof of bankruptcy against all parties.]—A solr., in insolvent circumstances, prior to his marriage conveyed the whole of his real & personal estate to trustees for his wife, with a joint power of appointment among the children of the marriage (including an illegitimate daughter), but reserving no interest to himself, & immediately after the marriage the power was exercised in favour of the illegitimate daughter. The property remained under the control of the husband, & within two months after the marriage, a fiat in bkpcy. was issued against him. On a bill filed by the wife to establish the settlement, it was objected that the fiat was no proof of bkpcy. as against the wife:—Held: the fiat, being the adjudication of a ct. of competent jurisdiction, was, until set aside, proof of the bkpcy. against all parties.—COLOMBINE v. PENHALL, PENHALL v. MILLER (1853), 1 Sm. & G. 228; 1 W. 1632. On power of tenant for life—To consent to advancement.]—Testatrix gave a moiety of a trust fund to trustees upon trust to pay the income to J. during his life, & after his death in trust for W. (an infant), empowering the trustee to raise any part not exceeding one-half of W.'s share for his advancement, subject to the consent in writing of J. during his life. The trustees were desirous of exercising the power, but J. had become a bkpt. & was still undischarged:—Held: the power of consenting to the advancement was not extinguished by his bkpcy., but could not be exercised without the sanction of his trustee in bkpcy. acting under the direction of the Ct. of Bkpcy.—Re COOPER, COOPER v. SLIGHT (1884), 27 Ch. q. On writ of civil imprisonment.]—The mere sequestration of a debtor's estate does not ipso facto release him from the operation of a writ of civil imprisonment. Consequently, if he wishes to be released he must apply to the ct. for that purpose, notice whereof must be given to his creditors, who will be entitled to their costs of appearance, unless they take up a frivolous or vexatious attitude.—ROOS v. BODEN, [1918] C. 1633. On power to concur with wife in making morgages.]—Under the will of testator, who died in Mar., 1862, M., a married woman, was entitled in reversion expectant on the death of a tenant for life to a share of the proceeds of real estate devised to trustees in trust for sale on that event. In Aug., in the lifetime of the tenant for life, M.'s husband executed a general assignment, under 1861 Act, of all his property to a trustee for the benefit of his creditors. In Aug., 1866, he was adjudged bkpt., & in Dec. following he obtained his discharge. The tenant for life died in Jan., 1869. By a deed executed in Feb. following, & duly acknowledged by M. under Fines & Recoveries Act, 1833 (c. 74), s. 77, M. & her husband assigned all money which should become due to them or either of them under testator's will to S. by way of mtge. Shortly afterwards the trustees of the will sold the real estate, & ultimately paid M.'s share of the proceeds into ct.:—Held: the husband was not precluded by the creditors' deed of 1862 or by his bkpcy. in 1866 from concurring with his wife in the mtge. of 1869, & the mtge. was valid against the trustee of the creditors' deed & the assignee in bkpcy.—Re JAKEMAN'S TRUSTS (1883), 23 Ch. 1634. On contract—"Unduly delaying proper payment."]—In Sept., 1903, A. signed a contract with a local authority to construct sewage works. The contract provided that certain machinery for the works was to be supplied to A. by specified firms, & that (clause 54), "if the engineer shall have reasonable cause to believe that the contractor is unduly delaying proper payment to the firms supplying the machinery, he shall have power, if he thinks fit, to order direct payment to them." On Oct. 12, 1904, A. was adjudicated bkpt. on his own petition. At that date there was then due under the contract a sum of £1,574 15*s.* 10*d.*, but A. owed £836 8*s.* 9*d.* in various amounts to the specified firms for machinery supplied to him for the works, & the engineer in 1905 made two orders under clause 54 directing payment of the £836 8*s.* 9*d.* out of the £1,574 15*s.* 10*d.* to the firms in settlement of their accounts:—Held: (1) A. by presenting his own petition in bkpcy. unduly delayed proper payment to the machinery firms within clause 54; (2) the power conferred by that clause on the engineer was not annulled or revoked by A.'s bkpcy., & the firms, by virtue of the two orders of the engineer were entitled to be paid the £836 8*s.* 9*d.* out of the £1,574 15*s.* 10*d.* in priority to the claim of the trustee.—Re WILKINSON, Ex p. FOWLER, [1905] 2 K. 1635. On surety for composition—Adjudication on default of payment of instalment.]—Debtor having filed a petition under 1883 Act resolutions were passed accepting a composition of 20*s.* in the pound, extending over 15 months, payment of which was secured by a mtge. given by pltf. to deft. as trustee. Default having been made in payment of the instalments, debtor was adjudicated bkpt. on the application of creditors under s. 18 (11), & by the same order the composition was expressly annulled:—Held: pltf.'s suretyship for the composition was thereby discharged, & the mtge. deed must be set aside, so far as it made pltf. liable as surety.—WALTON v. COOK (1888), 40 Ch. 1642. Second adjudication—Power of court to transfer proceedings.]—Debtor was adjudicated bkpt. on his own petition, in Dec., 1869, in a county ct. A creditor, who had proved under the bkpcy., for the purpose of impeaching the first bkpcy., filed a fresh petition for adjudication, in June, 1870, in the Ct. of London, under which debtor was a second time adjudicated bkpt. The Chief Judge made an order transferring the proceedings in the first bkpcy. from the county ct. to London :—Held : he had power under 1869 Act, s. 80, to make the order, although the proceedings had been begun under the 1861Act.—Re WIELAND, Ex p. WIELAND (1870), 5 Ch. 1650. ——.]—Pltf. was adjudicated a bkpt. in 1888 & never obtained his discharge. In Apr., 1902, he was a director of & held one thousand shares in a co., the articles of assocn. of which required that the qualification of a director should be the holding " in his own right " of one hundred shares, & that his office should be vacated if he ceased to hold the qualifying number of shares. In the same month pltf.'s trustee in bkpcy. wrote to the co. claiming the shares as his, but postponing his decision whether he would be registered himself or have some nominee registered as transferee. Thereupon the other directors excluded pltf. from the board, on the ground that he had become disqualified. Subsequently a transfer of one hundred other shares in pltf.'s favour was executed & lodged with the co. for registration. Although the trustee had not raised any objection to registration, the directors refused to register the transfer :—Held :

1654. Removal of disqualification—"Misfortune without misconduct"—Bankruptcy resulting from—Libel or slander action.]—Held: the words "misfortune without any misconduct" in 1883 Act, s. 32 (2) (b), meant pure misfortune as distinguished from & without misconduct, & the word "misconduct" in that sect. is not to be interpreted with reference to s. 28 of the Act, or confined to the "conduct" therein specified.

Bkpt., the editor of a newspaper, was indicted for a libel & sentenced to three months' imprisonment & to pay the costs of the prosecution. During the time he was in gaol all his property was sold under a bill of sale given for the purpose of the defence, & he subsequently presented his own petition. On appeal from a decision of the county ct. judge refusing a certificate under 1883 Act, s. 32 (2) (b):—Held: the bkpcy. was caused by the libel, the sentence, & the imprisonment, & it was impossible to say that such bkpcy. was caused by misfortune without any misconduct on bkpt.'s part; & the refusal of the certificate was right.—Re BURGESS, Ex p. BURGESS (1887), 57 L. 1655. —— —— —— ——.]—Applt., who was in the habit of making speeches on social questions, used words at a meeting in a public place with reference to an insurance co., for which an action for slander was brought, in which he was ordered to pay damages & costs. Having been made bkpt. as a result of the action, he applied for a certificate under 1883 Act, s. 32 (2) (b), so that he might become a candidate for Parliament. Applt.'s evidence went to show that he had no personal interest in the matter & what he did was from motives of charity. The county ct. judge refused to grant the certificate:—Held: applt. had not discharged the onus of showing that "the bkpcy. was caused by misfortune without any misconduct on his part," & the certificate should not be granted. —Re THOMPSON, Ex p. THOMPSON (1919), 88 L. At the trial the jury found that the wife had not committed adultery, & the petition was dismissed, & debtor was ordered to pay the costs of his wife & of co-resps. The means of debtor both before & after the commencement of the proceedings were wholly insufficient to pay such costs, & he was adjudged a bkpt. on the petition of one of co-resps.:—Held: the bkpcy. of debtor had not been "caused by misfortune without any misconduct on his part," & he was not entitled to the certificate described in 1883 Act, s. 32.—Re CAMPBELL (LORD COLIN) (1888), 20 Q. 1667. —— "Persons aggrieved"—Trustees of deed for benefit of creditors.]—A. issued a writ against B., claiming £49 11*s.* 7*d.* debt & £3 costs. On the same day, B. executed a deed assigning all his property to trustees for the benefit of his creditors. A. afterwards signed judgment for £49 11*s.* 7*d.* debt & costs, which were taxed at £8 9*s.* 6*d.*, making £58 1*s.* 1*d.* in all, & presented a bkpcy. petition against B., alleging as the act of bkpcy. the execution of the creditors' deed. 1670. Who will be heard—Solicitor—Remission to enable bankrupt to appear & be heard.]—Upon an application to annul an adjudication in bkpcy., A., a solr. of the Ct. of Bkpcy., appeared in ct. for bkpt., not as his solr., but as representing his solrs., whose managing clerk A. was. The comr. refused to hear him, & the application was thereupon dismissed :—Held : (1) the privilege given by 1861 Act, s. 212, to solrs. to appear & plead, personally in Cts. of Bkpcy., was confined to solrs. appearing as solrs. of the particular clients ; (2) having regard to the fact that bkpt. was present in ct. & taken by surprise, the matter ought to be remitted to the comr. to enable bkpt. to appear & be heard.—Re BROADHOUSE, Ex p. BROADHOUSE (1867), 2 Ch. 1670 i. Who will be heard—When petitioning creditors are induced to withdraw.]—Applt. appealed against the order adjudging him insolvent, petitioning creditors being resps. named on the record. When the appeal came on for hearing, resps. did not appear, applt. having settled with them, in order to induce them to withdraw from the appeal. Another creditor, whose name was in the insolvent's schedule applied to be heard in the appeal in support of the order of adjudication, & if necessary that his name should be entered on the record as resp. The ct. granted the application.—Re HAROON MAHOMED (1890), I. L. R. 14 Bom. 189. —IND.

1671 i. Manner of application—Must be distinct.]—An application, upon equitable grounds, to set aside an adjudication should be made, not by way of defence to the order of adjudication, but by a distinct, substantive application, either by petition or motion, setting forth the special grounds relied on.—Re W. 1671 iii. —— Form of petition.]—A commission issued in 1838. On a petition for a supersedeas in 1844, the Lord Chancellor said that the petition should have set forth the cause of delay, & directed an inquiry before the comr. to ascertain whether, in the circumstances stated, & under Bkpt. Act, 1836, s. 151, petitioner was entitled to have the commission superseded.—Re FERGUSON, Ex p. FERGUSON (1844), 6 I. Eq. R. 521.—IR.

k. Consent to supersedeas — Whether sufficient signature.]—The consent of a creditor to a supersedeas in bkpcy. was signed by a person authorised under a power of attorney, executed by the creditor, then resident in New York. The verifying affidavit was sworn before the British Consul, & attested by his seal of office, & did not purport to have been sworn before a justice of the peace :—Held : the consent was sufficiently signed.—Ex p. HUTTON (1844), 6 I. Eq. R. 522.—IR.

1672 i. Within what time.]—An application to rehear an order for adjudication must be made within the thirty days allowed for entering an appeal by Irish 1857 Act, s. 29.—Re DOHERTY (1877), I. R. 11 Eq. 318.—IR.

1674. —— Effect of delay.]—A petition by a creditor to annul a fiat, on the ground of legal invalidity only, was dismissed by reason of the creditor's delay in presenting such petition.

A ct. asked to give relief, which is not ex debito justitiæ, but of which the refusal is within the compass of its lawful functions, is justified in requiring appct. to show that he has proceeded without unnecessary delay, & with reasonable diligence, or to show, in a case where without any reason or excuse the commencement of the proceedings has been delayed for a considerable time, as, for instance, a twelvemonth or upwards beyond the period at which it might have taken place, & where its success must vary the rights of persons perfectly innocent & blameless, that these rights will not be affected prejudicially, or will not be affected otherwise than they would have been had the proceeding been commenced with diligence (KNIGHT BRUCE, V.-C.).—Re BRETTARGH, Ex p. MAXWELL (1844), 3 Mont. 1675. —— ——.]—A receiving order having been made against debtor, a scheme of arrangement was proposed which was considered on Dec. 15, 1903, by a meeting of creditors, at which debtor was present. The meeting rejected the scheme & resolved on adjudication. Immediately after the meeting, without any notice to & in the absence of debtor, the order of adjudication was made on the application of petitioning creditors. On Apr. 14, 1904, debtor applied to the registrar to annul the order. The trustee had in the meanwhile realised a portion of the estate :—Held : the application was rightly dismissed on the ground that it was too late.—Re PONSFORD, Ex p. PONSFORD, [1904] 2 K. 1678. Extension of time—Judgment suffered by default through ignorance.]—Debtor allowed his wife a separate maintenance, but she, notwithstanding, incurred further debts, & debtor through ignorance suffered judgment, by default, & was adjudicated a bkpt. under the judgment debtor summons clauses of 1861 Act. The ct. extended for a few days the time for showing cause against the adjudication.—Re ANON. (1863), 11 W. R. 881; subsequent proceedings, 11 W. R. 988.

1679. —— One of three partners not appealing in time.]—An adjudication having been made against three partners, two of them appealed. The cases of all three were identical. The third, who had not appealed within the time fixed by 1870 Rules, was allowed to appeal, & the adjudication was annulled against all three.—Re HAYWARD, Ex p. HAYWARD (1871), 6 Ch. Right to copies of exhibits referred to in affidavit in answer to petition to annul—Exhibits not mutual accounts or documents between parties.]—Where an affidavit, in answer to a petition to annul a fiat referred to certain exhibits, which did not appear to be mutual accounts or documents between the parties, the ct. refused an application of petitioner to have copies of them furnished to him, before the hearing of the petition.—Re PARR, Ex p. PARR (1839), 3 Deac. 607, Ct. of R.

1688. Inquiry ordered—Alleged negligence of petitioning creditor.]—Upon a petition by bkpt. to annul a fiat issued by an attorney for the amount of his bill of costs, on the ground that the chief part of the bill consisted of charges for the prosecution of an action on the part of bkpt., in which he was nonsuited by reason of the gross negligence of the attorney, the ct. referred it to the registrar to inquire & report as to the quantum of negligence.—Re SOUTHALL, Ex p. SOUTHALL (1839), 4 Deac. 91; 1 Mont. & Ch. 656; 3 Jur. 1177, Ct. of R.

1692. —— Failure of appeal from adjudication—Undertaking of solicitors as to costs.]—Two out of four bkpts. appealed from the adjudication, & the Ct. of Appeal gave them leave to try the question in an action, upon the undertaking of their solrs. to abide by such order as the Ct. of Appeal might make as to costs. The adjudication was sustained at law:—Held: the appeal must be dismissed, but without costs, the solrs., in pursuance of their undertaking, to pay the costs of the action.—Re CASTELLI, Ex p. CASTELLI (1854), 23 L. 1685 i. Right of bankrupt's counsel to inspect file of proceedings & depositions.]—On a motion to supersede a commission of bkpcy., bkpt.'s counsel are not entitled to inspect the file of proceedings, or to call for the depositions of the witnesses proving the act of bkpcy. to be read, in order to argue against the finding. The practice is for the Lord Chancellor to look into them apart & he supersedes the commission, if he do not find sufficient on the face of the proceedings to satisfy himself that an act of bkpcy. has been committed.—Re SNEYDS, Ex p. BANK OF IRELAND (1829), 1 Mol. 261.—IR.

l. Stay of application—To enable petitioning creditor to prove bankruptcy.]—Where a petition was presented by debtor to supersede a commission which issued on June 3, & under which there were several meetings until June 19, but no act of bkpcy. was proved, the ct. allowed a week to the creditor to go before the comrs., & prove the bkpcy. if he could, & ordered him in any case to pay the costs of debtor's petition.—Ex p. CREAN (1828), 2 Mol. 147; 2 Ir. 1693. General rule.]—Bkpt. was granted his discharge on his brother paying all costs, the trustee's remuneration, & 7*s.* 6*d.* in the pound to the creditors. An application was then made to annul the adjudication to enable him to return to the position which he had occupied prior to his bkpcy:—Held: even if the ct. had power outside 1883 Act to annul a bkpcy., such power ought not to be exercised in the circumstances.

PART V. SECT. 3, SUB-SECT. 3.

1694 i. Proceedings taken with improper motive—Motive not fraudulent.]—Proceedings taken by a creditor for the sequestration of the estate of a debtor, with the object, not of getting the debt paid, nor of getting a distribution of the assets of debtor, nor of putting in force any of the penal provisions of Insolvency Acts, but with the object of obtaining on an examination under Insolvency Acts information as to who was "behind" debtor in the publication by debtor of certain pamphets defamatory of the creditor, are not an abuse of the process of the ct.; the motive of the creditor in taking the proceedings is not a ground for refusing to make the order nisi for sequestration absolute.—DOWLING v. COLONIAL MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY, LTD., [1915] V. L. R. 604.—AUS.

o. —— For collateral purposes.]—The fact that a commission of bkpcy. was issued for an indirect & improper object is not a ground for superseding it, if that was not the sole object.—Re WALL (1848), I. R. 12 Eq. 285.—IR.

p. —— Debt purchased to stifle action by debtor.]—Where a debt is purchased for the purpose of founding a petition for adjudication upon it, not to recover the debt, but for purposes outside the law of bkpcy., the ct. will not make an adjudication. It is a fraud upon the bkpcy. laws for a creditor to purchase a debt for the purpose of petitioning for the adjudication of debtor in order to stifle or delay the prosecution of a suit then pending by debtor against petitioning creditor. —Re COOPER, Ex p. COLEMAN (1882), 1 N. Z. L. R. 301.—N.Z.

q. —— To stifle action by debtor.]—An adjudication in bkpcy. will be annulled when it has been obtained by a judgment creditor of debtor for the purpose of putting a stop to pending litigation against the creditor at the suit of debtor.—Re ELL (1885), 3 N. Z. L. R. 433.—N.Z.

r. —— To avoid effect of composition agreement & resolutions.]—A creditor who had assented to a deed, whereby debtor assigned all his estate to trustees for the benefit of his creditors, & who afterwards assented to an agreement for a composition by debtor, & to a resolution of creditors acceding to the agreement, subsequently, in concert with debtor & his sureties, for the purpose of getting rid of the effect of the deed, agreement, & resolution, procured an act of bkpcy. to be committed by debtor, &, thereupon, filed a petition against him, upon which he was adjudicated a bkpt.:—Held: the adjudication should be annulled.—Re H., Ex p. VANCE & WILSON (1874), 8 I. L. T. 185.—IR.

s. —— At the instance of the debtor.]—A commission will be superseded when it appears to have been procured at the instance of bkpt. himself, & in such cases always with costs. —Re NICHOLSON (1829), 3 Ir. L. Rec. 1st ser. 185.—IR.

t. —— Petition filed to defeat & delay creditors—Whether malâ fide.]—On an application to set aside an adjudication made on debtor's own petition, it was alleged that the petition was filed to defeat & delay creditors, & was presented malâ fide for the purpose of defrauding the only creditor on the estate:—Held: the action of debtor, in the circumstances, was not malâ fide, or such as to justify the ct. in setting aside the adjudication.—Re HAZLETON [1915] 2 I. R. 425; 49 I. L. T. 29.—IR.

u. —— To defeat wife's right to maintenance.]—A husband, in order to defeat his wife's right to maintenance under a separation deed, filed a petition in bkpcy. & was thereupon adjudged a bkpt. The ct. annulled the adjudication as an abuse of the process of the ct.—Re AEKINS, Ex p. AEKINS (1911), 30 N. Z. L. R. 1021.—N.Z.

w. —— To determine partnership.]—It is neither fraud nor an abuse of process to petition for a sequestration order with an indirect motive, that is for a purpose other than the equal distribution of the assets, as, for example, to exclude debtor from a partnership; secus, if such order would in the circumstances be unsuitable, & enable petitioner fraudulently to defeat the rights of others whether legal or equitable.—KING v. HENDERSON, [1898] A. C. 720; 67 L. J. P. C. 134; 79 L. T. 37; 47 W. R. 157; 14 T. L. R. 490; 5 Mans. 308, P. C.—AUS.

y. —— In Scotland—To evade English law.]—R., a domiciled Englishman, obtained sequestration under Bkpcy. (Scotland) Act, 1856; R. had come to Scotland to take advantage of the above Act, the whole of his effects were, & nearly all his creditors resided, in England:—Held: the case fell within the provisions of Bkpcy. (Scotland) Amendment Act, 1860 & the sequestration was recalled.—SMITH & CO. v. ROSTRON (1860), 23 Dunl. (Ct. of Sess.) 140.—SCOT.

a. —— —— ——.]—A bkpt. came to Scotland for the purpose of availing himself of the Scottish law of sequestration, & applied for sequestration by a designation clearly calculated to mislead his English creditors. Nearly all his creditors were in England:—Held: the sequestration must be recalled, the Scottish Cts. not proposing to allow the English bkpt. laws to be evaded & the Scottish law "to be made a cover & protection for getting affairs brought under it which ought to be dealt with elsewhere."—MOSES v. GIFFORD (1866), 4 Macph. b. —— —— ——.]—A foreigner resident in London having become insolvent, came to Scotland & got sequestration there. He had no creditors or assets in Scotland, the majority of his creditors in value being abroad, & the rest in England. Petition for recall of sequestration, in respect that there were no creditors in Scotland, refused. —SMITH BROTHERS & CO. v. RISCHMANN (1869), 42 Sc. Jur. 48.—SCOT.

c. —— —— ——.]—A Scotchman by origin, while residing & trading in England, contracted debt there to a large amount. He subsequently came to Scotland & obtained sequestration. A large majority of his creditors in number & value were resident in England. His assets consisted chiefly of shares in English mining & other cos., most of them unmarketable, which were pledged to certain of his creditors in security of their debts. The ct. recalled the sequestration, chiefly on the ground that the bkpcy. was essentially an English bkpcy., & that the object of resorting to sequestration in Scotland was to enable bkpt. to obtain his discharge on less stringent conditions than would have been imposed by English law, although it did not appear that bkpt. had come to Scotland merely for the purpose of obtaining sequestration, & although a large majority of the creditors in number & value lodged answers stating their wish that the sequestration should proceed in Scotland.—COOPER v. BAILLIE (1878), 5 R. (Ct. of Sess.), 564; 15 Sc. L. R. 312.—SCOT.

d. —— In Ireland—Debts all contracted in England.]—An English trader contracted in England large debts, & then came to Ireland & traded there to a very limited extent as a commission agent, having only one Irish trade debt. On the petition of English creditors the bkpcy. was annulled on the ground that there had not been any trading in Ireland & debtor remitted back to the jurisdiction within which the debts were contracted.—Re HORNER (1869), 21 L. T. 340; 3 I. L. T. Jo. 677.—IR.

e. Commission fraudulently obtained—At instance of creditor not having proved his debt.]—A commission will be superseded & the certificate stayed, at the instance of a person who has not proved a debt but is proceeding at law against bkpt., when the commission has been fraudulently obtained. —Re BURGESS (1828), 1 Ir. L. Rec. 1st ser. 374.—IR.

f. Prior act of bankruptcy.]—A prior act of bkpcy. does not invalidate a commission founded on a subsequent one, unless it is proved there was at that time a debt or debts sufficient to take out a commission.—GRAHAM v. WALKER, (1809) 2 Mol. 445.—IR.

g. —— Adjudication on debtor's petition.]—When a trader has obtained an adjudication upon his own petition, if a reasonable ground exists for believing that he has engaged in transactions capable of being deemed acts of bkpcy. before the date of the declaration of insolvency upon which such adjudication was founded, the ct. will annul the existing adjudication, & permit a creditor to file a new petition eo instanti.—Re FRENCH (1867), I. 1695. —— ——.]—Unless a fiat issued by bkpt. against himself was issued with the view & purpose that it should be the means or an instrument of fraud, it ought not, for any object of convenience, or otherwise, to be annulled against bkpt.'s consent. If, however, it had been proved, or there were sufficient grounds for judicial suspicion that a fiat issued by bkpt. against himself was issued with the view & for the purpose that it should be the means or an instrument of fraud, it would probably be the duty of the ct. to annul it, or issue an investigation, in order to ascertain whether it was so issued. It is not material that it was issued for the purpose mainly & chiefly of affording bkpt. protection against the consequences of the proceedings at law against him, & without a predominant or active wish to benefit or assist his bonâ fide creditors.—Re ROBINSON & TURLAY, Ex p. NORTON (1847), De G. 504, Ct. of R.

1702. —— To determine partnership.]—Although there be a trading, a debt, & an act of bkpcy., yet if the commission be taken out for a purpose foreign from its object, as to work a dissolution of a partnership, it is supersedable at the costs of those who take it out.—Re BROWNE, Ex p. BROWNE (1810), 1 Rose, 151.

An application that an adjudication should be annulled, on the ground that the proceedings in bkpcy. were taken with an improper motive & with the view of promoting the objects of debtor's partners by driving debtor out of the firm, was refused.

When all the legal requisites are shown to exist, it requires a strong case to warrant the annulling the adjudication on the ground of a collateral motive. In the present case there appears considerable reason to think that there was a strong bias in the minds of [debtor's] partners in favour of making him bkpt. & disposing of his contention against them by settling it in this way. But these facts do not constitute a sufficiently strong case for doing away with the legal effect of the adjudication. The partners were well disposed towards bkpcy. ; but that is not enough ; the legal requisites existing, the adjudication must remain (KNIGHT BRUCE, L.J.).—Re UPFILL, Ex p. UPFILL (1866), 1 Ch. 1705. —— —— To determine lease—To stop action.]—It is an abuse of the powers of the Great Seal to take out a commission with a view wholly foreign to the object of the bkpcy. laws, as to determine a lease, stop an action, etc.

1713. Proceedings taken in breach of good faith.]—A commission which had in contravention of good faith been resorted to pending a negotiation, whereby the parties were thrown off their guard, & for the illegitimate purpose of inducing an accession to the demands of the party issuing it, was superseded.

Looking merely at the circumstances of conduct & good faith, which ought to have been observed pending the negotiations between these parties, there is enough, upon the principles of control over the abuse of their proceedings, which all cts. entertain, to say that this commission ought not to stand (LORD ELDON, C.).—Ex p. HARCOURT (1815), 2 Rose, 203.

1714. —— Supersedable for want of prosecution.]—Where a commission is taken out in violation of good faith, etc., application may be made to the ct. to supersede it, notwithstanding that it is supersedable for want of prosecution.—Re AMYES, Ex p. LOWE (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 78, L. C.

1715. —— Abuse of process—Trustees of deed inducing creditors to petition.]—Debtor, being embarrassed, was advised by two professional friends to make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, without being informed that it would be an act of bkpcy. The assignment was executed, & they became trustees, & proceeded to sell part of the estates. They then said that the deed was an act of bkpcy., & induced two tradesmen to take out a commission upon the deed :—Held : although there had been no collusion, the taking out of the commission was an abuse of the Great Seal.—Re WADE, Ex p. WADE (1825), cited in 2 Gl. & J. at p. 143.

1717. —— Must be clearly established.]—Where an adjudication is disputed on the ground of legal invalidity, such invalidity must be clearly established & it is not sufficient to allege matters of invalidity or supposed invalidity which are contradicted by the other side, or where the balance of evidence does not greatly preponderate.—Re ROLLS, Ex p. WILLIAMS (1857), 29 L. T. O. S. 25.

1718. Misdescription—Must be material.]—Commission against A. of Finsbury Square, in the City of London, instead of the County of Middlesex :—Held : not a material misdescription.—Re MARTELLY, Ex p. SMITH (1823), 1 Gl. & J. 256.

1719. Affidavit of debt sworn before petitioning creditor's solicitor.]—The circumstance that the affidavit of debt was sworn before the solr. to petitioning creditor :—Held : not sufficient ground for annulling the fiat, but an improper practice, which, if it became general, might be thereafter considered sufficient ground.—Re WRIGHT, Ex p. WRIGHT (1843), 3 Mont. 1720. Uncertainty in particulars of demand—What is convenient certainty.]—In particulars of demand served by a fruit merchant on a grocer, together with a summons under 1849 Act :—Held : the word "goods" described the wares supplied sufficiently to prevent an adjudication from being annulled on the ground of uncertainty in the particulars.

What is convenient certainty depends on the situations of the parties as well as the nature of the demand.—Re BOWERS, Ex p. BOWER (1852), 1 De G. M. & G. 468; 21 L. J. Bcy. 61; 20 L. T. O. S. 27; 16 Jur. 734; 42 E. R. 633, L. JJ.

1721. Merely formal defect in summons.]—On serving debtor with a debtor's summons, the sealed copy which was delivered to him stated the amount of the debt claimed by the creditor to be £24 (instead of £74, the real amount), but the following words were added, "being the sum claimed of you by him according to the particulars hereunto annexed." The particulars thus referred to were set forth on the second half of a sheet of paper, the first half of which contained the summons. The particulars stated the amount of the debt, & the circumstances under which it arose, correctly:—Held: the error in the summons was a merely formal defect, by which debtor could not possibly have been misled, & as the service of the summons was not invalidated by it, an adjudication of bkpcy. founded on the summons could not be impeached.—Re JOHNSON, Ex p. JOHNSON (1883), 25 Ch. 1729. Adjudication against member of banking company—For debt due by company—No judgment against public officer.]—A fiat issued against pltf., on July 20, 1849, upon a debt due from a banking co., in which he was a member, to G., petitioning creditor, without any judgment having been obtained against the public officer, & a warrant of seizure in the ordinary form was issued to F., the messenger, dated July 30. The creditors' assignee was appointed on Aug. 21. 1849 Act came into operation on Oct. 11, & on Oct. 18, a seizure of pltf.'s goods was made under the warrant:—Held: the fiat was invalid.—DAVISON v. FARMER (1851), 6 Exch. 242; 20 L. 1721 i. Merely formal defect.]—Where a corpn. was petitioning creditor & the affidavit was made by one officer of the corpn. & the bond given by another officer:—Held: although the commission was not strictly regular, it was in the discretion of the ct. to support it; mere irregularities or matters of regulation are not sufficient to supersede the commission.—Re SNEYDS, Ex p. SNEYDS, Ex p. BANK OF IRELAND (1829), 1 Mol. 261.—IR.

1721 ii. ——— Debtor misdescribed in petition — Creditors not misled.]—A debtor obtained sequestration on a petition, in which he designated himself by his full name, Phillip Ludwig Rischmann. He had previously carried on business under the name of L. or Louis Rischmann:—Held: as there was no evidence of the creditors having been misled by the use of bkpt.'s correct name, there was no misdescription to justify recall of the sequestration.—SMITH BROTHERS & Co. v. RISCHMANN (1869), 42 Sc. Jur. 48.—SCOT.

h. Irregularity in service of debtor's summons.]—Debtor, neither carrying on trade nor residing in Ireland, failed to comply with a debtor's summons, which had been served under an order for substituted service, on his solr.:—Held: his adjudication must be annulled.—Re MURRAY, [1916] 2 I. R. 554.—IR.

k. Joint commission — Against firm—On petition by one partner only.]—An order for sequestration of a firm, consisting of two partners, was made on the petition of one partner only, the other partner being absent & never having authorised or consented to the petition:—Held: the order was bad.—Re MYERS & DAVIS (TRADING AS J. D. MYERS & Co.) (1891), 17 V. L. R. 351.—AUS.

1722 i. ——— Annulment as to one bankrupt—Wrongly supposed to be member of firm.]—When a man trades under a particular name or style, such as "J. & H.," & merchants give credit on the supposition that two brothers are trading in partnership, & a joint adjudication takes place, the ct., on hearing evidence that one of the brothers has not anything to do with the concern to which the goods were sent, will annul the adjudication as to him, & give him his costs.—Re M'KEON (1869), 3 I. 1722 ii. ——— ——— Dying before petition.]—D. & W. carried on business in partnership under the style of D. W. & Co. D. died & W. carried on the business in the firm's name for some time. Upon W.'s petition for the sequestration of the estate of D. W. & Co. stating that his firm admitted that they were unable to pay their debts an order was made sequestrating the estate of D. W. & Co. D.'s extrix. then applied to strike out the name of D. from the order & amend the order, so as to sequestrate the estate of W. only:—Held: the amendment made was a proper one, notwithstanding the fact that there was no petition for the sequestration of the estate of W. only.—Re DOBSON, WATSON & Co. 1722 iii. ——— ——— Retiring before date of petition — Since dead.]—On the petition of T. as surviving partner, a sequestration order was made against H. & T. as members of the firm. unsecured creditors, one for a large amount, the other two for small sums. At the first meeting of creditors only the large creditor was present & the same thing happened at several adjourned meetings. The result was that no trustee of bkpt.'s property was chosen. The registrar in the exercise of the power given by 1869 Act, s. 84, having annulled the adjudication:—Held: this was not a proper exercise of the discretion of the ct., as even a sole creditor was entitled to make his debtor a bkpt., & ought not to be deprived of the remedies which the law gave him without some very strong reason.—Re FINNEY, Ex p. ENGLISH JOINT STOCK BANK (1870), 6 Ch. 1731. Insufficiency of petitioning creditor's debt —Less than £50 at date of act of bankruptcy.]—A. issued a writ against B., claiming £49 11*s.* 7*d.* debt & £3 costs. On the same day B. executed a deed assigning all his property to trustees for the benefit of his creditors. A. afterwards signed judgment for £49 11*s.* 7*d.* debt & costs, which were taxed at £8 9*s.* 6*d.*, making £58 1*s.* 1*d.* in all & then presented a bkpcy. petition against B., alleging as the act of bkpcy. the execution of the creditors' deed. The county ct. judge having adjudicated B. bkpt.:—Held: there was no good petitioner's debt at the date of the act of bkpcy. & the adjudication must be annulled.—Re WHELAN, Ex p. SADLER (1878), 48 L. J. Bcy. 43; 39 L. T. 361; 27 W. R. 156.

1732. —— Bankrupt guilty of laches.]—Bkpt., a poor & illiterate person, petitioned to supersede a commission issued in 1829, by an attorney on a debt stated to be £132 10*s.*, due on bills of costs, on the ground that the bills, which had been recently taxed, had been reduced below £100, which was then the minimum amount of a petitioning creditor's debt. Two petitions by bkpt. had been previously dismissed on a matter of form. Petitioning creditor had subsequently proved other debts amounting to over £300:—Held: bkpt. having lain by so long before he ascertained the real amount of the debt by taxation, was not entitled after the lapse of more than two years to supersede the commission.—Re HOOPER, Ex p. HOOPER (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 117, Ct. of R.

1733. —— ——.]—An adjudication in bkpcy., not appealed from & duly advertised, will not afterwards be annulled under the general jurisdiction of the ct., on the ground that there was no sufficient petitioning creditor's debt to support the adjudication.—Re TRIM, Ex p. FRENCH (1882), 52 L. J. Ch. 48; 47 L. T. 339.

1734. —— —— Question of sufficiency must be raised at proper time.]—H. was, without opposition on his part, adjudicated bkpt. At the first meeting of creditors no quorum was present, & that fact was represented to the judge, who directed the adjudication to go on with the registrar as trustee. There were only three creditors besides petitioning creditor. Bkpt. & the three creditors applied to have the bkpcy. annulled, & raised a question as to the sufficiency of petitioning creditor's debt:—Held: as bkpt. had not disputed the debt at the time of the adjudication he could not do so now, & neither he nor the creditors had any right now to ask to have the adjudication annulled on that ground, but there would be a proper opportunity in the bkpcy. proceedings to dispute the debt.—Re HOOPER, Ex p. HOOPER (1876), 45 L. 1735. No debt due at time of acts of bankruptcy.]—An acceptance was written on an incomplete bill of exchange, to which no drawer's name was affixed. The acceptor soon afterwards assigned all his property for the benefit of his creditors. Some weeks after that the bill, which had remained in the hands of the acceptor's agent, was completed & indorsed to a bonâ fide holder for value, who, on its being dishonoured, obtained an adjudication in bkpcy. against the acceptor, grounded on the assignment as an act of bkpcy.:—Held: the adjudication must be reversed, as no debt existed on the bill until it was issued, which was after the act of bkpcy.—Re HAYWARD, Ex p. HAYWARD (1871), 6 Ch. 1737. Petition by bankrupt's agent—All creditors consenting.]—Where the petition was by bkpt.'s agent, who held a power of attorney, giving him full power to act, an application to supersede the commission, with consent of creditors, was granted. —ANON. (1834), 3 L. J. Bcy. 96.

1738. No act of bankruptcy—Conveyance not drawn up according to instructions.]—Where the act of bkpcy. was a conveyance of bkpt.'s estate & effects, which upon the evidence appeared not to have been drawn according to the instructions of bkpt.:—Held: (1) it could not be considered the deed of bkpt.; (2) the commission must be superseded.—Re NORRIS, Ex p. NORRIS (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 233, L. 1731 i. Insufficiency of petitioning creditor's debt — Debt contingent & secured.]—Application to set aside an order of sequestration, on the ground that petitioning creditors had only a future contingent debt. The ct. refused the motion, as the conduct of the insolvent was such as to justify petitioners in looking upon him as an absconding debtor.

The fact of petitioning creditor not disclosing the existence of a security for his debt, is not a ground for setting an order for sequestration aside.—Re ROWLEY (1876), 2 V. L. R. 50.—AUS.

1731 ii. —— Debt contracted after Irish 1872 Act passed.]—In 1870, M., a non-trader, became assignee of a freehold lease containing a covenant for payment of the rent reserved, & having failed to provide for the year's rent due in Mar., 1873, for which judgment had been obtained against him, he was adjudicated a bkpt.:—Held: the debt was not one "contracted after the passing" of the above Act, & adjudication annulled.—Re MARQUESS (1874), I. m. Set-off against petitioning creditor's debt — No notice of claim to creditor.] — Where a debtor has been adjudicated bkpt. on the petition of a judgment creditor, against whom he had a pecuniary claim, but no notice was given to the creditor at the time that the adjudication was made of the existence of this claim, the adjudication will not be annulled.—Re LOWRIE (1891), 9 N. Z. L. R. 702. —N.Z.

1740. —— Property exhausted to injury of creditors.]—An act of bkpcy. was concerted between bkpt. & his sister, petitioning creditor, with the view of taking from a judgment creditor the benefit of a judgment he had obtained at law, & of injuring him by exhausting the property, which was scarcely sufficient to pay the expenses of the commission :—Held : the commission must be superseded & at the expense of petitioning creditor.—Ex p. BINMER (1816), 1 Madd. 25 ; 56 E. R. 93.

1741. —— Assignment for benefit of creditors —Creditor assenting thereto.]—A verbal assent by a creditor to a deed of assignment made by his debtor of all his estates & effects for the benefit of creditors is sufficient to prevent such creditor from taking advantage of such assignment as an act of bkpcy., even though he does not execute the deed, & an adjudication at the instance of such creditor, founded upon such act of bkpcy., will be annulled. —Re A DISPUTED ADJUDICATION (1860), 1 L. T. 449.

See, further, Part III., Sect. 1, sub-sect. 3, B., ante.

1742. Act of bankruptcy after presumed death of debtor.]—A petitioning creditor alleged that his debtor had committed an act of bkpcy. by departing from his dwelling-house with intent to defeat & delay his creditors :—Held : the adjudication of bkpcy. must be annulled, on the ground that debtor must be presumed to have been dead when it was made, &, probate having been granted of a will executed by debtor, the costs & charges of the trustee properly incurred, & the costs of all parties of the application to annul & of the appeal, must be paid out of the estate, & the exors. must confirm all acts properly done by the trustee in the bkpcy.—Re STANGER, Ex p. GEISEL (1882), 22 Ch. D. 436 ; 53 L. J. Ch. 349 ; 48 L. T. 405 ; 31 W. R. 264, C. A.

1743. Evidence insufficient to support adjudication—Debtor signing declaration of insolvency whilst dispute pending—Costs.]—A trader absented himself for three or four days from his place of business, & in his absence a bill of exchange was presented for payment & was dishonoured. Application was also made for payment of other bills. The trader was adjudicated bkpt., the act of bkpcy. being such absence, "with intent to delay his creditors." One of the comrs. in the country annulled the bkpcy., the alleged bkpt. swearing that his absence was occasioned by an attempt of his to get up evidence of perjury against one of his workmen & to obtain pecuniary assistance. Pending this dispute as to the adjudication, the trader signed a declaration of insolvency :—Held : (1) the decision of the comr. should be affirmed, as there was not sufficient evidence to support the adjudication ; (2) in the circumstances the trader should not be allowed his costs, as his "declaration of insolvency" whilst applying to annul an adjudication was inconsistent with an honest desire for the equal distribution of his assets.—Re HORTON, Ex p. BARNEY (1862), 4 De G. F. & J. 503 ; 32 L. J. Bcy. 41 ; 7 L. T. 488 ; 9 Jur. N. S. 286 ; 45 E. R. 1279, L. C.

1744. Creditor refusing to appear in action by debtor—Debtor & creditor resident in Scotland—Adjudication in England.]—A trader, resident & carrying on business in Scotland, was adjudged bkpt. in England on the petition of a creditor resident in Scotland. The trader after the adjudication brought an action against petitioning creditor, but the latter refused to appear to it. On an application by bkpt. to annul the adjudication :—Held : (1) if the creditor did not appear to the action within ten days the adjudication should be annulled ; (2) he having failed so to appear, the adjudication should be annulled.—Re WOOLHEIM, Ex p. WOOLHEIM (1862), 32 L. 1745. Registration of composition resolutions—1870 Rules, r. 266.]—F. filed a petition for adjudication against P., who shortly afterwards filed a petition for liquidation by arrangement or composition. Before any meeting of creditors had been held, an adjudication was made by consent on F.'s petition, with a stay of proceedings under it till a certain day, before which the creditors duly passed resolutions for accepting a composition, which were afterwards duly registered. Orders had been made, by which the proceedings under the adjudication were from time to time stayed until after the registration :—Held : (1) 1870 Rules, r. 266, applied to a case where the petition for adjudication preceded the liquidation petition ; (2) the order for the adjudication must be regarded as made under that rule, &, resolutions for accepting a composition having been duly registered, the adjudication ought to be annulled.—Re POOLEY, Ex p. FOSTER (1874), 10 Ch. App. 59 ; 44 L. J. Bcy. 22 ; 31 L. T. 397 ; 23 W. R. 145, L. JJ.

1741 i. Commission founded on concerted act of bankruptcy—After assignment for creditors—Creditor consenting thereto.]—A creditor assented to a deed of assignment for the benefit of debtor's creditors, & afterwards assented to an agreement for a composition by debtor. Subsequently the creditor, in concert with debtor, procured an act of bkpcy. to be committed by debtor, & thereupon filed a petition against him, upon which he was adjudicated a bkpt. :—Held : the adjudication should be annulled.—Re H., Ex p. VANCE & WILSON (1874), 8 I. L. T. 185.—IR.

n. Interference with pending litigation between judgment creditor & debtor.]—C. brought an action against a bank & recovered a verdict, but a new trial was granted, & C. was adjudged bkpt. on the bank's petition. C. intended to prosecute his action, but would be prevented from doing so if he were made insolvent :—Held : the sequestration should be set aside.—Ex p. CAMPBELL (1880), 1 N. S. W. L. R. 77. —AUS.

p. —— Costs.]—Where an adjudication has been made while a suit is pending against the judgment creditor by debtor, the ct. in annulling it will allow debtor his costs, & will not make them the subject of a set-off. —Re BURKE (1886), 4 N. Z. L. R. 303. —N.Z.

q. Founded on judgment from which appeal pending.]—After notice of appeal from a judgment dismissing an action with costs, defts. having recovered judgment for the costs, presented a petition for sequestration of pltf.'s estate. 1746. Failure to pay instalment of composition —No legal difficulties—No prejudice to creditors' interest.]—The creditors of a debtor passed resolutions accepting a composition of 5*s.* in the pound payable in two instalments of 4*s.* & 1*s.*, the first instalment to be paid in five months & to be secured by the promissory notes of debtor & three sureties, the second instalment to be paid in two years, & to be secured by the promissory notes of debtor alone. The first instalment was paid by the sureties, & exceeded in amount the assets of debtor as appearing by his statement of affairs. Debtor, having failed to pay the second instalment, was adjudicated a bkpt. on the application of a creditor :—Held : the adjudication could not be sustained, for the creditor failed to show that there were legal difficulties, or that the creditors were prejudiced, & the remedy of the creditor was to sue at law for the remaining instalment of the composition.—Re SHIERS, Ex p. SHIERS (1877), 7 Ch. 1747. Payment in full—Debts bought up for less than face value.]—The debts of bkpt., amounting to £1,600 were purchased from the creditors for £144, & the creditors withdrew their proofs. The debts were then assigned to bkpt. for £1,600, which sum was provided by a third person :—Held : the adjudication ought not to be annulled, as the debts had not been paid in full.—Re BURNETT, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1894), 63 L. 1748. —— To some creditors by friend of debtor —Others not injured by annulment.]—Debtor filed a liquidation petition in Aug., 1879. A receiver of his property was at once appointed, & injunctions were granted to restrain some of the creditors from proceeding against him for their debts. The first meeting of the creditors was held on Oct. 20, 1879, when it was resolved to adjourn to Dec. 15, 1879. Similar resolutions for adjournment were passed again & again, the meeting being ultimately, on Nov. 15, 1882, adjourned to Mar. 28, 1883. No resolutions for liquidation by arrangement or composition were passed. In Jan., 1883, two of the creditors applied to the Ct. of Bkpcy. by motion, under 1869 Act, s. 125 (12), for an adjudication of bkpcy. against debtor. At the adjourned meeting on Mar. 28, 1883, the creditors resolved that it was inexpedient in the interest of the creditors that any further proceedings should be taken under the petition, & that application should be made to the ct. to discharge the receiver, & dismiss the petition, or stay all further proceedings under it. The registrar, on May 3, made an adjudication. Debtor appealed, & on the hearing of the appeal an offer was made by a friend of his to pay the debts of the two creditors in full & to provide for their costs of the application, the payment to be made by the friend out of his own moneys, & an undertaking being given by him that neither directly nor indirectly should the payment be made out of debtor's assets :—Held : notwithstanding the resolution of Mar. 28, & having regard to the fact that the receiver had not been discharged, the liquidation proceedings were still pending, & if the adjudication order was discharged, no other creditor would be injured, for the ct. would have jurisdiction to adjudicate debtor a bkpt. on the application of any other creditor.—Re MCHENRY, Ex p. MCHENRY (1883), 24 Ch. 1747 iii. —— Condition precedent—Evidence.]—Before the ct. can make an order annulling an adjudication in bkpcy. it is a condition precedent that the debts of bkpt. shall have been fully paid or satisfied, & there is no power to order the annulment conditionally upon the debts being paid. The payment of the amount of the debts to the official assignee with the assent of the creditors would be sufficient proof to the ct. that bkpt.'s debts had been paid or satisfied.—Re FISHER (1907), 27 N. Z. L. R. 98.—N.Z.

1747 iv. —— " Debts."]—The ct. can only annul the order of adjudication if the ct. is of opinion that debtor ought not to have been adjudicated insolvent or it is proved to the satisfaction of the ct. that the debts of the insolvent have been paid in full & in the latter case the " debts," including at least all debts actually & properly proved in bkpcy., must have been fully paid in cash.—Re MEGHRAJ GANGABUX (1912), I. 1747 v. —— Debts bearing interest.]—S. was adjudicated bkpt. in 1886, the only assets consisting of the life interest of bkpt. in a rentcharge of £200 payable out of lands in the county of Kilkenny, & also of a jointure of £100 a year charged on the same lands. These lands were subject to prior charges, & M., one of the prior chargeants, brought an action to raise her charge. A receiver was appointed in 1886, & from that date till 1893 all the profits of the lands were devoted to paying off M.'s charge. Since 1894 the surplus became available for payment of the creditors in bkpcy. In Sept., 1899, 10*s.* in the pound was paid ; in Jan., 1900, a further dividend of 5*s.* was paid ; &, in Jan., 1901, a dividend of 2*s.* 6*d.* There was no further money immediately available from the rents of the lands to make any payment. Bkpt. was sixty-four years old, & was not a good life, & the assignees had not, up to the date of the motion, taken any steps to sell the life interest in the lands. Bkpt. applied that, on payment by her of the sum of 20*s.* in the pound & of the costs of the bkpcy., the bkpcy. should be annulled :—Held : the bkpcy. should be annulled on those terms.—Re STAUNTON, [1902] 2 I. 1757. ——— ——— Failure to object to want of jurisdiction.]—Debtor filed a liquidation petition in Dec., 1883, & a receiver of his property was appointed. On Jan. 15, 1884, the adjourned first meeting of the creditors was held, when the creditors separated without passing any resolutions, & without again adjourning the meeting. On Jan. 21, one of the creditors presented a bkpcy. petition against debtor under 1869 Act, alleging the filing of the liquidation petition as an act of bkpcy. On Feb. 1, the registrar adjudicated debtor bkpt. on the petition. Debtor was present, & raised no objection to the jurisdiction of the ct. to make the order. The receiver had not been discharged. On Mar. 14, debtor applied to the registrar for a rehearing of the petition, & a reversal of the order of adjudication, on the ground that there was no jurisdiction to make it. 1772. —— Rejection of proof by trustee.]—The rejection of a proof by a trustee in bkpcy., which has not been appealed against, is valid even where the bkpcy. is subsequently annulled, as being "an act done theretofore by the trustee" within 1883 Act, s. 35 (2).—BRANDON v. MCHENRY, [1891] 1 Q. 1773. Right after annulment to impeach sales—Which could have been impeached if bankruptcy not annulled.]—A purchase was made from the assignees of a bkpt., in which their solr. was interested, so as to invalidate the transaction. Afterwards the bkpcy. was by arrangement annulled, without prejudice to any sale or other act done by the assignees, & bkpt. by deed, to which he & the assignees alone were parties, ratified their acts, relieved them from all claims in respect of them, & agreed to execute all further deeds necessary for confirming them. After this bkpt. filed a bill against the purchasers to impeach the sale to them. Defts. alleged that pltf. had obtained the annulling order by fraudulent suppression:—Held: by virtue of the annulling order pltf. had the right to impeach all sales on any grounds on which they might have been impeached if the bkpcy. had not been annulled, & the deed executed by him did not affect that right.—ADAMS v. SWORDER (1863), 2 De G. 1776. On assignee's right to indemnity—For personal obligation given to release distress.]—A. as assignee of B., a bkpt., gave an undertaking to C. who was the mtgee. of one farm, & was under a contract to purchase another farm, both the property of bkpt., & who had a distress upon the mortgaged premises, that if the distress were withdrawn, he would pay to C. the arrears then due in respect of the mtge. out of the effects on the premises. C. withdrew the distress, & afterwards the bkpcy. was annulled before A. had obtained possession of any part of bkpt.'s effects. C. having brought an action on the undertaking & recovered judgment against A. personally, A. filed a bill against C., to which B. was no party :—Held : A. could have no relief in equity against the judgment at law, & he was not entitled, as against C., to claim repayment of the sum thereby recovered out of the price which C. had contracted to pay for the other farm.—PELL v. STEPHENS (1833), 2 My. & K. 334 ; Coop. temp. Brough. 266 ; 39 E. 1777. Third party's right of set-off against bankrupt—Same as against trustee in bankruptcy.]—J. having been adjudicated bkpt., the adjudication was annulled, & under 1869 Act, s. 81, his property vested by assignment in pltf. as the person appointed by the ct. under that sect. Pltf., as such assignee, having sued deft. for money payable under the common counts, deft. pleaded a set-off for debts due to him from J. before the adjudication & for damages provable in the bkpcy. : —Held : the plea was good, as under the above sect. deft. had the same rights of set-off, as he would have had against the trustee in bkpcy.—WEST v. BAKER (1875), 1 Ex. 1778. Trustee's claim statute-barred—Debtor also barred after annulment.]—In 1828 pltf. mortgaged freehold property to B., & in 1832, being about to reside abroad, he gave a full power of attorney to deft., a solr., to receive the rents & profits of all his property, & to apply them in payment of the incumbrances. In 1841 pltf. settled accounts with deft., showing a large balance due to deft., which pltf. agreed to secure by a mtge. of his real estates when required. In 1845 pltf. became bkpt., but his assignee did not interfere with the mortgaged property, & deft. continued to receive the rents & profits. In 1849 deft. took a transfer himself of B.'s mtge. to which pltf. was not a party. In 1865 deft. wrote a letter to pltf. expressing his readiness to settle all accounts. In 1877 pltf's. bkpcy. was annulled, & he brought an action against deft. claiming to redeem the mtge., & claiming an account against him as mtgee. in possession, &, by amendment, as agent & trustee for him. Deft. pleaded Stat. Limitations :—Held : (1) even if the assignee would have been entitled to call upon deft. to account, pltf. did not, on the annulment of the bkpcy., succeed to the assignee's right ; (2) pltf.'s estate as mtgor. ceased on the bkpcy. ; (3) as the assignee in the circumstances was barred by Stat. Limitations, pltf. was also barred, notwithstanding the annulment of the bkpcy, & the action must be dismissed with costs.—MARKWICK v. HARDINGHAM (1880), 15 Ch. D. 339 ; 43 L. T. 647 ; 29 W. Shortly before the death of testator, insolvency proceedings were instituted against the son in Melbourne where he was living, & trustees of his estate were appointed, who gave notice to the trustees of testator's will to pay over to them any sums in their hands to which bkpt. was entitled. The insolvency proceedings were very shortly afterwards annulled. Under orders of the ct., the bkpcy. was afterwards annulled, & the property of debtor was assigned by him to the same person who was trustee in the bkpcy., on trust to secure payment of a composition which the majority of the creditors had agreed to accept. The execution creditor then threatened to proceed with his execution :—Held : (1) as the assignment had been made & the composition had been accepted with the approval of the ct., the ct. retained jurisdiction over the execution creditor, though the bkpcy. had been annulled ; (2) the chattels were vested in the trustee discharged from the execution, & the creditor ought to be restrained from proceeding with the execution.—Re CHIDLEY, Re LENNARD (1875), 1 Ch. C. thereupon filed a petition for liquidation, & an order was granted restraining the sheriff from selling. This order was afterwards discharged, & C. was adjudged bkpt., but a fresh restraining order was granted under the bkpcy. The sheriff then withdrew voluntarily. Afterwards the creditors of C. resolved under 1869 Act, s. 28, to accept a composition of 5*s.* in the pound upon " the debts proved & admitted in the bkpcy. " ; they further resolved that the order of adjudication should be annulled forthwith, & that the property of C. should be handed back to him. T. did not assent to the resolution. The Ct. of Bkpcy. affirmed the resolutions, & ordered the adjudication to be annulled. Afterwards under the same writ of execution, the sheriff again seized the goods of C., under the direction of T. :—Held : the resolutions were not binding upon T., who had neither assented to the composition nor proved under the bkpcy., & the seizure by the sheriff of C.'s goods after the annulment of his bkpcy. was lawful. Qu. : whether the seizure after the annulment would have been lawful, if the composition had not been confined to " the debts proved & admitted in the bkpcy." & had extended to any debts " provable under the bkpcy."—CREW v. TERRY (1877), 2 C. SUB-SECT. 7.—DISCHARGE OF ORDER OF ANNULMENT.

1786. Discharge of order—On what grounds.]—The fact that the examination of a bkpt. was imperfect & inaccurate affords no reason why an order duly made to annul the adjudication, to which order the assignees & creditors assented in ignorance of such imperfections & inaccuracy, should be discharged & the proceedings revived. Such an order will not be discharged, even when such imperfection has arisen from bkpt's. own fraudulent misrepresentation & concealment (of which the assignees & creditors were ignorant) of certain debts due to him at the time of the adjudication, if at the date of the order the assignees had knowledge of other fraudulent misrepresentations & concealment by bkpt. in his examination, & yet in assenting to the annulment, relied upon its fullness & accuracy (LORD WESTBURY, C.).—Re ADAMS (1863), 10 L. T. 212, L. C.

1787. —— Effect of—Creditors remitted to original rights.]—One of the creditors of a bkpt. held two bills of sale of his chattels. Objections had been raised by the trustee to the validity & extent of the security, though no steps had been taken to set it aside. Ultimately, the mtgee, offered to pay £620 to the trustee. A meeting of the creditors was held, under 1869 Act, s. 28, when it was resolved to accept the mtgee.'s offer, that the bkpcy. should be thereupon annulled, & that the mtgee. should release his claim on bkpt.'s estate, & the bills of sale should not be disputed by the trustee. The resolutions were approved by the ct., &, upon the trustee certifying that the terms of them had been completed to his satisfaction, an order was made annulling the bkpcy. The £620 was divided among the creditors other than the mtgee. The mtgee. realised his security, but did not obtain enough to pay his debt in full. Six years afterwards it was discovered that bkpt. had concealed a reversionary interest to which he was entitled at the date of his adjudication, & an order was obtained discharging the annulling order, & directing that the bkpcy. should proceed as if that order had not been made. The trustee then received the reversionary interest, which had fallen into possession :—Held : the mtgee., equally with the other creditors, was remitted to his original rights, & was entitled to prove for the unpaid balance of his debt.—Re SPANTON, Ex p. JARVIS (1879), 10 Ch. The time for appealing will not be extended in such a case.—Re WARD, Ex p. WARD (1880), 15 Ch. D. 292 ; 43 L. T. 183 ; 29 W. R. 206, C. A..

1795. Agreement to pay creditor further sum at future time—Not disclosed to court or other creditors.]—Bkpt., who had been adjudicated a bkpt. under 1869 Act, desiring to obtain the annulment of his bkpcy., induced some of his creditors to sell their debts to two trustees, who were provided with funds for the purpose, & who were as assignees of the debts to consent to the annulment. The trustees obtained assignments of the several debts on various terms, including an assignment of a debt of £25,000 in consideration of £2,000 paid by them to the creditor. This assignment was made in pursuance of an agreement between the creditor & bkpt., whereby bkpt. agreed to pay to the creditor a further sum of £6,000 at a future time. The bkpcy. was annulled on the petition of bkpt., with the consent of the creditors or their assignees. The agreement to pay the £6,000 was not disclosed to the ct. or to the other creditors :—Held : there was no duty to disclose the agreement to the ct. as the function of the ct. was merely to ascertain whether the proper parties consented, nor to the other creditors, as there was no common basis of consent, & the agreement was valid.—Re MCHENRY, MCDERMOTT v. BOYD, LEVITA'S CLAIM, [1894] 3 Ch. 365 ; 64 L. 1796. Different from that of trustee in bankruptcy—Or under scheme of arrangement.]—An official receiver in bkpcy., having no estate or interest vested in him nor any power conferred on him by Bkpcy. Acts of bringing or defending actions, stands in a different position from a trustee in bkpcy., or a trustee of any composition or scheme of arrangement.—Re BERRY, DUFFIELD v. WILLIAMS, [1896] 1 Ch. 939 ; 65 L. 1799. Whether exempt from court fees—When applying as trustee.]—An official receiver, when applying to the ct. in his capacity of trustee, is not exempt from the fee of 5*s.* prescribed in Table A. to the Order of Oct. 25, 1886. The exemption only applies when he makes the application in his capacity of official receiver.—Re WHITAKER (1888), 21 Q. B. D. 261 ; 59 L. T. 255 ; 4 T. L. R. 577, D. C.

1800. Locus standi to appear before Law Society—On application against bankrupt solicitor.]—A solr., adjudicated bkpt., made certain admissions during his public examination. At the instance of the Board of Trade the official receiver made an affidavit in support of an application to the Committee of the Incorporated Law Society under Solrs. Act, 1888 (c. 65). The charges contained in the affidavit were based entirely upon the solr.'s admissions ; none of the persons alleged to have been injured by the solr.'s conduct were made parties to the application, nor were they to be called as witnesses, but it was proposed to adduce in evidence the notes of the public examination & the proceedings in bkpcy. alone. Upon the hearing before the committee a preliminary objection was taken that the official receiver had no locus standi :—Held : the objection was not a valid one, & the application ought to be heard on its merits.—Re A SOLICITOR (1890), 25 Q. 1802. —— —— Personal bond accepted.]—Two motions for administration, & that the usual sureties might be dispensed with, were made by two official receivers, who had given bonds for the due performance of their duties under the bkpcies. In one case the whole estate had been already disposed of, with the exception of a sum of about £290, which had recently fallen in, & which was the amount in respect of which a grant of administration was sought. The ct., in each case, made the grant as prayed, & accepted the personal bond of each appct., without sureties, being satisfied that the applications were made by them in their respective official capacities.—In the Goods of KNAPP (DECEASED), In the Goods of ROBINS (DECEASED) (1890), 63 L. 1803. —— —— ——.]—The ct. made a grant of administration under Ct. of Probate Act, 1857 (c. 77), in respect of the personal estate & effects of a married woman who had died intestate, leaving her husband surviving, upon the application & in favour of the official receiver in her husband's bkpcy., & dispensed with the usual sureties.—In the Goods of THACKER (DECEASED) (1890), 54 J. P. 759.

1804. —— —— ——.]—A married woman died intestate, leaving her husband, who survived her, an undischarged bkpt., whose estate was vested in the hands of the chief official receiver in bkpcy., under 1883 Act, s. 121. The ct., upon motion by the chief official receiver, made a grant to him of the personal estate & effects of deceased intestate, &, on account of the smallness of the estate, dispensed with any citation upon the husband of deceased, &, as the administrator applied in his official capacity, accepted the administrator's personal bond without sureties.—In the Goods of CONOLLY (DECEASED) (1896), 74 L. T. 461.

1805. —— —— Whether notice to debtor necessary.]—One of the official receivers in bkpcy., as trustee of the estate of the husband of a deceased intestate, applied for administration without citing the husband. The amount of the estate was £105 2*s.* 10*d.*, which was claimed by the official receiver on behalf of the creditors of bkpt.:—Held: notice of some kind must be given to the husband, but, upon the registrar being satisfied as to this, the grant might go, &, as appct. moved in his official capacity, sureties might be dispensed with.—In the Goods of MORGAN (DECEASED) (1896), 75 L. T. 190.

1806. —— —— ——.]—The right of an undischarged bkpt. to a grant of administration vests under 1883 Act in his trustee in bkpcy. without citing bkpt., &, if the official receiver is the trustee in bkpcy., without sureties. The grant will be made under Ct. of Probate Act, 1857 (c. 77), s. 73.—In the Goods of BOWRON (1914), 84 L. J. P. 92.

1807. —— —— On security being given to Board of Trade.]—In a grant of administration to an official receiver in bkpcy., who, as an official of the Board of Trade, had given security for the due performance of his duties, the Probate Ct. dispensed with sureties to the administration bond in the special circumstances of the case.—In the Estate of CAUSTON, [1906] P. 124; 75 L. 1808. —— Application to dispense with sureties —To whom made.]—Where the official receiver applies for a grant of administration of the estate of a deceased bkpt., an application to dispense with sureties to the administration bond should be made to the registrars, & not to the ct.—In the Goods of RENNINSON (1894), 1 Mans. 475; 11 R. 583.

1809. Whether in position of incoming tenant— As regards right to supply of gas in debtor's premises without payment of arrears.]—A gas co. cut off the gas from premises, then occupied by the official receiver, until all the arrears owing by debtor were paid. The receiver paid under protest:—Held: the trustee in bkpcy. could not recover the money so paid, for the receiver was not in the position of an incoming tenant to whom gas must be supplied without payment of arrears, but the occupation of debtor continued notwithstanding the receiving order.—Re SMITH, Ex p. MASON, [1893] 1 Q. The sale to pltf. having been pronounced invalid:—Held: (1) deft.'s honest belief in his right to sell, as assignee, did not protect him from liability to pltf. if he warranted his title, nor was the knowledge on pltf.'s part of the possible defect in deft.'s title fatal to the warranty on the sale of the goods; (2) had nothing occurred beyond the discussion of his title, & had pltf. bought with this full knowledge, deft. would not have been liable.—JOHNSTON v. BARKER (1869), 20 C. 1810. Power of court to appoint as interim receiver—Pending petition—Appointment valid until petition dismissed.]—As the Bkpcy. Ct. has jurisdiction to entertain a petition against an alleged debtor, an order appointing the official receiver as interim receiver during the pendency of the petition, with the consequent right of appointing a special manager under 1883 Act, s. 12, continues valid until it is set aside, & thus imparts validity to everything done under it, even though it may turn out to have been erroneously made.—Re A. 1811. As regards documents.]—The custody of documents of the official receiver is not the custody of the ct.—Re ASH (1913), 110 L. T. 48 ; 21 Mans. 15, D. C.

1812. Sureties for proper performance of duties—How discharged—Negligence of committee—Degree of negligence necessary.]—It is very questionable whether the sureties of the bond given by an official assignee in bkpcy. for the proper performance of his duties would be discharged from their suretyship by the neglect of the creditors' assignees to exercise proper supervision.

Negligence, in order to discharge the sureties, must amount to connivance at the official assignee's getting the fund into his hands improperly, or must be so gross as to be equivalent to a wilful shutting of the eyes to a fraud which he is about to commit. 1827. To appoint solicitor—With consent of Board of Trade.]—When no trustee & no committee of inspection have been appointed by the creditors, & the official receiver becomes the trustee in the bkpcy., the Board of Trade have the power to authorise the employment of a solr. by the official receiver.

Reliance was placed on 1886 Rules, r. 337. It would be absurd to suppose that the functions of the Board of Trade, being such as I have described, can be exercised by the official receiver when the question is whether the Board of Trade are or are not to give the official receiver permission to do an act. That would be an absurdity, & it cannot be the meaning of the rule. Even though the board should give no directions, the official receiver could not give permission to himself. The notion is ridiculous (LORD ESHER, M.R.).—Re DUNCAN, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1892] 1 Q. B. 879; 61 L. J. Q. B. 712; 66 L. T. 508; 40 W. R. 409; 8 T. L. R. 412; 36 Sol. 1828. —— —— Different solicitor appointed by creditors.]—The official receiver, as trustee virtute officii in a summary case, desired to be advised on questions relating to the estate, & applied for, & obtained, the permission of the Board of Trade to employ solrs. The creditors subsequently passed a resolution to employ other solrs.:—Held: the resolution of the creditors to employ other solrs. was ultra vires, & might be disregarded by the official receiver.—Re SALMON, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1916] 2 K. 1829. To attend taxation of costs of solicitor of trustee in bankruptcy.]—An official receiver has no right, without the leave of the ct., to be present at the taxation of the bill of costs of the solr. of a trustee in bkpcy. He may be given leave to attend such taxation, not as a litigant, but merely for the purpose either of assisting the trustee or the taxing master by his advice, or of enabling him to report on the taxation to the Board of Trade.—Re NASH & SONS, Ex p. CROFTON, CRAVEN & WORTHINGTON, [1896] 1 Q. 1830. To determine whether debtor should be prosecuted.]—The duty of ultimately determining whether a prosecution shall be instituted in respect of offences under Bkpcy. 1831. To disclaim onerous property—Application of time limit — Election.]—The official receiver, while acting as trustee, may exercise the power of disclaimer without being subject to the limitation of twelve months imposed by 1883 Act, s. 55, as amended by 1890 Act, s. 13, but he may be required by any person interested in onerous property to decide whether he will disclaim or not.—Re COHEN, [1905] 2 K. 1832. To accept offer on behalf of debtor—& allow relaxation or withdrawal of sequestration.]—A beneficed clergyman was adjudicated bkpt., & a sequestrator of the profits of the benefice was appointed under 1883 Act, s. 52, & the bishop of the diocese appointed a curate for the performance of the services of the church under Sequestration Act, 1871 (c. 45), during the continuance of the sequestration. The stipend of the curate & a claim for dilapidations more than swallowed up the income from the benefice. An offer of £300 was made to the official receiver on behalf of debtor on condition that he would consent to the relaxation or withdrawal of the sequestration. The offer was supported by three creditors, but was opposed by the other creditor (there being only four creditors), whose proof largely exceeded the proofs of the other three. The registrar authorised the official receiver to accept the offer:—Held: the official receiver could agree to the relaxation or withdrawal of the sequestration in consideration of the payment of a sufficient sum, & the registrar had rightly exercised his discretion in authorising him to accept the offer.—Re BARRATT (1906), 22 T. 1833. To lend his name to third party—On satisfaction as to propriety of proceedings.]—Before lending his name for proceedings under the protection of an indemnity, the official receiver should satisfy himself as to their propriety.—Re PICCADILLY CHAMBERS CO. (1894), 1 Mans. 370; 8 R. 617.

1834. —— Consent in writing.]—Although not so prescribed by the rules, it is desirable that the consent of the official receiver to the use of his name by a third party in launching a bkpcy. motion should be in writing.—Re FITZGERALD (LORD) (1914), 112 L. T. 86.

1835. —— Right to notice of taxation of costs—Indemnity insufficient.]—A litigant was allowed to take proceedings in the name of the official receiver. They were unsuccessful, & costs were given against the official receiver. The indemnity given by the litigant proved to be insufficient. No notice of taxation was given to the official receiver, & he was unrepresented except by the solr. for the litigant:—Held: the bill ought to be remitted for re-taxation.—Re DILLON, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1903), 88 L. The Ct. of Appeal refused to take into consideration a scale of remuneration, which had been acted upon for many years in the Ct. of Bkpcy., but which did not appear to be a scale fixed in accordance with the provisions of any statute, & "upon consideration of the circumstances of the case," they reduced the sum allowed.—Re ARRANGING DEBTOR, K.'S CASE (1909), 43 I. The trustee sued the auctioneers in order to test the validity of the bill of sale, & the auctioneers brought in the official receiver as third party. The action was dismissed with costs:—Held: under the implied indemnity given by the official receiver, the auctioneers were entitled to receive from him the difference between the solr. & client & party & party costs, & the official receiver was entitled to be paid out of the estate his own costs & the amount he had paid under his indemnity.—Re WELLS & CROFT, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1895), 72 L. 1859. —— Facts & conduct enabling court to apply 1890 Act, s. 3 (7)—Notwithstanding favourable report on proposed arrangement.]—The fact that the official receiver in his report to the creditors under 1890 Act, s. 3 (2), has stated that, in his opinion, the proposal of debtor is reasonable & calculated to benefit the creditors, is no reason why in his report to the ct. under s. 3 (7) he should abstain from bringing forward the facts & conduct which he thinks the ct. ought to have before it in order to enable the ct. to apply the sect. It is the duty of the official receiver to report fully to the ct.; & that duty is in no respect limited or diminished by the fact that he approved the scheme & made a report to the creditors to that effect.—Re BOTTOMLEY, Ex p. BOTTOMLEY (1893), 10 Morr. 262.

Annotation:—Mentd. Re Webb, Ex p. Board of Trade, [1914] 3 K. B. 387, C. A.

1860. Report as evidence—Primâ facie evidence of statements contained in it.]—The report of the official receiver is primâ facie evidence of the statements contained in it.—Re WALLACE, Ex p. CAMPBELL (1885), 15 Q. B. D. 213; 54 L. J. Q. B. 382; 53 L. T. 208; 2 Morr. 167, C. A.

1861. —— —— Inquiry by court as to who prepared same.]—The official receiver's report is primâ facie evidence of its contents, & the ct. will not go behind it, or inquire by whom it was in fact prepared.—Re BULL (1885), 2 Morr. 59.

1862. —— —— Unless bankrupt disproves same.]—It stands that statements made in the report are accurate, unless bkpt. is able, by reference to the evidence, or by reference to proofs which he is able to furnish, to establish that those things are without foundation.—Re COOK, Ex p. COOK (1889), 61 L. T. 335; 6 Morr. 224, D. C.

Annotation:—Consd. Re Bottomley, Ex p. Bottomley (1893), 10 Morr. 262.

1863. —— —— Report of officer of court—No interference allowed in preparation of report.]—The report of the official receiver is primâ facie evidence of the facts therein contained, only because it is presumed to be the personal report of an officer of the ct., to whom a complicated matter has been referred, & the ct. will not allow any interference by any person whatever with the official receiver in his preparation of that document.—Re BOTTOMLEY, Ex p. BOTTOMLEY (1893), 10 Morr. 262.

Annotation:—Mentd. Re Webb, Ex p. Board of Trade, [1914] 3 K. B., C. A.

1864. —— Not conclusive—No notice of intention to dispute—Right of court to look into evidence.]—Semble: the report of the official receiver is not conclusive upon the ct., even though bkpt. has failed to give notice of his intention to dispute any of the statements therein contained, but the ct. is entitled to look into the evidence on which the findings in the report are based, & is not bound to act upon it unless the facts alleged are proved.—Re OSWELL, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1892), 9 Morr. 202, D. C.

1865. Report disputed—Notice of intention to dispute—Must specify disputed statements.]—Where the official receiver's report contains detailed statements as to bkpt.'s conduct & affairs, & also the conclusions at which the official receiver has arrived, namely that bkpt. has been guilty of an offence under 1890 Act, s. 8 (3), bkpt. must in his notice under 1886 & 1890 Rules, r. 238a, specify the statements which he intends to dispute; it is not sufficient to give notice generally of his intention to dispute the conclusions.—Re WOOLF (1906), 22 T. L. R. 501.

Annotation:—Mentd. Re Morris, James v. London & County Banking Co. (1899), 47 W. R. 324, C. A.

1867. Error in report—Liability to make good results of same.]—On an application to the ct. to approve a composition, the official receiver reported that he had a sufficient sum in his hands for payment thereof, such report being founded on the estimate given by debtor in his statement of affairs, which subsequently proved to be wrong. An order having been asked for against the official receiver personally to make up the required sum:—Held: appcts. were not entitled to such order.—Re WEBSTER, Ex p. FOSTER & CO. (1886), 3 Morr. 132.

SECT. 6.—COSTS OF OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

1868. Appearing by separate counsel—Petition by mortgagee for sale of mortgaged property.]—A petitioner in the matter of a petition for the sale of some property, which had been mortgaged to him by bkpt., employed the solr. who acted for the creditors' assignees. The official assignee appeared at the hearing of the petition by separate counsel:—Held: the official assignee was, in the circumstances, entitled to the costs of such separate appearance.—Re JONES, Ex p. BROMAGE (1846), De G. 375; 16 L. J. Bcy. 13; 10 Jur. 974, Ct. of R.

1869. Appearing on being served with petition.]—An official assignee, who is served with the petition, need not appear, unless there be something in it

f. Claim to avoid bill of sale—Misleading statement by bill of sale holder.]—On the hearing of the original motion that an unregistered bill of sale given over the whole of bkpt.'s property was void no order was made as to costs, on the ground that the bill of sale holder by his evidence given on examination under Bkpcy. Act, 1887, s. 30, had misled the official assignee. On appeal by the official assignee:—Held: the official assignee was not entitled to the costs of the original motion.—Re COOK, Ex p. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE & MORRIS (1893), 14 N. S. W. B. 77.—AUS.

g. Costs of successful appeal by bankrupt against order refusing discharge.]—When a bkpt. successfully appealed against the decision of the judge in bkpcy., reversing a decision of the registrar by which bkpt. had been granted a certificate of discharge the official assignee was ordered to pay the costs of the appeal.—SCOTT FELL v. LLOYD (1911), 13 C. L. R. 230.—AUS.

h. Costs occasioned by irregular conduct.]—A., being tenant of B., gave to C. a bill of sale over his goods, who seized same. Subsequently B. put in a distress for rent due. A. then voluntarily sequestrated his estate, & by arrangement between C. & the official assignee the latter sold the goods, paid the amount of B.'s distress into a bank, & the overplus, less commission, to C.:—Held: to entitle the official assignee to claim the protection of Insolvency Act, 1871, s. 89, he should have paid the whole of the proceeds into the bank, & official assignee ordered to pay all B.'s costs in the Ct. of Insolvency & on appeal.—Re SWEENEY, Ex p. O'DIGGINS (1878), 4 V. L. R. 1.—AUS.

k. Costs of unsuccessful motion.]—A sale of property forming portion of the estate of certain insolvent debtors having been authorised by the ct., the official assignee moved to set it aside, relying in support of his application on affidavits which had been filed in ct. & in which the deponents alleged that the property was worth a great deal more than the price at which the sale had been authorised. The ct. having dismissed the motion, & ordered the deponents to pay the costs of the official assignee & the purchasers:—Held: the deponents could not be made liable for costs, but the official assignee should be made liable for the costs of such an unsuccessful application.—RAMANNA NAIDU v. BRAHMAYYA CHETTI (1899), I. 1870. Appearing on appeal—To consent to reversal of order.]—The costs of an official assignee, who appears by counsel on the hearing of an appeal merely to consent to the reversal of the order, ought not to be allowed out of the estate.—Re GRIFFITHS, Re GRIFFITHS & THORNEYCROFT, Ex p. CHURCHILL (1862), 3 De G. 1871. —— No special circumstances to be brought before court.]—If the official receiver is served with notice of appeal, &, although there are no special circumstances to be brought before the ct., appears, he will not have his costs of such appearance.—Re DIXON, Ex p. DIXON (1884), 13 Q. 1873. Application for opinion of court—As to whether transaction void as fraudulent preference—Transaction upheld.]—Where the official receiver asks the opinion of the ct. as to whether a conveyance is void as a fraudulent preference & the ct. upholds the transaction, he is nevertheless entitled to his costs.—Re WILKINSON, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1884), 1 Morr. 65.

1874. Opposing application by trustee to set aside compromise made by official receiver—Delay in attendance of official receiver.]—Where the official receiver successfully opposed an application by the trustee in bkpcy. to set aside a compromise made by the former, but until compelled to come to the ct. & say he had the necessary permission from the Board of Trade to enter into the compromise, kept away for some reason or another, so that the ct. were obliged in consequence to sit for two days to hear arguments which might have been avoided & to give adjournments for his attendance, the application was dismissed, but without costs.—Re JOHNSTONE, Ex p. SINGLETON (1885), 2 Morr. 206, D. 1875. Claim to set aside transaction as fraudulent preference—Same position as any unsuccessful trustee.]—The official receiver, acting as trustee of an estate, being administered in a summary manner under 1883 Act, s. 121, on an unsuccessful motion by him to set aside a transaction as a fraudulent preference was ordered personally to pay the costs of resps., the position of the official receiver being the same as that of any other unsuccessful trustee.—Re GLANVILLE, Ex p. JENKINS (OFFICIAL RECEIVER), HARRIS v. HAWKER (1885), 33 W. R. 523; 2 Morr. 71.

1876. Opposing application by trustee under assignment for creditors—For repayment of sum expended for benefit of estate.]—In June, 1886, debtor executed an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, under which appct. was employed to prepare a statement of affairs, &, it appearing that the landlord was threatening a distress for rent, appct., upon the instructions of the creditors, paid the amount due. In July, 1886, a receiving order was made against debtor, & the official receiver declined to repay the money so advanced by appct. for the benefit of the creditors without an order of the ct.:—Held: in the circumstances, & looking to the fact that a majority of the creditors in number & value were of opinion that the payment made by appct. was beneficial & should be refunded, repayment ought to be allowed, but the official receiver was entitled to deduct his costs of the hearing from the amount. —Re AYSHFORD, Ex p. LOVERING (1887), 35 W. 1877. Appeal against refusal of motion for order on official receiver to give up property—Official receiver giving notice of abandonment of claim before motion.]—On intimation of a receiving order against debtor, a claim was made by applt. to certain furniture in debtor's possession, an interim injunction being obtained restraining the official receiver from selling the goods so claimed. Notice of motion was subsequently served on the official receiver requiring him to give up the furniture in question, but previous to the motion being heard a further claim to the goods was made by a third party, & notice was thereupon given to applt. by the official receiver that he had abandoned all claims. At the hearing of applt.'s motion the official receiver did not appear, but the county ct. judge declined to make any order. Applt. having successfully appealed:—Held: the official receiver must pay the costs of applt. down to the notice of withdrawal, & must also pay the costs of the appeal. —Re GALEY, Ex p. CUNDY (1890), 7 Morr. 253, D. C.

1878. Application for adjudication against alleged partner—Of firm against which receiving order made.]—A receiving order having been made against a firm, the official receiver applied for an order of adjudication against an alleged partner. The registrar dismissed the application & made a personal order for costs against the official receiver:—Held: the official receiver in making the application was acting, not in discharge of any statutory duty, but merely in exercise of his powers under 1883 Act, & the registrar had jurisdiction to make the order, & had not improperly exercised that jurisdiction.—Re WILLIAMS & Co., Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1913] 2 K. 1879. Costs in relation to appeal from decision of official receiver rejecting proof.]—Held: 1915 Rules, r. 263, provided that the official receiver should in no case be personally liable for costs in relation to an appeal from his decision rejecting any proof wholly or in part.—Re HUNTLY (MARQUIS), Ex p. GOLDSTEIN (1917), 87 L. SECT. 7.—SPECIAL MANAGER.

1880. Right to reimbursement & indemnity—Appointment by official receiver acting as interim receiver—Petition eventually dismissed.]—Where, during the pendency of a petition ultimately dismissed without any receiving order having been made upon it, the official receiver, on being appointed interim receiver, appoints, in exercise of his power, a special manager of alleged debtor's business, the special manager is entitled to be reimbursed out of his receipts from the business his expenses, including remuneration, properly incurred by him in carrying it on until the dismissal of the petition.

The fact that the special manager has, in such circumstances, been in possession of & carrying on the business does not entitle alleged debtor, on the petition being dismissed, to treat him as a wrong-doer nor to deprive him of his right to protection as an officer of the ct.; for, as the ct. has jurisdiction to entertain a petition against an alleged debtor, an order appointing the official receiver as interim receiver during the pendency of the petition, with the consequent right of appointing a special manager, continues valid until it is set aside, & thus imparts validity to everything done under it, even though it may turn out to have been erroneously made.—Re A. 1881. Order for accounts against.]—The ct. has jurisdiction under 1883 Act, s. 102 (5) to make a four-day order for accounts against a special manager of debtor's business appointed by an official receiver under s. 12.—Re JONES, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1908] 1 K. SECT. 8.—INTERIM RECEIVER.

1882. Trustee for all creditors—Liability for allowing payment—To creditor suing out debtor's summons.]—A creditor sued out a debtor's summons, & the debt not having been paid or secured, he presented a petition for adjudication, & got a receiver appointed. Soon afterwards debtor, with the consent of the receiver, paid part of the debt to the creditor, who withdrew the petition for adjudication. Debtor had been adjudged bkpt. on the petition of another creditor after the part payment:—Held: the receiver was a trustee for all the creditors, & had no right to permit the payment to be made to the creditor who sued out debtor's summons, & the money must be paid over to the trustee in the bkpcy.—Re POWIS, Ex p. JAY (1873), 9 Ch. 1883. Agent for creditors—Not agent for mortgagee—Liability for damages to premises.]—A petition for liquidation having been presented, a receiver was appointed & ordered to take possession of the fixtures & stock-in-trade at debtor's brewery, & an injunction was granted restraining a mtgee., who was in possession of the brewery under a bill of sale, from intermeddling with the chattels in the brewery. When the injunction was granted the receiver & debtor gave undertakings to be answerable for damages. The mtgee. afterwards established his title to the brewery & the chattels in it, & applied for an inquiry as to damages sustained by the occupation of the receiver:—Held: the receiver must be treated as the agent of the creditors, & not of the mtgee., & could not charge the mtgee. with the expense of carrying on the business, & he was liable, under his undertaking, for damages for deterioration of the property, & for rent for use & occupation of the fixtures & stock-in-trade, & an inquiry must be directed accordingly.—Re JOYCE, Ex p. WARREN (1875), 10 Ch. App. 222; 32 L. T. 288; 23 W. R. 401, L. JJ.

1884. Right to reimbursement & indemnity—For money advanced with interest—To carry on business—Personal order against trustee.]—Under 1871 Rules, r. 5, the charges of a receiver & manager of a business for disbursements out of pocket, e.g., travelling expenses & salaries of assistants, are liable to taxation.

A receiver & manager of a business, who desires to advance money of his own for the purposes of the business, may, before doing so, apply to the ct. for its authority, & the ct. will, as a general rule, allow him interest at 5 per cent. on the amount which it authorises him to advance, & will give him a charge on debtor's assets for the advance & the interest.

If the receiver & manager advances money without such a previous authority, he is entitled to an indemnity out of the assets, but he cannot obtain a personal order against the trustee for payment.—Re BUSHELL, Ex p. IZARD (1883), 23 Ch. D. 75; 52 L. J. Ch. 678; 48 L. T. 751; 31 W. R. 418, C. A.

1885. Right to appeal—Receiver nominated by creditors—Different person nominated by court.]—One receiver had been nominated by a majority of the creditors & another had been appointed by the ct. The former receiver appealed to obtain possession of debtor's effects:—Held: (1) the receiver had no right to appeal, as his only interest in the matter was his percentage; (2) it might have been otherwise had a creditor appealed.—Re JOSEPH, Ex p. COOPER (1877), 6 Ch. SECT. 1.—GENERAL NATURE OF OFFICE AND POSITION OF TRUSTEE.

1886. Nature of office same as that of assignee—Effect of 1869 Act.]—Although the title "assignee" was changed to "trustee" by 1869 Act, there was no substantial change in the nature of the office, & the relative position of bkpt. & his trustee is the same as that which formerly existed between bkpt. & his assignee.—Re LEADBITTER (1878), 10 Ch. 1892. —— Duty to return money under mistake of fact.]—A stockbroker applied to be & was annually re-elected a member of the Stock Exchange up to & including the year beginning Mar. 25, 1914. On July 29, 1914, he made a declaration in writing, in the firm name under which he carried on business, of his inability to comply with his bargains, & on the same day he was "hammered," i.e., publicly declared a defaulter, & the official assignee proceeded to collect his assets in accordance with the rules & regulations of the Stock Exchange. On Nov. 7, or more than three months after the default, a petition in bkpcy. was presented against debtor, & a receiving order was subsequently made thereon. In 1915, the official assignee mistakenly thinking that the petition had been presented on Oct. 27, 1914, handed over to the trustee £6,869 14*s.* 10*d.* received since the default. On discovering the mistake the official assignee brought a motion against the trustee to recover the money:—Held: the assignment to the official assignee was not void as a fraud against the policy of the bkpcy. laws, & the money would have been recoverable on the ground of mistake, if the deed of arrangement constituted had been duly registered as required by law.—Re HALSTEAD, Ex p. RICHARDSON, [1917] 1 K. receiving order was, without his knowledge, made against him. On the following day appct., who was also ignorant of the receiving order having been made, or that debtor had committed an act of bkpcy. & a bkpcy. petition had been presented against him, lent debtor a sum of money. At the time the loan was made, debtor knew that the petition had been set down & that the hearing had been fixed for the preceding day. He had consulted his solrs., but, as he did not provide them with sufficient funds, they did not appear at the hearing of the petition. On an application by appct. that the loan transaction might be declared void & the official receiver, as the trustee of the property of debtor, ordered to repay to appct. the balance of the loan remaining in his hands:—Held: (1) the Ct. in Bkpcy. ought not to allow its officer to insist upon a rule of law or equity in the administration of an estate in bkpcy. under the control of the ct., where insistence would produce an unjust & dishonest result; (2) inasmuch as, if debtor had known on Jan. 3 of the receiving order, it would have been dishonourable of him to receive the money, the trustee ought to be directed to refund it.—Re THELLUSSON, Ex p. ABDY, [1919] 2 K. The policy was disclosed in the second bkpcy., & the trustee in that bkpcy. received the policy money, which admittedly belonged to the trustee in the first bkpcy., who did not know of the existence of the policy:—Held: the trustee in the first bkpcy. as an officer of the ct. was under no obligation, legal, equitable, or moral, to allow out of the policy money to the trustee in the second bkpcy. the amount of the premiums debtor had paid.—Re PHILLIPS, [1914] 2 K. The trustee offered to pay in advance from the date of the adjudication for a supply of water, but the water co. declined to supply it, unless the arrears were paid, & cut off the water. Thereupon the trustee paid the arrears under protest:—Held: under s. 48 of the above Act, the trustee, being in the position of an "incoming tenant," was not liable for the arrears, & was entitled to recover from the water co. the amount paid under protest.—Re FLACK, Ex p. BERRY, [1900] 2 Q. Since his adjudication he had entered into the service of a co. & was in receipt of a salary of £1,200 a year. He subsequently entered into an agreement with his trustee in bkpcy. to pay £360 a year by monthly instalments out of his salary until his debts should be paid in full, & the trustee agreed that when those payments should have amounted to a sufficient sum to pay the creditors 5*s.* in the pound, no objection would be raised by him, & he would use his best endeavours to prevent any objections by any creditors, to any application for an order of discharge or annulment:—Held: the agreement by the trustee binding himself, at the instance of bkpt. to prevent an objection by the creditors to an order of discharge, was most improper.—Re SHAW, [1917] 2 K. 1940. —— —— —— ——.]—Bkpt. having taken shares in a joint banking co., a return was filed at the Stamp Office on Nov. 2, 1838, pursuant to Country Bankers Act, 1826 (c. 46), in which his name was entered as one of the members of the co. On Nov. 9, bkpt. agreed to sell his shares to B., but the deed of transfer of the shares was not executed till Mar. 9, 1839, nor was any fresh return sent into the Stamp Office, notifying the change of ownership, until Mar. 25, 1839, but notice of the sale of the shares to B. was given to the bank on Nov. 13, 1838, & in Dec., 1838, he was appointed one of the directors of the co., as the owner of such shares. On Feb. 19, 1839, the banking co. indorsed bills to petitioners :—Held : bkpt. was to be considered as a partner in the banking co. at the time of the indorsement of the bills, & petitioners might prove against his estate, for the purpose of voting in the choice of assignees, & assenting to or dissenting from his certificate.—Re PHILLIPS, Ex p. PRESCOTT (1839), 4 Deac. 253 ; Mont. & Ch. 611, Ct. of R.

1941. What constitutes quorum—One qualified creditor—Manner of counting.]—In calculating a quorum of creditors present at a first meeting of creditors, only those who have lodged proofs can be calculated, & if there is only one creditor present who has lodged a proof, he forms a quorum & can carry a resolution for the appointment of the trustee.—Re CARMEN THOMAS, Ex p. WARNER (1911), 55 Sol. 1942. Effect of voting—Exhausts power of attorney given for purpose.]—A power of attorney to vote on choice becomes extinct, when once executed.—Re HART (1850), 1 Fonbl. 57 ; 14 L. T. O. S. 549.

1943. Who may appeal against order admitting creditor to vote—Creditor proving before hearing of appeal.]—Where the first meeting of creditors has passed without the choice of a creditors' assignee, by reason of the majority refusing to nominate any one for election, & the ct. has appointed a fresh meeting to continue the proceedings a creditor, whose debt was not objected to at the meeting for choice of assignees, although not formally proved, may appeal from a decision come to at the meeting, allowing the right of another creditor to vote in the choice of an assignee, provided his debt be proved before the hearing of the appeal.—Re TAYLOR, Ex p. BARNETT (1868), 4 Ch. App. 68 ; 19 L. T. 406 ; 17 W. R. 88, L. JJ.

SUB-SECT. 3.—TIME FOR APPOINTMENT.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 19 (6), (7).

1944. More than six months after filing petition—Liquidation petition void.]—A debtor, who traded both in London & Scotland, presented a petition for liquidation in England on July 12. The first meeting of his creditors was held, but was adjourned without passing any resolution till Feb. 10, in order to await the result of certain proceedings in Scotland. The English creditors met on Feb. 10 & passed a resolution for liquidation & appointed a trustee :—Held : the appointment of the trustee, being more than six months after the filing of the petition, was void.—Re WILSON & ARMSTRONG, Ex p. FENNING (1876), 3 Ch. SUB-SECT. 4.—OBJECTIONS BY BOARD OF TRADE.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 19 (2), (3).

1946. Discretion of court—What court will decide.]—When the Board of Trade, at the request of a majority of the creditors, notify to the ct., their objection to the appointment of a trustee in bkpcy., the ct. will not exercise any discretion in the matter on the merits of the case, but will only decide whether the objection is on the facts valid in point of law.—Re MARDON, [1896] 1 Q. B. 140; 65 L. J. Q. B. 111; 73 L. T. 480; 44 W. R. 111; 12 T. L. R. 53; 40 Sol. Jo. 70; 2 Mans. 511.

Annotation:—Mentd. Davis v. Petrie, [1906] 2 K. B. 786, C. A.

1947. Grounds for objecting—Trustee nominee of bankrupt's brother.]—The nomination of the trustee by a brother of bkpt. is not a good reason for objecting to the appointment, even if there be no committee of inspection.—Re GAMES, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1884), 1 Morr. 216.

Annotation:—Consd. Re Martin (1888), 21 Q. B. D. 29.

1948. —— Difficulty in acting impartially—Trustee accounting party.]—When creditors have appointed a trustee of the property of bkpt., & it appears that the person so appointed is an accounting party to the estate, & that questions will arise between him & the estate, which will render it difficult for him to act with impartiality by reason of the conflict between his own interests & his duty to the creditors, these circumstances will, as a general rule, justify the Board of Trade in objecting to the appointment.—Re MARTIN (1888), 21 Q. B. D. 29; 57 L. J. Q. B. 384; 58 L. T. 889; 36 W. R. 698; 5 Morr. 129.

Annotation:—Mentd. Davis v. Petrie (1905), 93 L. T. 511, D. C.

1949. —— —— ——.]—At the request of creditors, an accountant took possession of the business of debtor, who was insolvent, for the purpose of controlling his receipts & expenditure, the statement of account subsequently rendered showing a balance, which the accountant claimed to retain in respect of his charges. Bkpt. filed his own petition, & the accountant was appointed by the creditors the trustee in the bkpcy. The appointment was objected to by the Board of Trade, on the ground that the connection of the trustee with bkpt.'s estate made it "difficult for him to act with impartiality in the interest of the creditors generally":—Held: the objection must be sustained.—Re STOVOLD, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1889), 60 L. T. 190; 37 W. R. 511; 5 T. L. R. 179; 6 Morr. 7.

Annotation:—Apld. Re Laughton (1892), 36 Sol. Jo. 800.

1950. —— —— ——.]—A notification of objection was made by the Board of Trade to the appointment of B. as trustee, on the ground that B.'s relation to bkpt. made it difficult for him to act with impartiality in the interests of the creditors generally. Bkpt. had employed B. to prepare a statement of his affairs, & B. had assisted him to carry on his business:—Held: whether all was right was a question for the trustee to investigate, & although B. might be impartial, it would be difficult for him to act in such a case, & the objection must be upheld.—Re LAUGHTON (A BANKRUPT) (1892), 36 Sol. Jo. 800.

1951. —— —— ——.]—The fact that the trustee appointed by the creditors is an accounting party to the estate, e.g., trustee under a deed for creditors, & will as trustee have to investigate his own account, is of itself a valid objection by the Board of Trade.—Re MARDON, [1896] 1 Q. B. 140; 65 L. J. Q. B. 111; 73 L. T. 480; 44 W. R. 111; 12 T. L. R. 53; 40 Sol. Jo. 70; 2 Mans. 511.

Annotation:—Mentd. Davis v. Petrie, [1906] 2 K. B. 786, C. A.

1952. —— —— Trustee appointed to two estates — Interests of estates conflicting.] — E. having been adjudicated bkpt., the creditors appointed G. to be trustee in the bkpcy. L. was afterwards adjudicated bkpt., & the creditors appointed G. to be trustee. G. was a creditor of E. for £3,000, & he was also a creditor of L. for £400. The principal asset of L. consisted of a property, as to a moiety of which E. asserted that L. was a trustee for him. L. repudiated the claim. The Board of Trade certified that G. had been duly appointed trustee of E.'s estate, but they objected to his appointment as trustee of L.'s estate, on the ground "that his connection with or relation to L. & his estate makes it difficult for him to act with impartiality in the interests of the creditors of bkpt. generally." The objection was notified to the High Ct. under 1883 Act, s. 21 (3):—Held: if G. were appointed trustee of both the estates, there would be a serious conflict between his interest as a creditor of E. & his duty as trustee of L.'s estate, the objection of the Board of Trade was valid.—Re LAMB, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE, [1894] 2 Q. B. 805; 64 L. J. Q. B. 71; 71 L. T. 312; 10 T. L. R. 575; 38 Sol. Jo. 667; 1 Mans. 373; 9 R. 636, C. A.

1953. Appeal from decision of High Court on validity of objection.]—An appeal lies to the Ct. of Appeal by the Board of Trade from a decision of the High Ct. on the validity of an objection to the appointment of a trustee.—Re LAMB, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE, [1894] 2 Q. B. 805; 64 L. J. Q. B. 71; 71 L. T. 312; 10 T. L. R. 575; 38 Sol. Jo. 667; 1 Mans. 373; 9 R. 636, C. A.

Annotation:—Mentd. Re Mardon, [1896] 1 Q. B. 140.

1954. Costs—Trustee declining to retire when asked.]—B., an accountant, whom it was proposed to appoint trustee, had been employed by bkpt. immediately before the petition in connection with a proposed composition with his creditors, under which B. was appointed trustee, & had also assisted bkpt. to carry on his business:—Held: the objection of the Board of Trade to his appointment must be sustained, with costs in favour of the Board, as B. had not retired when requested to do so.—Re LAUGHTON (A BANKRUPT) (1892), 36 Sol. Jo. 800.

1955. —— Objection notified to court—Creditors appearing to oppose objection.] — Where the Board of Trade object to the trustee appointed by the creditors, & at the request of the creditors notify that objection to the ct., & the creditors alone appear bonâ fide to oppose the objection of the Board of Trade, costs will not as a rule be given against the trustee, although the objection is upheld.—Re MARDON, [1896] 1 Q. B. 140; 65 L. J. Q. B. 111; 73 L. T. 480; 44 W. R. 111; 12 T. L. R. 53; 40 Sol. Jo. 70; 2 Mans. 511.

SUB-SECT. 5.—CERTIFICATE OF APPOINTMENT.

See, now, 1914 Act, ss. 19 (4), 143.

1956. Whether registration required.]—Held: 1 & 2 Will. 4, c. 56, s. 27, did not require the certificate of the appointment of assignees to be registered, in order to protect them against subsequent purchasers of bkpt.'s freehold property without notice, unless the property was situate in a register county.—Ex p. —— (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 349.

1957. Effect as evidence—Record of court.]—A certificate of the appointment of an assignee, dated before action, & sealed with the seal of the Ct. of Bkpcy., is conclusive evidence, in an action by the assignee so appointed, of his title to sue, even though it appears that the signature of the comr. was not affixed to the document until after the commencement of the action, the certificate of appointment being a record of the ct.—KELLY v. MORRAY (1866), L. SUB-SECT. 6.—APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEE.

1958. Jurisdiction—Lords Justices in Lunacy—Trustee becoming insane.] — The Lords Justices sitting in Lunacy have jurisdiction, under Trustee Acts, to appoint a new trustee of a creditors' deed registered under 1861 Act, in the place of a trustee who has become of unsound mind.—Re DONISTHORPE, Re THOMSON'S TRUST DEED (1874), 10 Ch. 1961. —— Trustee elected without his consent.]—When an assignee is elected without his consent, & he declines to act, there must be a new choice at the costs of the estate.—Re BALCHERN, Ex p. STEPHENSON (1838), 3 Mont. & A. 663, Ct. of R.

SUB-SECT. 7.—EFFECT OF INVALID APPOINTMENT.

See Sect. 9, sub-sect. 1, C. (b), post.

SECT. 3.—DISCRETION OF TRUSTEE—APPLICATION FOR DIRECTIONS.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 79.

1962. Whether court will interfere—In regard to realisation of bankrupt's estate.]—Held: the ct. ought not to interfere to stay a sale by assignees of the stock-in-trade & lease of bkpts., as the assignees acted at their own risk & upon their own responsibility, & they & not the ct., were to be judges of the propriety & expediency of the sale.—Re RUSSELL, Ex p. MONTGOMERY (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 338.

Annotation:—Folld. Re Smith, Ex p. Smith (1865), 15 L. T. 451.

1963. —— ——.]—The ct. will not interfere with the creditors' assignee in the performance of his duty by disposing of bkpt.'s estate.—Re SMITH, Ex p. SMITH (1866), 15 L. T. 451.

See, further, Part XX., Sect. 18, post.

1964. —— In regard to time & manner of realisation—Sale of reversionary interest.]—Subject to resolutions of the creditors, a trustee in bkpcy. has a discretion as to when & how he will sell a contingent reversionary interest of bkpt., & the ct. will not interfere with the discretion at the instance of a creditor, unless it is shown that the trustee is acting as no reasonable man would.—Re PETERS, Ex p. LLOYD (1882), 47 L. T. 64, C. A.

1965. —— To make one of three assignees sign contract—Doubt as to whether sale advantageous.]—One of three assignees had not been consulted as to a sale, & he had reason to doubt whether it was beneficial to the estate:—Held: he ought not to be compelled to execute the conveyance as an officer of the ct., without an inquiry as to whether the sale was a proper one.—Re BISHTON, Ex p. UNDERHILL (1838), 3 Deac. 326; 3 Mont. & A. 660; 2 Jur. 520, Ct. of R.

1966. —— In regard to letting bankrupt's property—To vary rent.]—On the application of a tenant of the assignees a reference was made to the comr., who reported the rent should be reduced, which was done. On the application of some creditors, one of whom offered higher rent, the ct. refused to interfere.—Re CHAMBERS, Ex p. DE BEGNIS (1834), 1 Mont. & A. 277; 3 L. J. Bcy. 43, Ct. of R.

PART VII. SECT. 2, SUB-SECT. 5.

t. Failure to produce—Secondary evidence of appointment.]—Where the assignee of bkpt. failed to produce in an action the certificate of his appointment as assignee, pursuant to a notice served on him for that purpose:—Held: evidence of his having acted as such assignee was sufficient secondary evidence of his appointment.—HEASLIP v. THOMPSON (1842), 2 Craw. & D. 404.—IR.

PART VII. SECT. 2, SUB-SECT. 6.

1959 i. In what cases new trustee appointed—Trustee dead.]—An insolvent, under 31 Geo. 3, c. 21, being entitled to a surplus of his property, his petition gave the ct. jurisdiction to appoint a new assignee, the old one having died without heir or representative, in order to give him an opportunity of seeing that his property was properly managed.—Re FLEMING (1801), Rowe, 411.—IR.

w. —— Trustee absconding.]—Where an assignee absconds, another will be appointed in his place.—Ex p. HIGGINS (1809), 1 Ball & B. 218.—IR.

a. After long interval—Power of court to decide who might vote.]—Fifteen years having elapsed, no dividend having been paid, & two of the three assignees originally appointed having died, it became necessary for the creditors to decide whether or not new assignees should be appointed. Great delay having taken place in ascertaining through the comrs. who could vote:—Held: the ct. would at once decide seriatim as to the right of each of the creditors to vote.—Re FRENCH (1831), 4 Ir. PART VII. SECT. 3.

c. Application for directions—Instructions to sell goods on leased premises—No provision made for payment of landlord.]—Upon the insolvency of a lessee, if the creditors or inspectors order the assignee in insolvency to sell goods on the demised premises on credit, & do not provide him with the means of satisfying the landlord, he should apply to the judge for directions.—Re MCCRAKEN, DALLAS v. STINSON (1879), 4 A. R. 486.—CAN.

Sect. 3.—Discretion of trustee—Application for directions. Sect. 4: Sub-sects. 1 & 2.]

1967. Application for directions—Power of court—Form of order.]—A trustee in bkpcy. is entitled to apply to the ct. for directions in relation to any particular matter arising under the bkpcy., as to which the creditors have already by resolution at a general meeting given him directions, & the ct. has power for just cause shown to direct the trustee to disregard the directions of the creditors & to act contrary to them. In such a case the ct. ought not to order the resolution to be vacated or to declare it void, but simply to direct the trustee to disregard it.—Re POOLE, Ex p. COCKS (1882), 21 Ch. D. 397; 52 L. J. Ch. 63; 47 L. T. 496; 31 W. R. 105, C. A.

Annotation:—Expld. Re Ridgway, Ex p. Hurlbatt (1889), 61 L. T. 647.

1968. —— Right of debtor to be heard—Right of appeal from County Court.]—A trustee in a liquidation applied to the county ct. for directions as to the acceptance of an offer for the purchase of debtors' property. Notice was given to debtors, but at the hearing of the application the county ct. judge refused to hear the solr. for debtors or to receive evidence on their behalf:—Held: notice having been given to debtors they ought to have been heard, & an appeal lay from such refusal of the county ct. judge to do so. Qu.: whether when a trustee applies to the ct. for directions in any particular matter, debtor is in any event entitled to appear & be heard.—Re WEBB & SONS, Ex p. WEBB & SONS (1887), 4 Morr. 52.

1969. —— Instructions of committee opposed to those of creditors.]—In order to avoid litigation certain terms of compromise were agreed upon between the trustee in bkpcy. & persons making claims against the estate. The terms of compromise were approved by a majority of the committee of inspection. Subsequently a resolution was passed at a meeting of creditors refusing to sanction the terms of compromise. The trustee applied to the ct. for leave to carry out the compromise, notwithstanding the resolution of the creditors:—Held: as the creditors, in arriving at their view of the case, had acted bonâ fide & for their own interests, the compromise must be abandoned.—Re RIDGWAY, Ex p. HURLBATT (1889), 61 L. T. 647; 38 W. R. 432; 6 T. L. R. 21; 6 Morr. 277.

1970. —— ——.]—A committee of inspection representing the creditors were at variance with the family creditors of debtor as to the realisation of the assets, & the trustee received conflicting directions. On the application of the trustee:—Held: a "conflict" had arisen, & the trustee should be directed to follow the directions of the committee of inspection.—Re OBORNE, Ex p. MARILLIER (1896), 3 Mans. 238.

1971. —— Right of trustee to appeal without indemnity — Personal liability for costs.] — A trustee, who applies to the ct. for directions, should not appeal, except with a guarantee for the costs from the creditors. If he fails on the appeal, he will be ordered to pay the costs of the appeal personally.—Re MALDEN, GIBSON & CO., Ex p. JAMES (1886), 55 L. T. 708; 3 Morr. 185, D. C.

1973. Administration—To obtain letters of—Without security.]—Letters of administration may be granted to the trustee in bkpcy. of the next of kin without requiring sureties.—In the Estate of ASTBURY (1899), 80 L. T. 296.

See, further, EXECUTORS & ADMINISTRATORS.

1974. To advance money to bankrupt—For defence of prosecution—Consent of all assignees.]—Bkpt. being indicted for a conspiracy to obtain goods by false pretences swore that he was innocent of the charge, & that if he were convicted, the estate would be greatly damnified, as the prosecutor would be enabled to prove for a large sum under the fiat, & he applied for an order that his assignees might advance him £100 to defend himself against the indictment. One of the assignees objected to the application, & the two others merely expressed their willingness to submit to any order of the ct.:—Held: such an order could not be made without the consent of all the assignees.—Re SCHOLEFIELD, Ex p. SCHOLEFIELD (1842), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 644; 11 L. J. Bcy. 47; 6 Jur. 977, Ct. of R.

1975. Business—To carry on—What contracts—Contract of personal character.] — A contractor entered into an agreement for the completion of a building at a certain time, in a certain specified manner, & it was agreed that the contractor was to set out the works & be responsible for errors, to provide & employ workmen, to provide & keep at the building a competent general foreman, to provide materials, labour, etc., also that if the contractor should, from any cause, not comply with the terms of the contract within three days after being requested to do so in writing, the architect should have power to prevent his further execution of the works, & cause same to be finished by others. After he had received notice from the employer that he was neglecting & delaying to complete & finish the building, the contractor, on the following day, entered into a composition-deed for the benefit of his creditors under 1861 Act, s. 192, in the form prescribed by that Act:—Held: the trustees of the deed were not at liberty to adopt the contract, containing, as it did, obligations of a personal character.—KNIGHT v.

1977. —— —— When leave granted—After inquiry.]—The ct. will order a reference to inquire if it is proper to carry on bkpt.'s business, although some of the creditors dissent, but they will have the liberty to prosecute the order.—Re HUGHES, Ex p. MENDELL (1835), 4 Deac. & Ch. 725; 4 L. J. Bcy. 81, Ct. of R.

1978. —— —— Refusal—When not likely to be immediately beneficial.]—The assignees of bkpt. may be justified in declining to continue works in a mine, which do not appear likely to prove immediately beneficial to the estate.—Re GUNDRY, Ex p. BADCOCK (1829), Mont. & M. 231, L. C.

1979. —— —— Termination of power—On what grounds order to cease may be obtained.]—Where the assignees are authorised by a majority of the creditors to carry on bkpt.'s trade, for the benefit of the estate, a dissenting creditor cannot obtain an order that they may cease to do so, without proving that he sustained some damage from the continuance of the business by the assignees.—Re STRUTTON, Ex p. HALL (1837), 2 Deac. 263, Ct. of R.

1980. To delegate — General authority.] — Assignees cannot delegate their general authority. —DOUGLAS v. BROWN (1831), 2 Dow & Cl. 171; Mont. 93; 6 E. R. 692, H. L.

1981. To renew lease—For purpose of carrying on business—Against wishes of creditors.]—The ct. cannot sanction the renewal of a lease by assignees, for the purpose of carrying on bkpt.'s business, if any creditors object to that arrangement, notwithstanding it has been determined upon by a majority of creditors present at a meeting duly convened for that purpose. A reference was directed to the comrs., in such circumstances, to appoint such time & place as might be thought most beneficial for the sale of bkpt.'s property.—Re MILLER, Ex p. MILLER (1840), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 39, Ct. of R.

1982. To apply for order for re-direction of bankrupt's letters.]—An application for an order for the re-direction of letters addressed to a bkpt. can only be made by the trustee in the bkpcy. Petitioning creditor has no locus standi either to make application, or to appeal from an order made on the application of the trustee if he thinks that order not sufficiently extensive. If the trustee refuses to apply for such an order, or to appeal from an order made on his application, petitioning creditor cannot apply to the ct. himself. Semble: he might obtain authority to use the name of the trustee.—Re HALBERSTAMM, Ex p. LISTER (1881), 17 Ch. D. 518; 29 W. R. 621, C. A.

1983. Payment—Power to make—For services benefiting estate—Performed after act of bankruptcy.]—As a general rule a trustee in bkpcy. may, in the exercise of his discretion, adopt & pay for services rendered to a bkpt. after notice of an act of bkpcy., where such services have clearly resulted in a benefit or profit to bkpt.'s estate commensurate with the services rendered, but he must be very strict in the application of the rule.—Re SIMONSON, Ex p. BALL, [1894] 1 Q. 1986. To require architect's certificate—In respect of work done by bankrupt contractor.]—Bkpt. had contracted to perform joiner's work, & to receive payment upon an architect's certificate. Certain stable fittings were by the contract to be supplied for £95 & to be procured from M. & Co. Subsequently, that amount was by the architect's direction increased to £137. Neither of the sums had been paid by bkpt. to M. & Co. who, on the bkpcy. occurring, applied to the building owner & received from him £95 upon their giving him an indemnity. The trustee then applied to the building owner for the whole £137, & refused to accept the balance, after deducting the £95 handed to M. & Co., which the building owner was ready to pay. The architects also refused to give their certificate for any sum other than the balance between the £95 & the £137. The trustee applied for an order directing the architects to certify that £137 was due from the building owner to bkpt.'s estate, & that he should be directed to pay it:—Held: the county ct. judge had jurisdiction to entertain such application.—Re HOLT, Ex p. GRAY (1888), 58 L. J. Q. B. 5, D. C.

1987. To take out summons under R. S. C. Ord., 54a, r. 1.]—A summons was taken out under the above Ord. by the trustee of bkpt., who claimed an interest under a contract for sale of real estate & option of repurchase conferred on bkpt., asking certain questions which involved the construction of the written document:—Held: the trustee was a "person interested" within the above rule.—MASON v. SCHUPPISSER (1899), 81 L. T. 147; 43 Sol. Jo. 718.

1980i. To delegate—General authority.]—A trustee may not give a general delegation of his powers so as to transfer to an agent the whole management of the estate in matters of discretion as well as in purely ministerial acts.—ALLAN v. ERLANK'S TRUSTEE (1908), T. S. 1187.—S. AF.

1988. Withdrawal of sequestration—Power to agree to on conditions.]—Where bkpt. is a beneficed clergyman & his living is sequestrated, the trustee may agree to withdraw the sequestration on payment of a proper amount. Where the profits of the sequestrated benefice were insufficient to pay the curate & dilapidations, the ct. approved such an arrangement, the consideration being £300.—Re BARRATT (1906), 22 T. L. R. 427, D. C.

1989. To pool English & foreign assets—By agreement with official assignee abroad.]—Where a firm is bkpt. in England & abroad, and has English & foreign assets & English & foreign creditors, the ct. has jurisdiction to sanction an agreement between the trustee in bkpcy. in England and the official assignee abroad for pooling all the assets & distributing them ratably amongst the English & foreign creditors, notwithstanding that 1883 Act contains no express provisions authorising such a scheme.—Re MACFADYEN & Co., Ex p. VIZIANAGARAM CO., LTD., [1908] 1 K. SUB-SECT. 3.—ONE OR MORE TRUSTEES CEASING TO ACT OR NOT ACTING.

1990. To withdraw money from bank—One trustee dead & another abroad.]—Part of bkpt.'s estate was paid into the bank in the names of the five assignees. One of them died, & another went abroad. The remaining assignees applied to the bank for the money for the purpose of making a dividend, but the bank refused to pay it without proof of the two other assignees being dead. The ct. made the order on the bank to pay the money to the three remaining assignees.—Ex p. COLLINS (1797), 2 Cox, Eq. Cas. 427; 30 E. R. 198.

1991. —— One trustee absconding.]—Part of bkpt.'s estate having been paid into the bank in the names of three assignees, one of whom subsequently absconded, the bank was ordered to pay the money to the names of the two remaining assignees.—Re BECHER, Ex p. HUNTER (1816), 1 Mer. 408; 35 E. R. 724.

1992. To execute release by deed—Special authority necessary from trustee not acting.]—A general authority from one of several assignees of bkpt.'s estate to the others to act for him, & use his name, is not sufficient to enable the others to execute a release by deed; there must be a special authority for that purpose.—WILLIAMS v. WALSBY (1802), 4 Esp. 220.

1993. To give receipt—Whether receipt from one sufficient.]—Payment of a debt due to a bkpt. estate to one assignee, is not a discharge, but debtor should have taken a receipt likewise from the co-assignee.—CAN v. READ (1749), 3 Atk. 695; 26 E. R. 1199.

1996. To convey real estate—One trustee having resigned.]—Upon a liquidation petition by two partners, two persons were by three several resolutions appointed trustees of the joint estate, & of the two separate estates, respectively. One of the trustees resigned, whereupon the continuing trustee was by a resolution of the joint creditors appointed "sole trustee of the property of debtors," but no resolution was passed appointing any one to be trustee of either of the separate estates:—Held: the continuing trustee was able to convey real property, part of one of the separate estates, to a purchaser, for all the interest of debtor at the commencement of the liquidation.—Re WADDELL'S CONTRACT (1876), 2 Ch. 2007. —— Committal to prison—Not without previous order requiring obedience.]—An ex-trustee in bkpcy. had failed to render an account showing what he had done while trustee, & to account for the property of bkpt., & had not given satisfactory explanation of his conduct. The trustee was summoned to attend at the ct., & did not do so. The ct. committed him for contempt. Upon application for a habeas corpus to discharge him out of custody:—Held: the rule directing the ct. to "enforce obedience" to the requisitions of the rule, did not justify a committal without a previous order of the ct. requiring obedience to such requisitions, & prisoner must be discharged out of custody.—Re POOKES ROYLE (1881), 7 Q. (b) What Charges allowed.

2008. Trustee's charges for professional services—Accountant.]—An assignee, who is an accountant, cannot charge the estate for his professional services. It makes no difference whether the accountant assignee be a partner in a house of accountants, by whom the charges are made, or whether he acts as such on his own separate account.—Re SOWERBY, Ex p. READ (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 77.

o. How accounts should be kept.]—The only account of a trustee consisted of a bank passbook & of an account in the books of a firm of estate & general agents & auctioneers, of which the trustee was a partner, & which firm was authorised to act for him in the administration & liquidation of the estate. The books containing the account were allowed to fall into arrear for several months, & there was no account available & open for the inspection of creditors at all reasonable times:—Held: the mere fact the account was kept in the books of the firm gave rise to no good objection, but the account actually kept was not a compliance with Ord. 6 of 1843, s. 108.—LOUW & DUMMER v. FAGAN (1914), C. q. Where accounts ordered.]—A. & B., bankers, stopped payment in 1815, & their property was vested in trustees, by a deed dated in 1816. In May, 1822, A. being dead, a commission of bkpcy. issued against B. for debts contracted by him as a corn factor subsequent to the execution of the trust deed. C. a creditor, by judgment of Trinity term, 1815, filed a bill against the trustees of the deed & the assignees of B., & charged that B. had been allowed to continue carrying on the trade of a corn-factor. An account having been decreed of the real & personal estate of B. on Dec. 16, 1816, & of the debts due & how circumstanced, & what sums were due at that time on petition for re-hearing the bill was dismissed with costs.—VINCENT v. HACKETT (1829), 2 Ir. 2022. Audit of Board of Trade may be revised.]—On July 2, 1889, the remuneration of the trustee appointed in the bkpcy. was fixed by resolution of the committee of inspection at the rate of 10 per cent. on the assets realised, & 7½ per cent. on the amount distributed in dividend, at which rate remuneration was allowed to the trustee on the assets then realised at the fourth audit of his accounts. In Jan., 1890, a further asset of bkpt. consisting of a reversion to a share of certain residuary estate was realised for the sum of £1,200, upon which remuneration was claimed by the trustee at the same rate. Objection was taken by the committee of inspection to the claim, on the ground that the resolution passed by them on July 2, 1889, had reference only to the assets realised at the time such resolution was passed & did not include any future assets ; & they subsequently passed another resolution by which the remuneration of the trustee was fixed at a percentage calculated at the rate of 6 per cent. on the assets realised, & 2½ per cent. on the amount distributed in dividend. The claim of the trustee having been disallowed by the Board of Trade on the fifth audit of his accounts :—Held : in the circumstances the Board of Trade would be acting rightly in revising their audit, or in allowing the remuneration at the rate claimed.—Re MARSDEN, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1892), 36 Sol. Jo. 309 ; 9 Morr. 70.

2023. Jurisdiction to tax trustee's charges—Notwithstanding audit by committee.] — The creditors of a liquidating debtor resolved on a liquidation by arrangement, & appointed a trustee & a committee of inspection, & they resolved that the remuneration of the trustee should be such as the committee of inspection should from time to time determine. Afterwards the creditors authorised the trustee to accept an offer made by debtor, under 1869 Act, s. 28, to pay a composition, he also paying the costs, charges, & expenses of the solrs., receiver, & trustee in relation to the settlement of his affairs & of the scheme of arrangement. The arrangement was approved by the ct. :—Held : after the confirmation of that scheme the ct. had jurisdiction to tax the trustee's charges, notwithstanding his account had been audited & approved by the committee of inspection subsequently to the confirmation of the composition arrangement.—Re RANBY, Ex p. RANBY (1880), 14 Ch. 2024. Scale of charges—Agent—Selling bankrupt's property by tender.]—The scale of charges of an agent, employed by the assignees to sell bkpt.'s stock by tender, is properly settled by the rule adopted by the Ct. of Bkpcy. in London at an intermediate rate between that applicable to a sale by auction & that applicable to a sale by valuation.

It is not incumbent on the appellate ct. to decide such a question, although both parties submit to its jurisdiction.—Re MACKENNA, Ex p. HUNT (1854), 5 De G. M. & G. 387 ; 23 L. J. Bcy. 43 ; 24 L. T. O. S. 29 ; 2 W. R. 682 ; 43 E. R. 920, L. C.

2025. Taxation of costs—Right of trustee to attend.]—Solrs. to assignees had their bills of costs taxed in Mar., 1851, by the registrar of the District Ct., ex p., without notice to the assignees, but in the presence of the official assignee, who afterwards died. In Apr., 1853, the assignees & some of the creditors applied to the district ct. for a re-taxation of the bills, which, save £100, had not been paid :—Held : such bills must be re-taxed.—Re BARBARY, Ex p. BATEMAN (1854), 23 L. J. Bcy. 8, L. JJ.

2026. —— —— New trustee appointed.]—A trustee passed his solr.'s bill of costs subject to taxation, & the solr. lodged the bill with the taxing officer & obtained an appointment to tax. Before the date fixed for the taxation arrived a new trustee was appointed, but the solr. did not give notice of the appointment to tax either to the official receiver or to the new trustee, & the taxing officer gave his allocatur for the amount of the taxed bill :—Held : "the trustee" who, under 1886 & 1890 Rules, r. 120, ought to have had notice of the appointment to tax was the person who was trustee at the time when the taxation took place, i.e., the new trustee, & that notice should also have been given to the official receiver, & a re-taxation of the solr.'s bill must be directed with liberty to the new trustee to attend, the allocatur in the meantime to be suspended.—Re SMITH, Ex p. WILSON, [1910] 2 K. 2027. —— Application to tax by one only of several trustees—Bill reduced by one-sixth—Costs.]—An assignee presented a petition for the taxation of the bill of the solr. to the fiat, but the prayer was opposed by the other assignees & the solr. The usual order for taxation having been made, & the bill having been reduced by more than one-sixth, the solr. paid petitioner the costs of taxation. Petitioner then applied to the comrs. to be allowed out of the estate his extra costs incurred on the proceeding, but the comrs. refused to allow him any further costs, although they allowed the other assignees out of the estate costs as between solr. & client :—Held : petitioner was entitled to the extra costs paid out of the estate.—Re FISHER, Ex p. FOSBROOKE (1841), 1 Mont. The master thought he had no authority to tax the bills between the opening of the commission & the choice of assignees. Another petition having been preferred praying that the master be directed to proceed with the taxation:—Held: the master should review his certificate.—Ex p. CLARKE & COGAN (1791), 1 Cooke's Bankrupt Laws, 8th ed., p. 17.

C. Duty in regard to Money collected.

(a) Enforcement of Payment.

2034. Order for payment—To whom application should be made.]—An order having been made by the county ct. judge against a trustee in a liquidation, directing him to credit the estate of debtor with certain moneys, such trustee appealed to the bkpcy. judge, by whom the decision of the county ct. was substantially affirmed, & a special order was made as to costs, & as to the required payments to be made by the trustee. The trustee having failed to comply with the order, the comptroller in bkpcy. reported the default to the bkpcy. judge, & applied to enforce his report:—Held: the application ought to have been made to the county ct. & must be refused.—Re THOMAS, Ex p. COMPTROLLER IN BANKRUPTCY (1886), 3 Morr. 49.

2035. —— When granted—Undistributed funds & dividends.]—Trustees in bkpcy., appointed in 1877, collected £199, the whole assets. No dividend was declared, but the money was retained by the trustees, who claimed £150 as their remuneration under an alleged resolution of the committee of inspection. On an application, on behalf of the Board of Trade, for an order directing the trustees to pay the funds & dividends into the Bank of England:—Held: the order must be granted, with costs against the trustees.—Re PEARCE, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1884), 1 Morr. 56.

2036. Order to commit to prison—No money in trustee's hands.]—One of two partners was appointed trustee under a liquidation, &, before the affairs were wound up, died. At the time of his death he was indebted to the estate in a sum of £201. The surviving partner was then appointed trustee, on his giving an undertaking in writing to make good any deficiency. The latter never received anything on behalf of the estate. An order of ct. was made for payment of the £201, & on its being disobeyed an application was made to commit the surviving partner:—Held: no order to commit could be made because it was not shown that debtor had ever had the money in his possession.—Re HINCKS, Ex p. CUDDEFORD (1876), 45 L. J. Bcy. 127; 24 W. R. 931.

2037. —— —— Costs of motion.]—A trustee in liquidation was ordered to pay the taxed costs of the solr., & "the costs of the motion" upon which the order was made. On default, he was committed to prison for his contempt of ct. in "disobeying the order":—Held: the order of committal was wrong, for "the costs of the motion" could not be said to be money in his hands as a trustee within 1869 Act, s. 4 (3).—Re HIND, Ex p. SHARP (1877), 37 L. T. 168.

2038. —— Stay to allow time for payment.]—A trustee failed to pay into the Bkpcy. Estates Account certain money, which had come into his hands in respect of the estate of which he was trustee, or to comply with an order of the Board of Trade, directing him forthwith to pay over the money together with a further sum as interest at the rate of 20 per cent. charged under 1883 Act, s. 74 (6). The Board of Trade applied for an order of committal:—Held: an immediate order of committal must be made in respect of the principal sum, but such order would not issue for a week & not go out at all if within that time the trustee should pay into the Bkpcy. Estates Account the amount due, together with the costs of the motion, & an order would be made directing the trustee to comply with the order of the Board of Trade requiring him to pay the sum charged as interest within a fortnight.—Re TATUM, Ex p. TATUM v. HARKER (1889), 60 L. 2039. —— ——.]—A trustee having failed to pay money in respect of the estate into the Bkpcy. Estates Account, or to comply with an order of the Board of Trade forthwith to pay over such money, the Board of Trade applied for an order to commit:—Held: an immediate order of committal must be made, but the order should lie in the office for a week, in order that the trustee might have opportunity within that time to pay over the money.—Re NICHOLSON, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1888), 37 W. 2040. —— Trustee becoming bankrupt before time limited for payment.]—A trustee in bkpcy. was ordered by the ct. to pay a sum of money into the Bkpcy. Estates Account. Before the time limited for payment, he was adjudicated bkpt., without obeying the order:—Held: in the absence of evidence that he had improperly dealt with the money, there was no evidence of wilful disobedience to the order to justify committal.—Re CALDERWOOD, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1891), 8 Morr. 135.

2041. —— Trustee released on undertaking to pay by instalments.]—A trustee in a liquidation, who had been committed to prison for non-compliance with an order directing him to pay a sum of money, part of debtor's property received by the former in his character of trustee, into ct., was ordered to be released upon his undertaking to pay the amount due by quarterly instalments.—Re FRANK, Ex p. HEDGER (1880), 42 L. T. 192.

2042. —— Discharge on payment by surety.]—An order was made against a trustee, who had failed to pay into the Bkpcy. Estates Account certain moneys which had come into his hands in respect of the estate, ordering him to be committed to prison in the event of his not paying the amount specified within a week. The terms of the order not being complied with, a warrant was issued against the trustee, but the amount in question was subsequently paid by a guarantee society. The trustee applied that the order of committal might be rescinded:—Held: the money having been paid, there was no longer any default on the part of the trustee, & the order for committal must be discharged.—Re TATUM, Ex p. HARKER (1889), 5 T. 2044. Trustees absconding with dividends—Whether remedy against estate or only against trustee.]—Comrs. of bkpcy. appointed a dividend to be made of bkpt.'s estate. A creditor under the commission neglected to receive of the assignees his proportion of that dividend, & the assignees afterwards absconded with the dividend that was in their hands:—Held: the creditor should not be allowed to come upon bkpt.'s estate for that money, but must take his remedy against the assignees as well as he could.—ANON. 2052. Money paid into bank in which assignee partner—Money left there unreasonable time.]—Assignee in bkpcy. charged with interest, not as partner in the bank, into which the money was paid by direction of the creditors, but for keeping it there too long.

The assignee resists the claim of interest on the ground, that the money really is, where the creditors directed it to be; & though, as a general regulation, it may be prudent in creditors never to order their money to be paid into a bank in which an assignee is a partner, yet, if they do, it would be too much to say, he shall be charged with interest merely on the ground that he has, as a banker, that possession, which the creditors have sanctioned.

own hands, as if it was in any other bank. He has in fact been making a profit of 5 per cent. about three years; & gives no satisfactory reason for keeping it so long. On that ground therefore, being an assignee, he must account with interest, to be computed upon the annual balances (ELDON, L.C.).—Ex p. BAKER (1811), 18 Ves. 246; 34 E. R. 310.

2054. —— —— Money retained owing to fear of solvency of bank.]—An assignee received money, apprehensive of the solvency of the bank, he retained it for over three months:—Held: though it was impossible in the particular case to say that the assignee had not acted meritoriously, & with the best intentions, yet, as it appeared that he had wilfully retained the sum in his hands, he must pay 20 per cent., 49 Geo. 3, c. 121, being imperative.—Re LEE, Ex p. BRAY (1810), 1 Rose, 144.

Annotation:—Refd. Re Aaron, Ex p. Lowe (1832), 1 L. J. Bcy. 54, Ct. of R.

2056. —— To whom payable—To creditor—Dividend separated.]—The creditors of bkpt. appointed the Bank of England as the place where the estate should be deposited. A dividend was declared. Two of the three assignees signed drafts for dividends, which they forwarded to the other assignee for his signature. He also signed them, & received the money, which he applied for his own purposes. Upon his death a creditor's suit was instituted by the assignees & the comrs. for the administration of his assets:—Held: the estate of the assignee was not liable under 49 Geo. 3, c. 121, to pay 20 per cent. upon the funds misapplied.

When the order for dividend separates the particular aliquot parts to be paid to each creditor from the mass of the personal estate of the bkpt., the assignees then become debtors to him, & there is nothing in the Acts of Parliament authorising him to ask for 20 per cent. as long as he chooses to leave the money in their hands (LORD ELDON, C.).—Re POWELL, Ex p. WACKERBATH (1826), 2 Gl. & J. 151; 5 L. 2058. —— Against whom chargeable—Only against solvent assignee.]—Held: under 49 Geo. 3, c. 121, s. 4, the penal interest of 20 per cent. applied against a solvent assignee only, & was not intended to prejudice the creditors of a bkpt. assignee.—Re WILLETT, Re KENT, Ex p. GOLDSMITH (1824), 1 Gl. & J. 405; 2 L. 2059. —— —— Trustee in liquidation.]—Held: 1869 Act, s. 30, charging a trustee with interest at 20 per cent. per annum upon the excess above £50 of any money retained in his hands for more than ten days, did not apply to a trustee under a liquidation.—Re FASTNEDGE, Ex p. BROOKER (1876), 2 Ch. General rule.]—As to a purchase by a trustee of the trust property the rule is, that it shall not prevail in any circumstances, unless the connection appears satisfactorily to have been dissolved (a transaction to be viewed with great jealousy from the opportunity of acquiring knowledge as trustee), or by universal consent. But as against him it shall stand ; as, if more cannot be obtained. The rule applies most strictly to assignees in bkpcy. from their great power.—Ex p. LACEY (1802), 6 Ves. 625 ; 31 E. R. 1228, L. The joint estate had a claim for a large amount against the separate estate of testator, but that claim was not ascertained & admitted in the administration action until several years after the contract for purchase :—Held : in the circumstances the trustee in the joint bkpcy. did not stand in any fiduciary position which could prevent his joining in the purchase.—COAKS v. BOSWELL (1886), 11 App. Cas. 232 ; 55 L. 2075. —— —— Set-off of loss on resale of part against profit on resale of remainder.]—Property of bkpt. was offered for sale by auction in two lots, on different days, & both lots were bought in by the assignee, without the authority of the creditors. On a resale there was a loss on one lot & a gain upon the other, but the balance was in favour of the estate:—Held: the assignee should be charged with the loss on the lot undersold.

An assignee who buys in the bkpt.'s property, without the consent of his creditors, does so at his peril. He will be held strictly to his bargain, when it is for the benefit of the estate, & will not be allowed to set off the profit in one purchase against the loss in another (LORD ELDON, C.).—Re LEONARD, Ex p. LEWIS (1809), 1 Gl. & J. 69, L. C.

This is a case of a concealed purchase by one of the acting assignees in the name of a stranger, a case to which the ct. cannot have its attention called, without dealing with it fairly & seriously, not only for the sake of the parties concerned, but with regard to the interest of the public in general (KNIGHT BRUCE, C. J.).—Re STEVENS, Ex p. GORE (1842), 3 Mont. D. & De G. 77; 6 Jur. 1118; subsequent proceedings (1843), 7 Jur. 136, Ct. of R.

2080. —— Subsequently becoming bankrupt—Redelivery of goods remaining in specie—Proof for balance.]—An assignee having purchased goods at a sale, under the commission, became bkpt.:—Held: such of the goods as remained in specie should be redelivered, & what he had re-sold should be proved as a debt.—Re BALL, Ex p. SPONG (1811), 1 Rose, 133, L. C.

2081. —— Through puffer—Bound by bargain.]—Property of bkpt. was put up at auction by mtgees. It was knocked down to a puffer appointed by the assignees, without the leave of the ct.:—Held: the assignees must be held to their bargain.—Ex p. TOMKINS (1816), cited Sugden's Vendors and Purchasers, 14th ed., p. 815.

2085. Consent of creditors necessary.]—An assignee, desirous of becoming a purchaser of the estate of bkpt., must first obtain the consent of the creditors, & then petition.—Re WICKSTEAD, Ex p. BAGE (1819), 4 Madd. 459; 56 E. R. 774.

2086. —— Consent of some not enough.]—An assignee can have leave to bid in very special circumstances only. The consent of a meeting of some of the creditors is not sufficient.—Re EDMONSTON, Ex p. BEAUMONT (1834), 3 Deac. & Ch. 549; 1 Mont. & A. 304; 3 L. J. Bcy. 45, Ct. of R.

2089. Reference for inquiry & report.]—On an application by an assignee for leave to purchase bkpt.'s effects at a valuation, though the creditors had consented, the ct. refused to make the order without a reference to the comrs., to enquire whether the effects could be more advantageously disposed of.—Re ROSSITER, Ex p. SERLE (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 187.

2096. To partner—Refusal of court to affirm sale—Fairness immaterial.]—Where a partner of one of the assignees of bkpt. purchased part of bkpt.'s property at a sale by public auction, an application to the ct. for the purpose of protecting the purchaser, supported by strong evidence that the transaction was perfectly fair, was refused.—Re LINDELL (1842), 12 L. J. Bcy. 23; sub nom. Re LINDON, Ex p. BURNELL, 7 Jur. 116, Ct. of R.

2097. —— Being also brother—Purchase through agent.]—The book debts & goodwill of bkpt., a medical man, were put up for sale by auction by the trustee, who was also a medical man, & purchased by an agent for the brother & partner of the trustee, another intending purchaser being present, but neglecting to bid, thinking that the sale was a sham:—Held: the sale was void.—Re MOORE, Ex p. MOORE (1881), 51 L. 2099. To minor son & nephew of partner.]—A trustee agreed to sell a policy on bkpt.'s life to two purchasers, one the trustee's son, who was a minor, & the other the nephew of the trustee's partner. The committee of inspection had consented, without knowing the relationship between the trustee & the purchasers. The policy had been offered for sale by tender without result, & the purchase price was more than the surrender value. A creditor disapproved of the sale & offered an increased price, which was refused:—Held: the sale was void, as apart from the objection that one of the purchasers was a minor, the case was within the principle that a trustee could not sell to his partner.—Re SPARKS, Ex p. FORDER, [1881] W. 2104. Contract to share remuneration—Illegal.]—By an agreement of employment between a firm of land agents & their manager it was provided that the manager should be entitled, with the consent of the firm, to undertake any factorship or trusteeship, & that all fees which he derived from any such office should be pooled with all fees which the firm derived as salesmen or valuators in connection with any such estate, & that the proceeds, after payment thereout to the firm of the balance of any debt due to them from such estate, after giving credit for any sums received by them on account of such debt, should be divided equally between the parties. Under such agreement the manager was appointed trustee of several bkpt. estates, including an estate on which his firm had a claim as creditors. In an action of accounting against their manager, the firm sought to recover a proportion of the fees earned by the manager as such trustee & the balance of the debt due to them after deducting the amount received by them by way of dividend from bkpt.'s estate:—Held: the agreement was illegal & the action was not maintainable.—FARMERS' MART, LTD. v. MILNE, [1915] A. A creditor brought an action against the trustee for an order that the trustee had forfeited under Ord. 6 of 1843, s. 101, double the amount of the net proceeds of the immovables:—Held: as the trustee's omission to bank the amount in the estate's account for four days after the date on which it was due was due to an oversight, the ct. should not, in the exercise of its discretion, decree a forfeiture.—LOUW & DUMMER v. FAGAN (1914), C. 2111. —— —— —— Waiver of claim against trustee.]—Petitioner, an equitable mtgee. of leasehold property, obtained an order for a sale, at which £950 was bid, but the property was bought in by the assignees. Petitioner afterwards applied for another order, but the order as made being unsatisfactory to him as to the time of the sale, he refused to accept it. The assignees afterwards obtained another order, at which the highest bid was £650:—Held: petitioner by applying for a second sale had waived any claim against the assignees for the difference in the amount of the biddings, but he was entitled to be indemnified from the ground rent & all expenses incurred since the first sale.—Re MOORE, Ex p. BALDOCK (1832), 2 Deac. & Ch. 60, Ct. of R.

2114 ii. ——.]—An order for payment forthwith of a claim for wages, with costs, was made against an assignee, who paid the claims, but refused to pay any costs. The order having been made a rule of ct. & execution having issued thereon:—Held: (1) the assignee should not have been ordered to pay costs; (2) his only remedy was to apply for a prohibition to prohibit further proceedings on the order.—Re CLEGHORN & MUNN, 2 C. L. J. 133.—CAN.

2114 iii. —— Trustee ordered to account.]—The ct., on the petition of creditors alleging that the assignee was negligent, ordered him to account, before the officer of the ct., for all money he had received, or any one for him, & all costs he had incurred.—Re HAWKINS (1801), Rowe, 729.—IR.

k. By whom enforceable — Creditor who has become bankrupt.]—A creditor, against whom, after he had proved his debt, a commission issued, is, although he dispute his bkpcy., not competent to call for an order upon a petition presented by him charging the assignees of his debtor with mismanagement & is not rendered competent by joining with his assignee.—Re FRENCH & CO., Ex p. SOMERS (1828), 1 Mol. 431.—IR.

2121. One trustee acting on behalf of himself & three others—Notice that dividends receivable on application to trustees—Account overdrawn by acting trustee.]—Four persons were chosen assignees, but at the choice it was verbally agreed that one should act, & notice was given to the banker to pay the drafts of the one. A dividend was declared, & notice was given to the creditors, that they might "receive the dividend upon application to the assignees," & the acting assignee paid the dividends by cheques which were dishonoured, he having overdrawn the account, & absconded:—Held: the other three assignees were liable.—Re MILES, Ex p. BOOTH (1831), 1 Mont. 248.

2122. Direction that funds in hands of one be invested in name of all—Money not forthcoming—Power of court to order that money in hands of all & for division.]—Where a former memorandum of comrs. finds that a sum of money is in the hands of one assignee, & directs it to be invested in the names of all three assignees, which, however, could not be done, as the money was not forthcoming, the comr. is not warranted in finding by a subsequent memorandum that the money is in the hands of all three assignees, & thereupon ordering them to divide it, & the ct. has no jurisdiction to enter on the liability of the co-assignees to answer the consequences of trusting the assignee in default.—Re THOMPSON & KNIGHT, Ex p. LEARMOUTH (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 491; 1 L. J. Bcy. 84, Ct. of R.

2124. Order finding sum in hands of one trustee & ordering division—Other trustee never having interfered in management.]—An order of dividend found that a certain balance was in the hands of one of the assignees, & directed that assignee to divide same among the creditors:—Held: the other assignee, having never interfered with the control & application of the trust fund, was not liable to the creditors for the payment of the dividend.—Re FINDEN, Ex p. DAWSON (1835), 4 Deac. & Ch. 130; 4 L. n. In general.]—Upon the application of trustees of an insolvent estate for remuneration:—Held: a trustee could not make a profit out of the estate other than that allowed by the ct.—Re DUDER (1904), 9 Nfld. L. R. 60.—NFLD.

2125 i. How fixed—What amount.]—In the circumstances the assignee's remuneration was fixed at 5 per cent.—Re LEY, 7 B. C. R. 94.—CAN.

2125 ii. —— —— Net amount "realised."]—A trustee having collected the assets & paid the amount into a

of a trustee, must exercise its discretion with the greatest care. The discretion is in substance judicial, & it is important that the remuneration should be fixed on such a scale that persons of experience & probity will willingly act as trustees in bkpcy.—Re SHIRLEY, Ex p. BOARD OF TRADE (1892), 8 T. L. R. 557; 9 Morr. 147, D. C.

2126. —— Power of Board of Trade—Remuneration fixed by creditors—Or by committee of inspection.]—The Board of Trade has power, on the application of the prescribed number of dissentient creditors, to fix the remuneration of the trustee not only when the remuneration has been fixed by resolution of the creditors, but also when it has been fixed by a resolution of the committee of inspection in pursuance of authority delegated to them by a resolution of the creditors.—Re GALLARD, Ex p. HARRIS, [1892] 1 Q. B. 532; 61 L. J. Q. B. 425; 66 L. T. 452; 40 W. R. 385; 36 Sol. Jo. 295; 9 Morr. 52, C. A.

bank into a trust account, a new trustee was appointed, who merely obtained payment out of the money from such trust account, opened a new account, & proceeded to distribute the money for the benefit of creditors:—Held: (1) the word "realised" in 1897 Act (No. 1513), s. 20, meant an actual getting in of the assets of the estate as they originally existed, & converting them into money; (2) the new trustee had not "realised" the assets, & was not entitled to deduct his commission therefrom.—Re NATION (1899), 25 V. L. R. 288.—AUS.

2125 iv. —— —— Net assets.]—The commission or percentage which may, under 1903 Act (No. 1836), s. 4 (iii), be allowed to the assignee of an insolvent estate, is to be calculated on the net assets of the estate after all charges of realisation have been paid & not on the whole fund available for payment & application under 1890 Act, s. 123.—Re O'NEILL, [1905] V. L. R. 64.—AUS.

2125 v. —— —— Realised assets.]—A trustee in insolvency is entitled to a commission, not merely on the proceeds of goods of the insolvent estate sold by him, but also on property of any description of an ascertained value, which by his care & labour he has made available for the benefit of the creditors, & as to which he has incurred responsibility. He is not entitled to commission on bank shares held under a lien by third parties for their full value, nor on landed or other property in which under the vesting order the title is in him, & which by reason of a deed of composition with creditors is reconveyed by the trustee to the insolvent.—Re RIDLEY & SONS (1872), 5 Nfld. L. R. 456.—NFLD.

2125 vi. —— —— ——.]—On an application by trustees for remuneration:—Held: money in insolvent's hands at the date of the insolvency was not a realised asset.—Re UNION BANK OF NEWFOUNDLAND (IN LIQUIDATION) (1904), 9 Nfld. L. R. 1.—NFLD.

2125 vii. —— —— ——.]—Where there had been delay (not unnecessarily protracted) in the distribution of the estate, interest had accumulated upon the deposit in the bank:—Held: on an application by trustees for remuneration such interest was a realised asset.—Re DUDER (1904), 9 Nfld. L. R. 60.—NFLD.

2125 viii. —— —— Proceeds of sale paid over to mortgagee.]—An assignee charged commission on $7,400, the gross proceeds of real estate sold under foreclosure, the whole of which, with the exception of $14 surplus, was paid over to the attorney of the mtgee:—Held: the assignee was not entitled to such commission.—Re GRANT'S ESTATE (1879), 3 R. & C. 538; 12 N. S. R. 538.—CAN.

2125 ix. —— —— Sale at percentage.]—An offer by a creditor to purchase the estate at twenty cents in the dollar, exclusive of the claim of a bank, was accepted. The bank was fully secured by the purchaser's indorsation:—Held: the assignee was not entitled to a commission on the bank's claim.—Re SMITH & CO. (1877), 1 A. R. 480.—CAN.

2125 x. —— —— Securities valued.]—A secured creditor, who had valued his security:—Held: not liable to pay commission to the trustee on the sale, & in the absence of special contract.—Ex p. MITCHELL BROTHERS (1883), 17 I. L. T. Jo. 439.—IR.

2125 xi. —— —— ——.]—Where a secured creditor has valued & retained his securities with the consent of the trustee, the latter is not entitled to charge commission on the value of such securities.—STANDARD BANK v. BIDEN'S TRUSTEE, 2 H. C. 222.—S. AF.

2125 xii. —— —— Securities realised.]—A bank, holding securities for a debt were allowed by the trustee to realise them at the value they had placed upon them. The master fixed the remuneration of the trustee in connection with the realisation of the securities at £75:—Held: the remuneration was reasonable, & the trustee was not entitled to a commission on the value of the securities realised.—NATAL BANK v. KURANDA'S TRUSTEE (1904), T. S. 586.—S. AF.

2125 xiv. —— At what time.]—Where from the nature of the estate, daily attention & supervision was required:—Held: although the amount of compensation was usually determined after realisation & final accounting, compensation should be paid to the trustees as the work of winding-up proceeds, in the nature of an annual payment, subject to certain limitations & final adjustment.—Re COMMERCIAL BANK & TRUSTEES' COMMISSION (IN LIQUIDATION) (1899), 8 Nfld. L. R. 257.—NFLD.

2125 xv. —— Successive trustees.]—When in the winding up of an estate it becomes necessary to appoint several successive trustees, the remuneration of the later trustees will not depend upon the sums actually collected by them, but upon the difficulty & importance of the work performed & its value to the estate.—Re COMMERCIAL BANK (IN LIQUIDATION) (1910), 9 Nfld. L. R. 499.—NFLD.

o. Who liable for.]—Circumstances (see S. C., ante) in which:—Held: the remuneration was not chargeable against the creditor who had realised his securities, but, there being no general estate, should be paid by a contribution between the creditors who had proved against the estate.—NATAL BANK v. KURANDA'S TRUSTEE (1904), T. S. 586.—S. AF.

p. ——.]—Trustee's commission accruing in respect of the proceeds of immovables must be regarded as part of the costs of realisation thereof.—THOMPSON v. JOYCE'S TRUSTEE (1911), C. P. D. 886.—S. AF.

2134 ix. —— —— Criminal prosecution abandoned without leave.]—The abandonment, without the leave of the ct., of criminal proceedings against bkpt., in consideration of a payment of money for distribution among creditors, amounts to the compounding a felony, & the ct. will not in such a case direct the payment of the costs of the proceedings against bkpt. out of the estate.—Re REICHELT (1885), 3 N. Z. L. R. 393.—N. Z.

w. On annulment of bankruptcy.]—When a bkpcy. is annulled under 20 & 21 Vict. c. 60, s. 149, the ct. will require all the assignee's costs & expenses to be paid, with poundage upon the value of bkpt.'s estate, although not realised by the assignees.—Re COMYNS (1858), 7 I. Ch. R. 294.—IR.

2140. —— —— Proceedings caused by default of trustee.]—Where an assignee having paid a dividend in his own wrong, compels the proper party to petition the ct., he will be ordered to pay the costs personally, & not be permitted to retain them out of the estate.—Re MOODY, Ex p. JACKSON (1842), 3 Mont. D. & De G. 1, L. C.

2141. —— —— Trustee entitled to make application.]—Assignees are entitled to have the direction of the ct. with regard to the rights of parties claiming to be equitable mtgees. of the property of bkpt., & are entitled to their costs out of the mortgaged estate, although they have been requested to convene on a date without a petition being presented.—Re BURGON, Ex p. STEVENS (1843), 3 Mont. D. & De G. 817; 7 Jur. 566, Ct. of R.

2142. —— —— Failure of trustee to apply to stop suit.]—After bill filed on behalf of creditors to set aside as fraudulent & void a voluntary settlement by A., their debtor, & a composition signed by the creditors in ignorance of such prior voluntary settlement, debtor was adjudicated bkpt., & an order was made by the Ct. of Bkpcy. setting aside the voluntary settlement. Pltfs., whose claim to prove under the bkpcy. had been admitted, notwithstanding the opposition of the trustees of the settlement, wrote to them proposing to dismiss the bill without costs as against them, & that pltfs'. costs should come out of the estate. The trustees declined the proposal, but offered to consent to an order staying all proceedings in the suit without costs, or dismissing the bill without costs:—Held: upon the bkpcy. of A. the trustee in bkpcy. should have applied to the ct. to have stopped the suit, which, though rightly instituted in the first instance, could no longer be prosecuted with benefit to the creditors, & pltfs. were entitled to the costs of suit up to the date of their letter to the trustees of the settlement, out of the estate realised in bkpcy., & the trustee in bkpcy. to the costs only of realising the estate. —TANQUERAY v. BOWLES (1872), L. R. 14 Eq. 151.

2143. —— —— Unsuccessful application to court—Assets insufficient.]—If a trustee makes an unsuccessful application to the ct., he will, in the absence of special circumstances, be ordered to pay the costs, & if the estate is insufficient for payment of the costs, the trustee must bear them personally.—Re ANGERSTEIN, Ex p. ANGERSTEIN (1874), 9 Ch. 2146. —— —— Employment of solicitors—Without authority of Board of Trade.]—A. was adjudicated bkpt. There was only one creditor, whose general proxy purported to appoint himself committee of inspection, & as such committee authorised the trustee to employ solrs. The debt was paid in full, & the bkpcy. annulled. The trustee under the above authority, & not under the authority of the Board of Trade, employed solrs., whose costs were taxed & paid. The solrs., although applied to by A., gave him no information as to costs until they had been taxed. A. thereupon applied to reopen the taxation:—Held: the trustee had not been duly authorised to retain solrs., & the sums paid for costs must be disallowed.—Re GEIGER, [1915] 1 K. B. 439; 84 L. J. 2152. —— —— Unless guarded by express stipulation.]—Assignees in bkpcy. are bound, as other persons, to make a good title, unless guarded by express stipulation, & their bill for a specific performance, the report being against the title, was dismissed.—M'DONALD v. HANSON (1806), 12 Ves. 277; 33 E. R. 106.

2155. Trustee allowing agent to set off against estate of bankrupt principal—Sum received by agent to retire third party's note included in set-off—Right of third party to recover from trustee.]—A. was agent for B., a banker, & £450 was sent to A., as agent, to retire a note of petitioner, which was not done, as B. became bkpt. A. having a claim against B., the assignees allowed him to retain £2,000 including, as was assumed, the £450:—Held: petitioner was entitled to recover the £450 from the assignees.—Re MABERLY, Ex p. SIMPSON (1835), 1 Deac. 47; 2 Mont. & A. 294, Ct. of R.

2157. Sum due to third party for work done—Order for payment obtained ex parte—Whether enforceable.]—The ct. will not enforce an order for payment of money out of bkpt.'s estate to a third party for work done, where the order was obtained upon an ex p. application, & without notice to the creditors' assignee, notwithstanding that the official assignee had approved of the account & thought that the claim ought to be allowed & paid.—Re MOSS, Ex p. LADBURY (1865), 13 L. T. 446.

2158. Trustee disclaiming lease—To prejudice of mortgagee.]—When the trustee of bkpt. desires to disclaim a lease, which bkpt. has deposited by way of equitable mtge., he will not be allowed to do so to the prejudice of the mtgee., but if he assigns the lease to the mtgee., the latter must covenant to indemnify him against liability under the lease.—Re MÜLLER, Ex p. BUXTON (1880), 15 Ch. 2159. Receiver handing over assets to trustee—Whether lien for charges—Whether locus standi to impeach management of trustee.]—A receiver appointed under a liquidation petition handed over assets to the trustee who was afterwards appointed. When the receiver asked for payment of his charges, it appeared that the assets had been wasted by the trustee, & were insufficient for payment of the costs of the liquidation other than the receiver's charges:—Held: the receiver had no lien for his charges upon the assets he had handed over to the trustee, & no locus standi to impeach the management of the trustee, & the ct. could make no order against the trustee for payment of his charges.—Re MALTBY, Ex p. BROWNE (1880), 16 Ch. D. 497; 43 L. T. 682; 29 W. R. 921, C. A.

2165. —— From purchaser of book debts—Right of inspection.]—A purchaser for value of the book-debts, books, & all the interest in the partnership of his partner prior to a dissolution, will not be compelled, upon the subsequent bkpcy. of such late partner, to hand over to the trustee the books of account which passed by the assignment, & thereupon ceased to be property of bkpt. But the trustee is entitled to inspection for the purpose of aiding him in the realisation of bkpt.'s estate.—Re WEST, Ex p. GOOD (1882), 21 Ch. D. 868; 51 L. J. Ch. 831; 46 L. T. 823.

2166. —— —— Application of 1883 Rules, r. 259.]—An assignment of the book-debts will carry the books, so that the person entitled to the book-debts under the deed is entitled to the books of account, & 1883 Rules, r. 259, was intended to apply only to a case where a person, not entitled to the debts, sets up some claim to the books, & so interferes with the official receiver.—Re WHITE & Co., Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1884), 1 Morr. 77.

2167. —— From party having joint property in same with bankrupt—Right of inspection.]—An underwriter at Lloyd's carried on an underwriting business on behalf of himself & also on behalf of five other persons, called his "names." An agreement was entered into between him & each "name," by which it was stipulated that proper underwriting & account books should be provided & kept in the usual manner, & should at all times be open to the inspection of the "name." The "name" was to pay to the underwriter a fixed sum per annum as a remuneration for his services in conducting the business, keeping & providing books & papers, & for providing a proper office & clerical assistants, etc. The underwriter in fact kept books of account relating to the transactions in which he was jointly interested with the "names" or any of them, there being in the books six parallel columns, one for each "name," & one for the underwriter himself. The underwriter became bkpt., the books being at the time in the possession of accountants:—Held: the "names" had a joint property in the books with bkpt., & the trustee in the bkpcy. was not entitled to have the books delivered up to him, but the "names" must undertake to give to the trustee reasonable facilities for inspecting the books.—Re BURNAND, Ex p. BAKER, SUTTON & Co., [1904] 2 K. SECT. 7.—RELATIONS BETWEEN TRUSTEE AND BANKRUPT.

2174. Sale by trustee—To bankrupt.]—A sale of bkpt.'s property to bkpt. is not contrary to the policy of Bkpcy. Acts.—KITSON v. HARDWICK (1872), L. R. 7 C. P. 473; 26 L. T. 846.

2177. Record book—Right of bankrupt to inspect.]—A debtor has no right in any circumstances to inspect the record book of the trustee in his bkpcy., & the ct. has no power to give him leave to do so.—Re SOLOMONS, Ex p. SOLOMONS, [1904] 2 K. B. 917; 73 L. J. K. B. 1029; 91 L. T. 512; 53 W. R. 49; 21 T. L. R. 48; 49 Sol. Jo. 53; 11 Mans. 345, C. A.

Annotation:—Mentd. Preston v. Wilson (1846), 5 Hare, 185.

2180. —— —— ——.]—If a certificated bkpt. shows merely the probability of a surplus, he is entitled to an account against his assignee.—Re MALACHY, Ex p. MALACHY (1840), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 353; 10 L. J. Bcy. 7; 4 Jur. 1092, Ct. of R.

2182. Surplus—Trustee not trustee of—For bankrupt.]—A trustee in bkpcy. is not a trustee of the surplus of the estate for bkpt.—Re AUSTIN, Ex p. SHEFFIELD (1879), 10 Ch. D. 434; 40 L. T. 15; 27 W. R. 622, C. A.

PART VII. SECT. 7.

2173 i. Money received by trustee—Cannot be charged for his own debt.]—Money in the hands of the assignee of an insolvent estate, cannot be charged, under C. L. P. Act, 1856, s. 63, by the assignee, for his own debt, after the petition in the insolvency matter has been dismissed.—JOHNSTONE v. FENIX (1857), 10 Ir. Jur. 67.—IR.

2181 i. Accounts—Right of bankrupt to surcharge.]—Bkpt., or those claiming under him, are not bound by the account taken by the comrs. from the assignees, but he will be allowed to surcharge & falsify such account before the master.—MONTGOMERY v. MONTGOMERY (1808), 2 Mol. 446.—IR.

See, now, 1914 Act, s. 58, & 1915 Rules, rr. 312, 370.

See, further, Part XX., Sects. 7 & 15, post.

2184. Taxation—Attendance of bankrupt—Jurisdiction of court to allow.]—A debtor was adjudicated bkpt. on Apr. 3, 1913, on the petition of his sole creditor. In Dec., 1913, he became entitled to property more than sufficient to enable him to pay petitioning creditor's debt & all costs. On Apr. 7, 1914, the bkpcy. was annulled. In the meantime the sole creditor had appointed himself to be the committee of inspection, & as such committee had purported to fix the remuneration of the trustee & to sanction the employment by him of solrs. After the annulment debtor inquired of the trustee's solrs. when their costs were to be taxed & the trustee's remuneration fixed, & stated that he required to be present on the application. He was then informed that the costs had already been taxed & the trustee's remuneration fixed. There were two allocaturs for costs dated respectively Mar. 12 & Apr. 29, 1914, & the amount of the taxed costs was paid by the Board of Trade on May 7, 1914. On May 18 debtor applied to the county ct. to reopen the matter, but the registrar refused the application, on the ground that he had no jurisdiction to allow debtor to attend the taxation:—Held: there was jurisdiction to allow bkpt. to attend the proceedings in special circumstances such as existed in the present case.—Re GEIGER, [1915] 1 K. B. 439; 84 L. J. K. B. 589; 112 L. T. 562; 59 Sol. Jo. 250; [1915] H. B. R. 44, C. A.

2186. ——.]—The principle asset of bkpt. was a contingent reversionary interest, which was saleable if bkpt.'s life were insured. The trustee having requested bkpt. to submit to a medical examination with a view to a policy being effected, bkpt. refused to do so without giving any reason, although he had not long before his bkpcy. submitted to such an examination for the purpose of raising money on his interest, & although he admitted that since then he had contracted no disease, & that he knew of no reason why he should not submit to such an examination:—Held: the obligation imposed upon bkpt. by 1883 Act, s. 24, to do all such acts & things in relation to his property, & the distribution of his property among his creditors, as might be reasonably required by the trustee, & to "aid to the utmost of his power in his realisation of his property & the distribution of the proceeds among his creditors," did not include an obligation to submit to a medical examination.—BOARD OF TRADE v. BLOCK (1888), 13 App. Cas. 570; 58 L. SECT. 8.—RIGHTS OF TRUSTEE AGAINST CO-TRUSTEES.

2183 vii. —— —— Wife of bankrupt.]—The Ct. of Bkpcy. will not, without the consent of the assignees, make an allowance to the wife of bkpt.—Re CAGNEY (1855), 15 L. R. Ir. 184.—IR.

PART VII. SECT. 8.

e. As regards custody of books.]—Under Law 13 of 1895 joint trustees enjoy equal rights in regard to the administration of the estate & it is not competent for the creditors to curtail the rights of one of them, & a resolution by the creditors, which purported to give the custody of insolvent's books, etc., to one joint trustee only, the other to have reasonable access thereto, was set aside as invalid.—GOLDSELLER v. HILL (1908), T. A. Jurisdiction of Court.

2193. To remove persons nominated—Before execution of assignment.]—The ct. has jurisdiction to remove the persons nominated by the creditors as assignees before the execution of the assignment.—Re HOWARD & GIBBS, Ex p. SHAW (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 127, L. C.

2194. To remove one of several appointees.]—Where more persons than one have been appointed trustee, the ct. has power to remove one of them without removing all.—Re MANSEL, Ex p. NEWITT (1884), 14 Q. B. D. 177; 54 L. J. Q. B. 245; 52 L. T. 202; 33 W. R. 142; 1 T. L. R. 98, C. A.

2195. To restrain creditors from meeting to consider removal—Pending decision as to expunging proof.]—The Bkpcy. Ct. has power to restrain the creditors from holding a meeting to consider the removal of the trustee, until after a question as to expunging the proof of a creditor has been decided.—Re MANSEL, Ex p. SAYER (1887), 19 Q. B. D. 679; 56 L. J. Q. B. 605; 3 T. L. R. 792, C. A.

B. Procedure.

Annotations:—Mentd. Ex p. Lacey (1802), 6 Ves. 625; Re Bryant, Ex p. Paterson (1813), 1 Rose, 402.

2197. —— —— Appointed in error.]—An assignee elected by mistake by his own power may petition to have himself removed on paying costs.—Re WEST, Ex p. HAMMOND (1839), 1 Mont. & Ch. 74, Ct. of R.

2198. —— —— Desiring to buy bankrupt's estate.]—An assignee may be removed, at his own request, in order that he may bid at a sale of part of bkpt.'s estate.—Re BAYLIS, Ex p. PERKES (1843), 3 Mont. D. & De G. 385, Ct. of R.

2200. —— —— Assignee acting fraudulently.]—

f. Limited by 1875 Act, s. 125.]—The power given to the ct. or a judge by the above sect. to remove an assignee, is confined to the case of an assignee disobeying an order made under the sect., & does not extend to other misconduct on the part of the assignee, the general power of removal being committed to the creditors, under s. 29.—Re EVANS, Ex p. FALCONER (1880), 1 R. & G. 326; 13 N. S. R. 326.—CAN.

g. To enforce order by writ of attachment.]—A judge of a county ct., acting under 48 Vict. c. 26, s. 6, removed an assignee for creditors, & substituted another assignee. The first assignee refused to deliver over the keys of the place of business of insolvent to the second assignee:—Held: the judge had no power to direct the issue of a writ of attachment against the first assignee for contempt.—Re PACQUETTE (1886), 11 P. R. 463.—CAN.

h. To order payment of costs.]—Where a judge of a county ct., acting under R. S. O., 1887, c. 124, s. 6, orders the removal of an assignee, he exercises a statutory jurisdiction as persona designata, & has no power to order payment of costs.—Re YOUNG (1891), 14 P. R. 303.—CAN.

PART VII. SECT. 9, SUB-SECT. 1.—B.

2199 i. Who may apply—Bankrupt—Assignee declining to act.]—The course for an insolvent or bkpt. who has rights, if his assignee will not proceed, or is out of the jurisdiction, is to apply in the proper ct. either to remove the assignee or for liberty to proceed in his name.—BOURK v. COUGHLAN (1827), 1 Ir. L. Rec. 1st ser. 122.—IR.

k. —— Creditor who has proved his claim—Estoppel.]—Pltf. having proved his claim before the assignee in insolvency, & having obtained an order in the Queen's Bench to set aside insolvent's discharge in the insolvent ct., with costs to be paid to him out of the estate, is precluded from objecting that the assignee was not duly appointed.—ALLAN v. GARRATT & WILLIAMSON (1870), 30 U. C. R. 165.—CAN.

l. —— Unsuccessful applicant—Not being creditor.]—Where at an election of a trustee there were two appts., & after the election one of them, who was not a creditor, moved the ct. to expunge a certain proof of debt & to have it declared that he was duly elected as sole trustee, & he showed that, if the proof of debt had not been admitted, he would have been duly elected as sole trustee:—Held: he had a sufficient locus standi to make the application.—ELLIOTT v. TAYLOR, Re HAYBERRY (1888), 6 S. C. 2.—S. AF.

m. In what court.]—The appointment of an assignee may be impugned without going into the Insolvency Ct., e.g., by deft. in an action by such assignee.—BROWN v. PEARMAN, R. E. D. 491.—CAN.

n. Terms of reference to commissioners.]—When a reference is made to the comrs., on a motion to remove the assignee of a bkpt. for misconduct, the terms of it should not be that the comrs. should come to any judicial determination upon it, but they should be directed to report on certain facts, from which the ct. might afterwards draw its conclusion.—Re BELL, 1 Ir. L. Rec. 1st Ser. 63.—IR.

o. Meeting of creditors necessary.]—A person who once becomes assignee to bkpt. will not be removed, although it is for the advantage of the estate, without a meeting of the creditors being called to choose a new assignee, or continue the former as the sole assignee, & the person seeking his removal must bear all the expenses.—Ex p. BAINBRIDGE (1830), 4 Ir. L. Rec. 1st ser. 57.—IR.

Where an assignee is acting fraudulently, bkpt. should apply to the Ct. of Bkpcy. either to have a new assignee appointed, or for leave to use the assignee's name in any proposed proceedings.—PAYNE v. DICKER (1871), 6 Ch. App. 578 ; 24 L. T. 893 ; 19 W. R. 987, L. C.

2201. Within what time.]—A petition for the removal of the assignee comes too late at the end of six months.—Re GREENWAY, Ex p. SCHOLEY (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 2.

2202. ——.]—A petition, presented six months after the election of assignees, for a new choice, is not too late.—Re HORSLEY, Ex p. DANBY (1830), Mont. 67.

2204. ——.]—An application to the Ct. of Bkpcy. to vacate the appointment of a trustee, on the ground that the rejection of a proof by him was procured by fraud, must be made very promptly after such rejection.—Re THRIFT, Ex p. KIMBER (1879), 11 Ch. D. 869 ; 41 L. T. 248 ; 28 W. R. 128, C. A.

2205. Notice of meeting—Trustee entitled to.]—A trustee in a liquidation is entitled to notice of a meeting, at which it is intended to propose a resolution to remove him from his office.—Re BAGNALL, Ex p. WRIGHT (1879), 27 W. R. 476.

2207. Powers of court—To order reference.]—Where an assignee petitioned for the removal of his co-assignee, on the ground of misconduct, which was denied by the latter, who recriminated, a special reference was directed to the comr., to inquire into & report the circumstances of the case. —Re OULTON, Ex p. OULTON (1843), 3 Mont. D. & De G. 336.

Annotation :—Mentd. Re Mansel, Ex p. Newitt (1884), 14 Q. B. D. 177, C. A.

2208. —— Petition not on true ground—Suspicion of fraud.]—Where circumstances are brought to the attention of the ct., raising a case of grave suspicion as to the conduct of an assignee, it is the duty of the ct. to institute a thorough examination into the case, although the complaint may not in the petition be placed on its true ground. —Re TRISTRAM, Ex p. SINGLEHURST (1858), 3 De G. & J. 451 ; 32 L. Grounds for granting application.]—See Nos. 2218 et seq., post.

2209. Grounds for refusing application.]—On a petition by bkpt. for the removal of one of two assignees, where it appeared that he was a mere instrument in the hands of the other assignee, & that the petition was got up between them in collusion, & out of a spirit of hostile opposition to the assignee against whom it was presented, the petition was dismissed.—Re OAKES, Ex p. OAKES (1841) 2 Mont. D. & De G. 60 ; 10 L. J. Bcy. 66 ; 5 Jur. 612, Ct. of R.

2211. Form of order—Nature of misconduct need not be stated.]—An assignee, who admitted that he had been guilty of misconduct, applied to be discharged on payment of costs. The ct. refused to act on the suggestion of resp., that the nature of the misconduct should be stated in the order for his removal, & directed that he should be discharged on his paying all costs, the order not to prejudice any future application against petitioner in respect of any matter or thing in the bkpcy.—Re SMITH, Ex p. ANGLE (1834), 4 Deac. & Ch. 118 ; 4 L. J. Bcy. 5.

2214. —— ——.]—If in making an order for removal of a trustee in bkpcy. for good cause, a judicial discretion has been exercised according to law, the Ct. of Appeal will not disturb the order.—Re POOLEY, Ex p. SHEARD (No. 1) (1880), 16 Ch. D. 107 ; 44 L. T. 259, C. A.

Annotation :—Consd. Re Mansel, Ex p. Newitt (1884), 14 Q. B. D. 177, C. A.

2215. Costs—Payable out of estate—Irregular appointment.]—Where assignees are chosen at the instance of bkpt.'s solr., who has the sole control of the estate, & bkpt. carries on business the same as before the bkpcy., & the assignees neglect their duty & do not attend the sittings of the ct., the ct. will order the costs of the creditors making the application for their removal to be paid out of the estate.—Re BEESLEY (1863), 11 W. R. 878.

2216. —— No assets—Payable by petitioner.]—Where a petition has been presented to remove an assignee, & there are no assets, petitioner must pay costs.—Re ARBER, Ex p. LEWIS (1850), 14 L. T. O. S. 425.

2217. Restoration of trustee—On annulment of receiving order.]—Where a receiving order is 2207 i. Powers of court—To order meeting—Trustee resident without jurisdiction.]—Under 12 & 13 Vict. c. 107, s. 77, the ct. will grant a meeting to consider the propriety of removing the creditor's assignee, & of appointing another in his place, though no charge of misconduct is made against him, if it appears that he has gone to reside permanently out of Ireland.—Re HANDY (1850), 2 Ir. Jur. 245.—IR.

q. Costs—Payable by party seeking removals.]—A person seeking the removal of an assignee of a bkpt. must bear all the costs attendant upon such proceeding.—Ex p. BAINBRIDGE (1830), 4 Ir. L. Rec. 1st ser. 57.—IR.

made against a trustee in bkpcy., in consequence of which he vacates his office, & the order is subsequently rescinded by the ct., on the ground that it ought never to have been made, the trustee is thereupon restored to his original office subject to any new rights which may have arisen in the interval.—Re NEWMAN, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1899] 2 Q. B. 587; 68 L. J. Q. B. 961; 81 L. T. 527; 48 W. R. 94; 43 Sol. Jo. 721; 6 Mans. 381.

C. Grounds for Removal.

(a) In General.

Annotation:—Refd. Re Mansel, Ex p. Newitt (1884), 14 Q. B. D. 177, C. A.

2220. For benefit of estate.]—Before the ct. will remove a creditor's assignee it must be satisfied that the change is for the benefit of the estate.—Re STIFF, Ex p. MADIGAN (1864), 10 L. T. 914.

2221. Necessity for taking account with trustee.]—Grounds for the removal of an assignee in bkpcy. include the fact that an account cannot be conveniently or justly taken while he remains, but the simple circumstance, that he is to account, is not sufficient.

Resorting to the principle, upon which an assignee may be removed, the rule is that, where an account is to be taken, it must appear that the account cannot be taken conveniently or justly, or not so conveniently & justly, while that person remains an assignee (LORD ERSKINE, C.).—Ex p. SURTEES (1806), 12 Ves. 10; 33 E. R. 4.

2222. ——.]—Trustees under a deed of trust to manage property for the protection of creditors, to protect the trust, issued a fiat against debtor, & thereby prevented creditors dissenting from the trust deed from issuing an adverse fiat. The trustees continued to manage the property under the trust deed, & did not further prosecute the fiat than by getting themselves appointed assignees. Upon petition of the adverse creditors to annul the fiat, & issue an effective one:—Held: without reference to their conduct, the trustees must be removed from the office of assignees, in order to take accounts against them as trustees.—Re HUGHES, Ex p. MENDELL (1835), 4 Deac. & Ch. 725; 4 L. J. Bcy. 81, Ct. of R.

2223. Rejection of one of several trustees by court—New choice of all.]—Where, upon a joint choice of three persons as assignees, the ct. rejects the nomination of one of them, it will set aside the choice altogether, as it cannot collect from the nomination of three persons jointly an intention to entrust the administration to two of the three if one be rejected.—Re HOWARD & GIBBS, Ex p. SHAW (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 127, L. C.

Annotations:—Mentd. Re Rowe, Ex p. Rowe (1845), 14 L. J. Bcy. 17; Re James. Ex p. Cadwallader (1862), 4 De G. F. & J. 499, L. JJ.

2224. Assignee resident in Scotland.]—An assignee, permanently resident in Scotland, was ordered to be removed, as, whilst he was so resident, the ct. had no hold over him, & could reach him with no process.—Ex p. GREY (1807), 13 Ves. 274; 33 E. R. 297.

See, also, Nos. 1901 et seq., ante.

(b) Irregularity of Appointment.

2225. Creditors prevented from voting—Absence beyond seas.]—The ct. will not set aside the choice of assignees, because some of creditors live beyond sea & had no opportunity of voting.—Ex p. GREIGNIER (1744), 1 Atk. 91; 26 E. R. 60, L. C.

2227. —— ——.]—Where, at the election of assignees, the greater part in value of the creditors had been accidentally, & without default on their part, excluded from voting, a new choice was directed.—Re TOMKINS, Ex p. DE CHAPEAUROUGE (1829), Mont. & M. 174.

PART VII. SECT. 9, SUB-SECT. 1.—C. (a).

2221 i. Necessity for taking account with trustee.]—An assignee will not be removed, upon the ground of a disputed account existing between him & bkpt. To justify a petition for removal, a case should be made to show that an adverse investigation is necessary, involving perhaps an action against the assignee.—Ex p. DOYLE (1827), 2 Mol. 149.—IR.

r. Trustee's interest & duty in conflict.]—It is not sufficient ground for setting aside the election of a trustee that there is a dispute between one of the creditors & the trustee as to such creditor's claim on the estate. It must be shown that the person elected as trustee is disqualified by having an interest opposed to the interests of creditors generally.—STEWART & Co. v. BRINK'S TRUSTEE (1878), Buch. 16.—S. AF.

s. —— Trustee liable to be subjected to action for undue preference.]—Where it was alleged that a trustee might be liable to be subjected to an action for undue preference at the instance of the estate, & that it was to his interest that certain property of the estate should be sold under its fair value, but there was no personal objection to him:—Held: an application to have the election set aside should be refused.—Re HALL, MAIR v. LITTLEJOHN (1886), 4 S. C. 278.—S. AF.

t. Irregularity in bond.]—A bond to W., of etc., president of the Board of Trade of the City of London, to be paid to him as president of the Board, his successors & assigns, & executed by the sureties, but not by the assignee:—Held: sufficient, under Insolvent Act, 1864. Qu.: whether a defect in such security, or the absence of it altogether, would avoid the assignee's appointment.—CHURCHER v. COUSINS (1869), 28 U. C. R. 540.—CAN.

PART VII. SECT. 9, SUB-SECT. 1.—C. (b).

2226 i. Creditors prevented from voting —Accident.]—Where the chief creditor, being resident at a considerable distance from the town at which the meeting was to be held for the election of trustee, mistook the proper post by which to dispatch the power to prove debt & vote for himself as sole trustee, in consequence of which mistake the power arrived too late for the meeting, at which meeting the representative of the only other creditor entitled to vote had voted for himself as sole trustee, & was elected, the ct. set aside the election, & ordered a fresh one to take place.—DEARE & DIETZ v. HONEYBORNE (1868), Buch. 107.—S. AF.

w. Requisite notice of meeting not given.]—Where the notice was published in the Gazette of the 19th, & the meeting at which the creditors' assignee was appointed was held on the 29th:—Held: the appointment was irregular & invalid, "at least ten days' notice" being required by 1875 Act, s. 101.—PARKER v. KENNY (1884), 5 R. & G. 457; 17 N. S. R. 457; affd. in P. C.—CAN.

y. Assignee chosen at adjourned meeting—First meeting not abandoned as failure.]—At the meeting of creditors there was only one person who had filed a claim, which was without a voucher. Instead of abandoning the meeting as a failure & calling another, giving due notice, the meeting adjourned to another day, on which pltf. was appointed assignee: Held: the appointment was invalid.—BROWN v. PEARMAN R. 2229. —— Proof improperly rejected—General rule.]—The general rule is, that the choice of assignees will not be disturbed on account of the mere error of the comrs. in the rejection of debts, but there may be cases of exception.—Re GREENWAY, Ex p. SCHOLEY (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 2.

2230. —— —— —— Fraud must be shown.]—It is the settled practice of the Ct. of Bkpcy. not to vacate the appointment of a trustee, merely because a proof has been improperly rejected. In order to induce the ct. to vacate the appointment special circumstances, e.g. that the rejection of the proof has been procured by fraud, must be shown.—Re THRIFT, Ex p. KIMBER (1879), 11 Ch. D. 869 ; 41 L. T. 248 ; 28 W. R. 128, C. A.

2231. —— —— Absence of fraud.]—It is not a ground for the removal of assignees that the comrs. have improperly rejected the proof of a debt that would have turned the choice, unless the rejection was fraudulent.—Re ENFIELD, Ex p. DURENT (1818), Buck, 201.

Annotation :—Folld. Re Best, Ex p. Milner (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 235, Ct. of R.

Annotation :—Folld. Re Best, Ex p. Milner (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 235, Ct. of R.

2233. —— —— ——.]—It is a settled rule that assignees are not to be removed because the comrs. improperly reject a proof, unless it appears that the proof was fraudulently procured to be rejected, with a view to influence the choice of assignees.—Re BEST, Ex p. MILNER (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 235 ; 3 L. J. Bcy. 73, Ct. of R.

Annotation :—Apprvd. Re Thrift, Ex p. Kimber (1879), 11 Ch. D. 869, C. A.

Annotation :—Apld. Re Best, Ex p. Milner (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 235, Ct. of R.

Annotation :—Mentd. Re Thrift, Ex p. Kimber (1879), 11 Ch. D. 869, C. A.

2242. Parties voting who are not entitled to do so—Petitioning creditor before proof of debt.]—If assignees are elected by the vote of petitioning creditor before he has proved, the choice may be vacated.—Re HORSLEY, Ex p. DANBY (1830), Mont. 67.

2243. —— Proof expunged for informality.]—A proof expunged, on the ground of informality, will not render a change in the choice of assignees requisite.—Re MARSTON, Ex p. MARSTON, Re MARSTON, Ex p. BROOME (1839), Mont. & Ch. 576 ; 4 Deac. 191 ; 9 L. J. Bcy. 5 ; 3 Jur. 1079, Ct. of R.

2249. Assignee elected without his consent.]—When an assignee is elected without his consent, & he declines to act, there must be a new choice.—Re BALCHERN, Ex p. STEPHENSON (1838), 3 Mont. & A. 663, Ct. of R.

2250. —— One of several—New choice of all.]—Where two assignees were elected, one of whom was chosen without his own consent & refused to serve, the ct. directed a new choice altogether.—Re BIRD, Ex p. CATTARAL (1835), 1 Deac. 193, Ct. of R.

2251. —— —— ——.]—A., B. & C. were chosen assignees under a bkpcy. B. had been represented at the meeting by a person to whom he had given a power of attorney to vote, but words in the printed form empowering the attorney to accept the office of assignee on behalf of B. were struck out:—Held: the choice of all three was invalid, & the appointment & confirmation must be vacated, & the comr. should be directed to call another meeting for the appointment of new assignees.—Re BODDINGTON, Ex p. WOLVERHAMPTON & STAFFORDSHIRE BANKING CO. (1862), 31 L. J. Bcy. 30; 6 L. T. 207, L. JJ.

(c) Bankruptcy or Insolvency.

2252. General rule.]—Grounds for removing an assignee include proof of insolvency, compounding with creditor, etc.—Ex p. SURTEES (1806), 12 Ves. 10; 33 E. R. 4.

2253. —— Suspicion attaching to debts of electing creditors.]—Where a sole assignee was in insolvent circumstances, & there was some suspicion attached to the debts of the creditors who elected him, an order was made that he should be restrained from acting as assignee, & that one or more persons should be appointed to act in his name, giving him a proper indemnity.—Re WESTON, Ex p. COPELAND (1834), 3 Deac. & Ch. 561, Ct. of R.

2260. Refusal to bring action for recovery of property.]—Where the assignees refuse to bring an action for the recovery of property, which a creditor alleges to have belonged to bkpt., the ct. will not order a new election of assignees.—Re ELSTON, Ex p. RYLAND (1832), 2 Deac. & Ch. 392, Ct. of R.

PART VII. SECT. 9, SUB-SECT. 1.—C. (c).

2252 i. General rule—Enforcement of.]—The general rule that an assignee of bkpt. discharged as an insolvent, shall not continue as assignee, is not strictly enforced after a considerable lapse of time has occurred between his discharge & the presentation of the petition, especially when but one creditor complains; but the comrs. may be directed to call a meeting of the creditors to consider whether such assignee ought to be continued.—Re MULLAY, Ex p. COSLETT (1827), 1 Mol. 62.—IR.

PART VII. SECT. 9, SUB-SECT. 1.—C. (d).

2255 i. General rule.]—On an application for the removal of a trustee, on charges of not lodging the sederunt-book in proper time, not making up quarterly states, although no alteration had taken place in the affairs of the estate, granting an allowance to bkpt. without authority, & being a confident & conjunct person:—Held: although there were certain irregularities committed by the trustee, they were not such as to warrant his removal.—EWING v. LAWRIE (1824), 3 Sh. (Ct. of Sess.) 234.—SCOT.

2260 i. Refusal to take proceedings against mortgagee for account.]—Where an application is made to remove an assignee, against whom no complaint exists, except that he refused to take proceedings to make an alleged mtgee. in possession account, & where that mtgee. is brought into ct. upon notice, the application will be refused with costs.—Re WILSON & BEERE (1867), 1 I. L. T. Jo. 210.—IR.

a. Trustee hostile to interests of estate.]—Where a trustee places himself in a position antagonistic to his duty as trustee, he will be removed.—

2261. Conniving at insertion of fictitious debt—Refusal to answer questions.]—An assignee, who connived at the insertion of a fictitious debt in bkpt.'s balance sheet, attended with other circumstances of fraud, was ordered to be removed & to pay the costs, together with the costs of a new choice.

A refusal to answer questions in the course of a lawful examination is quite sufficient to justify the ct. in removing him.—Re INNES & BRACHER, Ex p. PERRYER (1840), 1 Mont. D. & De G. 276, Ct. of R.

2266. Non-payment of money into Bankruptcy Estate Account—Deceitful attempt to conceal irregularity.]—A mere irregularity not amounting to misconduct, such as delay in payment into the Bkpcy. Estate Account, does not justify the Board of Trade in removing a trustee. If, however, the trustee makes a deceitful attempt to hide his irregularity, he may be removed.—Re MORGAN, ISTED & MORGAN, Ex p. WILDING (1895), 2 Mans. 526.

SUB-SECT. 2.—BY RESIGNATION.

At the third meeting of creditors, a resolution was proposed that a certain auctioneer should conduct the sale of the assets, to which resp., one of the trustees, proposed an amendment that he should himself be the auctioneer. The original resolution having been carried, his co-trustee advertised the sale, but on the day advertised, resp. appeared & did everything in his power to obstruct the sale & prevent its being a success. He also proceeded with litigation against the wishes of his co-trustee. On the application of such co-trustee, the resp. was removed from his trust.—HALL v. FITZGERALD, Re MANDY'S ESTATE (1895), 12 S. C. 277; 5 C. T. R. 282.—S. AF.

2266 i. Non-payment of money into bank—Money received by firm in which trustee was partner.]—A firm of estate agents & auctioneers, of which deft. was a partner, & upon whose banking account he had power to draw, acted for the trustee in the administration & liquidation of the insolvent estate, & the account of the estate was kept in the books of the firm. The trustee did not pay into the banking account of the estate in terms of Ord. 6 of 1843, s. 101, certain money so received by the firm, & no just or lawful reason for the retention was shown by the trustee:—Held: as it had not been shown that the trustee had been actuated by an intention to benefit his firm he should not be removed from office.—MARAIS v. FAGAN (1914), C. P. D. 654.—S. AF.

d. Attempt to bribe creditor to vote.]—Where a trustee previous to election offered a creditor, an auctioneer, the sale of the estate in return for his vote, although such offer was refused by the creditor, who in point of fact did not vote for the trustee, the ct. ordered the removal of the trustee.—PREUSS & SELIGMANN v. BOSMAN (1868), Buch. 113.—S. AF.

e. Application of funds in prior satisfaction of his own debt.]—A provisional trustee, who was also the principal creditor, was removed from office for having, without the knowledge or consent of other creditors, & before any liquidation or distribution account had been framed, applied a portion of the funds of the estate in payment of bills made by insolvent in his favour, although the amount so applied would probably have been much less than the amount of the dividend which would have been coming to him as a creditor.—Re MARTIN & GRIFFITH'S ESTATE, 4 E. D. C. 30.—S. AF.

f. Refusal to abandon security at creditor's valuation.]—A bondholder in an insolvent estate valued his security at £9,000. Appct., a concurrent creditor, called upon the trustee to abandon the security to the bondholder at that valuation. The trustee, who was also acting as agent for the bondholder, declined. Thereafter the bondholder reduced his valuation to £4,000, & proved as a concurrent creditor for the balance. In an application for the trustee's removal for misconduct in refusing to abandon the secured property:—Held: as the trustee's option to take over or abandon had not yet arisen, there was no breach of duty.—STEINWEISS v. AARON'S TRUSTEE (1914), W. g. Sale of assets at undervalue—Collusion with insolvent.]—The assignees of W., an insolvent, having sold a policy of insurance on W.'s life, some creditors alleged that the sale had been made at an undervalue, by collusion between the assignee & W. The purchaser having filed a petition against the assignee & the intervening creditors:—Held: as against the assignee the petition should stand over in order to have a new assignee appointed.—O'REILLY v. FANNIN (1857), 6 I. 2271. Whether trustee can be made liable by subsequent memorandum—After order to discharge himself recognised by commissioners.] — One assignee obtained an order, which was not drawn up, to discharge himself from the office, but the comrs. by their memorandums virtually recognised such discharge by excluding his name from them :—Semble : he could not be made liable by any subsequent memorandum.—Re THOMPSON & KNIGHT, Ex p. LEARMOUTH (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 491, Ct. of R.

2274. On litigation begun by purchaser from trustee—Jurisdiction of court to hear application in name of trustee & purchaser.]—There is no authority in bkpcy. for the general proposition that where a trustee has sold his estate, the ct. ought in no case to entertain an application in the name of the trustee coupled with that of the assignee or purchaser to whom the estate has been sold. Under 1883 Act, s. 102 (1), certain rules of judicial discretion have been laid down limiting generally the application of the jurisdiction conferred by that sect. & in each & every case the judge has further a discretion whether he will or will not exercise such jurisdiction.

Where the matter is relevant to the bkpcy. & the right insisted upon is a right of the trustee higher than that which bkpt. could have claimed, & where there is no large sum involved or question of character arises, primâ facie, the jurisdiction ought to be put in force. In each case the judge must consider whether in all the circumstances it is right & proper that the jurisdiction should be exercised.

The official receiver as trustee in the bkpcy. assigned to a creditor all his right & interest to bring, prosecute or carry on, either in bkpcy. or in equity or at law, any action or other proceeding to recover certain property alleged to form part of bkpt.'s estate. After the release of the trustee an application was made to the county ct. judge by the creditor in the trustee's name to obtain possession of the property, but the county ct. judge declined to exercise his jurisdiction to hear the application :—Held : in the circumstances, & looking to the fact that the trustee had himself taken no steps to enforce the alleged claim, the county ct. judge was right in refusing to entertain the motion.—Re ARNOLD, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1891), 66 L. T. 121 ; 40 W. R. 288 ; 36 Sol. Jo. 80 ; 9 Morr. 1, D. C.

2275. On liability of agent—For trustee removed on grounds of insanity.]—Where the assignee of bkpt. was removed, & a new one appointed, & a party had money in his hands which he received on account of bkpt.'s estate, in the character of agent to the late assignee, & the former assignee was insane when the money was received :—Held : such receiver was liable in assumpsit for money had & received to the use of the newly appointed assignee, for he could not be the agent of an insane person, & held the property as a mere stranger. Qu. : whether the receiver would have been liable, if the former assignee had not been insane when the money was received.—STEAD v. THORNTON (1832), 3 B. & Ad. 357, n. ; 1 L. 2276. On sums due by trustee to solicitor—Right to retain—Removal for benefit of estate.]—An assignee, who is removed from office for the benefit of the estate, e.g. on becoming insane, is entitled to retain out of any funds in hand sufficient to answer the amount of his solr.'s bill of costs.—Re DAVIS, Ex p. JAMES (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 272, Ct. of R.

2277. —— Whether bound to discharge solicitor's lien.]—In the course of a bkpcy. a change of trustee & consequent change of solr., took place. The new trustee applied for an order upon the old trustee, & upon his solr., to deliver up all documents relating to his office :—Held : the solr. was entitled to a lien for his costs upon all documents & papers upon which his labour as a solr. had been expended, & it was not the duty of the old trustee to discharge the solr.'s lien by paying the costs himself.—Re AUSTIN, Ex p. YALDEN (1876), 4 Ch. 2278. On dividends—Jurisdiction of court to order payment.]—The trustee of a liquidating debtor sold the whole estate for a sum equal to 7*s.* 6*d.* in the pound upon the amount of the provable debts, to be paid in three instalments, on Apr. 23, June 23, & Aug. 23. On Apr. 23 the creditors resolved that debtor should have his discharge as from Apr. 30, subject to a certificate by the trustee that the first instalment of the purchase-money had been paid, & that promissory notes for the other instalments had been delivered to him, & that the close of the liquidation should take place, & the trustee be released on & from Oct. 23 :—Held : notwithstanding the release of the trustee, the ct. had jurisdiction to order him to pay a dividend to a creditor.—Re PRAGER, Ex p. SOCIÉTÉ COCKRILL (1876), 3 Ch. k. On rights of purchaser under sale of assets by old trustee.]—A party agreed to purchase furniture belonging to bkpt., & an assignment of the furniture was executed by the then trustee & the comrs., but the deed was not delivered to him, & the furniture remained in the possession of bkpt. The trustee was afterwards removed from office, & another appointed. The purchaser, in ignorance of such fact, bonâ fide made payments of the price to the old trustee. 2279. On alleged default in administration—Whether discharged by release—Fraud.]—Debtor filed a liquidation petition on Sept. 14, & on Oct. 3 a trustee was appointed. On Nov. 26 the creditors resolved that the trustee should sell debtor's estate for a sum sufficient to pay the creditors 4*s.* in the pound, that debtor's discharge should be granted on the filing of the trustee's certificate that the provisions of the scheme of settlement had been complied with, & that the close of the liquidation & the release of the trustee should take place on & from Jan. 28. On Jan. 4 the resolutions were approved by the ct. Debtor was tenant of some business premises & some chattels for a term which expired on Dec. 25. The trustee took possession of the premises & the chattels, & remained in possession of them until the expiration of the term, but he did not pay the landlord the quarter's rent which fell due on Dec. 25. On Feb. 26 the landlord applied to the Ct. of Bkpcy. for an order directing the trustee to pay him that quarter's rent. There was evidence that several applications had been made to the trustee for the rent in the course of Jan., & that he had said that he had left money with debtor to pay it :—Held : (1) either the landlord's remedy was a personal one against the trustee, in which case the Ct. of Bkpcy. had no jurisdiction in the matter, or, if there was a remedy in the Ct. of Bkpcy., the trustee had done nothing more than commit a default in the administration of the assets, from liability for which he was protected by the release, there being nothing to show that there had been any fraud in obtaining it ; (2) 1869 Act, s. 53, applied to a release given by the creditors to the trustee under a liquidation by arrangement. —Re WARE, Ex p. CARTER (1878), 8 Ch. 2280. —— —— ——.]—The lessee of a house & premises having filed a liquidation petition early in Aug. 1881, the trustee on Nov. 24 following disclaimed the lease. The lessor tendered a proof on Dec. 14 in respect of rent & dilapidations for £117 14*s.* 4*d.* which was admitted, & also claimed unliquidated damages sustained by reason of the disclaimer, but naming no amount. At a meeting of the creditors held on Jan. 6, 1882, a dividend of 1*s.* 6*d.* in the pound was declared payable on the 20th, & at the same meeting a resolution was passed to release the trustee as from that day. The lessor on Mar. 4 sent in a second proof for £309 7*s.* 6*d.* in respect of unliquidated damages, & claimed to be paid the dividend thereon :—Held : in the absence of fraud the remedy of the lessor was by an action at law outside the bkpcy., inasmuch as if any default had been made by the trustee, his liability for such default had been discharged by the release, & no fraud was alleged against him. —Re GILL, Ex p. BARNARD (1882), 46 L. 2294. Directions given by—Application of 1914 Act, s. 79 (1).]—The above sub-sect. relates to the administration & distribution of bkpt.'s property, & has no application to s. 56, which gives permission to the trustee to do certain things with the consent of the committee of inspection.—Re SALMON, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1916] 2 K. 2296. Exercise of power—To fix remuneration of solicitor—Must be by giving commission.]—The creditors of bkpt. appointed a solr. the trustee in the bkpcy., "at a remuneration to be fixed by the committee of inspection." Subsequently the committee passed a resolution that the remuneration of the trustee should be "his proper professional charges as a solr. for attendance & work done & expenses incurred by him in or about the proceedings in the bkpcy.":—Held: the resolution was invalid, as it was contrary to 1883 Act, s. 72, which required that the remuneration should be a commission or percentage on the amount realised or distributed. Semble: where the trustee, being a solr. contracts, with the committee of inspection that his remuneration shall include his professional charges, the proper course is to fix his commission or percentage as trustee at such a rate as will cover his reasonable professional charges.—Re WAYMAN, Ex p. OFFICIAL RECEIVER (1889), 24 Q. 2297. —— To consent to appointment of solicitor—May be given separately—Meeting unnecessary.]—The consent of the committee of inspection, required to be given to the appointment of a solr. by the trustee, may be given by the inspectors separately, & a meeting is not required for that purpose.—Re GEARING, Ex p. WHITE & Co. 2298. —— —— No particular form necessary—Must be specific—"Where necessary" too vague.]

PART VII. SECT. 10.

2289 i. Nature of office—Extent of powers.]—Inspectors of the accounts of bkpts. have no authority to present petitions in the matter of the bkpcy.; their duty is to inspect all accounts in the bkpcy., in which the class of creditors for whose benefit they are appointed is interested, & to communicate to those creditors the result of such investigation, & if the creditors think it necessary, they, & not the inspectors, are to bring the matter before the ct.—Re FRENCH (1827), 1 Mol. 59.—IR.

l. Remuneration.]—At a meeting of creditors under 1874 Act (38 Vict. No. 5), s. 202, a resolution was passed allowing the trustee remuneration at the rate of 5 per cent. on all amounts collected. At the time of the passing of the resolution it was represented to the meeting, with the concurrence of the trustee, that 2 per cent. of the 5 per cent. allowance would be paid by him to the committee of inspection. The resolution registered contained no reference to such promise or undertaking. On a motion by a dissenting creditor to set aside the resolution as invalid:—Held: the ct. was not precluded by the form of the resolution from inquiring as to its real intent, & as such inquiry revealed an intention to apply the assets of the estate in a manner not authorised by law, appct. was entitled to a declaration that the resolution was invalid.—Re GRAZIERS' BUTCHERING CO., Ex p. PARBURY LAMB & Co. (1897), 8 Q. L. J. 125.—AUS.

—The permission of the committee of inspection for the employment of a solr. by the trustee, to take proceedings or do business sanctioned by the committee, need not be in any particular form, but, although it may be so framed as to cover several proceedings or pieces of business, it must in some way or other specify them. A resolution of the committee that a solr. be employed by the trustee "where necessary" is too vague.—Re VAVASOUR, [1900] 2 Q. B. 309; 69 L. J. Q. B. 685; 82 L. T. 622; 48 W. R. 453; 44 Sol. 2299. —— —— —— "To act in all actions" etc., too vague.]—A committee of inspection authorised the appointment of solrs. "to act for & on behalf of the trustee in all actions, proceedings & applications," & generally on his instructions:—Held: the retainer was too general, & items for attending the public examination, opposing bkpt.'s discharge, & the costs of actions against debtors to the estate, were properly disallowed by the taxing master.—Re WHITE, Ex p. NICHOLS (1902), 46 Sol. SECT. 11.—LIABILITY OF SURETIES FOR TRUSTEE.

2300. What is loss or damage to estate—Non-payment of penal interest by trustee.]—Non-payment by a trustee in bkpcy. of the interest at 20 per cent. per annum imposed by 1883 Act, s. 74 (6), upon a trustee who improperly retains for more than ten days a sum exceeding £50, is not a loss or damage to the estate of bkpt. by the default of the trustee within a bond given by the trustee & his surety for the due performance of his duties by the trustee, conditioned to be avoided if the surety should make good any such loss or damage occasioned by any such default.—BOARD OF TRADE v. EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ASSURANCE CORPN., LTD., [1910] 2 K. 2301. Amount of loss—Set-off of sums due to trustee for remuneration.]—A surety in making good the loss or damage occasioned by the default of a trustee in bkpcy. in not sufficiently performing his duties is not entitled to deduct what the trustee has earned by way of remuneration.

The contract is, that whatever money is not properly accounted for by the trustee is to be made good, & we are not to look to such things as the question of whether there is or is not any remuneration due, when that remuneration is declared to be forfeited & is no longer due to the man who has made default (CAVE, J.).—BOARD OF TRADE v. GUARANTEE SOCIETY (1896), [1910] 1 K. 2303. Limits of jurisdiction of court.]—Semble: proving of a debt under a fiat gives the ct. a jurisdiction merely to the extent of the proof.—Re SMITH, Ex p. BRAND (1836), 1 Deac. 308; 2 Mont. & A. 707; 5 L. J. Bcy. 57, Ct. of R.

2304. —— Money-lenders Act, 1900 (c. 51), s. 1 (3).]—The jurisdiction of the Bkpcy. Ct. to exercise the powers of the above Act arises only under s. 1 (3) of that Act, & is confined to cases in which there is an application before the ct. relating to the admission or amount of a proof by a money-lender.—Re ATTREE, Ex p. WARD, [1907] 2 K. 2305. —— Parties proving fictitious debts.]—The Ct. of Review has no jurisdiction to order persons, who have proved fictitious debts, to repay a sum of money with which an assignee, whom they have procured to be chosen, has absconded, or to pay the costs of defending a party upon an indictment for perjury, which they have preferred against him, in consequence of his disclosure of their fraudulent proceedings. Neither will the ct. order them to deliver up the fictitious securities, upon which the debts have been proved.—Re SMITH, Ex p. BRAND (1836), 1 Deac. 308; 2 Mont. & A. 707; 5 L. J. Bcy. 57.

2306. —— To rectify mistake in bond—To enable proof to be made.]—The ct. can rectify a clear mistake in the condition of a bond to enable a proof to be made.—Re WHITE, Ex p. WHITE (1836), 2 Mont. & A. 541, Ct. of R.

m. Restraining proceedings against surety.]—The ct. will not interfere by injunction to restrain proceedings instituted against the sureties of a defaulting assignee in insolvency, notwithstanding several actions may have been brought against them, & the aggregate amount sought to be recovered greatly exceeds the amounts for which they had become security.—CRAIG v. MILNE (1877), 25 Gr. 259.—CAN.

n. What defence available to surety.]—The surety of a defaulting assignee sued under 1875 Act, s. 68, by a creditor, who has filed a claim against bkpt. & who is entitled to the fruits of such litigation, will not be allowed to set up a plea that the sum secured by him would, if he paid it, be exhausted by the privileged creditors of bkpt.—KENT v. LETOURNEUX (1905), Q. 2308. Right of bankrupt—To be heard.]—Bkpt. cannot be heard on a question of proof, especially if he has not obtained his certificate, except to cite cases as amicus curiæ.—Re LLOYD, Ex p. FAIRMAN (1838), 3 Deac. 467, 470; Mont. & Ch. 125, 134, Ct. of R.

2309. —— To cross-examine creditor.]—Bkpt. has a right to cross-examine a creditor upon his proof of debt.—Re PETIT (1849), Fonbl. 6; 14 L. T. O. S. 88.

2310. —— To have creditor privately examined—Compromise detrimental to bankrupt.]—A debtor became bkpt. in 1872, & in 1875 his assets were found sufficient to pay in full all creditors who had proved, & to leave a considerable surplus, but no dividend had yet been paid. In Nov., 1875, G., the personal representative of a mtgee. who had obtained in 1869 an absolute order for foreclosure, came in to prove for £21,000, the balance of the mtge. debt, after deducting the estimated value of the property. Supposing the proof admitted, the assets were not sufficient to pay the creditors in full. The trustees, with the sanction of the committee of inspection, made an arrangement with G. to admit the proof at £20,000 on the terms that he was to receive nothing till the other creditors had received 18*s.* in the pound, after which he was to receive 18*s.* in the pound, & after that all the creditors, including G., were to rank pari passu. Bkpt. then applied for an order to have a private sitting appointed for the examination of G., which was refused by the registrar sitting as Chief Judge:—Held: in the peculiar circumstances of the case, bkpt. ought to have an opportunity of investigating the claim, & an order ought to be made for the examination of G.—Re AUSTIN, Ex p. AUSTIN (1876), 4 Ch. Subsequently to the proof being made the trustee caused P. to be summoned for examination under 1869 Act, s. 96:—Held: not the proper mode of procedure, the creditor being thereby treated as a mere witness in a strange litigation, whereas he was in fact the principal party, & entitled to the assistance of counsel.—Re RUSSELL, Ex p. KEMP (1873), 42 L. SUB-SECT. 1.—IN GENERAL.

2313. Creditor excepted from previous scheme of composition.]—The creditors of bkpt. agreed to a scheme, which was approved by the ct. The scheme provided that a composition should be paid to all the creditors but three, that bkpt. should take back his estate, & that the adjudication should be annulled. The three excepted creditors agreed to make no claim on bkpt. or his estate for three years from the date of the annulling of the adjudication. On Apr. 20, 1871, the order to annul was made. The composition was paid, bkpt. took back his estate, he traded again & contracted fresh debts, & on Oct. 1, 1875, he filed a liquidation petition:—Held: the excepted creditors were entitled to prove in the liquidation, & to receive dividends pari passu with the new creditors.—Re WINN, Ex p. RUSSELL (1876), 2 Ch. 2314. Workmen—Compensation under Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906 (c. 58)—Bankruptcy of employer & insurers.]—Where an employer has entered into a contract with any insurers in respect of any liability under the above Act, the effect of s. 5 of the Act is to give to the workman, in the event of the employer becoming bkpt., a right to enforce the policy against the insurance co. in substitution for the right which he possessed before the Act of proving against the estate of a bkpt. employer. The sect. does not give the workman merely an additional right, or, in other words, an option either to prove against the bkpt. employer's estate or to claim against the insurance

e. 1849 Act, s. 182—Application of.]—Neither the Stat. of 1869 nor that of 1875 introduced the provision of 1849 Act, s. 182. 1849 Act does not provide for actions non-existing at the date of the assignment.—MURRAY v. ROSS (1877), 2 R. & C. 154; 11 N. S. R. 154.—CAN.

2315. —— —— ——.]—The effect of s. 5 of the above Act, is that, where an employer has entered into a contract with any insurers in respect of any liability under the Act, in the event of the employer becoming bkpt., the claim of the workman is against the insurers only, whether in liquidation or not. He has no right to prove in the bkpcy. of the employer, except in the case provided for by s. 5 (2), which applies only when the insurance does not cover the whole of the employer's liability. 2316. On behalf of parishioners—Against bankrupt parish collector—Inhabitant.]—Bkpt. had been for several years a collector of land-tax for a parish, & at the issuing of the commission owed upon the balance £928 11*s.* to the Chamberlain of London. An inhabitant of the parish was admitted a creditor, & allowed to prove for himself & the rest of the parishioners.—Re CUFF, Ex p. CHILD (1751), 1 Atk. 111 ; 26 E. R. 73.

2317. On behalf of married woman—Husband—Though suing for debt due to himself.]—A person under a commission of bkpcy. may prove a debt in the right of his wife, & yet bring an action in his own right for a debt due to himself from bkpt. —Ex p. MATTHEWS (1754), 3 Atk. 816 ; 26 E. R. 1266.

2319. —— Marriage trustees—Money lent to bankrupt husband.]—A. entitled to £500 married whilst an infant, & the husband, by deed after marriage agreed that the £500 should be to her separate use for life, & after her death, to the issue of the marriage. In the deed was a proviso, empowering the trustee to lend a part, or the whole, to the husband, & the trustee lent the £500 to the husband, who fourteen months afterwards became bkpt. :—Held : the trustee should come in as a creditor under the commission for the money he paid to the husband.—MIDDLECOME v. MARLOW (1742), 2 Atk. 519 ; 26 E. R. 712.
Annotation :—Consd. Re Holland, Gregg v. Holland, [1902] 2 Ch. 360, C. A.

2320. —— —— Income paid to bankrupt husband.]—Where trustees under a marriage settlement lend the wife's money to the husband with her consent, & the husband becomes bkpt., they cannot, on behalf of the wife, prove for interest on the money, but only for principal, she having been supported by her husband since marriage, upon the principles applicable to wife's pin money. Semble : secus, if they prove to save themselves from the consequences of their own act, her consent not having been given.

If the act of suffering the husband to take this interest constituted a breach of trust, then the proof is correct by the trustees alone, because it is the trustees who are seeking to recover back money, just the same as a common creditor (SIR G. ROSE).—Re ELLIS, Ex p. GREEN (1832), 2 Deac. & Ch. 113 ; 2 L. J. Bcy 2, Ct. of R.

2321. —— Next friend—Legacy for sole use transferred to bankrupt husband.]—A feme covert, petitioning by her next friend, was permitted to prove the value of a legacy of stock bequeathed to her separate use, but transferred into the name of her husband, who sold it out & became bkpt., & a trustee was appointed to receive the dividends.—Re WHITMORE, Ex p. WELLS (1842), 2 Mont. 2325. —— Wife whose property settled on her in event of dissolution of marriage—Proof in name of trustee.]—By the terms of bkpt.'s marriage settlement the wife's property was settled upon her in the case of bkpt.'s death, or the parties being divorced, but bkpt. was entitled to the interest for his life, & in case he survived his wife he was to have a share of the property :—Held : the wife might, in the name of her trustee, make such proof as the comrs. might think she was entitled to.—Re SAUNDERS, Ex p. SAUNDERS (1834), 3 Deac. & Ch. 568, Ct. of R.

2326. —— One of several trustees.]—M. & A. being in partnership, A. married M.'s daughter, upon which occasion M. gave to four trustees a bond for payment of £5,000 at the expiration of a twelvemonth after his decease, & A. also agreed to pay to the trustees £5,000 by instalments, subject to the trusts of the settlement, namely, to invest the money in the funds, & pay the interest of one moiety to A. & the other moiety to his wife, for her sole use, with remainders over to the children, etc. M. & A. became bkpt., only one instalment of £1,000 having been paid by A. Two of the four trustees were resident abroad. On the petition of the two trustees who were in England :—Held : petitioners, without the concurrence of the two other trustees, might prove against the separate estate of M. the sum of

h. Agent—Though principal holding himself out as owner of bankrupt's business.]—Action for a declaration that deft. was not entitled to rank upon the insolvent estate of D., trading with P. as the P. Co., on the ground that C. was the actual owner of the business & deft. merely his agent. C. was D.'s son-in-law and D. at times incapacitated himself from careful management of the business. C. was in good credit, made no secret of his interest in the business & had no motive to carry on a business of his own in another name. Pltfs. gave credit to D. & his partner P. & recovered judgment against them:—Held: there was no objection to the debt of the P. Co. being made payable to deft. as C.'s agent, nor in deft.'s proving against the P. & D. estate, & deft.'s claim was good, the business of the P. Co. not appearing to be C.'s, & pltfs. having for the purpose of getting a dividend treated the business as P. & D.'s could not for the purpose of opposing deft.'s claim say that the business belonged to C.—BARTHELMES v. CONDIE (1907), 10 O. 2344. On behalf of creditors under previous bankruptcy—Trustee in such bankruptcy.]—In 1899 debtor was adjudicated bkpt., the debts provable consisting of simple contract, specialty, & judgment debts. He had not obtained his discharge in that bkpcy., & the unsatisfied balance of the debts amounted to £2,643 13*s.* 11*d.* In 1909 he was again adjudicated bkpt., the debts incurred by him, simple contract debts, subsequent to the first adjudication amounting to £228 17*s.* 5*d.* He had not obtained his discharge in that bkpcy. when in 1916 he was adjudicated bkpt. again. In Oct., 1917, the trustee in the first bkpcy. lodged a proof against the estate in the second bkpcy. for £2,643 13*s* 11*d.*, which was admitted to rank for dividend. In Nov., 1917, the trustee in the second bkpcy. lodged a proof against the estate in the third bkpcy. for the two sums of £2,643 13*s.* 11*d.* & £228 17*s.* 5*d.* The proof was rejected by the trustee in the third bkpcy., on the ground that the claims were barred by Stat. Limitations, & alternatively that 1914 Act, s. 39 (1), gave no right of proof in respect thereof : —Held : the proof should be admitted for the full amount, as the effect of s. 39 (1) was to give a right of proof, not to individual creditors, but to the trustee against the estate in each succeeding bkpcy., & inasmuch as the trustee's right to prove in those circumstances was conferred for the first time by the sect. no question arose as to the operation of Stat. Limitations.—Re CULLWICK, Ex p. LONDON SENIOR OFFICIAL RECEIVER, [1918] 1 K. B. 646 ; 87 L. J. K. B. 827 ; 119 L. T. 31 ; 34 T. L. R. 343 ; [1918–19] B. & C. R. 33.

SUB-SECT. 3.—AGAINST BANKRUPT TRUSTEE.

2346. Husband of party entitled to income—Bankrupt entitled to capital on death of life tenant.]—Bequest of stock to A. & B., in trust to pay the dividends to testator's brother for life, & after his death to testator's sister, & upon the death of the survivor to A. absolutely. A., the surviving trustee, sold out the stock, applied the proceeds to his own use, & became bkpt. Upon a petition by testator's sister & her husband, to prove the value of the stock sold :—Held : the comrs. should compute the value of the stock so bequeathed at the commission, & the husband should be at liberty to prove the amount of such value, the dividends to be paid into the bank, subject to the further order of the ct.—Re ANDREWS, Ex p. FAIRCHILD (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 221.

2347. Cestui que trust.]—Bkpt. had committed a breach of trust, by not investing a sum of £2,000, although he paid the dividends upon it for ten years :—Held : in the special circumstances of the case, the cestui que trust should be admitted to prove against the estate of bkpt.—Re ALDERSON, Ex p. FREEMAN (1832), 1 L. 2348. —— Having vested interest subject to power of appointment.]—Bequest to J. B. & J. T. in trust for the wife of J. B. for life, & after her death for the children of the wife of J. B., in such shares as J. B. & his wife or the survivor should appoint, & in default of appointment for all the children equally, to be divided at twenty-one. There were five children of J. B. & his wife, & no appointment was made. J. B. sold out & advanced part of the trust funds to J. B. the younger & G. B., two of the children ; & J. B., J. B. the younger, & G. B. became bkpt. :—Held : M. B., one of the five children who had each a vested interest in one-fifth part of the trust funds after the death of their mother, subject to the power of appointment, was entitled to prove one-fifth part of the trust funds so misapplied against the estate of J. B., the dividends to be paid into the bank subject to the further order of the ct.—Re BOYES, Ex p. BEILBY, Re BOYES, Ex p. HALL & BOYES (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 167.

2349. —— Action for account pending—Claim admitted.]—Where bkpt. & his co-trustees had been guilty of a breach of trust, & a bill in Ch. had been filed against them by the cestuis que trust for an account, which suit was pending at the time of the bkpcy., the cestuis que trust were permitted to enter a claim for the amount due to them, without prejudice to the Ch. suit, & all dividends in respect of the claim were ordered to be transferred by the accountant in bkpcy. to the credit of the bkpcy. & of the suit.—Re M'NEILL, Ex p. STUTELY (1841), 1 Mont. 2350. —— Even though other trustee solvent.]—Leave was given for a third person to prove against the estate of a bkpt. trustee, though there was a solvent co-trustee.—Re OSBALDISTON, Ex p. HARRIS (1842), 11 L. J. Bcy. 16.

Sect. 3.—Who may prove: Sub-sects. 3 & 4.]

2351. —— Bankrupt carrying on testator's business.]—Testator, by his will dated 1806, gave the mass of his property to his wife for life, remainder to his children, & appointed his son, bkpt., & his widow, exors. The trusts of the will were inter alia that the exors. should carry on testator's business, retaining therein the sum of £1,200. Bkpt. & his mother carried on business till 1821, when the widow retired from business, & bkpt. by deed admitted that there was a sum of £497 odd in the business, & agreed to pay the widow an annuity, & allow interest on the capital remaining in the business. The adjudication took place in Nov., 1849 :—Held : the cestuis que trust had an equitable charge on bkpt.'s interest under the will for £479 odd, & such property under the will ought to be sold, & if insufficient to realise enough, the cestuis que trust might prove for the residue.—Re GOOD, Ex p. GOOD (1850), Fonbl. 78 ; 15 L. T. O. S. 50.

2352. —— With leave of court.]—Where trustees have become bkpt. the cestuis que trust may prove against bkpt. estate, if they obtain the leave of the ct.—Re BRADLEY, Ex p. WALTON (1910), 54 Sol. Jo. 377.

2353. Son of cestui que trust.] — Where a bkpt. trustee had suffered the trust fund to be misappropriated :—Held : the son of the cestui que trust might prove for the amount, retaining the dividends until further order.—Re HOOPER, Ex p. VINE (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 357 ; 1 L. J. Bcy. 44, Ct. of R.

2354. One of cestuis que trust—On behalf of himself & others.]—Testator gave his property to five persons, of whom bkpt. was one. The exor. had appointed as his agent bkpt., who had not surrendered, & who had applied part of the trust funds to his own use. There was no one authorised to prove without the order of the ct. :—Held : one of the cestuis que trust, on behalf of himself & the others, could prove for the amount misappropriated.—Re FORRESTER, Ex p. FORRESTER (1839), Mont. & Ch. 143, Ct. of R.

2355. Administrator of cestui que trust—Knowledge of breach of trust before appointment as administrator.] — A party, at the time of the misapplication of a trust fund by the trustee, was cognizant of the fact, but had then no right or interest whatever to the fund. Afterwards he acquired such right, as administrator to the cestui que trust. The trustee subsequently became bkpt. : —Held : the administrator's rights as administrator were not affected by his previous knowledge of the breach of trust, & he was not prevented from proving for the amount of the interest on the trust fund, which accrued due in the lifetime of the cestui que trust.—Re CLARKE, Ex p. SMITH (1841), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 113, Ct. of R.

2356. Parties presumed to be entitled—Settlement lost.]—A marriage settlement having been lost, which declared the trusts of a fund belonging to the wife, & there being every probability that petitioners were entitled to the fund under the provisions of the settlement, they were, after being admitted to prove for the amount, allowed to receive the dividends, without a reference, as the fund was too small to bear that expense.—Re DORNFORD, Ex p. HARRISON (1837), 3 Deac. 25, Ct. of R.

2357. Next friend on behalf of infants.]—Trustees for infants, in breach of trust, advanced trust funds to the father of the cestuis que trust. An order was made in Ch. that the trustees should pay the amount they admitted they had received into ct., but they did not comply with the order & became bkpt. :—Held : the order for payment into ct. was only evidence as against the assignees that a breach of trust had been committed, & the next friend on behalf of the infants might make such proof as he could establish, any dividends to be paid into ct.—Re WELCH, Ex p. COLES (1843), 3 Mont. D. & De G. 327, Ct. of R.

2358. Widow—Entitled to life interest—Remainder to children.]—The trustee of a testator's residuary estate in trust for his widow for life or widowhood, & with remainder to his infant children, having become bkpt., the widow obtained an order from the Ct. of Bkpcy. directing that she should be admitted to prove in respect of a breach of trust for a specified sum & such other amount as upon the accounts should appear due from bkpt. to the trust estate.—Re JAMES, Ex p. CADWALLADER (1862), 4 De G. F. & J. 499 ; 31 L. J. Bcy. 66 ; 6 L. T. 485 ; 45 E. R. 1277, L. JJ.

Annotation :—Mentd. Re Barfoot, Ex p. Prothero (1868), 3 Ch. App. 823, L.JJ.

2359. Bankrupt himself—Estate small—Beneficiary of unsound mind.]—By leave of the ct. a bkpt. trustee made a proof against his own estate for trust fund, where the fund was small & the person beneficially interested was of unsound mind, but who had not been declared so by an inquisition.—ANON. (1851), Fonbl. 220.

2360. —— Effect of failure to prove.]—Where a trustee indebted to the trust becomes bkpt., it is his duty to prove the debt, & if he neglect so to do, he is liable for the loss, notwithstanding his certificate.—ORRETT v. CORSER (1855), 21 Beav. 52 ; 25 L. T. O. S. 278 ; 1 Jur. N. S. 882 ; 3 W. R. 604 ; 52 E. R. 778.

See, generally, TRUSTS & TRUSTEES.

2361. —— Restriction as to dividends.]—A bkpt. trustee was allowed to prove, but not to receive trust dividends.—Re RAIKES, Ex p. STRETTELL (1839), Mont. & Ch. 165, Ct. of R.

2362. Solvent trustee—Each trustee entitled to moiety of residue.]—One of the residuary legatees under a will was the surviving trustee of it. The other was subsequently appointed a new trustee under a power, the trust estate then consisting of £9,000 due from the continuing trustee, & of shares in a co., valued at £6,000, which were transferred into the names of the two. After the death of certain cestuis que trust who were entitled for life, & when the trust estate constituted a clear fund belonging in moieties to the two residuary legatees, subject only to the payment of legacies, which amounted to £4,000, the continuing trustee became bkpt., still owing the £9,000 to the trust estate :—Held : the new trustee was not entitled to prove for such amount, & retain the dividends till he should be paid his share in full, but could only prove to the extent of his beneficial interest immediately before the bkpcy., &, as bkpt. could then have settled with him by paying £3,500, that was the amount provable.—Re CROSTHWAITE, Ex p. TURNER (1852), 2 De G. M. & G. 927 ; 42 E. R. 1134.

2363. —— Restrictions as to dividends.]—Three trustees were ordered to pay into ct. in an administration suit money found due from them. One became bkpt. & another died. On an application by the third trustee for leave to prove under the bkpcy. for such sum of money as bkpt. was indebted to the trust estate, including such sums as bkpt. was bound to pay as between himself & his co-trustees :—Held : the trustee should be allowed to go in & prove for such debt as he might establish, but any dividend which might be realised should be dealt with by the ct. in which the administration suit was pending.—Re REDFEARN, Ex p. BROMLEY (1865), 34 L. J. Bcy. 33; 12 L. T. 783; 13 W. R. 1051, L. C.

2364. —— Advances to bankrupt's firm.]—Testator left half his residuary estate to trustees in trust for a married woman for her life, with remainder in default of appointment to her children. The trustees lent a portion of the trust funds to a partnership, of which one of the trustees was a member. There were several changes in the partnership, & eventually the existing partners, including the trustee, became bkpt. Before the bkpcy. the partners & others executed to T., the other trustee, their joint & several bond of indemnity by reason of the loans:—Held: T. was entitled to prove the amount due to himself & bkpt. trustee.—Re BOYES, Ex p. BEILBY, Re BOYES, Ex p. HALL & BOYES (1821), 1 Gl. & J. 167.

SUB-SECT. 4.—AGAINST BANKRUPT EXECUTOR.

2365. Relators.]—A bkpt. exor. committed a devastavit. A suit upon an information having been filed by relators against bkpt., as being indebted as bkpt. & exor.:—Held: the relators, but not bkpt., could prove.—Re POPJAY (1733), cited in 1 Gl. & J., at p. 160.

2366. Father of infants.]—Bkpt. was an exor., & had proved his testator's will & possessed himself of the property, keeping the legacies of infants in his own hands:—Held: the father of the infants, & not bkpt., might prove & receive the dividends for their use.—Re MERRYMAN, Ex p. ROE (1737), cited in 1 Gl. & J., at p. 160.

2367. Creditor of bankrupt's testator.] — A creditor of bkpt.'s testator, to whom he was exor., was admitted to prove the amount of testator's property in bkpt.'s hands, the dividend to be paid into the bank, subject to further order.—Re BECKETT, Ex p. LEEKE (1789), 2 Bro. 2370. ——.]—A bkpt. exor. was ordered to prove against his own estate & the assignees to pay the dividends into the hands of the Accountant General to the credit of a cause pending for the administration of assets.—Re COLMAN, Ex p. COLMAN (1833), 2 Deac. & Ch. 584, Ct. of R.

2371. —— With consent of testator's creditors.]—A bkpt. exor. applied part of the assets to his own use. Petitioners, who were creditors of testator, having prayed to be admitted creditors under the commission for the amount of what had been misapplied:—Held: bkpt. should be admitted a creditor for the amount, & at the request of petitioners the dividends should be paid to bkpt., to be applied by him in course of administration. —Re PACK, Ex p. HOGG (1736), 1 Gl. & J. 161, n.

2372. —— Only under order of court.]—A bkpt. exor. proved a debt against himself due to him as exor., without an order of the ct., & voted in the choice of assignees, thereby turning the choice: —Held: there must be a new choice.

Bkpt. cannot prove against himself without an order; in that order originates his title to prove. The ct. has always annexed the condition that the funds should not come into the hands of bkpt. (LORD ELDON, C.).—Re HOWARD & GIBBS, Ex p. SHAW (1822), 1 Gl. & J. 127, L. C.

2373. —— But not his agent.]—Bkpt. was an exor. & indebted to his cestuis que trust, & petitioner to prove against the estate was the agent of bkpt. transacting his business:—Held: bkpt. could prove in the usual way, & might state the debt to be still due & petitioner might be witness to prove the fact.—Re ANDERSON, Ex p. COLLINGTON (1839), Mont. & Ch. 156, Ct. of R.

2374. —— Bankrupt also residuary legatee—Application of dividends.]—A pecuniary legatee is entitled to be paid in full, out of a dividend payable on a proof made in respect of a devastavit committed by a bkpt., who is exor. & residuary legatee.—Re WEST, Ex p. TURNER (1842), 2 Mont. D. & De G. 613; 6 Jur. 840, Ct. of R.

2375. —— On petition by bankrupt & others.]—On petition by bkpt. & others:—Held: bkpt., who was sole exor. of a will, should be allowed to prove under the fiat for money belonging to the estate.—Re THOMAS, Ex p. THOMAS (1843), 1 L. T. O. S. 293, Ct. of R.

2376. Solvent executor.]—Where a bkpt. & another are exors. of a creditor of bkpt., the ct. will permit the other exor. to prove the debt, even though a suit is pending in the Ecclesiastical Ct., as to the exorship.—Ex p. SHAKESHAFT (1791), 3 Bro. C. C. 198; 29 E. R. 488.

2377. ——.]—Exors., liable for the default of their co-exor., who had become bkpt., are entitled, on payment by them, to prove against bkpt.'s estate.—LINCOLN v. WRIGHT (1841), 4 Beav. 427; 49 E. R. 404.

2378. —— Whether order necessary.]—Bkpt. was one of three exors. He had before his bkpcy. received a considerable amount of the assets belonging to the estate of his testator. His two co-exors. petitioned for an order to be permitted to prove the amount under the commission:—Held: the order should be made.—Ex p. BROWN (1832), 1 Deac. & Ch. 118, Ct. of R.

2379. —— ——.]—An exor. may prove against a bkpt. co-exor. without an order for that purpose. —Re DAVIS, Ex p. COURTNEY (1835), 4 Deac. & Ch. 456; 2 Mont. & A. 227; 4 L. J. Bcy. 76, Ct. of R.

2380. —— ——.]—Bkpt. was the acting one of three exors. & was indebted to the estate. His two co-exors. petitioned to prove for the balance due from him:—Held: petitioners might have proved without any order of that ct.; for though one trustee could not prove, without his co-trustee joining him in the proof, yet one exor. might prove without his co-exor.—Re WRIGHT, Ex p. PHILLIPS (1837), 2 Deac. 334; 6 L. SUB-SECT. 5.—AGAINST BANKRUPT ASSIGNEE IN BANKRUPTCY.

2381. Creditor of original bankrupt—Proof in original bankruptcy not made till after assignee's bankruptcy.]—If an assignee, who has received effects, becomes bkpt., a creditor, under the commission in which he was the assignee, but who proved his debt after the bkpcy. of the assignee, is not entitled to any proof under the assignee's commission.—Re MOORE, Ex p. STONEHOUSE (1820), Buck, 531, L. C.

2382. Solvent co-assignee.] — Two of three assignees became bkpt. The solvent assignee paid a debt due to the estate from the three:—Held: he was entitled to prove a third of the debt against each of his co-assignee's estates. Qu.: if either of the estates should turn out deficient, whether proof for a moiety of the deficiency could be made against the estate of the other assignee.—Re JACKSON, Ex p. HUNTER (1820), Buck, 552, L. SUB-SECT. 1.—IN GENERAL.

2383. Debts which if sued for would have resulted in non-suit or verdict against creditor.]—Where no fraud is established & where, if bkpts. had continued solvent & an action had been brought against them by petitioner for the purpose of recovering the money sought to be proved for or any part of it, there must have been a non-suit or verdict against him, that decides the question of the right of proof.—Re BURROWS, Ex p. TAYLOR (1856), 8 De G. M. & G. 254; 25 L. J. Bcy. 35; 26 L. T. O. S. 266; 2 Jur. N. S. 220; 4 W. R. 305; 44 E. R. 388, L. JJ.

2384. Meaning of provable balance.]—A moneylender having taken out execution on a warrant of attorney to secure repayment of £600, with interest, gave up the proceeds received from the sheriffs, under an agreement with the assignees, who gave him a release, that he should come in with the other creditors for the balance due to him:—Held: such agreement meant a provable balance, & not to let in the debt, if affected with usury.—Re POST, Ex p. BANGLAY (1811), 1 Rose, 168.

Annotation:—Consd. Long v. Storie (1852), 9 Hare, 542.

2385. Meaning of "debts provable"—1869 Act, s. 31.]—1869 Act, s. 31, contains one exception, & one exception only. It excepts any case in which the ct. on appeal thinks the value of the liability incapable of being fairly estimated, & makes an order to that effect. Such a case is conceivable, but it is one very unlikely to occur. According to the true construction of the sect., unless a judicial declaration has actually been made in the terms of that provision, the liability of bkpt. under a contract, however extreme the difficulty of valuing that liability may be, must be deemed to be a debt provable in bkpcy., & a

m. Unliquidated damages—Whether provable.]—A claim for unliquidated damages should be substantiated by action, & not proved as a debt, against an insolvent estate.—Re LE ROUX, DE KLERK v. ZEEMAN (1896), 13 S. C. 181.—S. AF.

n. —— Incapable of valuation—Insolvent Act, 1864.]—A claim, not for a debt due & payable, or due but not then payable, nor upon a contract dependent on a condition or contingency which had not happened previous to the declaration of the first dividend, but for unliquidated damages incapable of valuation, is not under s. 5 of the above Act a provable debt.—BURROWES v. DE BLAQUIERE (1874), 34 U. C. R. 498.—CAN.

o. Balance of debt proved in prior insolvency—Proof of original debt.]—A proof against an insolvent estate under a second sequestration made by virtue of Insolvent Ordinance, s. 130, should be in respect of the original debt, & not of the account confirmed under the previous sequestration.—Re LE ROUX, DE KLERK v. ZEEMAN (1896), 13 S. C. 181.—S. AF.

p. —— After release of debtor—Though special power to prove reserved.]—Where in an assignment to trustees for the benefit of creditors under 5 Vict. No. 9, a release is granted to the assignors, the ct. will not allow the creditors who have executed the deed of assignment to come in & prove, under a subsequent insolvency, for debts which were already in existence at the time the release was given, although the deed may purport to reserve special power for them to do so.—Ex p. STUTCHBURY (1888), 9 N. S. W. L. R. 164.—AUS.

q. —— For what credit may be given.]—A creditor of an arranging debtor who failed to carry out his arrangement, & entered into a second arrangement, sought to reduce the amount due to him in the second arrangement by giving credit for the amount of an unpaid instalment in the first arrangement, for which he held a bill of debtor, with the name of a surety upon it, & to prove for the reduced amount in the second arrangement:—Held: the creditor was not entitled to do so.—Re R. w. Debt arising out of felony—Right to prove prior to prosecution.]—Where a debt is founded on a felony, the creditor cannot prove until he prosecutes the offender. Success or failure of the prosecution cannot interfere with the right to prove, if it be bonâ fide. If the creditor declines to prosecute, the right to prove is lost.—Re M'MASTER (1858), 32 L. T. O. S. 288.—IR.

a. —— —— Debtors & Creditors Act, 1876.]—A clerk embezzled money, his employers did not take any steps to prosecute him therefor. The clerk became bkpt. The trustee rejected a proof of debt, for the money embezzled, lodged by the employers on the ground that they could not maintain their proof until prosecution of debtor. The employers then instituted criminal proceedings & debtor was committed for trial. The employers again claimed the right to prove:—Held: the employers, having bonâ fide criminally prosecuted debtor, had a right to prove. —Re PEMBERTON (1883), 1 N. Z. L. R. 61.—N.Z.

b. —— ——.]—A proof cannot be rejected on the ground that the debt arose in circumstances which would support a charge of felony, & that the creditor has not first prosecuted bkpt.—Re WATERS, Ex p. CITY ADVANCE CO. (1887), 5 N. Z. L. R. 449.—N.Z.

SUB-SECT. 2.—UNLIQUIDATED DAMAGES IN TORT.

2387. Distinction between actions for personal damage—& trover.]—It is not to be taken for granted that a demand in trover cannot be proved in bkpcy. Where the demand is liquidated it may. It is only personal damage, as for assault, etc., that cannot be proved (BULLER, J.).—JOHNSON v. SPILLER (1784), 1 Doug. K. B. 167, n. ; 99 E. R. 109.

Annotations :—Expld. Parker v. Norton (1796), 6 Term Rep. 695. I understand BULLER, J., in using the words attributed to him, to have meant only this, that if a person has his election of two remedies, and may either bring trover or any other action, the possibility of his electing to bring trover shall not prevent his proving his debt under the commission of bkpt. if he will waive the tort ; & I assent to the proposition so qualified (LORD KENYON, C. J.). Refd. De Tastet v. Walker (1818), Buck, 153 ; Woolley v. Smith (1846), 3 C. B. 610. Mentd. Betteley v. Stainsby (1862), 12 C. B. N. S. 477 ; Re Dunn, Ex p. Paynter (1862), 6 L. 2388. Cause of action arising before bankruptcy.] —When the action arises ex delicto before the bkpcy. of deft., pltf. need not go before the comrs. of bkpt. to receive a satisfaction, but he may bring his action, to which deft.'s certificate will be no bar.—HAMOND v. TOULMAN (1798), 7 Term Rep. 612 ; 101 E. 2390. —— Infringement of patent.]—The right of a patentee to an account of profits made by an infringer is not a demand in the nature of unliquidated damages, & the amount of such profits is provable in the bkpcy. of the infringer.—WATSON v. HOLLIDAY (1883), 52 L. J. Ch. 543 ; 48 L T. 545 ; 31 W. R. 536, C. A.

2391. —— Fraud.]—Debtors deposited goods with wharfingers, who issued warrants thereon, on which debtors obtained advances. The goods so deposited turned out to be valueless, their contents having been falsely represented to the wharfingers, who had to pay damages to the persons who had made the advances. The wharfingers sought to prove the amount so paid, together with the costs :—Held : the proof being for fraud, & the damages unliquidated, & not arising out of contract, was rightly rejected.—Re SEAGER, Ex p. SEAWARD BROTHERS (1891), 7 T. L. R. 616 ; 8 Morr. 216.

2392. —— ——.]—An insolvent trader assigned his business to a one man co. for shares & debentures, & induced a bonâ fide mtgee. of his business, who was no party to the formation of the co., to accept some of the debentures in substitution for his mtge. Shortly afterwards the trader became bkpt., & his assignment to the co. was set aside as fraudulent under 13 Eliz. c. 5 & as an act of bkpcy. under 1883 Act, s. 4 (1) (b). The co.'s debentures were worthless :—Held : the mtgee. only had a right to prove in the bkpcy. for the damages he had sustained by reason of debtor's fraud in inducing him to accept worthless debentures for his security.—Re GOLDBURG, Ex p. SILVERSTONE, [1912] 1 K. 2394. Verdict before bankruptcy—Judgment after.]—Pltf. recovered a verdict & £10 damages in an action of slander. Between the verdict & judgment, deft. became bkpt. After final judgment was signed, deft. was taken in custody in execution. On a rule to show cause why deft., who had obtained his certificate, should not be discharged out of custody :—Held : the debt was provable under the commission & was discharged by the certificate, there being no distinction between a tort & a contract, where a judgment followed the verdict, & the rule should be made absolute.—LONGFORD v. ELLIS (1788), 1 Hy. 2399. Judgment after bankruptcy.]—An action was begun against G., a director of a co., for damages for issuing a fraudulent prospectus, on the faith of which pltf. was induced to accept debentures in the co. After G. became bkpt. judgment was obtained against G. in the action, & the pltf. tendered a proof for the damages recovered:—Held: the proof must be disallowed, the receiving order having been made previous to the judgment.—Re GILES, Ex p. STONE (1889), 61 L. T. 82; 37 W. R. 767; 6 Morr. 158, D. C.

2400. Verdict subject to award before bankruptcy—Award after bankruptcy.]—Deft., against whom in an action for damages, on a tort, a verdict had been taken, subject to the award of an arbitrator:—Held: to be discharged from the debt by his certificate, obtained before the entering up of judgment, where he had become bkpt. between the verdict & the making up of the award, & execution could not be sued out on the judgment, because pltf. might have proved the damages recovered under the commission by production of the record.—BEESTON v. WHITE (1819), 7 Price, 209; 146 E. R. 950.

2401. —— ——.]—Before the filing of a petition for adjudication of bkpcy. a verdict for £1,000 was obtained against bkpt., in an action of tort, subject to a reference as to the amount of damages to be paid. After the petition was filed & the adjudication was made, the arbitrator made his award, fixing the amount of damages, the assignees of bkpt. taking no part in the proceedings. Pltf. in the action filed final judgment, & applied to prove under the bkpcy., for the amount of certified damages & taxed costs:—Held: the proof could not be admitted.—Re WILLIAMSON, Ex p. TODD (1855), 6 De G. A. Whether Consideration sufficient.

2402. Moral obligation.]—A moral obligation to pay is a sufficient consideration to support a proof (SIR G. ROSE).—Re BUTLER, Ex p. DE GROUCHY (1836), 3 Mont. & A. 22; 6 L. J. Bcy. 3, Ct. of R.

2403. ——.]—A. died intestate & insolvent, having abstained from making a provision by will for his daughters, in consequence of a promise from his son to pay an annuity of £50 to each of them while single, & £500 to each upon her marriage, but it did not appear what the nature or amount of the provision was which A. abstained from making. Upon the bkpcy. of the son:—Held: such promise, though morally, was not legally binding upon the son, & it did not constitute a debt provable under the fiat.—Re JAMES, Ex p. MUDIE (1842), 3 Mont. 2404. New loan—Proof for same & balance due under previous bankruptcy.]—S., formerly a trader in Holland failed there, upon which there was a cessio bonorum. He came to England, & having been appointed a governor abroad, applied to petitioner to be his security, & to advance him a sum of money. Petitioner agreed to it, provided S. would give him a bond, which should comprise the remainder of an old debt due before the cessio bonorum as well as the further sum advanced, which was done. S. having become a bkpt.:—Held: petitioner was entitled to be admitted a creditor for the whole money upon his bond.—Ex p. BURTON (1744), 1 Atk. 255; 26 E. R. 163.

2405. —— ——.]—A. advanced to bkpt., after his first bkpcy., £585, & took a security, including in it £375, the balance of an usurious debt incurred before the first bkpcy., but not then attempted to be proved:—Semble: the security being tainted with usury, could not be proved on, either in the whole or in part. Qu.: whether the effect of the certificate under the first bkpcy. did not extinguish the usury, so as to prevent its being set up, & make the security merely voluntary, with regard to the £375.—Re BUTLER, Ex p. DE GROUCHY (1836), 3 Mont. & A. 22; 6 L. 2406. Cancellation of voluntary bond—Proof on new bond for like amount.]—A voluntary bond, though void against creditors, is valid as between the parties, & its surrender is a consideration, that will sustain a substituted bond against creditors, unless with a fraudulent design, as by an insolvent to substitute a valid for an invalid security against creditors.—Ex p. BERRY (1812), 19 Ves. 218; 34 E. c. Forbearance by creditor—Of bankrupt & deceased—Bankrupt executor de son tort.]—A trader died intestate & insolvent. Bkpt. by his acts constituted himself exor. de son tort, carried on the business & accepted bills covering the debt of deceased as well as his personal liability in respect of fresh goods supplied by one of the creditors of deceased; by arrangement the creditor appropriated the payments, made from time to time, in discharge as well of the debt of deceased as of the personal liability of bkpt.:—Held: there was sufficient consideration of forbearance to support the bills as valid securities, & a proof of debt founded upon them could not be expunged.—Re MONTGOMERY (1876), 10 I. R. Eq. 479.—IR.

was alleged, of a promise voluntarily made to their father on his deathbed. The sister died, having specifically bequeathed the sum secured by the bond. The partner gave the legatees fresh bonds for sums amounting together to the sum secured by the original bond, in consideration of the delivery up of that instrument. Six years afterwards the partners in the bank, including the obligor, became bkpt. It appeared that at the times of both the transactions the firm must have been insolvent, & that the obligor must have then known or suspected that to be the case, but that the transactions were entered into fairly, & without reference to that circumstance. There was no evidence, however, of any notice or suspicion on the part of the obligees :—Held : they were entitled to prove upon the bonds.—Re GUNDRY, Ex p. HOOKINS (1849), 3 De G. & Sm. 549 ; 18 L. 2408. Marriage with bankrupt's mistress—Proof on bond given to husband.]—A single woman went to reside with an innkeeper to serve him for a year, a payment of £5 5*s.* to be made to her for such service. After the elapse of five months, a course of intimacy ensued for nearly eight years, during which period she had two children by the innkeeper but never had any wages from him. By agreement the innkeeper then promised that if a certain blacksmith married the woman, he would pay him £42 for eight years' wages & give a bond for payment of £400 by instalments. On the innkeeper's bkpcy., the blacksmith claimed to come in as a creditor :—Held : the consideration was good, & petitioner was entitled to come in as a creditor.—Re EAVES, Ex p. COTTRELL (1778), 2 Cowp. 742 ; 98 E. R. 1338.

2409. Mistress ceasing to molest bankrupt—Proof on bond to pay sum on mistress' marriage.]—Under 1883 Act, s. 40, debts arising upon voluntary bonds or covenants of bkpt. may be proved for equally with debts for valuable consideration.

Upon an agreement that a woman, with whom a debtor had co-habited, should leave & live apart from him, & should not molest or make any further claim upon him, such debtor, previous to his bkpcy., executed a deed, by which he agreed to pay to the woman an annuity of £200 a year, & it was provided that in case she should at any time thereafter marry & should thereupon request debtor in writing to purchase the annuity, he would pay the sum of £2,000 in full satisfaction thereof. The woman having married, & debtor having become bkpt., a proof for £2,000 was after due notice tendered against his estate which was rejected by the trustee :—Held : such rejection was wrong, & the proof must be admitted.—Re COATES, Ex p. SCOTT (1892), 9 Morr. 87.

2410. Wife's waiver of equity to settlement—Proof on settlement for money lent to bankrupt's husband.]—H. was married to his wife in 1864, & she subsequently became entitled to certain money under the wills of her father & grandfather. Those moneys she lent to her husband for the purposes of his business, upon the terms that he would execute a settlement of the moneys upon her, which was done. Upon the bkpcy. of H. a proof was tendered upon the settlement & rejected on the grounds (inter alia), (1) the deed was voluntary within 13 Eliz. c. 5 ; (2) it was a voluntary settlement within 1869 Act, s. 91 ; (3) the circumstances were covered by Married Women's Property Act, 1882 (c. 75), s. 3 :—Held : the settlement was not fraudulent within 13 Eliz. c. 5, & there had been a good consideration by reason of the fact that the wife had waived her equity to a settlement.—Re HOME, Ex p. HOME (1885), 54 L. T. 301.

2411. Gambling debt—Avoidance of result of failing to pay—Proof on bond given in respect of same.]—A member of the Jockey Club incurred racing debts. Being threatened with proceedings which would have resulted in his expulsion from the club, he entered into a compromise, by which he paid a sum down, & gave his creditors a bond for £10,000 :—Held : the bond having been given not to pay racing debts, but to avoid the consequences of not having paid them, was good, & could be proved against the obligor's estate.—BUBB v. YELVERTON (1870), L. 2412. —— Proof on judgment in respect of same.]—In an action by A. against B. to recover money won by betting, B. obtained unconditional leave to defend. A. appealed against that order, but before the appeal was heard A. signed judgment upon default by B. in delivering a defence. B. took out a summons to set aside the judgment, which was abandoned, in consideration of A. abstaining from posting B. as a defaulter. A scheme of arrangement was subsequently entered into by B., under which the trustee was authorised to admit proof provable in bkpcy :—Held : the judgment debt was not provable.—Re DEERHURST, Ex p. SEATON (1891), 60 L. 2413. —— Proof on bills given for same.]—Debtor, being sued for a gambling debt, successfully pleaded Gaming Act, 1892 (c. 9). Thereupon the creditor wrote to the committee of debtor's club informing them of the fact. Debtor then agreed to pay the creditor £100 in cash, & to give bills for £400 in consideration of the creditor withdrawing his letter. Upon debtor becoming bkpt., the creditor proved for the amount of the bills then due, but the proof was rejected by the trustee :—Held : the bills were given not for the gaming debt, but for a wholly new consideration, which was not illegal, & the proof was wrongly rejected.—Re BROWNE, Ex p. MARTINGELL [1904], 2 K. 2415. Remarriage in England—Previous irregular marriage in Scotland valid.]—Parties eloped & were married in Scotland without licence or banns. Having doubts about the legality of the marriage the wife's father wished to have the ceremony performed again, but the husband's father objected. He was induced to consent by an offer of the wife's father to settle an annuity on the daughter, & a bond to secure the annuity was executed on the settlor before the marriage was resolemnised in England. The settlor was solvent at the time & paid the annuity regularly until his bkpcy. The husband & wife applied to prove the bond under the commission of bkpt. :—Held : the Scotch marriage being valid there was no consideration for the bond, & petitioners should be allowed to prove upon the surplus of the separate estate after the joint creditors were satisfied.—Re DICKENSON, Ex p. HALL (1810), 1 Rose, 30, L. C.

2416. Trifling assets sold for excessive figure—Restraint of proof.]—Where it appears that bkpt. has contracted for the purchase of a business of a trifling value, for a large consideration, the ct. will take the deficiency of value into account, & restrain the proof accordingly.—Re BOWERMAN, Ex p. BOWERMAN (1836), 6 L. 2417. Excessive price for goods sold—No fraud or deceit.]—The comr. had reduced a proof for the agreed price of goods sold & delivered, on the ground that it was excessive. The goods were of the agreed quantity and quality :—Held : in the absence of deceit or fraud, where there was a stipulated price, the creditor might prove for that price without regard to whether it was high or low, & the ct. could not undo a bargain which the parties had entered into with their eyes open, nor suffer the proof to be reduced merely because bkpt. agreed to pay too high a price.—Re LEECH, Ex p. REAY (1833), 3 Deac. & Ch. 175, Ct. of R.

2418. Secret verbal agreement to pay bankrupt's trade debts—Proof for payments made under—Agreement in fraud of creditors.]—Debtor assigned the whole of his property to a creditor. The consideration stated in the deed was a debt of £3,271, but in fact £1,370 was only due, & the real consideration was a verbal agreement by the assignee to pay the assignor's trade debts. Debtor became bkpt., & the assignment was declared void as against the trustee. At the date of the bkpcy. most of debtor's trade debts had been discharged : —Held : the assignee would be entitled to prove in the bkpcy. in respect of any sums properly paid by him under the agreement.—Re SINCLAIR, Ex p. CHAPLAIN (1884), 26 Ch. 2419. Overdraft secured by forged bills—Bills given up for notes signed by relatives—Forbearance to prosecute.]—A bank allowed a customer, G., to overdraw upon depositing with them certain bills as security. G. was afterwards convicted of forgery, & it was also discovered that the bills were forgeries. At the request of G. & his family the bank gave up to the latter the forged bills in exchange for promissory notes by G. & some relatives. G. having become bkpt., the bank claimed to prove for the amount of the overdraft & interest :—Held : the debt was founded on the original transaction, viz., the overdraft, & was not founded on a felony or on forbearance to prosecute, & the proof must be allowed.—Re GUERRIER, Ex p. LESLIE (1882), 20 Ch. 2421. —— Discount to be allowed in event which did not happen—Whether proof for full price.]—Goods were sold, to be paid for at the end of the year in which they were purchased, but if paid for before the end of the year, 20 per cent. discount was to be allowed. They were not paid for within the year. On the bkpcy. of the purchaser :—Held : proof could not be made of the whole debt, without deduction for discount.—Re HARVEY, Ex p. PIGOU (1818), 3 Madd. 136 ; 56 E. R. 460.

2422. —— —— ——.]—Wholesale traders supplied goods to a retailer on the terms that he was to be allowed a discount from the invoice prices on payment in cash within a month :—Held : cash payments not having been made, proof must be admitted in the bkpcy. of the retailer for the full amount of the invoice prices of the goods.—Re CUMBERLAND, Ex p. WORTHINGTON (1876), 3 Ch D. 803 ; 45 L. The purchase-money was not paid at the appointed time ; the purchaser became bkpt. & the vendor, having sold part of the teas before the fiat & the rest afterwards, gave the estate credit for the clear proceeds of the sales, tendering a proof for the residue of the original purchase-money :—Held : although there was no delivery of the goods, the original sale was a binding contract within Stat. But, if he does not do so, the vendor is entitled to treat the contract as broken, & to resell the goods, without first tendering them to the trustee, & to prove in the bkpcy. for damages for the breach of contract, the measure of damages, if the market is falling, being the difference between the contract price & the price obtained on the resale.—Re NATHAN, Ex p. STAPLETON (1879) 10 Ch. 2433. —— Resale by broker—Proof for loss on resale.]—Bkpts. employed W. & Co., metal-brokers, to purchase iron for them, to be delivered & paid for at a future day. W. & Co., as the custom of the trade was, entered into contracts for the purchase of the iron, without disclosing the names of their principals. Before the day for delivery & payment arrived the adjudication in bkpcy. took place, & the assignees having declined to complete the contract, W. & Co. completed the purchase on their own account, & resold the iron at a loss, & carried in a proof against bkpts.' estate for the amount of the loss so sustained :—Held : the claim could not be supported either as a liability to pay money on a contingency, under the 1849 Act, s. 178, or as a debt payable upon a contingency, under s. 177, nor could it be sustained as a demand in the nature of damages, to which bkpts. were liable at the time of the adjudication, under 1861 Act, s. 153, & the proof must be disallowed.—Re BARKER, 2434. —— Bankruptcy before delivery—Proof for loss of profit.]—A mtge. deed contained a covenant by bkpts. that, during the existence of the security, they would purchase a stated amount of goods from the mtgee.:—Held: the damages for loss of profits in consequence of the non-fulfilment of the contract were capable of estimation, & a proof must be admitted, but the amount should be referred to the registrar for assessment.—Re ALLEN & Co., Ex p. STRONG & HANBURY (1893), 9 T. 2435. —— Unpaid vendor proving for purchase price.]—A vendor of cotton, by direction of the purchasers, shipped the cotton on board a vessel belonging to the latter. The purchasers became bkpt. before the arrival of the vessel. A mtgee. of the ship, who happened to be an agent of the vendor, took possession of the ship under his mtge., & sold the cotton under a supposed right of his principal to stop it in transitu. The principal sanctioned the transaction. The assignees of bkpts. recovered in an action against the mtgee. the amount for which the cotton sold:—Held: the contract was not rescinded by the seizure of the cotton, but the vendor was entitled to prove for the purchase-money.—Re HUMBERSTON (1846), De G. 262; 15 L. 2436. —— Sale of copyright for royalties—Whether proof for royalties in full.]—An author sold the copyright of his book to a publisher, upon terms that the publisher should print & publish it & should pay him certain royalties upon the sales of the book. The publisher became bkpt., and the trustee in bkpcy. carried on bkpt.'s business until he sold it as a going concern with all copyrights. During the time the trustee carried on the business sales of the book were effected, & the trustee received the proceeds of the sales. The author claimed to be paid in full the royalties on the sales:—Held: the transaction between the author & the publisher was analogous to that of a sale of goods at a price varying in amount & depending on certain events, & the author was only entitled to prove in the bkpcy. for the damages sustained by breach of the contract.—Re GRANT RICHARDS, Ex p. WARWICK DEEPING, [1907] 2 K. 2439. Bankruptcy of vendor—Misrepresentation as to title—Special damage.]—A. sold a ship to B. with a covenant that he had a good title, though in fact he had none. Afterwards A. became a bkpt., & B. sustained damage by paying the value of the ship to the true owner. In an action on the covenant by B. against A. stating the special damage:—Held: B.'s certificate was no bar.—HAMOND v. TOULMAN (1798), 7 Term Rep. 612; 101 E. R. 1159.

2440. —— Failure to deliver—Liquidated damages provided for.]—Bkpt. undertook to supply a creditor, who was under pecuniary engagements for him, with five pieces of cloth per week, or "to forfeit & pay £10 per piece, as liquidated penalty for every piece deficient." Bkpt. made such frequent default in the regular supply of the cloth, that he incurred penalties to the amount of £3,870, which the creditor claimed to prove, although no specific damage was alleged to have been sustained by him by the non-performance of the agreement, & the only balance really due to him was £48 18*s.* 6*d.*—Held: this was a claim for unliquidated damages founded on a penalty, & was not the subject of proof.—Re EVANS, Ex p. MACLEAN (1842), 2 Mont. 2441. —— —— Effect of 1861 Act. s. 153.]—A trader, who had contracted to deliver oil in Jan., executed on Jan. 30 a deed of assignment for the benefit of his creditors, the date of the deed being equivalent to that of an adjudication in bkpcy. The purchaser claimed to be admitted to prove against the trust estate in respect of damages sustained by reason of the non-delivery of the oil:—Held: the above sect. only applied to cases in which the cause of action was complete before the adjudication, as at the date of the deed there was an interval of time, during which debtor might have delivered the oil, the proof was rightly rejected.—Re MOOR'S ASSIGNMENT, Ex p. MENDEL (1864), 1 De G. PART VIII. SECT. 4, SUB-SECT. 3.—B.

2440 i. Bankruptcy of vendor—Failure to deliver.]—Insolvent bought a farm & applt. agreeing to join him in business there, bought & paid him for one-fifth share in the farm. The insolvent having failed to pay the vendor the balance of purchase-money, the farm was sold in execution. Shortly afterwards insolvent surrendered. Applt. claimed to prove for the sum paid by him to insolvent:—Held: there was no partnership in the ownership of the farm, whatever there might have been in the business, & applt. was entitled to prove for damages for breach of insolvent's contract to sell him one-fifth of the farm.—CHISHOLM v. ALDERSON'S TRUSTEE, 2 Buch. A. C. 34.—S. AF.

2440 ii. —— —— After part payment of purchase-money.]—Where the estate of the vendor has been sequestrated after payment of part of the purchase price, & before transfer coram lege loci, the dominium vests in the master of the Supreme Ct., &, ultimately, in the insolvent's trustee for the benefit of creditors. The purchaser, in such circumstances, has merely a personal claim against the estate for damages sustained by him owing to the non-fulfilment of the vendor's undertaking to perfect the sale by making legal transfer & for restitution of the price, & is entitled for such personal claim to rank concurrently only.—HARRIS v. BUISSINNE'S TRUSTEE (1840), 2 Men. 105.—S. AF.

2442. —— —— Proof for loss.]—A trader entered into a contract to deliver goods at a stated time at a specified price. He performed part of the contract, but before the time or times for the performance of the remainder he petitioned under 1849 Act, s. 211 et seq., but no arrangement being effected, he was adjudicated bkpt. on that petition. In the account of debts filed, he inserted a sum as due from him for loss on the unfulfilled parts of the contract. A proof was tendered by the purchaser of the goods, for the amount (less than that specified by bkpt.) of the loss by reason of the non-delivery of the goods :—Held : the admission of the debt by bkpt. in his account was evidence of a debt as against the assignee, & the purchaser was entitled to prove for the amount he claimed.—Re LAWFORD, Ex p. HARRISON (1856), 26 L. 2443. —— —— —— Certain goods not within contract.]—Bkpt., a seed crusher, traded under the firm of A. & Co., & imported large quantities of linseed from Calcutta in bags, which, when emptied, were called "gunny bags." They were articles of commerce, sold by bkpt. separate from the seed, though not usually delivered until the seed was used. The following contract was entered into between applt., a merchant and sack manufacturer, & bkpt. : "We beg to inform you that we accept your offer of 8½ net cash for all the double Calcutta gunny bags we may have to receive during the next twelve months, say from June 1, 1862 to June 1, 1863, taking them as they may arrive, damaged or sound, of which please take a note, & hand us your acknowledgment of this. A. & Co." Between the dates mentioned in the contract, & before the bkpcy., bkpt. himself or his brokers, received sixteen thousand three hundred and seventeen of such bags, of which five thousand three hundred and eighty-one were delivered to applt. Of the remaining ten thousand nine hundred & thirty-six, about nine thousand were sold in the market by the brokers before the bkpcy., with the seed, & about one thousand nine hundred had been delivered at bkpt.'s premises before the bkpcy., which took place on Feb. 14, 1863. Of these latter one thousand three-hundred were empty & the rest full. Applt. claimed £249 7*s.* 3*d.* as the amount of damages & loss sustained by him by reason of the non-delivery of the bags, the value of the bags having risen since the date of the contract & fallen since the bkpcy. :—Held : as to the one thousand three hundred bags, they did not come within the contract, & with regard to the nine thousand, which in reality never became bkpt.'s property at all, as bkpt. had not paid for them or their contents, applt. was not entitled to prove in respect of any damages for their non-delivery.—Re ALT, Ex p. CROWTHER (1863), 9 L. T. 249, L. C.

2444. —— —— —— Method of calculation in continuing contracts.]—A claim for damages in respect of loss of supposed profit, calculated upon an estimated average arising out of a breach of contract for non-delivery of coals contracted for, there being no evidence before the ct. of the existence of any actual contract of resale, is not provable under 1861 Act, s. 153.

A contract for the delivery of a large quantity of coals, ranging over a period of sixteen months, at the rate of a certain number of tons per month, cannot be split up into so many monthly contracts, but must be read as one entire contract upon a claim to prove for unliquidated damages upon a breach of contract.

Unliquidated damages for breach of contract are to be calculated not merely to the date of the adjudication, but prospectively upon the whole contract.—Re MOORE & THOMAS, Ex p. BEER (1868), 18 L. T. 418.

2445. —— —— —— ——.]—A manufacturer contracted to sell to a co. one hundred & fifty tons of iron at a specified price per ton, delivery to be twenty tons per month. The deliveries were not duly made under the contract, & the vendor filed a petition for liquidation by arrangement. At that time a considerable quantity of iron remained to be delivered, & the market price of iron had risen very much. In some cases the co. had bought iron in the market to supply the deficiency in the monthly deliveries, but it did not appear that any actual request had been made by the vendor for the postponement of the deliveries :—Held : the co. could prove only for the differences between the contract price of the iron & the market prices of the days when the respective deficient deliveries were made.—Re VOSS, Ex p. LLANSAMLET TIN PLATE CO. (1873), L. R. 16 Eq. 155.

2446. —— —— —— Whether damage ascertainable.]—H. entered into a written agreement with S. & A. to supply them with steam-power for any looms that might be put up in their weaving shed for a term of twenty-one years, at a fixed annual rent per loom payable in advance. S. & A. assigned their weaving shed & the benefit of the agreement to W. H. mtged. his mill, which contained the steam-power, & filed a petition for liquidation by arrangement, under which a trustee was appointed. The mtgee. took possession of the mill & repudiated the agreement. W. was, in consequence, obliged to obtain steam-power for his looms at a much higher cost, & he claimed to prove for the injury which he had sustained :—Held : the damages sustained by the owner of the weaving shed were such as could be fairly estimated, & W. was entitled to prove for them.—

2447 i. —— Failure to make title—Proof for amount paid in paying off mortgage.]—Deft. conveyed land to A., with a covenant for title, which was broken by the existence of a mtge., which A. was obliged to pay :—Held : the amount so paid was liquidated damages, & provable under Bkpt. Act, 5 Vict. c. 43.—CUNNINGHAM v. SCOULLAR (1895), 4 All. 385 ; 9 N. B. R. 385.—CAN.

2447 ii. —— ——.]—Declaration : first count, on the covenant for right to convey in a deed of three lots of land by deft. to pltfs. alleging that at the time of making the conveyance, deft. had granted one of the lots to S. Second count, on the covenant for quiet possession in the same deed. Breach, that before making it deft. had mortgaged one of the lots to S. in fee, & afterwards S. proceeded against pltfs. in Ch. & foreclosed his mtge., by which pltfs. lost such lot. Third count, that deft. being possessed of a lot of land, mortgaged it to S. for £258 in fee, & afterwards conveyed his equity of redemption in that & other lots to pltfs. in fee, for $22,400, before then advanced by pltfs. to deft., & in the conveyance covenanted to pay off the mtge. to S., & indemnify pltfs. against it, but that he neglected to do so, & S. obtained a decree of foreclosure against pltfs., whereby they lost their security & the land & were put to costs. Plea : that after the time when deft. was alleged to have become indebted & liable to pltfs., & after 1864 Act, deft. made an assignment under it, & in his schedule the alleged claim of pltfs., which was then, if they ever had any claim, provable against deft.'s estate, was included, & that afterwards deft. duly obtained an absolute discharge under the Act from the claim of his creditors, including pltfs., which was duly confirmed : —Held : plea bad, for pltfs.' claim could not have been proved against deft.'s estate, not being a debt due & payable, or due but not then payable, nor upon a contract dependent on a condition or contingency which had not happened before the first dividend, but for unliquidated damages.—BURROWES v. DE BLAQUIERE 1874), 34 U. 2447. —— Failure to make title—Proof for principal, interest, & costs incurred in paying off mortgage.]—A liability in respect of a breach of covenants for title, contained in a purchase-deed arises immediately upon the execution of the deed & where the bkpcy. of the vendor occurred after the execution of the purchase-deed, but before the amount of damage sustained by the purchaser was ascertained :—Held : the latter was entitled to prove for the amount.

D. mtged. lands in fee to W. for £1,000, but fraudulently retained the title-deeds & a portion of the property. He afterwards sold & conveyed such portion for £675 to E., & entered into covenants for title, & delivered over the title-deeds to him. D. afterwards became bkpt., & W. instituted a foreclosure suit, in which he obtained a decree, which was affirmed, on appeal. E. paid the principal & interest, & costs, & tendered a proof for the amount against the estate of bkpt. :—Held : he was entitled to prove for the principal & interest, & costs up to & including the original hearing, but not for the costs of the appeal.—Re HUGHES, Ex p. ELMES (1864), 4 New Rep. 3 ; 33 L. About three years later, A. permitted B. to make a communication through the party-wall, & to make other alterations, upon condition that B. should, at the termination of his tenancy, restore the premises to their original state. About seven years later, B. became bkpt., & gave notice to A. that he would deliver up possession of the premises, under 1849 Act, s. 145, the assignees having declined to take them :—Held : the damages resulting from the non-compliance with the conditions upon which the permission to alter was given, did not constitute "a liability to pay money upon a contingency," within s. 178, & the condition or agreement above specified, to restore the premises to their previous state, was not a condition or agreement within s. 145.—MAPLES v. PEPPER (1856), 18 C. 2451. —— —— Difference between agreed & obtainable rent.]—The owners of houses entered into an agreement with H. to grant him a lease of the premises for ten years, at an annual rent of £500. After the first year H. filed a petition for liquidation by arrangement. The trustee under the liquidation disclaimed the agreement under 1869 Act. s. 23, & the lessors claimed to prove as creditors for the injury they had sustained "by the operation of the sect." :—Held : they were entitled to prove, & the measure of the injury sustained was the difference between the rent to be paid under the agreement & what they could obtain for the property.—Re HIDE, Ex p. LLYNVI COAL & IRON CO. The lease remained in force & pltf. declined to exercise his option of declaring it void although the C. Co. vacated the premises. Pltf., who was one of the creditors named in the trust agreement, claimed to rank as a creditor for all the rent unpaid of the total rent reserved for the entire term :—Held : he was not a creditor in respect of rent which has not become due & payable by effluxion of time when the trust for creditors was created.—GARDNER v. NEWTON (1916), 33 W. 2455. —— —— For damages for breach of covenant.]—On the bkpcy. of a tenant of land, the only remedy of the landlord, in respect of breaches of covenant committed by the tenant during his occupation, is to prove for damages in the bkpcy. ; the landlord has no right of set-off as against money due by him to the trustee for severed crops.—Re MORRISH, Ex p. HART DYKE (SIR W.) 2456. —— —— For unliquidated damages in respect of disclaimer—Proof too late.]—The lessee of a house & premises having filed a liquidation petition early in Aug., 1881, the trustee on Nov. 24 disclaimed the lease. The lessor tendered a proof on Dec. 14 in respect of rent & dilapidations for £117 14*s.* 4*d.*, which was admitted, & also claimed unliquidated damages sustained by reason of the disclaimer, but naming no amount. At a meeting of the creditors held on Jan. 6, 1882, a dividend of 1*s.* 6*d.* in the pound was declared payable on the 20th, & at the same meeting a resolution was passed to release the trustee as from that day. The lessor on Mar. 4 sent in a second proof for £309 7*s.* 6*d.* in respect of unliquidated damages, & claimed to be paid the dividend thereon :—Held : in the absence of fraud the remedy of the lessor was by an action at law outside the bkpcy., as if any default had been made by the trustee, his liability for such default had been discharged by the release, no fraud was alleged against him. Semble : a creditor, who, with full knowledge of his rights, neglects to assert them until after the estate has been fully administered & the trustee released, comes too late to prove for unliquidated damages & claim a dividend thereon.—Re GILL, Ex p. BARNARD (1882), 46 L. 2457. —— —— Lease with proviso for determination on bankruptcy.]—A lease contained a proviso to the effect that if the lessee should become bkpt. or insolvent, the lease should "cease, determine, & be void." The lessee having become bkpt., the trustee in the bkpcy. rejected a proof put in by the lessors founded on such lease, upon the ground that on the bkpcy. the lease became void :—Held : the above provision must be construed to mean void at the election of the lessor, & the rejection of the proof by the trustee was wrong, & must be reversed.—Re TICKLE, Ex p. LEATHER SELLERS' CO. 2457 i. —— —— Lease with proviso for determination on bankruptcy.]—A farming lease provided that in the event of the tenant's bkpcy. the lease should ipso facto become void & that all the tenant's rights thereunder should be forfeited to the landlord. On the tenant's sequestration his trustee intimated to the landlord that the lease had come to an end, but arranged to remain on the farm for a certain time. The landlord let the farm at a reduced rent from the end of the time arranged for, & subsequently lodged a claim for the loss occasioned by the tenant failing to fulfil his obligations under the lease :—Held : the landlord could rank for the claim ; the effect of the lease was to give him an option to put an end thereto, & he had not acquiesced in the tenant's renunciation of the lease so as to bar his claim.—BIDOULAC v. M'KIDD (SINCLAIR'S TRUSTEE) (1889), 17 R. Before the expiry of the lease the tenants executed a trust-deed for behoof of creditors, & the trustee declined to take up the lease. One of the tenants was subsequently sequestrated, but the other intimated to the landlord his intention of continuing the tenancy under the lease, & the landlord refused to accept him as tenant :—Held : a claim by the landlord to rank on the trust-estate for damages, representing future rents under the lease, was invalid.—TAIT (BUTTERCASE & GEDDIE'S TRUSTEE) v. GEDDIE (1897), 34 Sc. the lessee of premises, which were destroyed by fire. The lessor received from an insurance co. a sum of money in full discharge of his rights under the policy. Debtor subsequently became bkpt., & the lessor proved under debtor's covenant to rebuild the demised premises:—Held: credit need not be given for the amount received from the insurance co., & there being no privity of contract between the co. & debtor, the rule as to proof against a surety on negotiable instruments had no application.—Re BLACKBURNE, Ex p. STROUTS (1892), 36 Sol. The co. went into voluntary liquidation, in which the liquidator, without the licence or consent of the lessor, assigned the lease without offering a responsible person as tenant:—Held: the lessor electing to avoid the lease could assess once for all the amount which he had lost by having an insolvent tenant instead of the co., & could prove for that amount in the liquidation, & was not bound to wait & prove for each quarter's rent as it fell due.—COHEN v. POPULAR RESTAURANT, LTD., [1917] 1 K. C. demised to pltf. & deft., then brewers & co-partners, a malthouse & other buildings at Knightsbridge, for fifteen years & three-quarters, at the yearly rent of £18, pltf. released to deft. all his estate & interest in the same malthouse & premises, for the residue of the term, & that deft. covenanted with pltf., by such latter indenture, that he would pay the yearly rent of £18 & perform the covenants on the lessee's part, & indemnify & save harmless plft. on account thereof, all which he had neglected & refused to do:—Held: pltf. could not have been admitted under deft's. commission, to have proved that as a debt, for it was not a debt at the time of bkpcy. & might, perhaps, never have been one.—MAYOR v. STEWARD (1769), 4 Burr. 2439; 98 E. Both the assignees of the lease having become bkpt., & the bond having been forfeited before the bkpcy.:—Held: (1) the lessee could not prove, in respect of the penalty, under the commission, the bond being incapable of valuation; (2) he could not prove for the damages which had accrued previous to the bkpcy., not having paid them to the lessor; (3) 49 Geo. 3, c. 121, s. 19, did not apply to cases between the lessee & the assignee of the lease.—TAYLOR v. YOUNG (1820), 3 B. & Ald. 521; 106 E. 2462. —— —— Contingent liability for rent during remainder of lease.]—The assignee of a lease of premises having become bkpt., & rent being in arrear, judgment for same was recovered against his assignor, who was under covenant to pay such rent. The assignor thereupon proved against the estate of bkpt. for the amount so paid, & also sought to prove in respect of his contingent liability for the rent during the time the lease had yet to run:—Held: the last-mentioned proof must be admitted, & an estimate must be made by the trustee in the bkpcy. of the value of the liability under 1883 Act, s. 37 (4).—Re HINKS, Ex p. VERDI (1886), 3 Morr. 218.

2463. —— —— —— On covenant to indemnify against breaches of covenants in lease—Whether liability ascertainable.]—In an assignment of a lease the assignee covenanted to indemnify the lessee against breaches of the covenants in the lease. Before the term expired the assignee filed a petition under 1869 Act, for liquidation by arrangement & obtained an order of discharge. The lessees made no claim in the liquidation in respect of the liability on the covenant for indemnity, nor was that liability scheduled by the assignee. On the expiration of the term damages were recovered against the lessees for breach of a covenant to deliver up the demised property in repair. The lessees having claimed indemnity from the assignee:—Held: the claim was barred by the liquidation proceedings under s. 49, the contingent liability to indemnify being a debt provable in the liquidation in the absence of an order under s. 31 declaring it incapable of being fairly estimated.—HARDY v. FOTHERGILL (1888), 13 App. Cas. 351; 58 L. 2464. —— —— Rent during time for repairing dilapidations—Diminution of letting value.]—

2460 i. Proof by tenant—Against sub-lessee—On obligation of latter to indemnify.]—Lessees of a coalfield entered into a sublease, which provided that the sublessees should pay an annual dead rent, & should keep the mines drained (which the principal lessees were bound to do by their lease), & that the sublessees might, in certain circumstances, surrender the sublease. The sublessees were sequestrated, & the trustee in the sequestration declined to take up the sublease. The lessees lodged a claim in the sequestration (1) for the capitalised value of the dead rent for the unexpired portion of the sublease & (2) for the expense of keeping the mines drained during the same period:—Held: in assessing the damage, the contingency that the sublease might have been brought to an end must be taken into account, but, subject to a deduction for this contingency & the possibility of a rise in the price of coal, the lessees' claim fell to be admitted to a ranking.—EBBW VALE STEEL, IRON & COAL CO., LTD. v. WOOD'S TRUSTEE (1898), 25 R. Deft.'s rent being in arrear P. put in a distress, & seized pltf's. goods. To obtain the release of his goods pltf. was obliged to pay £15 to P. Deft. then became bkpt., & obtained his order of discharge, subsequently to which pltf. commenced an action, to recover from deft. compensation for the injury & loss sustained by pltf. in consequence of deft. allowing the rent to be in arrear:—Held: the right of action was not barred by the discharge in bkpcy., as deft. was not liable, "by reason of any contract or promise, to a demand in the nature of damages," within 1861 Act, s. 153, so as to make the claim of pltf. provable under the bkpcy.—JOHNSON v. SKAFTE (1869), L. D. Sums payable on Happening of Event which may or may not happen.

(a) Marriage Provisions.

2468. General statement.]—In cases where there has been a covenant with trustees by the husband to pay money immediately to be placed out at interest upon future & contingent trusts, if the husband becomes a bkpt. after the time the money is by the covenant payable to the trustees & before it is due on the future trusts, the trustees are to be admitted as creditors, & the ct. will do equity upon the covenant. So, where a future & contingent payment is to be made, & a judgment given in a penal sum to secure it, they are admitted creditors, though there be a contingent defeasance. The reason is that in both these cases the covenant might in the one be sued at law as broken, & execution on the judgment be taken out immediately on the other. But, where the security is by bond, the question has always turned upon this, whether the bond was forfeited at law, for, if so, the assignees can only be relieved upon the equitable terms against the penalty. The bonds described by the Act [of 7 Geo. 2] are bonds payable at a certain day & place; but a bond payable as to the interest at several days & as to the principal sum at a day future & uncertain is not within the Act, & the assignees will only be relieved upon equity being done according to the condition (LORD HARDWICKE, C.).—Ex p. WINCHESTER (1744), 9 Mod. 2472. ——.]—Petitioner's husband before marriage gave her father a bond in the penalty of £600, conditioned for the payment of £300 to her in case she survived him. The husband had a commission of bkpcy. taken out against him, & died in ten days after. The ct., thinking it a doubtful case, whether she should or should not be admitted a creditor, did not give an absolute opinion, but on assignees consenting she should come under the commission for £150, ordered her a dividend accordingly.—Re GREENAWAY, Ex p. GREENAWAY (1740), 1 Atk. 113 ; 26 E. 2474. —— Or by issue by her.]—B. made provision in marriage articles for his wife, or, in case she should not survive him, to the use of her child or children. A commission of bkpcy. issued against B., who died on Apr. 1, 1749. On 28th of same month a dividend was made of 9*s.* in the pound. The comrs. having declined to admit the wife as a creditor without an order of the ct. :—Held : she should be admitted a creditor & to a dividend of 9*s.* in the pound.—Ex p. MICHELL (1751), 1 Atk. 120 ; 26 E. 2476. ——.]—In Feb., 1772, A. covenanted by his marriage settlement for the payment of £2,000, in case his intended wife, or any issue of the marriage, should survive him. In 1803, a commission of bkpcy. issued against A., under which he obtained his certificate. In Feb., 1825, A. died, leaving issue of the marriage. In May, 1828, there being funds remaining for distribution amongst the creditors of A., a renewed commission was issued, & a final dividend advertised : —Held : 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, s. 56, was retrospective in its operation, &, although the event upon which the debt was contingent had happened after the commission issued, & before 6 Geo. 4, c. 16, came into operation, the sum of £2,000 was provable as a debt under the commission.—Re RUSSELL, Ex p. GRUNDY (1829), Mont. & M. 293 ; 8 L.
